New Bi-Level Group Ready

Seeking roll-off-of-the-visor raising any two problems that the Student Government president, Bob Kerr, All-University student body told Student Congress Wednesday that the new AUSG constitution shows that University should shield him from responsibility for his own mistakes.

For two months, Kerr has been writing letters to New Mexico, Missouri, and other states asking why some have no knowledge of the constitution. If writing is approved, Kerr said, a new position will be created in the Student Senate. The new constitution will come into effect in the fall semester.

New American Face Spy Charge

In the spring it will be the re-structure of the American economy.

Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, who is interested in the American economy, said it showed increased student interest in student government.

Students Favor Hyde Park

Students caught cheating and subject to possible suspension will be entitled to a hearing before members of the faculty. Formerly action was taken entirely in the hands of the instructor appraising the individual situation.

Such a change is welcome. It is significant because it removes the question of coercion from the arbitrary ruling of one individual. It is a move in the direction of a less lenient conception of the student.

Yet this is something we must never consider.

The student's right to a hearing is not the result of some theoretical consideration but of the true individualism which is the ideal of education. If college education is to be an instrument of self-realization, it must be recognized that the student has the right to know the reasons for the administration's action. It is not enough that the action be taken. The student must be told why he is being affected.

The right to a hearing will be entitled to a hearing, regardless of the point of view he's probably right.

However, Dillon seems to forget that there are many college students who pay the greatest part of their expenses themselves. Moreover, they tend to feel that they come from the lower income group that Dillon had written off as not being benefitted by the proposal.

If someone wants a college education bad enough, and he has the grades, his family's economic status doesn't have to stand in the way. With ingenuity, it is possible to earn the $1,500 that it takes to support oneself at a state university. But to take a bit out of a student's income just isn't fair.

Special members of this hard working group are the married students. To know one of these families, is to know that a tax deduction would be a most welcome relief.

Rohloff's proposal is in the best interest of the present student. At the moment, a letter to your congressman could make it a part of the hoped-for new tax bill.

Don't Miss Soccer Match

Spartan stadium will be empty Saturday afternoon, but students will have a chance to see an athletic event of national importance just across the street.

While the Spartan football team is trying to move one step closer to the Rose Bowl at Purdue, the MSU soccer team will be taking part in one of the major college soccer matches of the season.

The squad will face the University of St. Louis in a game which will determine the Midwest Conference championship. The winner will also share the right to compete in the National Collegiate Athletic Association tournament later in the month.

Saturday's match will be held at 1:30 p.m. at the soccer field south of Spartan Stadium. Student tickets will be admitted to the game free upon presentation of their ID cards.

S. Louis is the defending national champion, and Spartans coach Kenney considers his team to be the best college soccer squad ever assembled in the United States.

This is the third consecutive year the squads will meet. In each of the last two years, students are reminded to take their transistor radios to the game so they can listen to the final all game while enjoying an exciting soccer match.
News Will Accept Cigarette Ads

If you're an avid smoker, you may have noticed that most college newspapers were no longer running cigarette advertisements. This is because of a California state law that prohibits cigarette advertising in any medium that reaches the general public. As a result, newspapers across the country, including the State News, have stopped accepting cigarette ads. The State News Advertising Manager Farhat said he would file an appeal if necessary.

Council Of Bishops Urged: Would Share Papal Rule

VATICAN CITY (AP) — A rapidly increasing number of Roman Catholic bishops from around the world are saying they would accept the role of sharing papal rule should Pope John Paul II die.

The proposal for such a body of cardinals to take over was addressed by the Vatican City Council in Rome Wednesday. It has been formulated in a draft by some bishops who addressed the Vatican City Council at a two-day meeting Tuesday and Wednesday.

For centuries unbroken succession of popes has marked the Catholic Church. But with the pontiff of the Popes in the hospital, there are questions if any successor could act as a supreme authority in the church.

The question is particularly outstanding in light of the 1,000-year rule by the Papal States which the Vatican controlled.

The general council was held by some bishops who asked the Vatican to consider the question.
