80% Get All Classes In Early Enrollment

Eighty percent of the 8,093 students registered for early classes completed their entire academic program during the first four days, according to the late Monday afternoon report of the Office of the Registrar.

These students registered 29,047 credit hours, or 29% of total credit hours scheduled for spring term. And they were among the 9,761 who registered in person at the Exchange Building. The remaining 2,332 were registered over the telephone, a new service available to the Registrar's Office.

Early registration was an overwhelming success so we conse­quently opened the enrollment office at 8 a.m. Monday, Feb. 16, and kept it open until 9 p.m. Monday, Feb. 16. The students who registered this week have shown unusual interest and enthusiasm, said King.

Mr. King said that his office will be open Monday through Saturday this week and that anyone who registers between Monday, Feb. 16 and Thursday, Feb. 19, will receive a $5 discount on tuition. Registering students will also receive an information packet which includes a list of classes being offered this term.

The success of early registration, said Mr. King, was due in large part to the efforts of the Registrar's Office. "Our staff has worked extremely hard to make this registration process as smooth as possible," he said. "We are extremely pleased with the results."

Right-Of-Way Problem Haunts Highway Dept.

Michigan is facing trouble getting federal aid for highway problems because it has not yet applied for the right kind of assistance. The state is already eligible for federal funds under the latest highway aid program. Federal funds are available for highways that meet certain qualifications.

Jeffers said the highways are being built with state money and are not eligible for federal funds because they do not meet the qualifications. Federal aid is available for highways that meet the qualifications.

Shaky Defense Key
To Icemen’s Problems
By JOE MITCH

State News Sports Writer

The Michigan State hockey team faces its first real test of the season this week end when it plays host to the Western Michigan University Icemen. The Wolverines are coming off a 2-1 victory over the University of Michigan in the first game of the 1965-66 season, and have only one victory this season. The Spartans, on the other hand, have won six of their seven games this season, and are looking for their first victory over a team from the Mid-Western Hockey League.

In the past, Michigan State has been plagued by weak defense, and this week end’s game may be no exception. The Icemen have scored 15 goals in their first three games, and have only given up six goals. The Spartans have scored 39 goals in their first seven games, and have only given up 10 goals. The Spartans’ defense has been helped by their quick, aggressive play, and their ability to disrupt the Icemen’s scoring chances.

The Spartans’ offense has been led by senior forward Mark Thompson, who has scored six goals in seven games. Freshman forward Gary Garrett has also been a key player, scoring three goals in four games. The Spartans’ other top scorers are junior forward Ken Williams, who has scored four goals, and senior forward Herb McCaffree, who has scored three goals.

The Icemen’s offense has been led by sophomore forward Bill Hallett, who has scored four goals in three games. Sophomore forward Jerry Thompson has also scored four goals in three games, and junior forward Dick Ferriter has scored three goals in three games.

The Spartans’ defense has been led by senior defenseman Bob Steele, who has scored two goals in seven games. Freshman defenseman Fred Martens has also scored two goals in seven games, and sophomore defenseman Keith Coates has scored one goal in six games.
