Old Timers Performance

The State News is disappointed in the poor performance put on by the dazzling array of All-Americans and active professional football players at the Old Timers football game last weekend. We feel that the fans who paid $1.00 to $1.35 were cheated because they were deprived of seeing the "so-called names" at their best. We admit it is no season for active pros and the players that they have been able to assemble is not the regular season. For others, it was probably the first time they had a football uniform on since the last Old Timers clash last year.

However, pre-game festivities

Senior Swingout

Senior Swingout, one of the most exciting traditions at Michigan State takes place Saturday afternoon at 2:15. The seniors will gather at Beaumont Tower and walk to the Auditorium behind the marching band.

The system has changed from past years when seniors gathered at their respective colleges and marched around Circle Drive and then grouped the as they marched by.

Another innovation is the opening of the conversation to all parents, students, faculty members and guests. This will give many persons the opportunity to hear President John A. Hannah speak. The program has been designed with the parents and students in mind. This is the reason for holding it on Parent's Weekend—when more people whose children are arriving at college can hear the President.

Bob Cantrell, the active senior class president, is responsible for the changes and updating of the program. He shows insight, awareness of attendance problems and a realistic attempt at solutions.

The students and other members of the University community should support the Swingout and attendance. It is an excellent tradition and must continue in the years to come.

The Swingout is worthwhile and should be preserved.

Academic Competition

Oscar Handlin, historian, predicts that racial prejudice is the most discouraging part about it. He also states, "Racial prejudice is the most discouraging part about it." The process leads to a situation where exceptionally talented students are forced to conform.

"These young people secure an admiring training in the technique of the correct answer. They begin to think. They learn to be accurate, neat and cautious. As they are rarely called on to use their ability to reason, they may develop no intellectual abilities, as they are rarely required to do so."

"The main emphasis is on group work and it seems a peculiar neglect of the individual student."

Oscar Handlin expresses his concern about the stifling competitive atmosphere in the colleges where that emphasis tends to destroy broader educational aims.

Some of Handlin's remarks are applicable to Michigan State. Others are way off the target.

Handlin sees this competition as an excuse for the colleges and universities to call it, as being managed in many ways. College administrators, he says, become subsidiary to the degree that they are held back rather than counselor.

Michigan State also boasts the seemingly indispensable curving system which allows a certain percentage of "A's" and "C's" and the students likewise use tactics for getting the right professor, etc. exceedingly brilliant students are thwarted by pressure to conform to the classroom norm or face the consequences.

However, Handlin is off base when he writes: "The young people who brood instead of organize, who forget to come down to the dining hall, and who burst out in fits of irrepressible energy about who will win the game or who will lose the contest, are the ones to be tapped for the fraternity."

Gratitude

The Editor

"Gratitude is a character trait which should be given to one who has received a benefit from another even if it is not as large as expected."

"Gratitude is an attitude of mind or feeling of heart that is the right reaction of a person to his recognition of the benefits bestowed upon him by others."

When Big Ten track meet begins in -Compatible Stadium on Saturday, May 11,

The Michigan State University track team is looking forward to a successful meet.

The Big Ten Track and Field Championship meet is held each year in February, and this year's meet will be held at the University of Illinois in Champaign.

The team includes several outstanding athletes, including John P. Backus, who recently set a new national record in the pole vault.

Backus, who currently holds the national record in the pole vault, is expected to compete in the meet and is likely to set a new record.

The meet is a great opportunity for the team to showcase their talents and compete against the best athletes from the Big Ten Conference.

For more information on the meet, please visit the Michigan State University Athletics website.

Cram Course No. 1: Shakespeare

Continuing our series of Shakespeare reading, we will be focusing on the works of William Shakespeare for "The Bard of Avon." He is to be properly reflected for being the most influential poet and playwright of the English language. He is credited for revolutionizing drama and literature in his time and is considered the father of modern drama.

This week, we will be exploring "The Tempest," a play that deals with issues of power, authority, and the human condition.

We will also be discussing the themes of love, loss, and redemption in Shakespeare's works.

To practice your knowledge, we will be doing a quiz on the play after the discussion.

"The Tempest" is a perfect example of Shakespeare's genius and his ability to create a timeless story that resonates with audiences today.

For more information on "The Tempest," please visit the Shakespeare's Globe website.

Dock Has Mellowed

Cigars have gone through a significant change in recent years, going from a luxury item to a more accessible and approachable product.

Farmer Brothers, a well-known cigar company, has noticed a trend towards milder and less intense cigars.

"We've seen a shift towards milder cigars in the past few years," said John Farmer, CEO of Farmer Brothers. "Consumers are looking for something less strong and more mellow, which is why we've been focusing on creating cigars that appeal to a wider audience.

"Our new line of mellow cigars is perfect for those who want a less intense smoking experience. These cigars are perfect for those who are new to cigars or looking for a lighter option.

"We've been receiving great feedback on our new cigars, and we're excited to see how they continue to grow in popularity.

"For those who enjoy a stronger cigar, we still have our classic lines available, but we're definitely seeing a trend towards milder cigars.

"We're committed to offering a wide range of options for our customers, and we're constantly experimenting with new blends to ensure we have something for everyone."

65 Living Units Compete in Junior 500

Day-fine living prizes will comp¬ ete for their freedom rights in SSA's Du¬ Ontario Community. Nineteen of these units will bring rich prizes for the win¬ er in each event of the season's M.A.C.
League this year.

Runners will begin racing around East Lansing Arena on the strength of a long and strenuous training season. Each runner makes the cut for a commit¬ t of a mile.

A long-race car will record the progress of each contestant back to the starting point.

Every contest will test the athlete's abilities and his mind. The starting point, followed by queues of competitors, will produce a large num¬ er of winners. Each runner will be identified by a number on the bib and the number will be used to pass in and out of the starting line. Those who miss a number are disqualified.

The first runner across the finish line will win the race. The rule is that the distance be measured from the start to the finish line. A runner who leaves the track before the finish line will be disqualified. The rules are enforced by officials and the line is marked by poles and tape.

Since the race was first launched last summer, and Dick Davis of the Pylon won the curtain by leading the race in nine and a half miles, a new unit has been added to the list and the race has been divided into two parts.
