MAY HARM BUDGET CONSIDERATIONS

State legislators sounded the cut-off warning on student 'thons Wednesday. By THIRDING that "we are going to have to keep the student body better controlled," University President Henry B. Mclntyre said that a "vagabond" student body "is going to cost the University a lot of money." On the second day of the second session of the University, the legislators at Lansing, Michigan, Western Michigan, Michigan State, and Eastern Michigan universities met for the first time. They were followed by the C. U. of M. Eastern Michigan University

Change in Exams

Four classes held for the first time final exam schedule printed in The Daily. They are: English 201, English 202, English 203, and English 204. A total of 105 students are enrolled in the English 201 class, 120 in 202, 130 in 203, and 140 in 204. The English department said that it is expected that the new schedule will be adopted for all English classes in the future.

Foreign Students Aided By Campus Programs

By EARL YOUNG
The State News Staff

An attempt to solve the problems of foreign students brought to America by various means of transportation, the University of Michigan has developed a number of programs for these students. These programs range from courses of instruction to social events for the students.

Critics have charged that foreign students, while technically they are accepted or granted special status, are not being given the education or the social activities that would help them fit into the American way of life. Singer suggests that this is a problem that needs to be addressed.

Based on the conclusion of a five-month study, the report declared that the educational programs for foreign students are inadequate. It also stated that the American way of life is too difficult for foreign students to understand and learn.

Delegates Return From Canada UN

The effectiveness of the United Nations as a instrument for peace was studied by three students in five day conference of the Student United Nations Organization. The reports are to be submitted to the United Nations as a part of the survey.

The American Brother-Sister Club has met twice this semester to plan upcoming activities. The club has decided to hold a Christmas caroling event followed by a social gathering. The club is also planning to participate in the university's annual ice skating festival.

Other programs Gemmel mentioned are the annual Christmas caroling, which is organized by the student government, and the university's annual graduation ceremony. Other programs include foreign student orientation programs and various social events for the students.

Con-Con Lures Visitors to Capitol

The annual caroling event toward the Lansing Capitol is increasing in popularity. This large event is expected to attract more visitors this year. The Lansing Capitol Historic Foundation is in charge of the event.

Delegates to the event will include representatives from different countries and regions. The event is a way to promote peace and understanding.

Medical Research Head Speaking At Kedzie

Final Examinations Schedule for Fall Term

The key speaker suggested that the key to a successful country is in the hands of the government. The government must ensure that foreign students are given the necessary assistance to help them adjust to their new environment.

The key speaker also mentioned the importance of international cooperation in solving global problems. The United Nations must work together with other international organizations to promote peace and understanding.

The final examinations will be given in accordance with the University's policy. The key speaker suggested that students should start preparing for the exams now.

Deadline Resolution Passed by Con-Con

As expected, the Constitution Committee of the Convention Wednesday morning adopted a series of amendments to the draft constitution in order to change rules for the convention and to amend the constitution.

However, the vote was greatly divided by a split decision.
The vote was 52-34, with sectional leaders saying that sectional leaders would vote on the proposal and sectional leaders would not vote on the proposal.

Finally, Major Howard Smith had his proposal been approved, but his proposal was voted down by a vote of 52-34.
The deadline passed, but the committee must complete drafting new language.

Ed. 15 — Final day for approval of all proposals by the deadline.

February 15 — Revised approved included:

March 25 — Final report of the convention on style and draft.

March 30 — Final draft in committee in vote, and all approval.

n the planning stage for the future of some colleges and universities has been under way for the next 15 years—or so it seems.

The situation and times call for a bold, imaginative, and far-reaching plan for the future of the University of Michigan.

The task: To develop a comprehensive plan for the future of the University of Michigan that will enable it to respond to the challenges of the 21st century.

The plan should:

1. Identify the key strengths and weaknesses of the University.
2. Establish clear goals and objectives for the future.
3. Develop a comprehensive plan for the future of the University.
4. Identify the resources needed to implement the plan.
5. Develop a plan for monitoring and evaluating the plan's progress.

The plan should be developed through a participatory process that involves all stakeholders, including faculty, staff, students, and the community.

The plan should be approved by the Board of Regents and the University President.

The plan should be implemented over the next 15 years.

Dr. Herbert Weisinger, of the University. Dr. Thomas Leon Howard, professor at University College, will be offered in response to long-standing student requests, will be featured this week.

Some 30 representatives from Michigan colleges, universities, and high schools gathered for the meeting. Discussions were centered around teaching devices used in the classroom. The student committee consisted of Barbara Red, Linda Lapp, and Robert Smith.

A New Initiates 16
Soph Coeds

Sixteen sophomores were initiated into members of Alpha Lambda Delta, an honor society for sophomore women. Thursday night at the Alumni Hall. The inductees in the humanities required a 3.5 grade average in five years of the freshman year.

The new initiates are Ruth Marchand, Plains Center; Jill Jeppson, P. I. F., Greenfield; Pauline T., Urbana; Carol Frankom, East Lansing; Marilyn M. Shae, New Buffalo; B. J. Jackson, Royal Oak and Roberta Komzsik, Lansing.

Language Prof Stresses Fluency

"Fluency first" is the motto of the Oriental division of the foreign language department under the direction of James F. Wang.

"Teaching a language by the communicative method is made to stress that the student must learn to speak the language. Then he should learn the grammar," said Wang. And the student certainly does not need to spend it after night work. "If the students carry on daily practice under the supervision of the instructor and among each other, it is only natural for the student to learn a foreign language. Then, he should be taught the language. Then, the student is encouraged by his own progress and interested in learning more."

Wang hopes that the foreign language department will offer a degree in Chinese language and a few additional students and departments. The second-year classes are given at both Chinese and Japanese. Wang raised the number of hours of study to the number of hours in Chinese from 6 to 8. The students carry on a course more intensive.

The student committee consisted of Barbara Red, Linda Lapp, and Robert Smith.

New By-laws Passed
IFC Hazing Limited

The by-laws, which were added to the currently adopted IFC constitution, went into effect last Wednesday. The new regulations are:

1. The physical harassment of pledges, such as pummeling or separation, will be allowed.
