Campus News Conferences

In a university as large as MSU, few ideas for better communication are proposed often. But a research associate in communication, Janice Logonits, has come up with one that we think is excellent.

Logonits has proposed regularly-scheduled campus news conferences, at which students and faculty could question key academic figures and policy makers.

But until President Hannah has agreed to give the idea a try when he returns from Nigeria March 9, Lacognata said, members of the press will probably be allowed at the sessions. Lacognata said, "In many cases these may initiate communication where before there has been none."

The idea for the news conferences originated, said, after Hannah urged in his State of the University address that faculty members come up with new ideas for handling University problems. Gov. Romney's plan to talk with citizens each week suggested the method, he said.

We think the campus news conference is a good idea, and we're pleased that President Hannah has agreed to try it.

 project rooted in MSU history

By ERNIE BURSH

Editor-in-Chief

This is part one of a three-week series outlining the diverse aspects of the Educational Development Project which will be completed in May.

Microsoft State University originated in 1857 when about 3,000 students in what was then the nation's first public school for teachers began the instruction.

In 1896, the university was renamed Michigan. It was incorporated in 1906.

Heeled Boots Whirr As Iglesias Performs

The population of musicians and music-loving students was brought to life Wednesday night when the Union Board Jazz Show was presented in the Union Ballroom. The performance, which included a variety of instruments and styles, featured the J.L. Beutler Quintet and their performance of the Union Board Jazz Show Wednesday night.

Jazz Show-Allan Beutler, center, gives Bud Carter, left, and Paul Cyphers, right, members of the All States Quartet, instructions before they took their turn on stage. The quintet, which is made up of the best, one and fell from the tree, turned out to be the best of the union show, with the band and techniques of the night, was demonstrated by the Walnut Museum of Music and drama. It was an outstanding performance of the show, which was presented by the Union Board Jazz Show.

According to Iglesias, the show was well received by the audience. "It was a hard task every day, looking after the show," he said. "But we always have new people coming to the show, according to Iglesias, and the show will return to stage and remain on stage.

COACH CHARLES SCHMITTER

OSU, Irish, Falcons Cross Blades Here

The Air Force, Ohio State and Notre Dame provide Spartan fencers with their toughest assignment Saturday, when the MSL strips become the scene of the season's first home competition, starting at 10 a.m.

The Air Force has taken on OSU, commented Schmitter, "a team that is fast developing in the West."

"The Irish have always fought," continued Schmitter, "and we can always come up with a strong team." The Irish have shown great improvement over last year's squad, with a strong epee division.

Notre Dame, with an all-veteran division in epee, have shown marked improvement over last year's squad. Epee is considered the most powerful front, with four varsity returnees. A trio of lettermen form the nucleus of the sabre squad.

Dick Schoelmer Now 10-1

Schoelmer has improved his season record to 10-1 in the recent matches. Schoelmer defeated Frank Miller of Ohio State Thursday and worked out with the OSU Sports Demons to prepare for the upcoming meeting.

State Missing Land

by ERIC FILSON

The State of Michigan has recently been asked to purchase 4,326 acres of land in order to provide additional area for the state's livestock and poultry industry. This request was made by the Placement Bureau, which is responsible for finding homes for orphans and other needy children.

A placement bureau is a charitable organization that works to find loving homes for orphaned children. The placement bureau provides resources such as financial assistance, legal aid, and medical care to help ensure the well-being of these children.
