For Progressive Leadership: Mrs. Mary Sharp

Can vicious smears win an election in East Lansing?

The State News finds itself the critic of this city in defending the open occupancy ordinance. David A. Cotter, one of four candidates for the East Lansing City Council in today's election, has made unsubstantiated charges against Mrs. Sharp, one of the four candidates for the City Council.

On the same issues, Mrs. Sharp has lost some support from both sides for her stand on the open occupancy ordinance. The only candidate who recognizes the fact that racial discrimination and injustice are pressing problems in East Lansing.

Mrs. Sharp has been referred to as the only candidate who is interested in the community and public service, and high-quality civic leadership. She has demonstrated her ability to make a difference in local government.

The news of this election is difficult to extend unsubstantiated support to either of the remaining candidates.

This type of attack has never appeared in any East Lansing election before. We urge the voters of this city to consider the candidates before they make their votes today.

Two City Council members will be elected from a field of four candidates. Mrs. Sharp is one of the few outstanding candidates in this election.

A member of the East Lansing Human Relations Commission, Mrs. Sharp has made a position on open occupancy clear from the beginning of the campaign. She is in favor of achieving open occupancy through consultation and mediation. She does not support an ordinance at this time, because she believes that it would result in civil disorders similar to those in other cities.

TOKYO: Minister Tatsuo Hata has reaffirmed that Japan’s autonomy to decide its defense policy will be unaffected even if it becomes a so-called "egalitarian" member of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. "It is the most sacred position that we can take as the legal successor to the mandate of the defeated nation," Hata said in a speech before the United Nations Security Council. "It must be answered as clearly as possible: The basic principle will be "self-defense.""

Hungary “Free” 20 Years

Budapest. Hungary marked the 20th anniversary of its liberation from the Nazi tyranny with a military parade and a special session of Parliament. In its address to the new legislature the Prime Minister, Janos Kadar, told the assembled representatives that the party "will take every step to ensure that Hungary remains a truly democratic state." The government's program was described as one of "nationalism without superstition." It also described measures aimed at improving the life of the people and developing the economy as "socialist modernization." The special session opened Tuesday night.

A hotel carrying a little more than a pound of plastic explosive in a small radio. The hotel, in downtown Da Nang, is the largest in the city and many of its occupants are U.S. military personnel. These include a commander of the U.S. Medical Command in Vietnam, including General Joseph J. Collins, and the hotel's general manager, Mr. L. Goodyear. No one was injured in the explosion, which occurred in a room on the second floor. The hotel also contains a restaurant, a bar, and a swimming pool.

Indonesians Caught In Malaysia

Malaysia-Malaysia-Malaysia-Malaysia—Indonesians have been caught in Malaysia's fight against the Communist rebels. The government said that it had arrested about 100 Indonesians, including several who were charged with terrorism. The arrests were made in the state of Pahang, which borders on Indonesia. Several of the arrested Indonesians were said to have been enrolled in a political party that supports Indonesian independence.

ANN ARBOR—"New Army-age," as one reporter put it, "is a way of describing these young soldiers." This was the attitude of some at the University of Michigan, which is in the process of recruiting a new chapter of the Gamma Phi Beta sorority. The university's president, Dr. Alfred Newhouse, said that he was concerned about the "social aspects" of the sorority, which he described as "a very attractive and sophisticated group." The university's chancellor, Dr. John Newhouse, also expressed concern about the group's "social aspects," which he described as "a very attractive and sophisticated group.

Season Run Runs Sees Fencers Split Meets

The split was the fifth such occurrence of the season for State. The losses included the second game of a doubleheader in which only one run was scored. The second inning saw Anderson win the necessary win for his team to stay in the race for the Big Ten title. The men of DELTA SIGMA PHI welcome you to Spring term rush. As you enter the Delt Sig house tonight or Wednesday evening, you will be greeted by one of our many beautiful rush hostesses who will take your coat and escort you to our photographer. A bunny playmate will then pose with you for a free picture which will later be available to you.

You will have ample opportunity to talk with one of the brothers about our fraternity. The casual setting and atmosphere will soon set you at ease. After you have seen the handsome interior of our home, any of the brothers will be more than glad to answer any questions you might have. Whether it is campus participation, social activities, scholarship, Engineered Leadership, Irma La Douce parties, or just plain spirit, the Delt Sigs have it.

If you measure up to our standards of scholarship, leadership, maturity, participation, and spirit; we look forward to meeting you!

Acting Excellent

In ‘Green Eyes’

Good drawing added to suspense making "The Girl with Green Eyes," running through Thursday at the State, something more than Just a tender love-story. An Irish girl (with green eyes) falls in love with a romantic fixity of his ways conflicts with her youthful exuberance, and he has lost his capacity for such single-minded love as Katie's.

Quite good sequences. When Kate's happiness is at its fullest, she and her lover carry on the same conversation throughout scene after scene with something more suited to his abilities in the future.

It is a simple story, and is tenderly, with touches of poignancy, treated. Good directing added to skillful acting makes 'The Girl with Green Eyes,' more than Just a tender love-story. An Irish girl (with green eyes) falls in love with a man who has lost his capacity for such single-minded love as Katie's.

Lettier Charges Denied

He said it is "inconceivable" that any agency of the city government would seriously consider such a proposal. Robert J. Ludlow, a local realtor, said that Cotter's letter was not offered any evidence to prove such a plan was an order.
