Reds Veto UN Peace Role Idea

Washington — President Johnson told the U.N. Security Council on Tuesday that a new peace effort should be based on the formula set up by last year's cease-fire agreement. Mr. Johnson repeated this point in a speech to the United Nations General Assembly yesterday. He also praised the work of Secretary General Count Folke Bernadotte of Sweden, who is leading the new peace effort.

"The United States is willing to participate in any effort to achieve a just and lasting peace," Mr. Johnson said. "We are prepared to work with other nations in any way that they may wish, consistent with our policies and with the interests of the United States and her allies."

Mr. Johnson said the United States would support any plan that would lead to a negotiated settlement of the conflict in Vietnam. He also said that the United States would support any peace plan that would be approved by the United Nations Security Council.

Mr. Johnson said that the United States would continue to work with other nations in the United Nations to achieve a just and lasting peace in Vietnam. He also said that the United States would continue to work with other nations in the United Nations to achieve a just and lasting peace in Vietnam.

'Separate Arms And Aid,' LBJ

A proposal that the United States and South Vietnam should continue military operations in South Vietnam was made by President Johnson today. The proposal was made in response to a request from the United States that South Vietnam should be allowed to continue military operations in South Vietnam.

The United States has been providing military aid to South Vietnam since 1961, but it has been limited to training and equipment.

Soviets, French Opposing U.S.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Mounting opposition led by the Soviet Union and France threatened Tuesday to doom efforts by the United States to give the U.N. Security Council a try at ending the war in Viet Nam. The United States claimed it had enough support to win approval by a narrow margin for full-scale debate, but the opposition appeared to rule out any chance of pushing through a U.S. peace plan.

U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg placed with members of the Security Council to be discussion of the new peace proposal when he threatened to suspend it on Tuesday.

He defended the resolution of U.S. Ambassador Goldberg, who is also the United States' permanent representative to the United Nations, on Tuesday.

MIDWEST 1970 - The sound of battle echoes from the trenches of the Midwest as winter's gray blankets begin to turn green. In the face of increasing military conscription, a draft commissioner was quoted as saying, "It is a war we cannot afford to lose."

GLORY TO THE CIVIL WAR!

The following is a portion of the speech delivered by the Commissioner of Drafts, in response to the recent draft:

The speech was met with cheers and applause from the assembled crowd. The Commissioner emphasized the importance of enlisting young men in the military, stating that it is the duty of every citizen to defend their country.

PARKING RAMP OPPOSED

An East Lansing parking ramp opposed in several aspects of the city's parking plan would be open Monday night.

William Collins, Jr., chief accountant of the MSU housing department, said he had been studying the proposal for two years and had found it to be feasible. The ramp would be located on the northeast side of the MSU campus.

The ramp would be 40 feet wide and 500 feet long, with a capacity of 500 cars. The entire structure would be constructed of wood and would be open to the public.

Big 10 Frosh Rule Needed in Hockey

FOR STUDENTS, FACULTY
Low Cost IM Skiing

The news of the day is that Big Ten universities have been discussing the possibility of implementing a Frosh Rule in hockey. This rule would prevent freshmen from playing in varsity hockey games.

The Frosh Rule would be similar to the one in place in the Big 12 Conference, which prohibits freshmen from playing in conference games. The Big Ten is considering a similar rule to prevent freshmen from playing in non-conference games as well.

The reason for this discussion is the belief that freshmen are not ready for the high level of competition in college hockey. The Frosh Rule would allow them to focus on developing their skills and gaining experience before stepping onto the ice for varsity games.

However, some argue that this rule would be unfair to the freshmen who are good enough to play at the varsity level. They believe that the Frosh Rule would create a two-tier system within the conference, with only the best freshmen being able to play.

The Big Ten, along with other conferences, will have to weigh the potential benefits and drawbacks of implementing a Frosh Rule in hockey.

Eased Rules, More Money
Makes Big 8 Matmen Tops

The Big 8 Conference has been making changes to its wrestling rules in an attempt to increase attendance and revenue. One of the changes is allowing each team to have three instead of twoassistant coaches.

This rule has been met with mixed reactions. Some believe it will improve the quality of coaching and enhance the competitiveness of the conference. Others are concerned that it will lead to an increase in injuries and make the matches less competitive.

The Big 8 Conference is hoping that these changes will attract more fans and boost revenue. Time will tell if these changes are successful in achieving these goals.

Rymal: ‘Negative’ Thinker

By ROB HORNIG
State News Sports Writer

State News Senior Basketball Captain Jim Delaet appointed himself to win in the St. Francis School Champions basketball game. "But I am nothing more than a player," he said. "I am thinking of only myself, not the team."

Rymal got the game away with a 46-to-45 counter from his brother, John Rymal. The first half was split between the teams, with Rymal leading by only 3 points at the half.
In the second half, the Rymal team pulled away with a 2-point lead and never looked back. The final score was 55-50, with Rymal winning the championship game.

Rymal’s brother, John, said, "I think it’s great to win the championship, but I am more interested in how we played as a team.
Rymal was the key player, but we all contributed to winning the game."
