Carny Thrives In Warm Temps

BY ANDY MARES
State News Staff Writer

Winter Carnivals ushered in a separate season as winter sports became warm enough to double winter activities. Winter Carnivals continue the tradition of festive outdoor sports.
The lack of a University Center-which serves as the University community's only place to keep a fire-although not a serious problem in itself, would provide the necessary meeting place for a variety of campus activities. ASMSU is temporarily without a meeting place because it is using the Alumni Hall, meaning that meetings and functions are located in a cluttered and uncomfortable room. It is only a temporary measure, and the University Center will soon be back in use.

The University Center will solve all of these problems. It could house two auditoriums and theater facilities for University activities. It is centrally located and provides the proper facilities for entertainment and cultural events.

As a result, Conquest has been dislocated. Conquest is a small magazine, but its fine graphics and fine content have made it one of the most interesting magazines on campus. BELUGA BELUGAS (Beluga: Deltis leucas) are a species of large whales that were once abundant in the Arctic and sub-Arctic waters. They live in schools and are known for their distinctive white coloration and large size. The Beluga is a highly social animal and is often seen jumping and playing at the surface of the water. They are also known for their intelligence and are capable of using tools and communication techniques similar to those of dolphins. Belugas are an important cultural symbol in many Arctic cultures, and their conservation is a priority worldwide.

Wisconsin Falls to 'S', 79-65

The Spartans captured the right end of their final and last game to clinch the championship of the ACC, as they defeated the Hoosiers, 79-65.

The game started slowly, with both teams struggling to find their rhythm. Wisconsin, led by guard Mike Bening, started off strong, building a lead of 10 points in the first half. However, Michigan fought back in the second half, tying the game multiple times. The game went into overtime, where Michigan finally pulled ahead to win.

With this one exception, GT&E blankets the world of electronics.

GT&E makes no effort to compete with the nation's awesome forces, and that is why we do the next best thing: we take the measure of lightning and harness its energy to everyday tasks.

In that way, we're helping to make the body electronic mighty. And our own capabilities are more extensive.

In fact, we've made electronics an even more popular business. And branched into virtually all directions electronics would take us...communications, radio, TV, stereo, photography, automatic supervision and control, and advanced military systems.

GT&E members can, as a matter of fact, be found operating and controlling Electric and B Yamaku, either in the modern city or the electronic components from which they are built. And at the same time serve as major suppliers to other electronic manufacturers and the communications industry.

You might say that, because of electronics, GT&E's possibilities are endless. That's the way it looks from where we sit.

If you're interested in getting a complete picture of GT&E as it is today, ask your Placement Director for a copy of the booklet that tells the story.

American Education Decaying

By LEO ZAINE
State News Staff Writer

Rusell Kirk, conservative's nemesis, charges the war on litter is an educational embarrassment.

Kirk defines education as an intellectual means to an ethical end, and states it is necessary to maintain the "higher order of the mind and soul as the inner order of society." Education is the United States will be saved.

The statement, former MBA professor, ended a question from a non-believer, "addressed approximately 128 people in the Union Building Thursday.

The lecturer, titled "Posthumous Attraction," was sponsored by the MSU Students Committee.

"We spend twice as much money...for education as Russia," he said, "yet we are still disempowered.

"The American higher education is affected by the ignorance of the American students.

"There is no concept of self existence among students," he said, "The only practical survey by the University of California at Berkeley revealed only three per cent of undergraduates enrolled in college today whom school at all.

Kirk also took verbal aim at the growing "Posthumous Attraction," he said, "The world was emerging in ignorance.

"Power to arise from the hands of the faculty to those of the administration is nonexistent," he added.

"We are inverting the people at the top to the people at the bottom", he said.

The gap between Flanagan, Elmo's, and Pal's, is evident, he said.

"A university is a place for contemplation rather than the consumption of a system to day," he said, "The growth is paying off large campuses.

However, he did concede that the present is healthy in collegiates atmospheres. Quota, academic freedom, academic standards, and legal administration, relations...are understandable, but students cannot live in a climate of constant reproach, he said.

Kirk uses the only hope of institution of basic college and high school education as is...to lower the higher status into seven other state colleges.

"We have done a re-education of effecting assumptions, he added. The students who have done so are intended in encouraging intellectual values within the select groupings.

"Kirk professed many of the remarks with reference to various ideas....instruments, and his own syndicalist beliefs.

"The result of people in such a climate in which to represent persons who have given PL. D's at birth, and then become more and more educated degrees more would have been taken without fear, Kirk wrote in support of the action.

"The result is more than from the large institutions, to see a gleam of hope in California's educational process.

"We need a number of smaller colleges and villages are corresponding to those of Cambridge and Oxford.

"Our public education is system, Dartmouth and Rice College, as schools which come closest to his ideas of ideal university.

American Airlines

To any kid

who'd like to leave home:

We'll pay half your fare.

The idea's not as crazy as it may seem. Anytime we take a job up, there are almost always leftover seats.

So it occurred to us that we might be able to fill a few of them, if we gave the young people a break on the fare, and a chance to see the country.

The American Youth Plan

We call the idea the American Youth Plan, and what it means is this:

American will pay half the jet ride fare for anybody aged 21 through 24.

That's simple.

All you have to do is prove your age (a birth certificate or any other legal document will do) and buy a $3 identification card.

We date and stamp the card, and this entitles you to a half-fare ticket on any American Airlines counter.

The only catch is that you might have to share the fare on a standby basis." "Standby" simply means that the passengers with reservations and the servicemen get on before you do.

Then the plane's yours.

The American Youth Plan is good year round except for a few days before and after the Easter, Thanksgiving and Christmas rush.

If you can't think of any places you'd like to go downhill, you might see a travel agent for a few suggestions.

We can't add anything else.

Other than it's a marvelous opportunity to just take off.

Somebody dared us.

Only 13 more forests abroad play "Salt of the Earth."

"And it comes out, "They - the students, one student, We'll make for the one student, "Salt of the Earth."

"And it's a short time America had the choice to make up their own minds. The Baltimore Sunday Journal reports..."

Property Tax Increase Could Raise Rents

The tax rate on property used for commercial purposes will increase as much as 10 times the current level, possibly resulting in rent cuts, city Assessor Frank R. Wadland said Feb. 8.

The reassessment program is intended to make the tax system more equitable and to provide more accurate assessments of property values, Wadland said.
