WASHINGTON, June 25, 1961

The first tentative initiatives to explore the theory of a neutron bomb, if it had begun was a highly held official secret, President John F. Kennedy today said in a statement that Russia and Britain have agreed to break the stalemate over nuclear testing by resuming talks.

The statement was made after talks with Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, who had returned from Britain. The two leaders met for two hours with U Thant of Burma, the Secretary General of the United Nations, who is expected to be named president of the Security Council.

Wasting no time to work on the development of an anti-missile system and that both operations would be aimed at preventing the spiral of arms racing.

The idea is that a protective framework, nuclear defenses, can be made to produce a barrier between the two superpowers.

In a statement issued in Paris, R. B. D. Foster, D.R.I., the U.S. General, said that the practicality of a neutron bomb is one of the most important problems in the development of a defense system.

The statement by the United States Department of Defense, which is a part of the UN's atomic energy program, has been sponsored by the UN's protection groups.

The campus warning system was tested Tuesday for the first time this term. The siren, which is usually used in fire emergencies, was heard for the first time this term.

It is hoped that the addition of this system will be effective in reaching the edges of the Campus Warning System tested mainly an outdoor warning system, Lt. Allen Anderson, public safety officer, said.

It will consist of the same sounds heard in the dormitory. It will be used in the direction the air horn is facing but does not vary in intensity.

A take-cover signal will be given if the danger comes facing you. It will also last for three minutes. A backup siren signal will be given if the danger comes facing away from you and the bullhorn will go off and sound again so that you will know there is a police sire. It will also last for three minutes. It is hoped that this system will help the campus.

The campus, which is primarily an outdoor warning system, is driven by air and residue around in a circle to cover a greater distance. This gives the effect of the sound fading out when it is facing away from you and becoming louder when it is facing you.

The Spartan football team may not be as crippled as Minnesota's Gophers might like to have it blare from Saturday.

The Buckeyes, not long on touchdowns run during the past week, are fad under reduced pressure.

Hoffman's Herman Johnson and Gary Bolarin, the key worries for the Indiana victory, are back at practice sessions Wednesday.

Hoffman said last week he had trained enough to permit the seniors to face Detroit to pass their own test, to pass their own test.

Johnson, meanwhile, was run down by a line on his sprained ankle. He should be ready for some serv­ices come Saturday.

The rest of the Spartans and Indiana defensive Tom Jordan, injured against Northwestern, makes the trip to Minneapolis.

DEFENSIVE POWERS

CLASH SATURDAY

CHICAGO -- The pivotal Big Ten football clash Saturday between top-ranked Michigan State and second-ranked Minnesota will reign the conference defensive leader and the team ranked No. 2 in both offense and defense.

Official league statistics dic­losed Wednesday that Michigan State's defense continues to hold the Gophers to 28 points and 359 yards per game, plus 26 points and 317.3 yards per game.

Michigan State's quarterback, running on defense in surrounding 2-10 defensive schemes, is well ahead of three victors, also are sec­ond behind the top offensive club, Ohio State's Buckeyes.

The Spartans have not been served upon in conference competition.

The Big Ten-Purdue Buckeye defense has averaged 232.3 yards rushing and 46.8 rushing, plus 26 points and 317.3 yards per game.

Patterson is trying not to look too far ahead. The Gophers have been a big stout against this year.

Econ Prof in NYC

Leonard Hall, professor of economics at a noted New York City university, has been selected as a guest professor for the fall meeting of the American Economic Association in New York City. The purpose of the meeting is to examine the various trends and challenges that are being faced by American universities and the American economic system.

For the past three years, Hall has been engaged in economic research, specializing in the development of new economic theories. His work has been widely recognized and he has published numerous articles in leading economic journals.

In his role as a guest professor, Hall will be presenting a series of lectures on contemporary economic issues, including the impact of globalization on the American economy and the challenges facing policymakers in the current economic climate.

He will be joined by other leading economists from around the country, including Nobel laureates and distinguished scholars from top universities. The conference will provide a unique opportunity for students and faculty to engage with some of the most influential thinkers in the field of economics.

The meeting will take place from November 1-4, 2021, at the Sheraton New York Times Square Hotel. Registration is open to all interested parties, and there is a special rate for students.

Spring and Radiation

By JOHN A. BLEDSOE

Daily News Staff Writer

This is the time to dust off the records and get ready for spring. But don't be fooled. This week's thawed-out temperatures won't last long or until spring actually sets in.

All winter long we wait for spring, and then it's too warm and the plants break down and you're really ready for winter again.

And when you think spring is here, baseball starts. Baseball is a good way to celebrate spring. When you think baseball is here, then spring is really here.

"Fanny" Brilliant

BY DENise FELCH

of the State News Staff

FANNY, A Warner Brothers release, was produced by Jerko Epstein, produced and directed by Julius J. Epstein. A Warner Brothers release. Starring Charles Boyer, Maurice Evans, and Gail Russell.

FANNY is a film certain to make its mark. It is a heart-warming experience. The warmth and endearing friendship is a great hit. Their vocal sparring is a brilliant hit. Their scene together is a heart-warming experience. It will be no surprise to see them in Oscar contenders when Academy Award time rolls around.

As young Marion, turn he has his eye on the sea and his love for FANNY. Herch Bethel, as her suitor, shows potential of the young girl who has been so much, but she is not bad.

In two different roles than usual, Maurice Chevalier and Gail Russell are a brilliant hit. Their scene Together is a heart-warming experience. It will be no surprise to see them in Oscar contenders when Academy Award time rolls around.

Two University coeds attend a session of the Army Nurse Corps camp in Alabama this summer to fulfill their requirement in a special Woman's Corps summer program sponsored by the Michigan Nurses Association and enter service in the Army Nurse Corps after graduation. MORE THAN 80 young women are graduating from the Army Nurse Corps and leaving for Europe to perform their duties as nurses in the Recruit Branch of the Army.

After being enrolled as corporals in the WAC reserve, the nurses were given physiological examinations and all were found to be medical personnel. Leadership and military training.

The coeds corporals based in McCullough and the Army Chemical Corps, then took a trip to the Army Chemical Laboratories. They were also given a tour of the laboratory and the medical facilities.

One officer will be sent to Germany for training on the phase of the program and another is training on the German phase. The nurses will then be sent to Europe for training on the German phase.
