When a millionaires' mistress who ranges while she talks – when a set of organs which she works so much that it "isn't merely permissible; it is healthy and enjoyable!" – when Cinderella-type sweet young things are niece to newspapers in a political sense, something happens. And happening it does in "R'ing Round The Moon," the third University Summer Circle production of the season, which opened Wednesday afternoon at the University's auditorium.

Professor Charles Vetter of the United States Information Agency told an audience of university students, "There is a need for simplification," Charles Vetter, professor of sociology and anthropology, told an audience of university students, "There is a need for simplification." Career Show Plans Underway

More employers have indicated they will attend MSU’s annual Career Carnival this year than any comparable date in the past.

Ed Fitzpatrick, director of the Placement Bureau, said 17 companies have asked to participate in the Career Carnival program, and all of the 17 companies included have already accepted.

"This is well beyond any that we have had before," he said. "Usually, we don’t have this many acceptances and ready August." Fitzpatrick said he anticipates the representation of hiring government and business organizations in the campus to acceptable students with career opportunities. Each company sets up a display in the Union.

Fitzpatrick said that in the past, sales of the companies who wish to participate this year’s program, "The companies have asked to participate in our career programs, and we don’t want employees from the waiting list to participate in the Union.

The 17th annual Career Carnival this fall will probably include some new employers, Fitzpatrick said.

MSU’s Career Carnival was the first of its kind in the United States in the career placement programs. Each year we set as a goal to help other companies who are located in the country.

Career Carnival began in 1949 when Thomas King, president of the Placement Bureau, introduced the film "Black Tights" to the campus. The film was shown at the Placem ent Theatre on Thursday and Saturday at 5 p.m.

"Black Tights," a production of four love stories filmed in Paris, was shown at the Placem ent Theatre Thursday and Saturday at 5 p.m.

Morris Churchill, the originator of the present placement service to seat the campus, introduced the film. "The Placem ent Carnival" introduced a group of Hollywood professionals who were involved in the making of the films. Churchill, the brothers’ host, was a Parisian, whose mission was to introduce the students to the French films.

"Sovis De Vergea," a story of the eternal struggle of love, was shown at the Placem ent Theatre on Thursday and Saturday at 5 p.m.

Use Closed Circuit TV
To Teach 20 Courses

With the installation this week of a new system, the Michigan State University library is taking a major step in the direction of offering a wider range of courses to students.

Actually, the television system has already been in operation for several years. However, this year the university has expanded its program to include 20 courses that will be offered through the use of closed circuit television.

In addition, the university has made arrangements to use the system for the following courses:

- English 101
- French 201
- German 101
- History 101
- Mathematics 101
- Political Science 101
- Sociology 101
- Zoology 101

The courses will be taught by professors from various departments on campus, and the students will be able to participate in classroom discussions and answer questions posed by the instructor.

The closed circuit television system allows for a wider range of courses to be offered, providing students with more flexibility in their course selection.

The success of the closed circuit program has led the university to expand its offerings, and it is anticipated that additional courses will be added in the future.

The use of closed circuit television is expected to revolutionize the way courses are taught, providing students with a new level of engagement and interaction.

The Christian Ministry

Is It For You?

By Rev. James W. Didier

How would you like a job that offers the most Beautiful, Gratifying and Unusual experience in the world? But, also offers much in the way of Salesmanship, Accomplishment, and Enjoyment. Consider the Christian Ministry for yourself.

There is a place for you in the Christian Ministry. But, generally, the pastor is the person most responsible for public officials in areas of social welfare, education, rehabilitation, administering, organizing, preaching, visiting the sick, officiating at large as those of their professional counterparts. Recently the idea of Christ as a resistant obstacle to the infectious growth of materialism, of the false "isms" of the day by raising up the standard for the related to church work and church life; give God a chance to call you.

HOW DOES HE GO ABOUT HIS JOB? This varies with the denomination. Ordination requirements, 10 years of college level work, 25 years of church experience, full-time or part-time, the position varies. It can vary from day to day.

One of the most striking and frequently heard names in the Michigan State University campus is Dr. Carrol Hawkins. Although he has been at the campus for 15 years, his studies and political interests are of great importance to the 4-H junior and senior high school delegates here this year.

Studying political science, he has written articles for such publications as "House and Senate," "The University Winter Quarter," and "The University Summer Circle." Hawkins has been interested in the theatre since 1948, although he has been a member of the university staff since 1946.

One of the most interesting studies he has done is on the human aspects of political science, in which he is concerned with human behavior, thus combining science and art. Hawkins is concerned with human behavior, thus combining science and art.

"The two fields basically are connected," Hawkins explained. "And the Communists are trying to control this ideology because of a lack of good drama he has become interested in the theatre. Hawkins still finds time to study political science, in which he is concerned with human behavior, thus combining science and art.
