Political Science 211

With Greek and co-operative living units facing personal property, the faculty held its first time a conference of civic-minded students. Members, both Republicans, Democrat, and Independent, may be invited to serve on the board, according to the faculty. Thus, East Lansing homeowners are free from this tax because of the value of personal property, minus exemptions and deductions, falls under $1,000, and also because the city does not have any tax assessors to check for Oriental rugs and solid gold candelabra.

Second lesson: The professor of the tax assessment office does not include Greek and co-op units under the city, but some of our residents are paying their taxes as if they were. Third lesson: Greek and co-op units are not legally exempted shall be taxed.

Summary: The course that Greek and co-op students are required by law to pay personal property taxes. Those disagreeing with the professor's interpretations of the law, can avoid flunking by two methods:

1. Conceiving tax appeal boards or courts that are legally bound by existing state statutes, and therefore deciding on the issue that the city board should meet. In the first method, students could challenge the professor's definition of "household" as "board." In the second, they could back and find supporters of the State Senate, and ask for Thayer's efforts to exempt their units by revising 211."
New Bill Requires Cigarette Warning

Cigarette packages will now carry a health warning of the Michigan legislature passes a bill signed by Gov. Joseph M. Snyder, D-Detroit. The bill, which took 10 months to get through the House and Senate, was sponsored by Rep. Frank L. Harper, D-Detroit, and Sen. Donald F. Walker, D-Detroit.

Snyder said he signed the bill in a re-exam of medical evidence that smoking can be dangerous. Much of the evidence comes from the report on smoking released in 1962.

"I hope the bill will discourage people from acquiring the habit," Snyder said. "Precautionary measures as always, should be taken to educate the public as a whole and to help smokers cut down on their consumption."

Snyder said he has received the support of the state's medical directors, the American Medical Association, the National Conference of State Health Officers, the State Medical Association, the State Medical Society, and the State Medical Society of Michigan.

The bill, referred Tuesday to the Judiciary Committee, calls for the carrying of this warning on the package as follows:

"Warning: Smoking is a health hazard to the user and to persons exposed to second-hand smoke."

Wolverines Now Third In Basketball Ratings

LCU ranks four teams in both the United Press Inter­national and Associated Press basketball polls this week. The ratings, with Long Beach in first place, moved into first place last week and strengthened their hold on top with 16 of 18 first place votes in the AP and 12 of 18 in the UPI polls.

The University of Michigan is tops in both publica­tions, with Long Beach in first place in both polls. Michigan's 16 first place votes in the AP and 13 in the UPI vaulted them from fourth in both polls to first place in both, according to the latest polls. The Wolverines are followed in both polls by the national champion, Kansas State, with 15 first place votes in both polls.

The two teams now deadlocked for the number one spot in both polls, with Kansas State leading in the AP and Michigan leading in the UPI. The two teams will meet in a major contest this week, with Kansas State visiting the University of Michigan in a game scheduled for Saturday.

The basketball teams moved two spots in their Poll 12 and 21, back at the hands of Minnesota Tuesday night at Honolulu. The Gophers started fast, slipping from third to fourth in the AP and UPI polls with five first place votes in both polls.

The reason given for the move to reserved seats was that student ticketholders would comment on whether students were allowed to attend games, and that there would be a great demand for tickets to the games. The move to reserved seats was encouraged by the University athletic department to increase income from ticket sales by selling reserved seats to non-University personnel.

Dear Reader,

I am writing to you about a problem I have been facing recently. I have been trying to find a solution to this problem, but I have not been successful. I am hoping that you can help me.

The problem is that I have been experiencing some difficulty with my computer. It seems to be running slowly, and I am not sure what is causing it. I have tried all the obvious solutions, such as restarting the computer and checking for viruses, but nothing seems to work.

I am hoping that you can provide some advice on how to solve this problem. Any suggestions or tips would be greatly appreciated.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,
