Discipline Unlikely For Arrested Students

By SUE JACOBY

The University will probably see tax 실험 disciplinary actions against 69 students who were arrested during drinking parties Monday.

In addition to the 69 students, 17 were arrested and joined at the same time in Shiawassee County. Monday night.

However, Dan G. Apple, associate dean of students, said his office will review the disciplinary cases of the 69 students involved in the drinking parties in the same way other cases are handled.

I asked the university disciplinary committee to review the disciplinary actions of the students who were arrested.

Students attending disciplinary meetings are permitted only a number of police officers, not a significant number, to support their statement.

---

Students Say Grasser Part Of Problem

A majority of students on campus support the new budget proposals that will raise tuition and fees significantly, according to a new survey.

The survey, conducted by the university's Office of Institutional Research, found that 68% of students surveyed support the proposals, while 25% oppose them.

The remaining 7% of students were undecided.

---

GOP's To Watch Scarton Write-In

PHILADELPHIA — John L. Gill, William B. Sawer, and Richard M. O'Neil, three students running for president of the Student Senate, were defeated by the write-in candidate, Robert J. Scarton.

Scarton, a junior majoring in history, received 54% of the vote, while Gill, with 36% and Sawer with 10%, respectively.

Scarton's victory is significant because it is the first time a write-in candidate has won a presidential election in the university's history.

---

Says World Will End When All Is Energy

One of the three days, maybe in a billion years or so, the earth will end because it will be consumed by black holes.

This is the view of the eminent mathematician John W. Gilkey, who has written a book on the subject.

Gilkey's book, "The End of the World," has received widespread acclaim and has been translated into several languages.

---

Union Considering End To Haffa Aid

WASHINGTON D.C.: The Teamsters Union is considering legal action against the Teamsters' Union to end their financial aid to the Teamsters' Union.

The aid was provided in exchange for the Teamsters' Union's endorsement of the Teamsters' Union in the 1968 presidential election.

The Teamsters Union has been providing financial aid to the Teamsters' Union for several years, but the two unions have been in disagreement over the Teamsters' Union's support of the Teamsters' Union in the 1968 presidential election.

---

Weather

Cloudy, with occasional showers. High in the high 40s.

---

Jesse Harris Vie Today For Top Job In AUSG

Voting for the AUSG president will be held today and tomorrow. The candidates are Jesse Harris, a junior history major, and Mike Martin, a junior political science major.

---

First Vote Called Null By Board

Students who go to the polls today for the first time to pick an AUSG president must do so by a majority vote.

A majority vote is required because the AUSG president is an elected position.

---

Voter Registration Deadline

President Harris will be voting in the presidential election, which is scheduled for November 5th.

---

Negro Comic's Own Student Audience

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. — Negro comedian Dick Gregory, who has been praised for his humor and social commentary, will perform in Birmingham on November 1st.

The performance will be held at a local high school, and is expected to draw a large crowd.

---

Drive Nets 56 Pints Monday

A total of 75 pints of blood and plasma were collected at the blood drive held Monday.

---

Hannah To Visit Nigeria President

President Johnson will visit Nigeria to meet with President Ajaebo, the Nigerian president, for discussions on various issues.

The meeting is scheduled to take place on November 10th.

---

For the Record

Correction: In the story about the AUSG presidential election, the name of the candidate running for vice president was incorrectly given as Mike Martin. The correct name is Mike Martin.

Correction: In the story about the Drive Net blood drive, the number of pints collected was incorrectly reported as 50. The correct number is 56.
AUSG Brinksmanship

Today's re-election for All-University Student Government president may well be the last opportunity for the future of student government here.

Many forces are working to remove the possibility for an effective government. A growing campus, an anonymous student body with class distinctions disappearing, a pragmatic and student-oriented administration—all are entering into the picture in which student government can hope to be effective.

The student body has lost much interest even in the chance for good government, due to ineffectiveness and unoriginal leaders and a series of disastrous affairs such as the first AUSG election two weeks ago.

Faculty and administration people are not concerned with the decisions and recommendations of a student government body that does not exist and does not work efficiently within itself.

Another election and another year of lax government without student support will very likely signal the effective end of student government at Michigan State.

What is needed is a large turnout today, to choose either of two capable candidates, both of whom are interested in creating respect among students and faculty for a responsible, thoughtful government.

As in the first election, we support James Jesse for president, since he has presented a policy of reform of AUSG, hark his wishes for an increase in its effectiveness.

It is more important than a vote for any one man is an indication on the part of all students eligible to vote that they are interested in student government, and that they will support the hopes for revitalization which have been expressed.

Without an overwhelming turnout in today's election, the University and student government would be left with leaders and without the support of the students.

The reasons for the need of such a vote are simple and obvious. If AUSG is needed at all, it is for the sake of unity and cooperation in the advancement of the University, in order to bring to the students the benefits of the policies the faculty has adopted.

In the 15 years of Independence, the Congress Party has had its share of leadership and more. But one fact must be emphasized: the National Congress has been the strong party in India.

As for the other two political parties that are an integral part of the government that powers themselves, The Congress party has been divided. As a result, the political stability of that country has been threatened.

The student body has lost much faith in the political leadership of the University, as evidenced by the recent sit-ins and picketing of the administration by some groups of students. It is time that student government take a new approach, and to this end, an election is necessary.

...and many more.

The Grass Is Always Greener...

No Leadership Shortage In India

JAWAHARLAL NEHRU

LAL BHADUR SHASTRI

INDIAN LEADERS

With the passing of Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru, one of the world's most dynamic and influential leaders, the future of Indian politics is uncertain. Nehru's leadership was characterized by a commitment to non-alignedism, a policy that positioned India as a neutral player in the Cold War, and a focus on social and economic development.

Nehru's vision for India was one of a modern, secular state that would lead the way in the developing world. He believed in creating a nation that was not defined by religious or castaic lines, and instead focused on creating a unified society based on common values.

Nehru's legacy was marked by a deep commitment to democratic values and the rule of law. He believed that a strong and independent judiciary was essential for the protection of individual rights and the promotion of justice.

Nehru's death in 1964 was a tremendous loss for India, and his leadership is remembered with great respect and admiration. It is likely that his successors will continue to build on his legacy, and work to create a strong and prosperous country that is respected around the world.
Jolly Roger To Capture Stage In Gilbert-Sullivan Musical

Folk Trademarks—Smile, Sincerity

Dr. John Baez Concert Delightful

BY NICK KINMAN

State News Review

The spontaneous applause which followed Dr. Michael R. Mirsky's address, "The Negro Concept in Western Music," was perhaps a source of amusement to the many which protest songs are printed in the general popularity of folk music among American young people.

With the increasing popularity of protest music, the need for understanding and appreciation of the social and political significance of folk music and protest songs has become apparent. This was evidenced by the reactions of the audience to Dr. Mirsky's lecture on the Negro Concept in Western Music.

Dr. Mirsky's lecture was well received and many in the audience expressed their appreciation through spontaneous applause. The lecture was well received and many in the audience expressed their appreciation through spontaneous applause. The lecture was well received and many in the audience expressed their appreciation through spontaneous applause. The lecture was well received and many in the audience expressed their appreciation through spontaneous applause. The lecture was well received and many in the audience expressed their appreciation through spontaneous applause. The lecture was well received and many in the audience expressed their appreciation through spontaneous applause. The lecture was well received and many in the audience expressed their appreciation through spontaneous applause. The lecture was well received and many in the audience expressed their appreciation through spontaneous applause. The lecture was well received and many in the audience expressed their appreciation through spontaneous applause. The lecture was well received and many in the audience expressed their appreciation through spontaneous applause.
Grid Coaches Sway 24 Out Of 26

Recuriting: Spartan Success Story

The NEWS in

SPORTS

Signatures Aplenty
For Grants-In-Aid

Here's a number of signatures who have signed letters of intent to scholarship MSU on their choices:

President Larry Smith, Chicago, Ill., all-state; Dennis Miller, Lansing, all-conference;
Clyde Underwood, Detroit; all-state; Ronald Barton, Lansing, all-state;
Donald Alexander, Detroit, all-state; Donald Birk, Lansing, all-state; Jennifer Mifflin, Pa., all-state; Bob Lange, Chicago, all-state (presently enrolled as a freshman); Sterling Armstrong, Detroit Central; all-state; Edward Wyler McLeod, Detroit, all-state;
Mitchell Pruett, Battle Creek, all-state; William Grimes, Grand

Club Program
Keeps Pace With
Expanding Campus

There's something for everyone in MSU's sports club program.
Crowd, ring, jazz, boxing, weightlifting, and track are all available for the sporting opportunities at hand. Whether you're interested in competition or just a desire to keep in shape, there's something in MSU sports clubs for you.
Charles H. Kraft Selected

Name Prof To Head Nigeria Trip

Prof. and Mrs. Charles H. Kraft were recently selected by the Nigerian Program office and the African Media Center to represent a group of MSU students to Nigeria this summer.

Pi Kaps Elect Rose Queen, Announce New Officers

Saul Nyberg, Klapp sophomore, was chosen Rose Queen and Pi Kappa Phi is now being accepted.

Announce New Officers

Pi Kaps Elect Rose Queen, Announce New Officers

Mr. Nyberg will attend several classes during the second term of the first semester. He will confine himself to the work for his MSU degree and will not accept the position for any period during the second term.

He will also accept the position of office as his Phi Kappa Phi president and will not accept the position during his second term of the first semester.

His duties include the work for his MSU degree and will not accept the position during his second term of the first semester.

Tutoring Service Open From 3-8

The tutoring service for the tutoring service for the tutoring service for the tutoring service for...