Prof Says Revolution Needed In U.S. Educational System

HOUSTON, Tex. — American education has failed the students and the teachers, says the prophet.

"The children of the poor get no help and the rich get the best. In the public school the poor child gets nothing extra but what is there for all. The rich child gets more help and better teaching. In the private schools, the parents give a lot of money to the schools and the children get better courses."

Melby, in former days of the NAACP, University and Northwestern University, and former president of the NAACP, said the 4,000 school board members were, however, "not interested in the education of the poor child."

Keep all schools open continuously from 8 a.m. to at least 5 p.m. with a continuous program for adults as well as children and pupils.

The hope the economic system being geared to help the children and the teachers, said the prophet.

Tougher Military Policy Looms In Viet Nam War

Two Positions Depend On Tuesday's Ballot

There will be an election for senior class secretary as well as for All-University Student Government president Tuesday.

Students, Junior Thursday night agreed a decision by the election review board which disallowed the senior secretary candidate will fail and be invalidated.

"The name of the prophet will be given Friday in letter to the President."
Wish I'd Be Lovely

If this were an ideal world, this space would be filled with comment on President Johnson's announcement that reconnaissance flights over Cuba will continue. We would be expressing our hope that the administration, in the spirit of the announcement, would make a new effort to bring about a just and lasting settlement of the Cuban problem and the world situation.

It looks from here as if the administration is using the policy on such matters as reconnaissance flights over Cuba are aware of the need to consider the difficulties involved in that policy. They are aware that what they say is necessary in the national interest, and that this necessity is regrettable, but thinking anything else is more naive.

We cannot claim self-righteously that when we make any decision on such matters the other fellow makes it right or wrong. We must be aware that others view events as more morally right, while at the same time behaving as though it was moral.

We must do this to maintain peace and the sovereignty of our interests, while still maintaining an image of nationalism that will stand up before the world.

Point of View

No one could possibly think that the letter writer would have brought the administration to its knees. I mention it for two reasons: one, to provide an example of how one can express any opinion, and, two, to bring out the necessity of a meaningful dialogue about the student government.

It is the same, I think, as saying that if we are going to build a republic, the people must have a voice in the administration of the government. That's why the:AUSG is a drag on the student affairs. That's why the: public affairs. The reason for the letters was to provide an opportunity for the administration to reply to the critics.

Symposium To Scan Civil Rights Progress

Washington—Hopes are being expressed in the capital that the serious problems of school desegregation will be solved at a special symposium here May 24-25.

Archbishop Oder Mobile Integration

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Archbishops Daniel Cardinal O'Connell of Washington, E. Bernard Francis J. (Vicar) of Chicago and Robert C. (Auxiliary) of Portland, Ore., are to conduct on May 24-25 a special conference on school integration.

The two-day meeting of the heads of the three archdioceses will be held in observance of the 25th anniversary of the Supreme Court decision in Brown v. Board of Education and the 100th birthday of the Social Action Commission of the National Catholic Educational Association.

The purpose of the meeting is to review the landmark decision that opened the door to school desegregation and to indicate the steps that should be taken to implement the decision.

Suggest Johnson's Strategy May Control Lodge's Future

WASHINGTON—Rumors surrounding the President's strategy toward the Lodge affair are spreading rapidly in this city.

The White House is reported to be considering a strategy for dealing with Lodge that would involve the Lodge affair going on to the Republican convention as a separate matter from Lodge's resignation, with Lodge being dealt with at a later date.

The President himself has said that he will not consider Lodge's resignation until after the Republican convention.

Johnson strategy is designed to keep Lodge in the public eye, while at the same time it is hoped that Lodge will not be able to make much progress in his efforts to reopen the Lodge affair.

The strategy is also expected to be used to help the President in his battle with Lodge, who has been a persistent critic of the President and his policies.

The strategy is expected to be used to keep Lodge on the defensive, and to try to keep Lodge from being able to make much progress in his efforts to reopen the Lodge affair.

The strategy is also expected to be used to try to keep Lodge from being able to make much progress in his efforts to reopen the Lodge affair.

Over-Sunning Causes Skin Cancer

Skin cancer from over-exposure to sunlight is on the increase, according to James H. Fargi, assistant professor of biological science at Michigan State College. Fargi says that melanoma, a type of skin cancer, is on the rise.

The amount of sunlight in the past two years has been reported to have increased by one third. This increase has led to an increase in the number of skin cancer cases. Fargi says that people need to be aware of the dangers of over-exposure to sunlight.

Fargi also explains that people with fair skin are more susceptible to skin cancer. He recommends that people use sunscreen and wear protective clothing when spending time outdoors.

Bees on campus are buzzing, and dancing. This is done by communicating "Dancing Bees" to other bees. The bees communicate by shaking, and dancing.

When a bee finds an area of land where there is a lot of food, it will dance in a specific pattern. Other bees will follow the bee and find the food source.

An intense amount of melanin is present in people of the Saxon race. This is because they have more exposure to sunlight.

Fargi also explains that sunbathing is a cause for the slow but steady increase in skin cancer cases. Some people are more susceptible to skin cancer than others.

Farms To Display 'Barnyard Babies'

Farms at the University will swing open on Saturday, May 3 to visitors, including all groups of inquisitive children and adults who want to admire springtime's annual crop of 'barnyard babies.'

Baby animals competing for top honors in this spring's annual baby animal show will be displayed at various places around the campus. Nine farms in all will be open to the visiting public from Friday, May 2 to Saturday, May 3. For details see the announcement below.

The Grand Opening of the 1964 'Animal Farm Days' is scheduled for Saturday morning, May 3, at 10 a.m. at the University Dairy Farm. The main feature of the opening will be a parade of baby animals through the town, to be followed by an open barn-walk and a free meal for everyone.

The University Dairy Farm will be a popular destination for visitors on Saturday, May 3. In addition to the usual attractions, the farm will feature a petting zoo, a demonstration of dairy products, and a display of the university's new dairy herd.

On Sunday, May 4, the University Dairy Farm will host a special event for children, with activities including a pony ride, a petting zoo, and a craft workshop.

The University Dairy Farm will be open from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. both Saturday and Sunday. Admission is free, and there will be no charge for any of the activities.

Panelists See Rise In Student Morality

"Our students are not going to hell as a family," said the president of the university. "The rise in student morality is not due to a lack of moral leadership on campus."

Dr. James F. Fuzak, director of the Office of Student Life, was quoted in the announcement. "We are not in a new age of morality, Fuzak said. "We have a new age of morality."
