Red Delegates Snub UN Talk

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y.—For the first time in its history, the United Nations' special conference on the Southwest Asia crisis in a snub directed at South Vietnam.

Southeast Asia crisis in a snub

The two rivals for California's 86 Republican national convention were praising former President Dwight D. Eisenhower Monday as an example of good judgment and a man who had lived by the same principles of the United States.

Laos Neutralists Trapped by Reds

VIETNAM, Laos.—Laos neutralists trapped by the Pathet Lao and by the student government as a whole.

The decision struck a blow at the United States, which has been trying to strengthen its hold on Laos by providing economic aid and military assistance.

But Faculty Members Still Confused

Farm Lane Changed To Aid Bike Safety

As an experiment to increase safety, a new traffic pattern has been implemented on Farm Lane, called Farm Lane Changed to Aid Bike Safety.

A new traffic pattern on Farm Lane is intended to improve safety for bicyclists by creating a dedicated bike lane.

The project is to install a new bike lane on Farm Lane, which will be designated for use by bicyclists only.

NO MORE HARDY SQUEAKS - Bike riders on the campus will no longer have to deal with the disturbance of bike noises and reduced motor vehicle traffic.

Points Clarified In New Parking Plan

Robert L. Andrews, the director of parking and driving rules by the university, explained that the new parking plan was introduced to address the problems of overcrowding and erratic parking.

He said that whether or not the new parking plan will be effective is not clear.

The new parking plan will be introduced at the Academic Senate meeting on the campus.

Faculty members are not sure how the new parking plan will affect them.

Some faculty members are opposed to the new parking plan, while others are in favor of it.

High Court Orders Reopening

WASHINGTON, D.C.—The Supreme Court has ordered the reopening of the Farm Lane Changed to Aid Bike Safety project.

The decision was made after a petition was filed by a group of faculty members who argued that the project was unnecessary and that it would cause inconvenience to the students.

The court ruled that the project should be reopened to allow for public input and further discussion.

Weather

Highly influenced by the cold front in the region, the weather is expected to stay cool throughout the week.

High winds are expected on Tuesday, with gusts reaching up to 40 miles per hour.

The temperature is expected to drop to the mid-40s by Wednesday, with a chance of rain in the evening.

Major General to Address ROTC Cadets

Major General, the head of the military wing, will address the ROTC cadets on the importance of discipline and leadership.

He will also discuss the role of ROTC in the national defense and the challenges faced by the cadets in their training.

May Brings Troubled Memories

FALLON, Nev.—May is a month filled with memories for many Nevadans.

In this county where public education is highly regarded, the month of May is significant for a variety of reasons.

The decision to open schools on a delayed basis was made in 1971, when the state's fiscal crisis was at its peak.

The public schools were required to reopen after a delayed start, which caused a major disruption in the academic calendar.

The decision to reopen the schools was made after a series of negotiations between the state and the teachers' union.

The Board of Trustees, moving ahead in its plans for rendering the University a more efficient education plant, Friday passed the controversial new parking and driving regulations. Some faults of the plan as it has been discussed for several months have been pointed out, repeatedly in this column. Faculty opinion has been strong in its opposition to the new parking fee.

Students and faculty have brought up many points intended to strengthen the plan—places in which the plan was presented as significantly flawed, improvements, or at best incomplete information, which the plan could be simply and efficiently improved.

Suggestions Ignored

The administration and the Board of Trustees gave the appearance of ignoring all these ideas, seeming to prefer information from other universities, or at least incomplete information and impressions of campus driving needs.

It turns out, however, that the administration has been watching closely how the various solutions throughout the recent controversy were not in fact indicative of regulatory developments taking place. It seems that many of the suggestions made by students and faculty, or at least the conditions which prompted the suggestions, have indeed been taken into consideration.

Discussion continues in order to work out many details which have been left unattended. The general shuffle that has surrounded the plan. This is the way such important issues are handled. A new plan should be handled right from the start, and not after the fact as has been the case thus far.

The mutual consideration of needs with which the administration and various students and faculty representatives are如何看待使我们的问题在某种程度上就可能被成功地实施

There is no need for anyone to resist alone without a clear idea of his driving and parking rights at all times.

Some Confusion Inevitable

The Trustees' passage of the parking rules makes inevitable a confusing period for the University. The rules must be interpreted and adjusted by each person in the University to fit the many specialized cases that will not fit the generalized mold expected by the administration. Confusion can be anticipated now and avoided through careful planning.

Or it can be left until September.

The California primary June 4th could permanently set back the national maneuvering of Barry Goldwater for the Republican nomination, according to a new poll released last week. The poll showed that Goldwater has not lost the flaky flak of a demonstration, but it will be tough for him to win a convention; something is more essential to the Negro's struggle than education.

Commuter Lots Questioned

The Board of Trustees Monday gave the green light to proposals restricting driving on campus, but for many commuting students, the plan had an added effect - the threat of higher fuel costs.

"I probably spend about 15 miles from my home," said Joel Salzen, a junior from Mt. Hope. "I don't want to think too much about how much I'll need to pay to get to campus."

Salzen said he was surprised by the proposals to construct Hope Road, which would connect the parking lots with the center of campus. "I didn't think they would do that," he said.

Richard Harrell, head of the commuter lots, serves on the off-campus problems with little or no alleviation in sight.

"I guess I'm not too worried," Harrell said. "I see people coming and going, and I know they're not going to like it."

Mary Harrell, associate professor of mathematics, said that the proposal system, although not ideal, is the best solution available.

"We're going to have to do something," she said. "I think it's a good idea, but it's not going to be perfect.

"I don't think it's going to affect us much," she said. "We'll have to make some changes, but it's better than leaving it as it is."

Crew Regatta A Ball

By MARGIE BAUMAN
Staff Writer

Miss Lockhart was startled by news that her glasses had been stolen during the Ecorse crew’s victory celebration. The theft was reported to the police, who were investigating the incident.

On Memorial Day weekend, skaters from around the world gathered for the annual Memorial Day regatta. The event was held at Lake Lansing, and participants included skaters from East Lansing, West Grand River, and other nearby locations.

During the regatta, skaters showed off their skills in various categories, including singles, doubles, and team races. The competition was intense, with skaters working hard to achieve top results.

The event was a notable addition to the area’s outdoor activities, which included skateboarding, tennis, and soccer fields. Despite the recent war damage, the city of Lansing remained vibrant and active.
