Miss MSU Choice Due Tonight

MSU will be chosen tonight from among 10 finalists by the members of the university's Student Senate, the executive branch of the student body. The seven-state poll of the student body, which was conducted by the Student Senate, will be held on the MSU campus tonight. The winner will be announced at a news conference on Thursday, March 32, at the 32-foot News Building.

The winner will be selected by the Student Senate, which is made up of students from all over the state. The student body is made up of about 20,000 students.

The Student Senate will announce the winner tonight at 8 p.m. at the university's newspaper, the 32-foot News. The winner will be announced at a news conference on Thursday, March 32, at the 32-foot News Building.

The Student Senate was formed in 1965 to represent the interests of the student body at the university. The Student Senate has a budget of $1 million and is made up of 10 members elected by the student body.

The Harrison Overpass

Plans for the extension of Trowbridge Road across campus appear to be progressing rapidly. A State Highways Department official told the State News a meeting between the department and President Hannah will be held "soon" to discuss the new road and possibly to remove existing street intersections on the campus.

We are glad to see that plans for this vital thoroughfare have progressed, but one can not forget the major bottleneck the Harrison Road railroad crossings just south of which would be the proposed Trowbridge-Road extension, has been neglected.

So far the University has opted for an overpass at the Harrison-Trowbridge "gates" but Bartrum-Highway Department favoring a signal-controlled crossing. Neither seems to have considered an overpass for the railroad crossings.

We feel the ideal solution would be to elevate Harrison Road across the railroad tension and both railroad crossings.

There is already a need for such a crossing since Spartan village is currently cut off from the rest of the campus for as much as a half-hour at a time when freight trains conduct switching operations across Harrison Island.

This is a source of great irritation to persons trying to get to campus at any time, but even more, it presents a real danger to a community where many small children live. In the event of an accident occur in Spartan Village a speeding train and the resultant traffic tie-up could make it impossible for emergency vehicles to reach the scene in time to save a life.

One can only express this situation to where the campus grows to the south and crosses the railroad tracks.

We realize that Harrison Road is an East Lansing street, but if the railroad crossings are to be bypassed the impact must come from the University, which has the responsibility for the campus stop by the railroads, and from the Highway Department which will have construction of the Trowbridge Road extension.

A few students have already expressed their desire for such an overpass in letters to the State News and East Lansing city officials. We hope a good many more will do so.

To Back Reality

The Food and Drug Administration has embarked on crackdown on persons illegally distributing barbiturates and amphetamine pills. The latest step in the campaign is the recent arrest of a number of students in the Lansing area. The students were found to be in possession of barbiturates and amphetamines. In both cases, the Bartrum-Highway Department has authorized the use of barbiturates and amphetamines for the treatment and management of chronic diseases. It is not clear what the impact of the barbiturate and amphetamine use will be on the campus.

The problem of drug addiction is a serious one on the campus and it is important that students be aware of the dangers involved in using these drugs.

The problem, in part, is the ease with which these drugs can be obtained. Students can now purchase these drugs over the counter without a prescription. Students who are aware of the dangers involved in using these drugs should take steps to avoid becoming addicted.

To Point of View

It Might As Well Be Spring

The usual problem of winter is getting old, how ever, the university students are beginning to think about spring and what it means to them. This time of year, students begin to plan their summer vacations and what they want to do during the summer months.

One of the most popular activities during the summer months is traveling. Many students take advantage of the warm weather and travel to different parts of the United States or abroad. This is an excellent way to see new places and meet new people.

Another popular activity during the summer months is working. Many students take summer jobs to help cover the cost of their school tuition and living expenses. Working during the summer months can also be a valuable learning experience.

In conclusion, spring is a time of year when students begin to plan for the future. Whether they are planning their summer vacations or their careers, the spring months are a time of new beginnings and possibilities.

State's hockey squad invades the University of Michigan tonight to begin its quest for another Big Ten title. As the Boilers step into Wisconsin's one-meter pool, they will be up for this game with very little sleep on their minds. Friday and Saturday night, Lake Cook was hopping and there was a lot of noise on both sides of the border. So, how does it feel to be a player in this weekend's big game?

Montie-Howland will be prepared tonight for the big challenge that is about to face him. Author Finds Students Wholesome And True

College Students Have "A" Report Card

By Richard T. Kroll

Editor's Note: This article was written for the Chicago Tribune 10 years ago. It talks about the late Teilhard de Chardin, a French geologist and paleontologist who was a Jesuit priest and a noted philosopher of religion.

Teilhard de Chardin was a complex figure who is best known for his development of the theory of the evolution of consciousness. He was a member of the Jesuit order and taught at the College of St. Thomas-Minneapolis, where he was a professor of paleontology.

The article discusses the author's experience of teaching Teilhard de Chardin's works to a group of college students. The author notes that the students were able to understand and appreciate Teilhard's ideas, which he describes as "wholesome and true." The author also remarks on the importance of teaching students about Teilhard's work, as it provides a valuable perspective on the evolution of consciousness.
