Diem Regime Fear-Stricken

The present regime of President Ngo Dinh Diem is in a state of unease. According to the military commands, the regime is not without reason.

College Papers Lose Kingsize Ads

Many college newspaper staffs throughout the nation are discovering that their influential publications could be classified as disaster areas. College publications have lost a good portion of their advertising revenue because of a recent public evaluation of the advertising agencies by cigarette manufacturers to stop college cigarette advertising.

The hollering of cigarette advertising was done in an attempt to put the manufacturers in a better light in the eyes of state agencies who are encouraging educational institutions aimed at cutting smoking, such newspapers as the Michigan Journal at the University of Michigan have been forced to eliminate one issue per week, while the Square Journal in New York University can no longer afford to mix two issues per week instead of three. The Harvard Crimson staff also has been told to cut down on the size of its paper.

Some college papers have felt the pressure enough to curtail their publishing schedules, while some small papers have called off their existing publishing entirely.

What is the State News doing to recoup a $10,000 venue loss due to the halting of cigarette advertising?

The cancellation of cigarette sales has left us all with full prices for publications, as well as additional stores.

As to the plight of other college advertisers, editors in the back pages and issues, we feel that it is a reflection on the advertising staffs throughout the nation insofar as selling advertising is concerned. A college newspaper is a training ground and if its staff is not fulfilling one of its most important functions against Chinese Communism, and transferred its allegiance to more popular forms of government.

Korean Citizens Move Ahead

We are divided between disappointment that military government has won a reprieve in South Korea and the hope that the military leaders and the electorate. The Korean vote is likely to be one of the most important in the history of South Korea.

Korea is where this trend began, under Secretary of State Christian Herter, in that it was the most to be expected, probably, that the years in which Lyndon Johnson controlled all political opposition could be followed at once by more consumer democracy in the military took over; and it took longer for civilian forces to achieve an inter-states, but constitutional presides. Responsibility Suffers

The tremendous increase in college applicants predicted within the next several months poses a serious problem for all colleges and universities of our country. Obviously, it is the task of our colleges and universities to handle this increase in a responsible and effective manner. It is the role of the administration to offer planning for this increase in a responsible manner.

One of the problems is the reluctance to cut the student body and AUSC with their inordinate and superficial

Michigan Editor Says It's Barry All The Way

Barry Goldwater will not only win the Presidential nomination but will carry the election in 1964, the Michigan editor of the Chicago Sun-Times said.

The editor, in an interview with the Detroit News, said he believes Goldwater’s success is due to a combination of factors, including his conservative political views, his appeal to the business community, and his strength in the Western states.

Barry Goldwater, who is the favorite of the Western states, has won the Republican nomination in 1960 and 1964, and is currently leading in the polls.

The editor also said that Goldwater’s views on issues such as foreign policy and domestic policy are widely accepted by the American people.
