 Bricklayers' Union Pickets Halt Campus Construction

All Others Expected To Be At Jobs Today

Wage Dispute Believed To Have Triggered Strike

Picketing by local bricklayers halted major campus construction projects Friday and Monday. However, it is believed that all bricklayers will be back on the job today. The strike began Friday when a contract ran out between the bricklayers, Masons, and Plasterers of America Local No. 138, the Michigan chapter of Associated General Contractors of America. Area construction management was handling all negotiations through the contractor's association.

The bitter dispute centers around wages. No wages were cut Friday, but the bricklayers lost their "picket's per," which meant that the workmen would not be penalized by picketing. The strike was expected to continue until the wagers could be determined.

HARRISON, N.Y. — The Supreme Court ruled Monday to stop a rating that campus housing must be non-sectarian or face the consequences. The case involved a student at the University of California, Berkeley, who was denied admission because of her sectarian beliefs.

The court ruled that the university's policies were not sufficient to prevent discrimination against students of other sects.

Sorority Petitions

A petition was submitted to the American Journal Association for the recommendation of the university's policies.

Cash Resigns

Cash resigned his post at the university's newspaper, the Daily Tar Heel, on Monday. He had been editor of the newspaper for four years and was widely respected for his knowledge of the campus.

The final report will be accepted by the university's board of trustees and will be used as a basis for future decisions.

The hidden dispute seems to be centered around wages. The wages of the bricklayers have been the subject of contention for a long time. The present rate for journeyman bricklayers is $2.50 per hour.

The attorney general's office received complaints Thursday about the strike and is investigating the matter.

The students at the university have been picketing for higher wages for some time. They are demanding a raise of 20 cents per hour.

HARRISON, N.Y. — The Supreme Court ruled Monday to stop a rating that campus housing must be non-sectarian or face the consequences. The case involved a student at the University of California, Berkeley, who was denied admission because of her sectarian beliefs.

The court ruled that the university's policies were not sufficient to prevent discrimination against students of other sects.

Cash resigned his post at the university's newspaper, the Daily Tar Heel, on Monday. He had been editor of the newspaper for four years and was widely respected for his knowledge of the campus.

The final report will be accepted by the university's board of trustees and will be used as a basis for future decisions.

The hidden dispute seems to be centered around wages. The wages of the bricklayers have been the subject of contention for a long time. The present rate for journeyman bricklayers is $2.50 per hour.

The attorney general's office received complaints Thursday about the strike and is investigating the matter.

The students at the university have been picketing for higher wages for some time. They are demanding a raise of 20 cents per hour.

HARRISON, N.Y. — The Supreme Court ruled Monday to stop a rating that campus housing must be non-sectarian or face the consequences. The case involved a student at the University of California, Berkeley, who was denied admission because of her sectarian beliefs.

The court ruled that the university's policies were not sufficient to prevent discrimination against students of other sects.

Cash resigned his post at the university's newspaper, the Daily Tar Heel, on Monday. He had been editor of the newspaper for four years and was widely respected for his knowledge of the campus.

The final report will be accepted by the university's board of trustees and will be used as a basis for future decisions.

The hidden dispute seems to be centered around wages. The wages of the bricklayers have been the subject of contention for a long time. The present rate for journeyman bricklayers is $2.50 per hour.

The attorney general's office received complaints Thursday about the strike and is investigating the matter.

The students at the university have been picketing for higher wages for some time. They are demanding a raise of 20 cents per hour.

HARRISON, N.Y. — The Supreme Court ruled Monday to stop a rating that campus housing must be non-sectarian or face the consequences. The case involved a student at the University of California, Berkeley, who was denied admission because of her sectarian beliefs.

The court ruled that the university's policies were not sufficient to prevent discrimination against students of other sects.

Cash resigned his post at the university's newspaper, the Daily Tar Heel, on Monday. He had been editor of the newspaper for four years and was widely respected for his knowledge of the campus.

The final report will be accepted by the university's board of trustees and will be used as a basis for future decisions.

The hidden dispute seems to be centered around wages. The wages of the bricklayers have been the subject of contention for a long time. The present rate for journeyman bricklayers is $2.50 per hour.

The attorney general's office received complaints Thursday about the strike and is investigating the matter.

The students at the university have been picketing for higher wages for some time. They are demanding a raise of 20 cents per hour.
The students who were arrested at the grasser in Shiwassee County are enduring the distinction of being the first singles out citizens of a democracy.

All students, according to the hallowed land-grant philosophy, are equal in their right to an education and they are not expected to live within the educational system. But some, it turns out, are more equal than others.

All students are granted the same privileges, or lack of them, in the organization of University life. All students are expected to flourish in roughly the same manner and degree under this system.

And all students are expected to lock the system occassionally by staying out after curfew, by driving on campus when they shouldn’t, or by drinking when the rules say not to.

This is the game, and the term which is inevitable, it, and sometimes in getting around.

Until recently, everyone seemed to be playing by this set of rules. Everyone was getting along with roughly the same degree of success.

All students, now, are being granted greater equality within the system than others.

And all students are expected to adhere to the rules more steadily than others.

Three In A Row

Without blowing our own horn too loud, we would like to note that the State News has won its first award for outstanding feature story. The award, the highest honor in collegiate journalism.

The pacemaker is given to five college newspapers by the American Newspaper Publishers Association. It is recognition of general excellence and fulfillment of journalistic goals.

The State News was cited for its "professional journalistic approach," the only winner to be so designated.

The temptation is to say we are grateful, to say — oh, we are grateful, and to continue to do the same job this year. But in that position we have not been sure of the readership that expects and demands.

We have been fortunate thus far in having this type of readership, and hope we will continue.

Some More Are Equal

The students who were arrested at the grasser in Shiwassee County are enduring the distinction of being the first singles out citizens of a democracy.

All students, according to the hallowed land-grant philosophy, are equal in their right to an education and they are not expected to live within the educational system. But some, it turns out, are more equal than others.

All students are granted the same privileges, or lack of them, in the organization of University life. All students are expected to flourish in roughly the same manner and degree under this system.

And all students are expected to lock the system occassionally by staying out after curfew, by driving on campus when they shouldn’t, or by drinking when the rules say not to.

This is the game, and the term which is inevitable, it, and sometimes in getting around.

Until recently, everyone seemed to be playing by this set of rules. Everyone was getting along with roughly the same degree of success.

All students, now, are being granted greater equality within the system than others.

And all students are expected to adhere to the rules more steadily than others.

Three In A Row

Without blowing our own horn too loud, we would like to note that the State News has won its first award for outstanding feature story. The award, the highest honor in collegiate journalism.

The pacemaker is given to five college newspapers by the American Newspaper Publishers Association. It is recognition of general excellence and fulfillment of journalistic goals.

The State News was cited for its "professional journalistic approach," the only winner to be so designated.

The temptation is to say we are grateful, to say — oh, we are grateful, and to continue to do the same job this year. But in that position we have not been sure of the readership that expects and demands.

We have been fortunate thus far in having this type of readership, and hope we will continue.

Some More Are Equal

The students who were arrested at the grasser in Shiwassee County are enduring the distinction of being the first singles out citizens of a democracy.

All students, according to the hallowed land-grant philosophy, are equal in their right to an education and they are not expected to live within the educational system. But some, it turns out, are more equal than others.

All students are granted the same privileges, or lack of them, in the organization of University life. All students are expected to flourish in roughly the same manner and degree under this system.

And all students are expected to lock the system occassionally by staying out after curfew, by driving on campus when they shouldn’t, or by drinking when the rules say not to.

This is the game, and the term which is inevitable, it, and sometimes in getting around.

Until recently, everyone seemed to be playing by this set of rules. Everyone was getting along with roughly the same degree of success.

All students, now, are being granted greater equality within the system than others.

And all students are expected to adhere to the rules more steadily than others.

Three In A Row

Without blowing our own horn too loud, we would like to note that the State News has won its first award for outstanding feature story. The award, the highest honor in collegiate journalism.

The pacemaker is given to five college newspapers by the American Newspaper Publishers Association. It is recognition of general excellence and fulfillment of journalistic goals.

The State News was cited for its "professional journalistic approach," the only winner to be so designated.

The temptation is to say we are grateful, to say — oh, we are grateful, and to continue to do the same job this year. But in that position we have not been sure of the readership that expects and demands.

We have been fortunate thus far in having this type of readership, and hope we will continue.

Poetry By Mabel L. Young

The students who were arrested at the grasser in Shiwassee County are enduring the distinction of being the first singles out citizens of a democracy.

All students, according to the hallowed land-grant philosophy, are equal in their right to an education and they are not expected to live within the educational system. But some, it turns out, are more equal than others.

All students are granted the same privileges, or lack of them, in the organization of University life. All students are expected to flourish in roughly the same manner and degree under this system.

And all students are expected to lock the system occassionally by staying out after curfew, by driving on campus when they shouldn’t, or by drinking when the rules say not to.

This is the game, and the term which is inevitable, it, and sometimes in getting around.

Until recently, everyone seemed to be playing by this set of rules. Everyone was getting along with roughly the same degree of success.

All students, now, are being granted greater equality within the system than others.

And all students are expected to adhere to the rules more steadily than others.

Three In A Row

Without blowing our own horn too loud, we would like to note that the State News has won its first award for outstanding feature story. The award, the highest honor in collegiate journalism.

The pacemaker is given to five college newspapers by the American Newspaper Publishers Association. It is recognition of general excellence and fulfillment of journalistic goals.

The State News was cited for its "professional journalistic approach," the only winner to be so designated.

The temptation is to say we are grateful, to say — oh, we are grateful, and to continue to do the same job this year. But in that position we have not been sure of the readership that expects and demands.

We have been fortunate thus far in having this type of readership, and hope we will continue.
Whiskered Profes Debate Pros, Cons Of Hair On Their Chin-Chin-Chins

"To grow a beard you must go away," said visiting professor Whiskered Profes Harold Fields, associate professor of humanities, who has had his beard for three years. "It keeps my chin warm.

I found that I missed the window washing, grass mowing, and work on the farm. Most of the things I don't like about it, though. It came out gray, and it is hard to find. The men say it looks odd.

"I would encourage anyone to grow a beard. It is a means of identification. I'm glad I'm not around anymore," he exclaimed.

Conservative Club

Nelson elected officers of the Conservative Club are John Delmar, Harrison, N.Y., chairman; John Harper, chairman; Joseph Loeb, vice-chairman; and Jeanne Sparks, Cassopolis, secretary.

"To grow a beard you must go away," said visiting professor Whiskered Profes Harold Fields, associate professor of humanities, who has had his beard for three years. "It keeps my chin warm.

I found that I missed the window washing, grass mowing, and work on the farm. Most of the things I don't like about it, though. It came out gray, and it is hard to find. The men say it looks odd.

"I would encourage anyone to grow a beard. It is a means of identification. I'm glad I'm not around anymore," he exclaimed.

Conservative Club

Nelson elected officers of the Conservative Club are John Delmar, Harrison, N.Y., chairman; John Harper, chairman; Joseph Loeb, vice-chairman; and Jeanne Sparks, Cassopolis, secretary.

"To grow a beard you must go away," said visiting professor Whiskered Profes Harold Fields, associate professor of humanities, who has had his beard for three years. "It keeps my chin warm.

I found that I missed the window washing, grass mowing, and work on the farm. Most of the things I don't like about it, though. It came out gray, and it is hard to find. The men say it looks odd.

"I would encourage anyone to grow a beard. It is a means of identification. I'm glad I'm not around anymore," he exclaimed.
Available.

ENGLISH BIKE SOLD IMMEDIATELY

FOR SALE

- HOLIDAY COUPE, power steering, power brakes, whitewalls, hand brakes, etc. $225 monthly until term. Must be male sophomore, junior and Delta Gamma, to Alpha Chi Omega, 109 Club St., Haslett, Michigan.

ENGLISH BIKE SOLD IMMEDIATELY

- RAMBLER 1960 DELUXE STATION WAGON, 2-door, automatic, power, air, bucket seats, $1,450.

FOR SALE

- CHEVROLET 1962 CORVETTE, fastback 340 automatic, power, one owner. $1,850.

FOR SALE

- KALAMAZOO MFG. CO. 1960 FORD FALCON, 2-door, clean, runs great. $750.

FOR SALE

- ALPHA PSI 1960 FORD FALCON, 2-door, manual, brand new, $1,250.

FOR SALE

- SILVER 1960 BUICK ELECTRA CONVERTIBLE, 2-door, automatic, power, one owner. $3,500.

FOR SALE

- RAMBLER 1960 DELUXE STATION WAGON, 2-door, automatic, power, air, bucket seats. $1,790.

FOR SALE

- CALIFORNIA 1960 CHEVROLET, 31,000 miles. Yellow; good condition. $1,900.

FOR SALE

- RAMBLER 1960 DELUXE STATION WAGON, 2-door, automatic, power, air, bucket seats. $1,790.

FOR SALE

- RAMBLER 1960 DELUXE STATION WAGON, 2-door, automatic, power, air, bucket seats. $1,790.

FOR SALE

- RAMBLER 1960 DELUXE STATION WAGON, 2-door, automatic, power, air, bucket seats. $1,790.

FOR SALE

- RAMBLER 1960 DELUXE STATION WAGON, 2-door, automatic, power, air, bucket seats. $1,790.

FOR SALE

- RAMBLER 1960 DELUXE STATION WAGON, 2-door, automatic, power, air, bucket seats. $1,790.

FOR SALE

- RAMBLER 1960 DELUXE STATION WAGON, 2-door, automatic, power, air, bucket seats. $1,790.

FOR SALE

- RAMBLER 1960 DELUXE STATION WAGON, 2-door, automatic, power, air, bucket seats. $1,790.

FOR SALE

- RAMBLER 1960 DELUXE STATION WAGON, 2-door, automatic, power, air, bucket seats. $1,790.

FOR SALE

- RAMBLER 1960 DELUXE STATION WAGON, 2-door, automatic, power, air, bucket seats. $1,790.

FOR SALE

- RAMBLER 1960 DELUXE STATION WAGON, 2-door, automatic, power, air, bucket seats. $1,790.

FOR SALE

- RAMBLER 1960 DELUXE STATION WAGON, 2-door, automatic, power, air, bucket seats. $1,790.

FOR SALE

- RAMBLER 1960 DELUXE STATION WAGON, 2-door, automatic, power, air, bucket seats. $1,790.

FOR SALE

- RAMBLER 1960 DELUXE STATION WAGON, 2-door, automatic, power, air, bucket seats. $1,790.
Talks Begin On Open World Trade

British Film Studies Delinquent's Life

Performing Arts Group Offers Marriage Dance

Campus Briefs

Kerr Leads Drive For Memorial

Intramural News

Performing Groups Present Two Films In Series

British Film Studies Delinquent's Life

Campus Briefs

Intramural News

Performing Groups Present Two Films In Series

British Film Studies Delinquent's Life

Performing Groups Present Two Films In Series

British Film Studies Delinquent's Life

Campus Briefs

Campus Briefs

Campus Briefs

Campus Briefs

Campus Briefs

Campus Briefs

Campus Briefs

Campus Briefs
Face Irish Today

'S Niners Seek 19th Win

Spartan Netmen At U-M

Sweaters

$9c

Lansing Laundry & Dry Cleaners

529 West Grand River Avenue

Lansing, East Lansing and Ingham County

The Spartan Express will make its third appearance of the season today in South Bend, Indiana, when the Spartans encounter the Notre Dame Fighting Irish. The game will be played at 3 p.m., and will determine the outcome of the Big Ten meet, as each team needs a victory to move into contention for the conference championship. The Spartans, who lost to Ohio State last week, have a 1-3 conference record, while the Fighting Irish are 2-2. The game will be played on the campus of Notre Dame University, and will be part of a doubleheader, which also includes a basketball game.

Grid Captain Out Of Action

The Michigan State Spartans are likely to be without their starting center, Dave Reifs, for the game against Notre Dame. Reifs, who has been a key player for the Spartans, suffered a severe ankle injury during last week's game against Ohio State. The team has been practicing with substitutes, and will likely use a different starting lineup for the game.

The Pirates of Penzance

By W. S. Gilbert and Arthur Sullivan

May 21-23, 1964

MSU AUDITORIUM

Sponsored by the Departments of MUSIC and SPEECH certain time 8 p.m.