JFK Exploits 'Epic Battle' to Businessmen

WASHINGTON—President Kennedy told the nation's business men Monday that his administration seeks to preserve a "free and democratic world" that will keep the government out of price-making and other business decisions.

He said the United States is preparing to the "cold war" by raising defense production and stockpiling arms.

He added that the steel industry, which has had a "wonderful" war, was going to be "good to business" in the future.

X-15 Sets Record; Pilot Predicts Winged Orbit

EDEN ON AIR FORCE Base—Flight research pilot Scott Crossfield rocketed the X-15 to a record 48 miles into space Monday, then dropped into Edwards Air Force Base.

Crossfield, who was sitting in the engine must-hangar close to the X-15, said: "This is the beginning of a new era in flight mechanics and a new day in flight research." He added that the X-15 could fly in a single day what it will take the X-15 to go around the world in 20 days.

Pets, Kids Steal The Show

Jill Hargrove and Peppy, Class A winners, listen earnestly to Judge James Sheltrow, after winning an award for grooming and handling.

When children and pets from East Lansing and the surrounding area gathered in the final session of a pet clinic last Saturday afternoon at the Judging Pavilion, names like Bertha, Amy Lou, Princess, Peppy, Popyy and Jud turned up in the winners’ column.

The Student Wives Veterinary Club sponsored the show as part of the clinic for young pet owners interested in learning what good pet care entailed.

There were 50 entries ranging from Beagles and Terriers to cats and horses. Winners in the eight classifications were: Jill Hargrove and her dog, Peppy, Class B; John Downing and his dog, Bertha, Class C; Jennifer Cole and her West Highland White Terrier, Class D; Steve Hecker and his Beagle, Jud, Class E; Connie McGrode and her dog, Amy Lou, Class F; Eldo Schandelmeier and her cat, Princess, Class G; Carol Knight and her horse, Dusty.

David Sanders and Lassie are awarded a ribbon for grooming and handling by Judge James Sheltrow.

Pistol Qualifications Held By Campus Force

Patrolman David Stommer, Department of Public Safety, was one of 21 officers firing the pistol qualifications course held Monday at the department range. The officers are required to qualify each year to maintain their membership in the campus police force.

Crissy Lauds Leadership

"The leader and a follower have much in common. The chief problem of leadership, the leader should always keep in mind that the goal is not necessarily a good leader," said Dr. Crissy, professor of management, University of Michigan, as he addressed the graduate students and their guests attending the annual UB Council meeting.

"Leadership is both intellectual and emotional. It is not only the leader's job to decide what should be done, but also to help others decide what should be done. The leader must be able to communicate his ideas clearly and effectively."

He went on to explain that leadership is not just a technical function but also a creative one. A leader must be able to think creatively, to anticipate problems, and to develop new ideas. He must be able to inspire others, to motivate them to work together towards a common goal.领导与追随者之间有许多相似之处。领导者应该始终记住，目标不一定是好领导者。"领导者的职责不仅仅是决定什么应该做，而且也要帮助他人决定应该做什么。领导者必须能够清楚有效地沟通他的想法。"

他接着解释说，领导不仅是一种技术性的工作，也是一种创造性的工作。领导者必须能够创造性地思考，预测问题，并开发新想法。他必须能够激励他人，激励他们为共同目标而工作。
