Workers Allowed To Present Plans

Workers and their unions have been better represented at the Board of Trustees, thanks to the Board's adoption of a new policy on presentation of plans. Gone is the practice of having plans presented solely by administration. This new rule requires presentation of plans by interested groups from outside the Board. It has been well received by groups and by the Board. The first presentation, by the Michigan Conservation Group, was well received and resulted in a number of suggestions for improvement. This has been done to give equal opportunity to all groups interested in the university, and to ensure that all viewpoints are heard.

Electronics Applied To Farm Planning

The use of electronics in farming has become increasingly important in recent years. The Michigan Farm Bureau has been instrumental in promoting this new technology in agriculture. This has led to the development of new equipment and techniques that can improve the efficiency and productivity of farming operations. The use of electronics in farming has been widespread, and it is expected to continue to grow in the future.

Idzerda Stresses Youth Education

The youth of today must take advantage of the expanding horizons and change with the world. In order to do this, they must be educated. Schools must provide a broad education that is both academic and practical. This can be achieved by incorporating the latest technology and techniques into the classroom. It is important that the youth of today are able to think critically and creatively, and to be able to adapt to changing circumstances.

Barnes Plans Referendum

Jim Barnes, Asst. president, has announced plans for a referendum to be held in the near future. The referendum will be on a number of issues related to the university's budget and planning. It is expected to be a significant event, and it is important that all students, faculty, and staff participate in the process. The referendum will be held in the near future, and it is expected to be a significant event.

Trustee Eligibles Announce Plans

A number of the MJC's, board of trustees, have announced plans for the coming year. These include plans for the new academic year, the budget, and the university's future. The trustees are working hard to ensure that the university continues to meet the needs of its students and the community. The trustees are also working to ensure that the university's future is bright and充满 promise.
MSU's 48th Annual Farmers' Week

Just as the automobile industry dominates Michigan's economy, so is agriculture and the farmers.

And for the 48th consecutive year Michigan State pays tribute to the supply of basic needs, the Michigan farmer, with a week devoted to his interests, "backgrounding the News: Michigan Agriculture," is the theme of this year's Farmers' Week.

Michigan State has come a long way since the early years when it was said "somebody should find the farmer's way from one place to another." It is the first to recall the very first events when all the week's programs were held in a single building.

By the time this week's festivities are over, more than 20,000 farmers will have seen everything from space capsules to electronic computers, from planning operations to feed $2,000 boys, milk 400 cows and grow 150 bushels corn to hearing how a European 'Common Market' can be a big factor in the price of wheat or a pound of beef.

Indeed, Michigan State has planned events to demonstrate the agricultural progress of the state.

U OF M Follows State In Coed Housing

When the University of Michigan follows an example set by her biggest rivals—that's us, Michigan University—University-wise.

And so it was time to go from dorms to coed housing, according to the Point of View.

Senior Class Council—What It Does For Students

Gory Blowers, Edm. 94

Senior Nick was asked, "What are you most proud of?"

"Well, I'm proud of the Senior Class Council. We've done a lot of things this year..."

Big Shock

When are we to be safe?

We are all aware of the need for coed housing, but sometimes the solution presented seems to be a bit too suddenly.

Constitution Unfair, Scholle Says
Dems Want Population Apportionment

By Sue Jacoby
Of The State News

The Michigan Constitution with respect to representation of the population in the legislature is unfair, Democratic State Senator Louis Scholle of East Lansing charges.

The state Constitution provides for representation based on population, which means that the population of a majority of the counties is apportioned one representative each. This system, Scholle said, made it impossible to create a State Senate that accurately reflected the population of the state.

Scholle said that the system of apportioning representation by population makes it impossible for the State Senate to do its job fairly.

Wolverines Sport Best Five In Years

Every year during winter and early spring a vast network of college recruiters bounds upon high school graduating seniors across the country, scouting for the next promising basket ball player. Usually, hardly anyone who is not directly involved in the sport, or even a fag end, of books around a college campus can escape their ploys. Oftentimes, the recruiter is a fellow who played basketball in college, but now is trying to sell the gaining of his talents by the recruiting of a future college player. Often, the recruiter is a fellow who played basketball in college, but now is trying to sell the gaining of his talents by the recruiting of a future college player.

But Buntin, from Westphalia, Michigan, is none of the above. Names First Immortals

16 years with the Chicago Bears, 1920-26.

Bobby P. "Spider" Smith, who starred in his early pro days, Baugh longed to be a coach for the team which he helped lead to three National Football League titles in the 1940's.

"It's always hard to leave the game, even after thirty-five years," said the 80-year-old Hall of Famer, who stepped down from the helm of the Dallas Cowboys at the end of the 1961 season. "I'm not a natural coach, but I've been doing it for about seventeen years."

In his 16 years with the Bears, Baugh led the team to three NFL titles and one Eastern Conference championship. He also was named to the All-Pro team five times.

"I've been living a wonderful life," said Baugh, who was honored at the Football Hall of Fame's annual dinner in New York City last week. "You scream and holler at the players, but they've always liked you."

Postbite Cases Hit Record High

The number of postbite cases has reached record levels, affecting a wide range of individuals. This increase is attributed to several factors, including a rise in awareness and reporting, as well as improved medical services. The latest statistics show a 25% increase in cases compared to the previous year. Communities are advised to take proactive measures to prevent further cases, including education and vaccination campaigns. Community leaders are encouraged to address this issue at their upcoming meetings. The local health department has issued a statement urging residents to seek immediate medical attention if they experience symptoms. The situation is being closely monitored by public health officials, who are working to contain the spread of these cases.
Common Market Defeat Splits West
U.S. Swallows Bitter Pill

By JIM ROBERTS
Associated Press NewslAnalyst

The defeat of the Common Market proposal, which emerged as a European rejection of a permanent economic union akin to the United States, has left the United States swilling a bitter pill.

President Kennedy and his Cabinet are prepared to go ahead with the United States, but the news has been a blow to the administration's hopes of promoting the concept of a United Europe. The proposal has been an integral part of the President's program of promoting European unity.

The defeat of the Common Market proposal has led to a political reaction in the United States, with some politicians calling for increased economic aid to Europe.

World Mourns Literary Loss
Poet Robert Frost Dies

Robert Frost, the poet who captured the essence of rural life in America, died Wednesday at age 87. His poems, which include such classics as "The Road Not Taken" and "Stopping by Woods on a Snowy Evening," have become a staple of American culture.

Frost was born in San Francisco in 1897 and moved to New York City in 1907. He began writing poetry in his late 20s and went on to become one of the most popular and respected poets of the 20th century.
