Michigan State's second consecutive year of running away with the National Merit Scholarship honors is a continuation of this University's growing stature.

More than 200 of this year's 1,625 Merit Scholars named for the first time will attend the second place "winner," Harvard University. This is "academic pitching," then, to what is needed to bring the long-needed re-adjustment in the nation's conception of a good school.

Play's Scope Too Broad

By SUZANNE McGRATH

The fact of "LAURA" lie in the play and not in the action, although all of the cast performed admirably, the Performing Arts Company's semi-professional production was somewhat hindered from showing a story and character development.

The plot was well-done, but lengthy years in the lives of the characters and a rather drastic change in one of the major plots were too close to deal with the subject. The plot may be considered as not completely covered in the play, but it was a commendable effort.

The plot was weak and tedious. The characters, the dialogue and the action were more objective, but film, music and the actors were not given much of a chance to develop a story and character development.

Perform Prof In Concert

Tommy Devito, Jr., and Josephine Evans performed in the show in Detroit. The play was well done, but the music and the acting were not properly developed. The plot was weak and tedious. The characters, the dialogue and the action were more objective, but film, music and the actors were not given much of a chance to develop a story and character development.

Children Must Be Independent

"Until a month ago, Speck was the most independent, the most resourceful of all children of his age. "The boys all learned to work, the girls learned to plan, but Speck didn't learn anything. He was a puzzle to everyone," she said."

"Children who come out of a home where there is a great deal of permissiveness and no discipline, and are not taught to take care of themselves, are not well prepared for life. They need discipline before they can learn to be independent."

Penraces Starting Today; 100, Relay Finals Saturday

At noon today in Philadelphia, Andy Cavenaugh, IMSA president, will throw the starting gun to begin the 33rd annual Penn Relays weekend of track meets.

Not only will the Spartans be after 70th annual Penn Relays, the 400-yard medley relay, as well as the hurdles. Bob Moreland, 100-yard champion, and the 120-yard high hurdles, will also travel to Madison, Wis.

Brian Hendrick, who set a new Purdue record last season, will be joining the event this year. Men's 400-yard medley race will be run today, with championships being decided.

The high jump and shot put competition will also be held today.

Booster Reunion

Fifty Michiganders, including athletes from the 1964 national championship team, converged on Franklin Field.

The Michigan alumni and friends gathered at Franklin Field for their bi-annual reunion.

There will be several Olympic gold medal events, including long jump and high jump competition.

Bridge Win

Michigan State and Bowling Green State will be competing in the 1964 National Intercollegiate Bridge Tournament.

The Michigan winners were Douglas K. Goodrich, William Wangler, and John J. Flaherty. They were the only Michigan participants in this year's tournament.

The team was scheduled to play on the second day of the tournament.

Women's Net Team

Women's Net Team In Only Away Show

The women's volleyball team, which is scheduled to play in a three-game series with the University of Texas, will be on hand to represent the team.

The women's team is expected to play a total of 16 games this season. The 1964 season will be the last season for the women's team. They will then move on to serve as a women's team in the university's sports program.

The women's team will be playing against the best teams in the country, including the University of Texas. The team will be coached by Coach George Melina, who has led the team to many victories.

The team has a record of 16-4 this season and is currently ranked third in the nation.

The women's team will be playing in front of a record-breaking crowd of fans who have come to cheer them on.

The team will also be playing against the best teams from other universities, including the University of Texas, who are currently ranked first in the country.

The women's team is looking forward to a successful season and hopes to bring home a championship trophy.

Golf Squad Meets Purdue

Purdue won seven major matches from last weekend's West Conference Tournament, which qualified them for the NCAA Preliminary Round in Columbus. Purdue will compete against Indiana and Wisconsin in the preliminary round on March 28, 2023.

5 Spartans in State Senior Lift

Michigan State University is expected to put up a tough battle against the weightlifting teams. The duo and Tim Greening, juniors, will be in the senior category. Bernie Kutchinski, whose 660-pound total was second in the 165-pound category, is one of the Midwest's top lifters. He is looking forward to the competition and hopes to improve his performance.
