Weather
Cloudy and cool today. Rain afternoon. High in the low 70s.

STATE NEWS
One-Time Buddy Testifies
Hoffa Accused Of Jury Fixing

NORWALK, Conn. — Teamster president James Hoffa testified Tuesday that he had offered to pay $25,000 to two judges to help resolve a bankruptcy case. Hoffa said he had discussed the offer with his attorney, but denied that he actually paid the money.

Hoffa also testified that he had discussed with his lawyer a possible deal to pay off a $1 million debt to a business owner. Hoffa said he had talked with his lawyer about the possibility of a deal, but denied that he actually made the payment.

The trial of Hoffa, who is on trial for federal racketeering charges, continues.

More Librarians Not Entire Answer—Chapin

In a message to librarians, Michigan State University president Richard Kellogg called for increased security and increased spending on book thefts, Richard Kellogg said. "We are dealing with a problem that is growing," Kellogg said. "We must be proactive in addressing this issue." Kellogg called for increased spending on security measures, such as increased staffing and improved lighting, to prevent book thefts.

More librarians called for increased funding and support for libraries, but one librarian, Michigan State University president Richard Kellogg, said that the university was not doing enough. "We are not doing enough to prevent book thefts," Kellogg said. "We must do more." Kellogg called for increased funding for libraries, including increased budgets for security measures.

Exile See Little Value In Rights

ODD BALLS, Ga. — The value of U.S. citizenship to Cuban exiles is limited, according to a new study. The study, conducted by University of South Florida sociologist Dr. John Williams, found that Cuban exiles see little value in U.S. citizenship.

The study found that Cuban exiles living in Miami, Florida, see little value in U.S. citizenship. "They see it as a temporary status," said Williams. "They do not see it as a long-term commitment." Williams said that the Cuban exiles see U.S. citizenship as a means to an end, rather than as a right.

Senate Votes Down Motion To Repeal Luxury Taxes

WASHINGTON — Senate leaders voted Tuesday to reject a motion to repeal luxury taxes. The motion was introduced by Senator John Kerry (D-Mass.), who argued that the luxury taxes were unfair and had not generated revenue.

The vote was 69-31, with 10 Republicans voting in favor of the motion. The motion was defeated.

Romney Speaks At Livestock Dinner

WASHINGTON — Governor Mitt Romney spoke at a Livestock Dinner on Tuesday. Romney said that he was proud of his state's agricultural heritage. "We are a nation of farmers," Romney said. "Our state is proud of its agricultural heritage." Romney emphasized the importance of supporting agriculture and rural communities.

School Invokes Fire Law To Keep Out Six Negroes

A school in Alabama, which had previously been open, was closed to Negroes on Tuesday. The school, which had been open to all students, was closed to Negroes on the orders of the school board. The school board had received complaints from white parents about the presence of Negro students.

The school board had received complaints from white parents about the presence of Negro students. The school board had previously been open to all students, but had recently been closed to Negroes. The school board had received complaints from white parents about the presence of Negro students.

John R. Jones, the school board president, said that the Negro students were "not desirable." Jones said that the school board was acting in the best interests of the white students. "We are not trying to be discriminatory," Jones said. "We are trying to protect the white students." Jones added that the school board was acting in the best interests of the white students.

School board member James Robinson, who is a Negro, said that he was disappointed in the decision. "I think it's a terrible decision," Robinson said. "I think the school board is acting in a discriminatory manner." Robinson added that he was disappointed in the decision.

The school board had previously been open to all students, but had recently been closed to Negroes. The school board had received complaints from white parents about the presence of Negro students.

The school board had received complaints from white parents about the presence of Negro students. The school board had previously been open to all students, but had recently been closed to Negroes. The school board had received complaints from white parents about the presence of Negro students.

The school board had received complaints from white parents about the presence of Negro students. The school board had previously been open to all students, but had recently been closed to Negroes. The school board had received complaints from white parents about the presence of Negro students.

The school board had received complaints from white parents about the presence of Negro students. The school board had previously been open to all students, but had recently been closed to Negroes. The school board had received complaints from white parents about the presence of Negro students.

The school board had received complaints from white parents about the presence of Negro students. The school board had previously been open to all students, but had recently been closed to Negroes. The school board had received complaints from white parents about the presence of Negro students.

The school board had received complaints from white parents about the presence of Negro students. The school board had previously been open to all students, but had recently been closed to Negroes. The school board had received complaints from white parents about the presence of Negro students.

The school board had received complaints from white parents about the presence of Negro students. The school board had previously been open to all students, but had recently been closed to Negroes. The school board had received complaints from white parents about the presence of Negro students.

The school board had received complaints from white parents about the presence of Negro students. The school board had previously been open to all students, but had recently been closed to Negroes. The school board had received complaints from white parents about the presence of Negro students.

The school board had received complaints from white parents about the presence of Negro students. The school board had previously been open to all students, but had recently been closed to Negroes. The school board had received complaints from white parents about the presence of Negro students.

The school board had received complaints from white parents about the presence of Negro students. The school board had previously been open to all students, but had recently been closed to Negroes. The school board had received complaints from white parents about the presence of Negro students.

The school board had received complaints from white parents about the presence of Negro students. The school board had previously been open to all students, but had recently been closed to Negroes. The school board had received complaints from white parents about the presence of Negro students.

The school board had received complaints from white parents about the presence of Negro students. The school board had previously been open to all students, but had recently been closed to Negroes. The school board had received complaints from white parents about the presence of Negro students.

The school board had received complaints from white parents about the presence of Negro students. The school board had previously been open to all students, but had recently been closed to Negroes. The school board had received complaints from white parents about the presence of Negro students.

The school board had received complaints from white parents about the presence of Negro students. The school board had previously been open to all students, but had recently been closed to Negroes. The school board had received complaints from white parents about the presence of Negro students.

The school board had received complaints from white parents about the presence of Negro students. The school board had previously been open to all students, but had recently been closed to Negroes. The school board had received complaints from white parents about the presence of Negro students.

The school board had received complaints from white parents about the presence of Negro students. The school board had previously been open to all students, but had recently been closed to Negroes. The school board had received complaints from white parents about the presence of Negro students.

The school board had received complaints from white parents about the presence of Negro students. The school board had previously been open to all students, but had recently been closed to Negroes. The school board had received complaints from white parents about the presence of Negro students.
Bill Defeat Aids Education

U.S. Senate defeat of a bill that would make tuition costs deductible on the tax returns of college students' parents demonstrated keen perception of the problems of education on the part of federal legislators. Its repercussions in Michigan showed past the opposite for some state legislators.

The Senators in an extended debate over the bill, weighed the merits of this and other plans, each with distinct advantages to certain groups. This particular plan, it appears, would inadvertently have given greater aid to private institutions and higher learning families than to state-supported institutions and the families whose children attend them.

The legislators appear to have seen that state-supported colleges must be given any possible advantages in developing their facilities, and the defeat of the bill was a well-meaning move in this direction.

Not as much can be said for the reactions of some state legislatures, who, according to a University administration source, "will just the excuse they need to cut the already declining aid for student support to public colleges and universities."

It is to be secret that some members of the state Senate and House have been seeking means of limiting state support to public institutions of learning. Their reaction to this bill was merely symptomatic of what seems to be an ever-present problem—contestation between federal legislative policies and the philosophy of which such institutions as Michigan State were conceived.

Michigan State is a land-grant school, operating by the general principles that have come to be known as the land-grant philosophy of education. It involves a relatively inexpensive school provided for all students who are able to meet the requirements. It involves diversified facilities and the best faculty members who participate in teaching and research and interest from the state as the needs and demands of the University.

What the land-grant philosophy does not involve is a desire on the part of the legislature to decrease their funds for the University as soon as another potential source of income appears. It does not involve an effectual estrangement on the part of the University from the problems of the University.

The land-grant philosophy to which Michigan State adheres is dedicated demands fair and democratic treatment of all students in the school and must be supported by the entire state, regardless of the cost, if it is to succeed.

Learning Of The 'New' World

The announcement of plans to hold a student-sponsored conference on the problems of Africa and Asia, to be held in December at Kellogg Center later this month is worthy of praise.

Two or three times yearly, an American university student does not look beyond the confines of his own country. He may know the development of the smaller, lesser-known foreign country, but he is really unaware of the whole world.

In Africa and Asia new countries are being created. With these new countries come new problems. Whether facing a young America or a Zanzibar are much different than those which confronted their great-great-grandfathers a hundred years ago faced.

All University Student Government, the National Students Association and the International Relations Club have undertaken a more than worthwhile task.

Coming to this campus will be representatives from more than one hundred student organizations who will come to learn about the world of today and the countries that make up a very important part of that world.

Student discussion groups will have the opportunity to meet with State Department and Agency for International Development officials, as well as with visiting professors and students in the country.

The State Department has cooperated by bringing 15 South-east Asian student leaders to the University in 1946, as an extension of its efforts, it must be remembered that Chiang received infinitely more support from the United States than the Communists received from their principal supplier, the Soviet Union.

Since this course is a survey, it is unnecessary to mention either the whole of the chain of events or the details of the situation. The important point which should be given importance, perhaps even exaggerated, is that the effort of the United States to influence world history has been successful.
Old Buildings Remain As Part Of Heritage

June Grads Eligible For $8,000 Grants

Voluntary ROTC Called Success

Los Gourmets Dinner Dance

STUDY GUIDES FOR ALL BASIC COURSES
NAT. SCI. ATL. SOC. SCI. HUM.
MARSHALL MUSIC CO.
307 EAST GRAND RIVER

SLACKS
Tailored by Winer
AT CLEARANCE PRICES
$12 88 AND $14 88

S P E N C E R T E A K S P E C I A L
$1.95 per piece of meat

Thursdays only. For Information, call 333-1444.

In this world of instant gratification, patience is highly displeasure. Today, the value of patience is widely recognized as a virtue and a necessary quality for success in various aspects of life. Patience allows us to wait for the right opportunity, to make informed decisions, and to maintain our composure in challenging situations. It fosters growth, development, and understanding, enabling us to appreciate the value of persistence and hard work. Patience is not just about waiting for things to happen; it is about understanding the importance of taking the time to do things right and ensuring that our actions align with our goals and values. In today's fast-paced world, where immediate results are often expected, it is crucial to cultivate the virtue of patience and apply it in our daily lives to achieve long-term success and fulfillment.
Mail Order Bride Here

Thursday, February 6, 1964

PROMPT

There will be a monthly meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary, in the auditorium of the Marysville Police Station, on the third Tuesday of each month. The next meeting will be on Tuesday, March 5, 1964. All interested members are encouraged to attend.

SAVE

This week only! Get 20% off on all Alcoholic Per Family specials.

Flash

PHONE IV 8-7273

FRAMON SHOPPING CENTER

LIEBERMANN'S

GIFTS for your VALENTINE

- “Tree of Gold” Accessories
- On Princess Garden

For HER!

- Belted
- $5.00
- French Furse
- $5.00
- Key Chain
- $2.95
- Lighitner
- $2.95

For HIM!

- Pocket Folds in Fine Leather

KRESGE'S

LANSING - 105 W. Washington
EAST LANSING - 200 E. Grand River

Mail Order Bride Here

One of the stars of "Mail Order Bride," which opened here Friday at the Coliseum Theatre, is Lois Nettleton, who has acted and on stage. She said, "I guess the advantages of acting in both films continue to function. I am adept at critical thinking. I am also a responsible person," she said.

Order Pride," a new film open­

One of the stars of "Mail Order Bride," which opened here Friday at the Coliseum Theatre, is Lois Nettleton, who has acted and on stage. She said, "I guess the advantages of acting in both films continue to function. I am adept at critical thinking. I am also a responsible person," she said.

Predicts Alcoholic Per Family

The threat of theft of micro­

One of the stars of "Mail Order Bride," which opened here Friday at the Coliseum Theatre, is Lois Nettleton, who has acted and on stage. She said, "I guess the advantages of acting in both films continue to function. I am adept at critical thinking. I am also a responsible person," she said.

Einstein Theory Meets Conflict

A cold plastic film has applied to the imagination of architects and structural designers, according to a building research engineer.

"If we ever have to have a comfort room in a building, the city has to turn in design for the same," he said.

Plastic Foam Finds Use In Housing

A cold plastic film has applied to the imagination of architects and structural designers, according to a building research engineer.

"If we ever have to have a comfort room in a building, the city has to turn in design for the same," he said.

Book Thefts

A cold plastic film has applied to the imagination of architects and structural designers, according to a building research engineer.

"If we ever have to have a comfort room in a building, the city has to turn in design for the same," he said.

Music Prof To Take Part In Temple U. Celebration

A cold plastic film has applied to the imagination of architects and structural designers, according to a building research engineer.

"If we ever have to have a comfort room in a building, the city has to turn in design for the same," he said.

Fingerprint Expert Fails To Qualify

A cold plastic film has applied to the imagination of architects and structural designers, according to a building research engineer.

"If we ever have to have a comfort room in a building, the city has to turn in design for the same," he said.

Lansing - 107 S. Washington

MAIL ORDER BRIDE HERE

One of the stars of "Mail Order Bride," which opened here Friday at the Coliseum Theatre, is Lois Nettleton, who has acted and on stage. She said, "I guess the advantages of acting in both films continue to function. I am adept at critical thinking. I am also a responsible person," she said.

Predicts Alcoholic Per Family

One of the stars of "Mail Order Bride," which opened here Friday at the Coliseum Theatre, is Lois Nettleton, who has acted and on stage. She said, "I guess the advantages of acting in both films continue to function. I am adept at critical thinking. I am also a responsible person," she said.

Einstein Theory Meets Conflict

A cold plastic film has applied to the imagination of architects and structural designers, according to a building research engineer.

"If we ever have to have a comfort room in a building, the city has to turn in design for the same," he said.

Plastic Foam Finds Use In Housing

A cold plastic film has applied to the imagination of architects and structural designers, according to a building research engineer.

"If we ever have to have a comfort room in a building, the city has to turn in design for the same," he said.

Book Thefts

A cold plastic film has applied to the imagination of architects and structural designers, according to a building research engineer.

"If we ever have to have a comfort room in a building, the city has to turn in design for the same," he said.

Music Prof To Take Part In Temple U. Celebration

A cold plastic film has applied to the imagination of architects and structural designers, according to a building research engineer.

"If we ever have to have a comfort room in a building, the city has to turn in design for the same," he said.

Fingerprint Expert Fails To Qualify

A cold plastic film has applied to the imagination of architects and structural designers, according to a building research engineer.

"If we ever have to have a comfort room in a building, the city has to turn in design for the same," he said.
Boen, De Santos Star

'Othello' Fast, Forceful

Arena Troupe Show

By DOUGLAS LACKEY

In Act V of "Othello," the stage is set and the moment has come. Iago, played by Peter F. Harvey, comes on stage carrying a lighted taper. As he prepares to light the taper, he turns to the audience and says, "By the grace of God, Iago has gathered a crowd to watch him."

Harvey's performance is both forceful and sophisticated, capturing the essence of Othello's evil genius. His delivery is smooth and his timing is impeccable. As Iago makes his way through the play, he becomes more and more convincing, leading the audience to believe in his deception.

In Act IV, Othello and Iago are in the garden, and Iago is trying to convince Othello to murder his wife, Desdemona. Harvey's portrayal of Iago is menacing, and his words are filled with malice. His delivery is so convincing that it makes the audience feel uneasy.

Overall, Harvey's performance is a brilliant one, and he shines in every scene. His portrayal of Iago is both terrifying and entertaining, and he is a force to be reckoned with on the stage.

---

Folklore Society Recap Tonight

The Folklore Society will meet tonight at 7:30 in the Kresge Art Center. The meeting will be open to the public, and all interested individuals are welcome to attend.

The purpose of the meeting will be to discuss the upcoming folklore conference, which will be held in Detroit in August. The conference will feature a variety of speakers and workshops, and attendees will have the opportunity to learn about various aspects of folklore.

In addition to the conference, there will be a special event featuring a performance by the Michigan State University Folklorists. The performance will be held in the Kresge Art Center at 8:00 PM. All interested individuals are welcome to attend.

---

Hootenany with a Few Easy Lessons

Join us for a hootenany tonight at the Folklore Society headquarters. We will have a few easy lessons for anyone interested in learning about folk music.

The lessons will cover a variety of topics, including basic chords, strumming patterns, and simple songs. Whether you are new to folk music or have been playing for years, you are welcome to join us.

This is a great opportunity to learn something new and to meet other music lovers. So come on down to the Folklore Society headquarters tonight and let's have a hootenany!
1955-FORD, 1955 Ford Tudor Deluxe, 4-door, V-6, auto, power steering and brakes, clean, like new, 4,000 miles. Will guarantee $1,250. Call 339-2162.

OLDSMOBILE DEALER

OLDs 88 4-door hardtop, automatic, 2-tone paint and transmission, 2-tone green. Good running condition. $595. 22S 8:30-6:00 p.m. Weekdays. $12 1 day, $21 S 2 days. Please call 22S 22-1091.

PONTIAC

STORY SELLS FOR LESS

JAZZ MUSICIANS

Compete Friday

The Newport Jazz Festival's opening day in the New York Forum, Saturday, August 2, will be the goal event of a major national radio and TV broadcasting system.

The festival, which is sponsored by the New York Forum, will feature many of the nation's top jazz groups, including the jazz revues of Buddy Rich and Count Basie. The festival will also feature the work of such well-known jazz musicians as Dizzy Gillespie, Charlie Parker, and Thelonious Monk.

Jazz Musicians Compete Friday

Life On Bread Alone Seen

By Foods, Nutrition Head

It may be possible to live by eating only foods that are inherently sweet, according to Dr. C. Cathcart, chairman of the nutrition department at the University of Michigan. In recent research, Dr. Cathcart and his associates have found that certain foods, such as fruits and vegetables, can be eaten without causing harm to the body.

Dr. Cathcart said that the findings are significant because they suggest that it may be possible to live on a diet that is entirely composed of sweet foods. He added that the research is important because it could lead to the development of new and better methods of nutrition education.

Dr. Cathcart's research has been supported by the National Institute of Health and the National Science Foundation. He is currently working on a project to develop a new method of teaching nutrition to schoolchildren.

The research has been funded by a grant from the National Institute of Health. Dr. Cathcart said that the project will be completed within the next two years.

The research has also been supported by the National Science Foundation. Dr. Cathcart said that the project will be completed within the next two years.
'S' Faces Toughest Cage Foes
GARY PLAYER

The latest in hotel and motel reservation systems links the establishments in an inn chain via a teletype and phone set up.

The latest in motel reservation system doesn't reach the teletype stage as yet, but it could if things keep going as they have in the past.

Thursday, February 6, 1964

WHAT'S NEW IN THE FEBRUARY ATLANTIC?

We're changing the dates of the February issue to accommodate a one-week late start for the magazine. Also, this will enable us to bring you the latest in the news of the month. The February issue will be delivered to your house by the end of the month, and you'll get the latest news in the February issue. The February issue will be delivered to your house by the end of the month, and you'll get the latest news in the February issue.