State Eyes Students For Auditing Practice

The state is exploring the possibility of using students to help with auditing practices. The plan would involve selecting a group of students to work with the state's auditing department.

This would be a significant development, as it would provide students with valuable real-world experience. It would also help to ensure the accuracy of the state's financial data.

If this plan is implemented, it could be a model for other states to follow.

Easter Traditions Spring From Ancient Celebrations

By LINDA MILLER
State News Staff Writer

Some believe the first Easter celebration took place at the very moment Jesus Christ was resurrected on Good Friday. Other religious leaders say the resurrection of Jesus Christ was a common event among different peoples, not unique to accounts. The theme of "risen" and "risen from the dead" is common to accounts. The theme of "resurrection" is not unique to religion, and the resurrection of Jesus Christ is a fact of history.

Religious Leaders To Confer Here

Leaders of major religious faiths will gather in Lansing Tuesday for a Religion and Race Conference. The event will feature speakers from the Michigan Council of Churches, the Michigan Conference of Jewish Organizations, and the Michigan Interchurch Center.

Orthodox Catholics Follow Nicean Council Date For Lent

Orthodox Christians will follow the Nicean Council Date for Lent, which is March 28. Easter comes traditionally on the full moon following the first Sunday after the first full moon after March 21. It will carry no credit and will be missioner for a Lenten travel program.

Passover Celebration Marks Hebrew Exodus From Egypt

The theme is to be held until the end of the month of Tammuz, the month of the Seder. The Seder is the Passover meal that commemorates the Exodus from Egypt. It is said to be the first of the three annual holiday meals that are commemorated in the Jewish calendar. The other two are the Sukkot, which marks the harvest, and the Shavuot, which marks the giving of the Torah.

The other two professors are Richard H. Brown, professor of education at the University of Iowa, and John W. Allen, professor of education at the University of Notre Dame.

Weaker Or Not, Olin Visits Show Women Are Healthier

Olin health reports show that more clinic calls were made by female than male students. Men made 12,585 calls made by 15,942 female students.

Men made 15,942 calls, while women made 12,585 calls. This difference is significant in the context of the number of clinic visits made, and indicates a greater need for women's health services.

The weakness in men's health is particularly notable in the number of clinic visits made for injuries. Women are more likely to receive treatment for injuries, while men are more likely to be treated for headaches and colds.

However, this difference in clinic visits does not reflect the overall health of the student body. Olin is focused on providing equal access to health care for all students, regardless of gender.

The Olin Student Health Center offers a range of services to support the physical and emotional well-being of students. These services include primary care, mental health, and counseling.

Women are encouraged to use these services to maintain their health and well-being. Olin is committed to providing a safe and supportive environment for all students.

Women, and men, are encouraged to take care of their health. Olin emphasizes the importance of regular check-ups and seeking help when needed.

The Olin Student Health Center is a valuable resource for all students. They are encouraged to make use of these services to support their health and well-being.
