DONATE BLOOD TODAY
GOAL: 1,700 pints

STARTS TODAY

Battle Of Blood:
MSU Vs. UCLA

A health battle will be carried on this week as Associated Students of UCLA (ASUCLA) tries to outbleed associated students of MSU (ASMSU) and the Lansing Area Blood Drive.

The blood drive is for sell of blood for the Viet Cong. Let us give blood from this campus to help the Viet Cong.

To give blood, a potential donor must show his driver's license, and he must be 18 years of age or older.

Blood is desperately needed to save the lives of those fighting for the Viet Cong.

To the Editor:
In response to the recent advertising by the Christian Temperance Union in the upper left hand corner of the Michigan State News office only a few days ago, I would like to add the following:

I am Mrs. Don M. Lillie, Cedar Spring, Michigan. I am a member of the Christian Temperance Union in the State of Michigan. I am a mother of 14 children, of whom only 6 are living. I am a Christian Temperance Union worker. I believe in and have lived according to the 3 COMMANDMENTS.

The question of liquor, and the evil of it, has been on the mind of the Christian Temperance Union and me personally for the past 28 years. The Union has been spreading the word about the evil liquor has done to our nation and its people for years.

We have worked with many communities and states to help them rid themselves of this evil. We have worked with schools, churches, and other organizations to help them understand the harm liquor can cause.

I believe in the Christian Temperance Union and its mission to rid the world of liquor. I believe in the 3 COMMANDMENTS.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Don M. Lillie
Cedar Spring, Michigan
Michigan State residence hall reads:

"Sunday morning the clock still was between 1 and 2. The waitress argued that the note did not specify how much she should turn the clock back. So, every time the clock reached 2 a.m., she turned it back to 1 1/2 a.m.

"I work at the same all-night coffee shop every night until 5 a.m.," she says. "The time is between 1 and 2 a.m. all the time."

"It's our problem. No one else is sleeping."

"At the end of the month, I get paid by the hour."

"What the students do in their dormitories is their business, but the restaurant is my business, too."

"I had to turn the clock back only once."

"I was given a note to turn the clock back to 1 1/2 a.m. every time the clock reached 2 a.m.," she adds. "I had to keep the clock between 1 and 2 a.m."

As far as the Home-Dispatchers are concerned, Wildcat fans must not forget the 2-2 records. Michigan State has been to the Rose Bowl twice, in '54 and '61, and Minnesota in '60 and '61. If MSU should end the season tied with Minnesota and/or Northwestern at 2-2 records, the Gophers would get the nod on the basis of conference games played. Northwestern would get the next choice of conference games played, and Minnesota in '61 and '62.

Four decide, on an arbitrary thorny road West. Southern California, UCLA and Washington State are currently the only Michigan State Conference victors. There's a jam up for third among this week's losers. The Wolfpack and Hoosiers share one more MSU conference win will open the once-sealed 3-0 conference mark, while 1-3 and 0-5, respectively. Northwestern at Minnesota and Wisconsin at Illinois, at 2-2 records.

Michigan State has been to the Rose Bowl twice, in '54 and '61, and Minnesota in '60 and '61. If the teams are placed in the standings, the Big Ten would be represented by the conference winner. For the moment, Michigan State leads 3-0, Northwestern 2-2, and Minnesota 1-1. The conference winner will open the once-sealed 3-0 conference mark, while 1-3 and 0-5, respectively. West Coast Race Close Scores of fans in browsing rooms and police officers on the campus are wondering who the Regina would play in the Rose Bowl or in the Cotton Bowl. Unfortunately, the Pacific Big Ten Conference is too strong to be taken lightly. California, UCLA, and Washington State have already Eliminated Northwestern, and Iowa. Many thought these teams would be the best, and a 3-0 performance means a little. USC and Washington State are 1-0 in the conference.

'Alliance' Is Not An Aid Program

By NORMAN SINCLAIR
State News Staff Writer

The Alliance for Progress is not a foreign aid program, President John F. Kennedy told his fellow citizens this week. Instead, it is a "Based on Latin American progress," he said, "The United States is a part of it, along with others.

In 1961 the Latin nations were unable to handle this problem by themselves, so they asked the United States and others to help them.

The Alliance is a Latin American self-help scheme," he said. "The United States is a participant in world trade. A part of the decline of Latin America exceeded the growth of Latin American trade. However, there are still some important obstacles to overcome. The most important is to get the people of the region to help themselves by setting up their own development projects. In the past, the people of the region have been accustomed to receiving aid from abroad. This has led to a false sense of dependency. The Alliance is designed to help the people of the region become self-sufficient and to develop their own resources.

The Alliance is not a United States aid program. It is a United States self-help scheme, a way of helping the people of the region to help themselves. The United States is not the only country involved, but it is a major participant. The Alliance is a cooperative effort of many countries working together to help the Latin American nations develop.

The Alliance is based on the idea that the United States and the Latin American nations can work together to improve the lives of people in the region. The Alliance is not a program of aid from abroad, but a program of self-help for the people of the region.

Brubeck Cool, But Audience Cold

Second Pop Concert Fraught With Errors

DAVE BRUBECK

With a better sound arrangement, a larger crowd and the Dave Brubeck Quartet, MSU, expect the second of its pop concerts to go much better than the first.

Brubeck's first appearance was匝 weeks ago, and there was some doubt whether Brubeck's music would be well received by the panel of judges of the show. Paul Czakon thought it might be wise to use a symphony orchestra because the music was the result of an orchestra.

Everything happened in SCCC. Rupert Stier started the show with the opening number and the music was played with the accompaniment of the orchestra. The audience was better, but not perfect.

Budget Request

About 80 million of the 84 million appropriated for research and development has been spent in the last two years. The 80 million appropriated for research now is spread among various departments of the university and the state, with the remainder to come from federal sources.

Hannah Speaks

Hannah also discussed the crucial need for a new terminal to replace the old one. The terminal is to be built on the north side of the University, about 100 feet from the old terminal.

Hannah stated that the new terminal will be a beautiful structure, and that it will be a great improvement over the old one. The new terminal will be completed by the end of the year, and it will be ready for use in the spring.

Crucible' Production Set

A new show is being prepared for opening next week, and it is expected to be a great success. The show, "The Crucible", is a modern adaptation of the play by Arthur Miller, "The Crucible". The show is being prepared by the MSU theater department.
