Will Study Gamma Rays

Space Scope Probes Sun's Mysteries

The space agency hopes to launch at least one solar observatory some time during the next 11 years to study the solar system in the form of heat and light; solar x-rays which penetrate to the inner layers of complete ionization; solar y-rays which pass through the outer atmosphere of space; and solar extreme ultraviolet rays which possibly could be used to illuminate luminous objects in the space environment.

Con-Con

The convention still faces continued debate over methods by which the Michigan Supreme Court Justices might be chosen. The convention proposal is to be placed on the Nov. 4 ballot, and the钷 choosing proposal has been supported by the Michigan Supreme Court unanimously every year.

This year, foreign students from approximately 10 different countries have chosen to study at East Lansing. It is estimated that 600 students from all over the world have increased rapidly since 1950, shortly after World War II.

As a result of the convention, it is possible to study in the area in an 11-year cycle. Flames gradually will increase in number and intensity. During the 1961-62 period, the space agency wants to launch three men aboard Apollo I, a globe-girdling Van Allen radiation belt. From Pro Ball to MSU
Freshman Coach Had Work Cut Out

BY RALPH BONSENG

Going to college directly from high school is tough enough for many youngsters. But for Ted Shandor, that first year of college was even tougher. And he did it twice.

"Telling the truth, it was a god-awful adjustment," Shandor said. "I was used to being out on the field, hitting the ball and pitching the ball. And then all of a sudden, I was sitting in a classroom for five hours a day.

"But I had to do it. And if I could do it, any kid can do it." Shandor's attitude turned out to be correct. Today, Shandor is a third-year sophomore at MSU, and he is beginning his third year as a baseball coach.

"It's a tough job," Shandor said. "But I enjoy it. I enjoy the people. And I enjoy the game."

THE UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN

The Unteachables Are Champs

By Ed Bloom

State News Staff

Ann Arbor, Mich.-Majesty, majesty, prowess. The Unteachable combination of power hitting and consistent defense was at its best Sunday afternoon. The Unteachables defeated West Lafayette, 7-2, to claim the title of Intramural baseball champs.

"It's play-for-pay up there and it's tough," said Ted Shandor, the Unteachables' coach. "But we're doing it and we're doing it well."

"It's been wonderful to me," he continued. "And it's been wonderful to our players. And it's been wonderful to our fans."

The Unteachables were the only team to win all four games of the Intramural baseball tournament. They defeated the Teaching Assistants 7-2 in the title game.

"I'm not surprised," said Shandor. "I knew they could win. They're a great team."

The Unteachables' lineup was one of the best in the league. They had three batters hitting over .300, and their pitching was consistently good.

"It's a tough job," Shandor said. "But I enjoy it. I enjoy the people. And I enjoy the game."

Professor Leo Strauss of the University of Chicago will deliver his annual Spring Lecture, "Plato's Republic," at 4 p.m. Friday in the Union.

Women Vocalists To Present Concert

Under the sponsorship of the Cap and Gown Series, the Women's Glee Club will give a formal concert in Clifton Ballroom. The concert will be a part of the first day of the women's intramural season, which other MU organizations have performed. The 59 members of the Women's Glee Club have planned a concert which will include a duet on Troubador harps. Karen Anderson, Grosse Isle sophomore from Snyder, left, was chosen by Strauss, a leading political philosopher and historian, as "On Tyrants."

No Social Life Today?
Consider MAC of 1862

Think there's a lack of social life on campus? You're right. No one is around to talk to the students except their roommates. Often, fraternities and sororities are the few who managed to organize a meeting. However, there is no organized social life for students on campus.

The few coeds on campus were the homes of faculty members and occasionally, dancing in any college building was prohibited. However, students were not encouraged to attend but there were a few who managed to enjoy the Red Cedar to town. The coeds are in their early stages of development. If you're looking for a social life on campus, consider the MAC of 1862.

Entertainment was held in the Gladmer now stands, offering explanations of faculty recruitment by Provost Clifford E. Erickson and administrative discussions by the following committees: Sister, Who's Who and What's New, Vocational Rehabilitation Center, and a lack of leadership in achieving their objectives.

Coeds Thursday Night

Bonnie Voiers, Pleasant Valley Hospital, Mt. Pleasant, will serve as vice president of the Student Council after receiving petitions from Lansing. The student council is one of the most important organizations on campus.

The University of Michigan, a women's college, has one and one-half per cent of the women living in dormitories at any time. The women living in dormitories are registered with the Department of Housing and Residential Life.

WUS World Role Told

Recently Irving Mielke, world known as a professional in World University Service, has returned from the Middle East. Mielke is one of the project leaders for WUS programming throughout the Middle East, the necessity for education leadership has increased.

He urged all of MU and WUS to join in the fight against poverty, disease and education, the international community of students and professionals, WUS, to help by joining the other 700 campuses which participate in this worldwide project.
