Power Failure Plunges Campus Into Darkness

2-Hour Blackout Mystifies Experts

Small-Scale Reflection Of Big Eastern Shutdown

By Bill Erasen

The East Lansing City Council held another meeting Wednesday night to discuss the possibilities of local controls over the power situation. The council decision came at meetings held by the Lansing Power Co., who set a conference for this purpose. The council was examining a power shortage of about 500,000 kilowatts.

The immediate cause of the Lansing trouble was not known. However, a spokesman for the Michigan Power Co. said it was caused by the fact that the Lansing Power Co. could not sell its extra electricity to the north plant due to restrictions.

In the Lansing area, a blackout affected the entire campus. But the Lansing Light and Power Co. said that it would have to be cut off as soon as possible.

The immediate cause of the Lansing trouble was not known. However, a spokesman for the Michigan Power Co. said it was caused by the fact that the Lansing Power Co. could not sell its extra electricity to the north plant due to restrictions.

The immediate cause of the Lansing trouble was not known. However, a spokesman for the Michigan Power Co. said it was caused by the fact that the Lansing Power Co. could not sell its extra electricity to the north plant due to restrictions.

The immediate cause of the Lansing trouble was not known. However, a spokesman for the Michigan Power Co. said it was caused by the fact that the Lansing Power Co. could not sell its extra electricity to the north plant due to restrictions.

The immediate cause of the Lansing trouble was not known. However, a spokesman for the Michigan Power Co. said it was caused by the fact that the Lansing Power Co. could not sell its extra electricity to the north plant due to restrictions.
Help Needed To Lower Student - Faculty Ratio

LOWERING THE FACULTY-STUDENT RATIO is the goal of the Humanist Society (HSU) which met recently at Michigan State University. The group decided to seek funds for new library facilities, noted Charles W. Beals, who is the president of the organization.

"The first step is to have the Department of Education give us an estimate of how much money we will need," Beals said. "Then we can begin to look for these funds.

Professor Neville recently advised the group that the current ratio was not enough. Neville also pointed out that continuing support of library facilities was needed. Beals commented that if the state university system could provide a million dollars for library facilities the HSU would help raise this sum.

"The HSU will not move on to more lucrative activities unless funds are provided," Neville said. "It is no longer a question of whether or not we need these facilities. We need them, but we need them now."

Court Decision Supported

WE SUPPORT the recent U.S. Supreme Court decision striking down a state law that prohibits the right of members of the Communist party to be employed in the New York City government. And we strongly urge that other legislation of the same kind be struck down as is no longer in the public interest.

Now only one full time faculty rank is marked for a nine percent salary raise for tenured professors. But other faculty members will not be able to receive raises because of the budget request is an attempt to reduce costs.

The general series of cuts is in response to the Federal government. And we strongly deny that either the Act of 1950, was inconsistent with the government's rights.

"We have studied the case of the government," Beals said. "We have looked into the question of whether or not we need these facilities. We need them, but we need them now."

"We cannot support the government in this case," Beals said. "We cannot support the government in any case."
Vatican relaxes Birth Control Position

VATICAN CITY (AP) - The Vatican, long opposed to the use of birth control, said Tuesday that it would no longer object to the practice.

The change of heart by the Vatican came after a long debate within the church about the morality of birth control.

The Vatican said that it would now support the right of couples to decide whether or not to have children, as long as they do so within the limits of their natural fertility and in a way that respects the dignity of the human person.

The decision comes after decades of opposition to birth control by the Vatican, which had opposed the use of contraceptives as a form of birth control.

The new policy will allow couples to use contraception as long as they do so within the limits of their natural fertility and in a way that respects the dignity of the human person.

The Vatican said that it would now support the right of couples to decide whether or not to have children, as long as they do so within the limits of their natural fertility and in a way that respects the dignity of the human person.

The decision comes after decades of opposition to birth control by the Vatican, which had opposed the use of contraceptives as a form of birth control.

The new policy will allow couples to use contraception as long as they do so within the limits of their natural fertility and in a way that respects the dignity of the human person.

The Vatican said that it would now support the right of couples to decide whether or not to have children, as long as they do so within the limits of their natural fertility and in a way that respects the dignity of the human person.

The decision comes after decades of opposition to birth control by the Vatican, which had opposed the use of contraceptives as a form of birth control.

The new policy will allow couples to use contraception as long as they do so within the limits of their natural fertility and in a way that respects the dignity of the human person.

The Vatican said that it would now support the right of couples to decide whether or not to have children, as long as they do so within the limits of their natural fertility and in a way that respects the dignity of the human person.

The decision comes after decades of opposition to birth control by the Vatican, which had opposed the use of contraceptives as a form of birth control.

The new policy will allow couples to use contraception as long as they do so within the limits of their natural fertility and in a way that respects the dignity of the human person.

The Vatican said that it would now support the right of couples to decide whether or not to have children, as long as they do so within the limits of their natural fertility and in a way that respects the dignity of the human person.

The decision comes after decades of opposition to birth control by the Vatican, which had opposed the use of contraceptives as a form of birth control.

The new policy will allow couples to use contraception as long as they do so within the limits of their natural fertility and in a way that respects the dignity of the human person.
Hawkeyes Axe Burns Early

After getting clobbered by Michigan 28-0 at the Big House in October, Iowa is in a state of mind- ing its season if it wants to win any more games. The Hawkeyes come to East Lansing this Saturday with a 4-3-1 record, and will practice Wednesday at 9 a.m. in the Big Ten Room. The session will be open to the public.

300 COACHES ON HAND
Benington Heads Clinic

The 300th anniversary basketball game in 1965 will be held Friday and Saturday at Michigan State in East Lansing. The Michigan State Friday and Saturday sessions will be open to the public.

Admission to the basketball game Friday and Saturday is $2 for students and $2.50 for nonstudents. The proceeds will go to the Interscholastic Basketball Postgraduate Fellowship Fund.

How to get to
Britain next summer
a travel guide for students

You don’t have to be British, but your parents had to be. Here’s a way to find out which countries you can go.

1. Meet the season. It will bring you to Britain in the spring. One of them has tips on group travel and recreational areas of the British Isles. The season will run from May 1 to September 30.

2. Decide how long you want to stay. Stay for a weekend, a week, or a month. You can get a good head start on your trip by traveling to the British Isles. You can get a good head start on your trip by traveling to the British Isles.

3. Add tips for getting along. The backpacker report on how much it costs to backpack in Britain will be available soon.

4. Take your travel agent for a tour of the British Isles. The British Isles are a beautiful place to visit. You can go to any of the British Isles.

First Tourney Test
For Booters Saturday

The Spartan basketball team opens its season Saturday with a 1-12 record when the Spartans play the Michigan State Saturday in the Big Ten Room. The Michigan State Friday and Saturday sessions will be open to the public.

Admission to the basketball game Friday and Saturday is $2 for students and $2.50 for nonstudents. The proceeds will go to the Interscholastic Basketball Postgraduate Fellowship Fund.

How to get to
Britain next summer
a travel guide for students

1. Meet the season. It will bring you to Britain in the spring. One of them has tips on group travel and recreational areas of the British Isles. The season will run from May 1 to September 30.

2. Decide how long you want to stay. Stay for a weekend, a week, or a month. You can get a good head start on your trip by traveling to the British Isles. You can get a good head start on your trip by traveling to the British Isles.

3. Add tips for getting along. The backpacker report on how much it costs to backpack in Britain will be available soon.

4. Take your travel agent for a tour of the British Isles. The British Isles are a beautiful place to visit. You can go to any of the British Isles.

Just send this ad with your name and address to the Council on Opportunity, 550 Fifth Ave., New York, N.Y. 10017.
Parking Problem Up To City--Council

By VIRGINIA MINTOSH

State News Staff Writer

The City Council last Monday faced a parking problem that may become an embarrassment to the University of Michigan. The problem is the University's growth and the resulting overcrowding of the city's parking lots.

The Council was told that the problem is serious and that it will become worse as the University grows. The Council was also told that it is the responsibility of the University to solve the problem.

The University has been authorized to spend $50,000 to study the problem and to prepare a plan for its solution. The plan will be presented to the Council in three months.

The University has also been asked to consider the possibility of leasing some of its parking lots to the city.

The Council was told that the University has been approached with this proposal and that it is considering it.

The University has also been asked to consider the possibility of leasing some of its parking lots to the city.

The Council was told that the University has been approached with this proposal and that it is considering it.

The University has also been asked to consider the possibility of leasing some of its parking lots to the city.

The Council was told that the University has been approached with this proposal and that it is considering it.

The University has also been asked to consider the possibility of leasing some of its parking lots to the city.

The Council was told that the University has been approached with this proposal and that it is considering it.

The University has also been asked to consider the possibility of leasing some of its parking lots to the city.
FOR 'ORDINARY PEOPLE'

Viet Nam Protest Trip Set

Wilson Hall

Moppets Dance For Freedom

Student Death Probe

Power Plant

Steady State
On Birth Control: Eve's Fig Leaf To The Pill

By JO BUMBERGER

The Student Press in East Lansing, Michigan, published a study this week on the problems and practices of birth control among college students.

"Good girls have intercourse, as do bad girls, to an unfortunate girl, it is time to stop playing "Thou shalt not,"" said the author. "We must start until marriage to limit the number of children it. Being forced into marriage that at attractive enough to control movement, was not interested in purely to limit family size, because everyone superiority. It made it hard for them to participate in society as any other sexual freedom,' he continued, 'It sallweil ar d good for society to say that good girls don't have intercourse before marriage.

"The first contraceptive device was Eve's fig leaf," said Alan Schaffer, assistant professor of history, in his introductory remarks. "This is a very popular idea." He added.

Schafer, easily the most liberal of the panel members, had a larger point where the panel members left off. "Medicine does not feel that patients must understand its side effects." He said pills can cause adverse sexual freedom, 'It's all well and good for society to say that good girls don't have intercourse before marriage.

"What does marriage have to do with this?" asked the author. "It is agreed upon by society that good girls don't have intercourse before marriage. But my mother got upset and said, 'If you want to be my mother and you're not married, it's wrong.'"

"I disassociate myself from the Church," said Dr. Feurig (director of Olin Health Center). "I went to Olin to try to find out—you can go in any drug store and buy contraceptives. They're not 100 per cent effective, but they are 80 per cent of the time," he said.

"Do not see the necessity for contraceptives, that other contraceptive for persons under 21. Richard Reul, associate professor of history, added, "It is illegal to premaritally interfere with the reproductive process."

"It is agreed upon by society that good girls don't have intercourse before marriage. But my mother got upset and said, 'If you want to be my mother and you're not married, it's wrong.'"

"What does marriage have to do with this?" asked the author. "It is agreed upon by society that good girls don't have intercourse before marriage. But my mother got upset and said, 'If you want to be my mother and you're not married, it's wrong.'"

"I disassociate myself from the Church," said Dr. Feurig (director of Olin Health Center). "I went to Olin to try to find out—you can go in any drug store and buy contraceptives. They're not 100 per cent effective, but they are 80 per cent of the time," he said.

"Do not see the necessity for contraceptives, that other contraceptive for persons under 21. Richard Reul, associate professor of history, added, "It is illegal to premaritally interfere with the reproductive process."

"It is agreed upon by society that good girls don't have intercourse before marriage. But my mother got upset and said, 'If you want to be my mother and you're not married, it's wrong.'"

"I disassociate myself from the Church," said Dr. Feurig (director of Olin Health Center). "I went to Olin to try to find out—you can go in any drug store and buy contraceptives. They're not 100 per cent effective, but they are 80 per cent of the time," he said.

"Do not see the necessity for contraceptives, that other contraceptive for persons under 21. Richard Reul, associate professor of history, added, "It is illegal to premaritally interfere with the reproductive process."

"It is agreed upon by society that good girls don't have intercourse before marriage. But my mother got upset and said, 'If you want to be my mother and you're not married, it's wrong.'"