Robert G. Harris

Robert G. Harris, Bryum, a member of the first All-University Student Government, is being challenged in the primary election by junior, Paul J. Lindquist.

The major issue of this campaign is the need for a solution to the problems of the All-University Student Government. Harris believes that the present system is not effective and that a new system should be established.

Harris proposes the following changes:

1. A new constitution and bylaws should be written by a committee appointed by the executive council.
2. The executive council should be abolished and replaced by an elected president and vice-president.
3. The standing committees should be abolished and replaced by a system of representative councils.
4. The student senate should be abolished and replaced by a system of representative councils.
5. The budget committee should be abolished and replaced by a system of representative councils.
6. The All-University Student Government should be reorganized into a system of representative councils.

These changes would result in a more effective and efficient system of government at Michigan State University.

Letter To The Editor

Winds Of Change

Dear Editor:

The political climate of today is characterized by a desire for change. The old ways of doing things are no longer acceptable, and people are demanding new and different methods of solving problems.

In Michigan State University, we are experiencing a similar desire for change. The old methods of student government are no longer adequate, and there is a need for a new system of government.

The All-University Student Government (AUSG) is currently being challenged by a new candidate, Robert G. Harris. Harris is advocating for a new system of government, which he believes would be more effective and efficient.

I support Robert G. Harris and his proposed changes to the AUSG. His ideas are innovative and his approach is refreshing.

Sincerely yours,

Poverty, Prejudice Related Problems

By SUE JACOBY

World News

The United States is experiencing a growing problem of poverty and racial prejudice. The federal government has taken steps to address these issues, but much more needs to be done.

The federal government has implemented various programs to combat poverty, such as the Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) program and the Supplemental Security Income (SSI) program. However, these programs are not sufficient to address the root causes of poverty.

Prejudice against minorities is also a significant problem in the United States. The government has taken steps to address this issue, such as the implementation of affirmative action programs and the creation of the Civil Rights Division within the Department of Justice. However, much more needs to be done to combat prejudice.

In conclusion, the United States is facing a growing problem of poverty and racial prejudice. The federal government has taken steps to address these issues, but much more needs to be done to combat these problems.

Sincerely yours,

Meet Views Relations

A conference on the implementation of the school prayer decision will be held today in East Lansing.

The conference is sponsored jointly by the Foreign Relations Project, the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools and the NEA, which will provide attendance for the conference.

Four Rooms Planned For Little MSU

Four rooms will be added to the Little Village School, which has been approved by the East Lansing Board of Education.

The rooms are being constructed to accommodate an increase in enrollment, due to two more grades to be added to the present two grades.

Approximately 30 per cent of the 250,000 cost will be paid by the University. This portion of the cost will be covered by the MSU School of Business.

Former Bat Coach Kobs Discovers Robin Has Wings

By JERRY HORTON

State News Sports Writer

Dick Roberts, the former coach of the Spartan baseball team, has announced that he has discovered a new star for the 1964 season. Roberts, who was fired from his coaching position last year, said that he had been checking on the progress of several promising young players and had found one who showed great promise. The player, whom Roberts has nicknamed "Wing," has been playing for a local amateur team and has shown remarkable skill at the plate. Roberts believes that Wing has the potential to become one of the best batters in the country and has offered him a full scholarship to play for the Spartans next season.

Roberts said that he had been keeping an eye on Wing for some time and had been impressed by his hitting ability. "I've been watching this kid for a while now," Roberts said. "He's got a lot of power and can hit the ball all over the field."

Wing, who is 17 years old, said that he was thrilled to have been offered a scholarship. "I've always wanted to play for the Spartans," Wing said. "I'm really excited about this opportunity."

Spartan hurlers make big pitch in defense of the Big Ten in ten less innings of work. Collins has 1 / strike at 1.81, followed by Millard (2.44) and Collins (3.16). Krasnan, undefeated in two games is the workhorse of the corps.

However, the Spartans have an advantage over most pitching staffs—they don’t have to face booming Spartan bats.

The four hurlers have 7.6 batters a game, and opposing moundsmen have averaged 8.4 strike outs.

Another advantage is that Michigan State has given up 131 runs, 173 hits and has whiffed 19 in ten less innings of work. Collins has 1 / strike at 1.81, followed by Millard (2.44) and Collins (3.16).

Krasnan, undefeated in two games is the workhorse of the corps.
