MSU Presses State For $39 Million

Legislature Has Answer To Library Problem-Money

Editor's note: Last of a five-part editorial analysis of the state university

By COLLEEN O'BRIEN
State News Staff Writer

The MSU Legislature has its problem—lack of money.

It needs more state aid, more braver, more professional librarians and clerical help. All these things are expensive.

Past progress in state education is fine, according to the Board of Regents, but more expensive new buildings, increasing the library's operating budget and recruiting more qualified faculty will become realities in the near future.

In June, theASMSU passed a resolution asking for a bond issue to pay for expansion and improvement of the library. However, legislators rejected the proposal.

But progress is being made.

Before M ichigan's institutions of higher education were supported by the state legislature, the state owned more than 500 acres of land, mostly in the Detroit area. The legislature has repeatedly cut back library facilities as well as other educational projects.

But this year, in the March 29 tax proposal, the legislature approved $6.8 million in state allocations for library facilities at the University of Michigan and $9.5 million for library facilities at Michigan State University.

While these funds do not pay for all the improvements needed at MSU, they are an important step in the right direction.

WASHINGTON—It was another moonless night in Hanoi.

In the north, American troops, trying to make sense out of this country, spent another day patrolling the road. In the south, Vietnamese tanks and planes were seen near the Cambodian border.

Some 600 U.S. servicemen have died and 1,800 Americans have been wounded in the Vietnam War. The American military budget has increased by 24 per cent since 1963.

Two Americans were killed in a mine explosion in Cambodia.

Quake Rolls Through Seattle

A story from the Seattle Times

A 7.0 magnitude earthquake rumbled through a wide area of the Pacific Northwest Thursday, killing one person, injuring 20 and toppling a few buildings.

President John A. Hannah and Provost George Steiger, both at the site of the Washington State campus, said that the quake was a reminder of the importance of maintaining buildings.

Blood Drive Goal

By B. A. L. COOK, Special to the State News

Today, not appropriately, is the last day of National Library Week, as well as that of the library. The Saturday, the MSU Library, a standing committee of the Library Committee, has indicated a steady interest in hearing the opinions of the library, and suggested open meetings of the committee. A safe haven would be to discuss the subject of library services. The library facilities would be improved and the library budget increased. Perhaps their enthusiasm could be used even more constructively.

Chapin said non-credit library courses should be taught next year. Why not have faculty, graduate, and Honors College students experience in the library, teach such courses, starting this term if he can arrange.

Assistant Library Director Henry C. Koch said the library's planning funds are being allocated at the beginning of each year to various departments and the needed purchases during the year. At the end of the fiscal year, he said, the funds start getting low, and the purchases decreases. Chapin added that the library could alleviate this situation, and keep book purchases on the go. The library is in a great need of money in order to increase the number of books in the library.

Planning for the future: Secretary Jack Breslin, for instance, said Tuesday that the MSU Library will have 83 million volumes, and all the rest—perhaps, 30 million dollars, and the rest—will be squeezed into the University's budget. By the time they are ready to spend the 2 million, and all the rest—perhaps, 30 million dollars, and the rest—will be squeezed into the University's budget. Iowa Next For Spartans

A Michigan State News, East Lansing, Michigan

A strong wind whipped across the courts Thursday, but Michigan State University's tennis team continued its winning ways against Notre Dame University.

The Spartans' victory over the Fighting Irish was only a fraction of that which they expected. They were hoping for a shutout, but Notre Dame managed to pull out a 5-1 loss for the season. The match was won by Michigan State's shuttles relay team of Gene Jones and Fred McKoy looking equally a formality, Shelton and Wolff, recorded their victories.

The Spartans will be facing Iowa this Saturday. State's record now stands 9-1 for the season.

Rounding out the field events was 100 and 220- yd. dashes. Bob Lange, Mitch Pruett and Dwight Lee, Michigan State's shuttle relay team, were among the nation's top five performers in the field events, with the spring improving all along the line.

The biggest problem facing Michigan State this season is the loss of Juday and Daswell Campbell, backs and question mark.

The loss of Juday and Daswell Campbell, backs and question mark should be erased by the output of the next six Spartan backs. Mike Bowers and Fred McKoy is jumping pretty well, also.

The backfield could be filled by a sophomore, and it's given others a chance to prove their abilities.

Booming Bats Greet Illinois, Purdue

By LARRY MOGG
State News Sports Writer

The Spartan baseballers, currently the hittingest club in the Big Ten, take to the road this weekend for a single game with Illinois on Friday and a Saturday doubleheader with Purdue.

State has nailed down two victories in three games so far, which puts them right in the thick of things in the early conference race. That's the way they would like to stay.

Coach Danny Littler will stick with his Big Three moundsmen against the Illini and Boilermakers. Junior John Krasnan, who hasn't given up an earned run in 18-plus innings, will get the call for the Illinois bout. Doug Dobrei and Jim Goodrich will face the Boilermakers. The Illini can match State's 2-1 record and aren't the pushovers they were last year when they finished in the Big Ten basement. Jari Secrest, unbeaten this season, will do the pitching for Illinois. Top hitters for the Illini are outfielder Trenton Jackson and third baseman Dan Humay. The Illini didn't make the southern trip, but have an overall mark of 6-2. Purdue has several fine pitchers it is son, but has run into a hitting drought. Only veterans Tom Pugh, an outfielder, and Wilber, shortstop, have hit the ball with any consistency. Fair Purdue, who hasn't scored a run in the first full week of conference play, has the Spartans right where they want them for the remainder of the schedule. Now for the tasks at hand.

20 Years After War's End
Hitler's Legacy Examined

The German people of today are taking another giant step toward Hitler and World War II. According to recent polls, almost half the German people are willing to follow the footsteps of Adolph Hitler. The German government has already begun to implement Hitler's plans for world domination. The German people believe in the strength and power of the Nazi Party, and they are ready to sacrifice their lives for the Fatherland.

Hamtramck School Sit-In Continues

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic — With grenades exploding in the presidential palace, police helicopters swarmed over the city, and workers longingly looked through broken windows for help, the army military junta moved quickly to negotiate with revolutionary residents to save the capital.

The military said the confronting crowd had demanded the return of President Juan Bosch, who was deposed by a military coup in February. However, the army said it had flown Bosch out of the country to avoid a bloodbath.

The police said they would allow Bosch to return fellow Presidents Habib Bourguiba of Tunisia and Erich Honecker of East Germany to fly to the island for talks.

Earlier, the U.S. State Department had informed President John F. Kennedy that the revolutionaries had moved away from demands that Bosch return.
