Game Delay Costly

Delaying the postponement of the Michigan State University football game may have cost the University of Michigan almost $100,000, business officials estimated Tuesday by Nguyen Chi, president of the University's Student Organization. It was estimated that the game would cost the department, which was forced to close up all its operations, $100,000. The game was first called off after other Michigan State students reported it. Louis said: "I had our students there at 10 a.m., and was away. We are chasing the field now. We didn't receive any notice from the field, and we didn't receive any notice from the university. We didn't manage to reach any officials."

Lesson learned, the students had already been waiting there for three hours, with their tailgating equipment set up. Zwolak, San Jose Winners

By LARRY MOGG

Michigan State harriers were the first team to put a stranglehold on the NCAA team title, winning the 1963 NCAA Cross Country Championship. Over the aroused Spartans, the West Coasters had to roll with their second best pack when the fireworks began. Despite the top ten flurry of activity, Michigan State's harriers didn't have enough big guns to crack the top ten spots. The team had to rely on their top runners to carry the team to victory. Coach Miller credited his harriers with "a great performance" and being "the best team in the country this season." The harriers' performance was spotless.

The Inside Scoop

San Jose State's package of harriers duplicated their fourth place spot of last year, finishing in the 32nd place, tied for sixth place with 192, after the Spartan's overall record is spotless. Coach Fran Dittrich's hope of a Dallas night club, shot over the aroused Spartans with a "great performance" and being "the best team in the country this season."
