LBJ Sees Peace In This Generation

NEW YORK — The billion dollar New York World's Fair opened on schedule today, with a prophecy by President Johnson of peace within a generation. A cold rain set on atmosphere, and plans for a massive traffic "delta" collapsed around the first and glorious of a Radio City spring day.

President Johnson was the first dignitary to enter the fair, attended only by the speakers for the dedication ceremonies. In the fair's tradition, the president called for peace and announced that the fair would be dedicated to the theme of "Peace with Understanding." This dedication to peace was the keynote of the day, and a theme that was to be echoed throughout the fair.

The rain did not deter the President, who declared that the fair symbolizes the efforts towards peace he and his administration have been making. The President's message was received with enthusiasm, and the fair was dedicated in his name.

The fair this year runs until October 22. The fair's theme, "Peace with Understanding," was chosen to mark the 1964 fair's opening.

"Peace with Understanding" was the theme of the fair, and it was the theme of the day. The fair was dedicated to the theme of peace, and the President's message was received with enthusiasm. The fair was dedicated in his name, and the fair was a success.

Unwarranted Invitation

The warning of FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover that Communists may be playing a subversive part in the Negro movement is an unwarranted invitation to alarmists to worry about a non-existent problem. It is generally agreed that, although the fight of Negroes for freedom has inspired and involved some Communists, the idea that they are largely engaged or eliminated when they become too noisy.

The implication of Hoover's warning is that we should be on the lookout for Communist places where they may be hiding and exerting a subtle, and possibly unsuspecting influence. It is implicit that if anyone suspected of such activities is eliminated, that this may be done publicly which may be out of proportion to the problem. This can make the situation worse.

It's amazing what you can see from the side of a canoe paddling a canoe around on the Red Cedar.

Letters To Editor

It is not the proper purpose to make a discussion about the Brazilian crisis a political issue but rather that we are concerned about the lives and well-being of the people of Brazil.

If the truth is that Gauld has been able to bring peace to the people of Brazil, it is of great interest and respect, even if getting the facts precise is greater than the potential danger.
