Proof Is In The Pudding

The reorganized student government authorized in a campus referendum last term now has a chance to prove itself. And prove itself it must.

The ASEA plan was rejected by students in the hope that a student board would be more efficient than a newly elected student government. The new board is the product of the ASEA plan.

The student board members are all experienced in various facets of student problems. McQuay is a former USG executive vice president and professor of English. Jim Graham, active representative in Congress, is a well-known member of the board. Graham opposed the student government plan before the referendum and he should provide constructive criticism on the board.

We weren't totally convinced that the new student government would be more efficient and successful than the old USG. But we are hopeful that it will succeed. And we are ready to be shown.

Federal Shutterbugs

It's a free country. Isn't it? Students supporting the National Liberation Front at Michigan State University were photographed in an active organization to appear in an anti-communist publication. The article grossly misrepresents the situation.

The freedom in books, and to a limited extent in public speeches and political agitation, is a necessary condition of a healthy nation. Sex has too long been taboed. It has been treated as if it were somehow obscene or immoral, and only the government can tax it. Sex is a very important issue in American society.

Our cities, like our towns and villages, need sex education programs. The community needs to know about sexual behavior. The schools need to teach children about sex, and not just that it's bad or good. Sex is a normal part of life, and our children need to understand it.

The government is not qualified to teach sex education. It is not qualified to decide what should or should not be taught in our schools. Sex education programs should be established by the community, not by the government.

Smut Will Sink In Time

By DAVE HANSON

A few weeks ago the original isle was held in the name of the Michigan State University students. Out of this was born a movement to save the students from the Great Depression. The new movement was called the "Smut Will Sink In Time" movement.

This is a movement for the preservation of our national character and our national institutions. The movement is sponsored by the American Legion and the Michigan State University faculty.

The movement is based on the belief that our national character is in serious danger. Our institutions are threatened with destruction. The movement believes that the only way to save our institutions is to develop a national character that is strong and healthy.

The movement has already produced a number of successful programs. The movement has produced a number of successful programs. The movement has produced a number of successful programs. Why Search For Hidden Meaning?

To the Editor:

If you're ever at a loss, you might find a helpful book called "Kludge" by Douglas Hofstetter. Mr. Hofstetter is an economist and political writer who has written many books on economic issues.

Mr. Hofstetter has written a good book about how people use codes and symbols to communicate their ideas. He shows that people use codes and symbols to communicate their ideas in order to express their feelings, thoughts, and beliefs.

His book is a useful guide to understanding how people use codes and symbols to communicate their ideas.

Student Finishes In 2 Years

Wrestling With Grades?

By Jim Stibera

State News Staff Writer

Have you ever wondered what it would be like to finish college in 2 years? Well, it is possible and you can do it if you plan your college schedule correctly. Here's how...

Lansing College To Get Campus

U.S. Senator Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., has introduced a bill to establish a new campus for Lansing College in Ingham County. The bill, which is expected to be passed by the Senate, would fund the construction of a new campus on 100 acres of land near the M-43 highway. The new campus would be designed to accommodate 3,000 students and would include state-of-the-art facilities, including a new library, a fitness center, and a performing arts center. The new campus is expected to be operational by 2023.

Compromise Reached On Birth Control Bill

After months of negotiations, a compromise has been reached on the birth control bill. The bill, which was introduced by Senator Elizabeth Warren, D-Mass., has been met with resistance from conservative lawmakers. However, after several weeks of discussions, a compromise has been reached that will allow women to receive birth control without requiring a prescription from a doctor. The compromise is expected to be voted on in the coming weeks.

Residents, City Council Opposed On Median Strip

Residents in the city of Lansing have expressed concerns about a proposed median strip on Division Street. The median strip, which is proposed to be built along Division Street, would separate traffic from the median strip, which is currently used as a bike lane. Many residents have expressed concerns about the impact of the median strip on traffic and safety. The city council has opposed the median strip, citing concerns about the impact on traffic flow and safety.

Real Estate

The Lansing City Council has proposed a new city park to be built along Division Street. The park, which is expected to be completed by 2024, will feature a playground, a walking trail, and a community garden. The park is expected to be funded through a combination of city and private financing.

Measure To Stop the Killing

A group of protesters, led by activist Nam, staged a sit-down in front of a White House gate on Tuesday in a demonstration against the Vietnamese war. The group, which had been demonstrating since a massive rally last weekend, was calling for an end to the war and for a negotiated settlement. Nam, who had been arrested multiple times for his activism, was released later in the day to continue his protest.

Walker Sparks 8-2 Bat Victory Over

By DUANE LANCASTER

Michigan State captured its third straight victory and completed the sweep of the University of Detroit with a 9-3 victory over the Titans Tuesday at the University of Detroit in the last game of a three-game series. The Spartans, 29-7 on the season, improved to 21-0 in the Mid-American Conference, while the Titans fell to 2-12 on the season and 0-10 in the MAC.

State pitcher Mike Goodrich was the hero again, this time improving his record to 6-2. Goodrich allowed only three hits and two walks in nine innings of work. He struck out 13 batters, the most ever allowed by a Spartan hurler in nine innings. The Spartans overcame a 3-0 deficit in the fifth inning to take the lead for good.

Hitting support for Goodrich came from catcher Biedenbach, who went five-for-five with a home run and three runs batted in. Walker, the second baseman, had four hits and scored four runs, driving in two. The Spartans had 16 hits, while the Titans had only five.

The Spartans took a 1-0 lead in the first inning on a sacrifice fly by Goodrich. The Titans tied it in the bottom of the inning on a sacrifice by Spurrier.

State scored three runs in the second inning and four in the third to take a 7-2 lead. The Titans scored a run in the third but were never able to catch up.

State's Shelton and Harold Shelton (no relation) were a tough act to follow in the fourth inning. The Spartans loaded the bases with one out and scored four runs on a bases-loaded double by Pettibone. The Titans came up with only one hit in the inning.

State's season record now stands at 29-7, while the Titans are 2-12. The Spartans will meet the small school, which they have met in the past, for the first time this week.

Detroit--Postponed--Twin Bill Set Today

The initial clash between Michigan State College and Michigan University on the baseball diamond at McQuade Field for the annual Twin Bill was moved to today, but it will be the first time since World War II that the two teams have met in a competitive game. The previous annual contest was held in 1939, when the Spartans defeated the Redcoats, 8-0.

The Spartans, with the exception of the University of Detroit's Dr. James McDonald, are the only two teams in the MAC that have been successful in the past. The Spartans have won 10 of the past 12 games against the Titans.

The Spartans are led by senior pitcher Mark Haskell, junior centerfielder Jerry Walker, and senior George Biedenbach. The Titans are led by junior pitcher Dan Pettibone, senior catcher Larry Spurrier, and sophomore shortstop Jerry Goodrich.

Viet Nam Negotiations: Pros And Cons Given

Editor's Note: This is the last of a two-part series in which Master R. Fishel, professor of political science, and Professor of Philosophy and Chairman of the Department of Philosophy, have presented opposing views on Viet Nam.

By LINDA BOYLE
State News Staff Writer

Gary Fishel, professor of political science, and Professor of Philosophy and Chairman of the Department of Philosophy, have presented opposing views on Viet Nam. Fishel has coupled this with a continued argument in favor of negotiations.

Greer: It's fighting. It's fighting very well and it's having considerable success. Our allies, Vietnam and South Vietnam, have been suffering from systematic bombardment and that is is impractical to negotiate while it is under bombardment.

Fishel: At this point, the President's action may be seen as one of the crucial factors in the whole Viet Nam situation. The President's action may have the effect of creating a situation in which the Viet Cong does not have the opportunity to carry out their program.

Greer: Apparently to a limited extent. We're going to get it.

Fishel: General DeGaulle proclaims a neutral Vietnam. This is a very difficult question. When we started working to make the conditions for the negotiation of U Thant to explore negotiations, we found that it was quite clear we were not ready to negotiate. We spurned the offer to negotiate.

Greer: I do not favor immediate surrender as a requisite for any negotiation on the basis of the only fair and final solution which would be equivalent to the only solution and the one we will get. We are doing it simply to exert military pressure on the enemy.

Fishel: The northern Viet Nam is included. 1 favor unconditional discussions. He made this statement in response to the events in the last of a two-part series in which Wesley Tron, professor of political science, and Professor of Philosophy and Chairman of the Department of Philosophy, have presented opposing views on Viet Nam.

Eugene O'Neill has made guns his hobby since he was 16, is identifying the Michilimackinac at the MSI's Museum of American Thought and National History. Information he provides aids in identifying what countries the guns were made in, the years and the materials from which they were made. For example, he has identified a musket gun that he believes was made by the British in the late 1700s. The gun was found in the Michigan State Park in 1962.

He aims to please—Jack Wilmot, Ypsilanti's, Ohio, graduate student, is preparing a valuable article for the MSU Museum. Wilmot, who has studied guns since the age of 16, is identifying the remnants of a musket gun found at Ft. michigan-mackinac for the MSU Museum.

Aerospace Team Presents Summary Of U.S. Program

As an Aerospace Program Project Team Director, a member of the United States aerospace program team, I would like to present a summary of the major aerospace developments in the United States over the past year.

The term, "aerospace," is defined as the use of aircraft and spacecraft for military or civil purposes. The term includes the design, development, and operation of aircraft and spacecraft, as well as the use of these vehicles for research and development.

Viet Nam

The situation in Viet Nam is complex and dynamic. The United States is committed to supporting the government of South Viet Nam in its efforts to defend itself against North Viet Nam and its allies.

The U.S. strategy in Viet Nam is to support the government of South Viet Nam with military and economic assistance to ensure its continued viability. The United States provides military aid in the form of weapons, training, and advice to the South Viet Nam government.

The United States also provides economic assistance to help the South Viet Nam government maintain its national defense capabilities and its civilian infrastructure.

The situation in Viet Nam is highly sensitive and subject to change at any time. The United States continues to work closely with the South Viet Nam government to ensure its continued viability.
