Senators vote on Peace Corps Head

WASHINGTON - A Senate panel yesterday approved the nomination of Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, D-Maine, to be the Peace Corps Administrator, to succeed Sargent Shriver, who has resigned to become Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare.

The panel, which was on a conference committee to consider the nomination, voted 12-0 to recommend confirmation by the Senate.

Muskie would be the third Democrat to head the Peace Corps since its creation by President Kennedy in 1961. It was founded as a program to send American volunteers to underdeveloped countries to help with agricultural and educational projects.

It is anticipated that the Senate will vote on the nomination later this week.

The Peace Corps, which was created in 1961 by President John F. Kennedy, is a voluntary organization that sends American volunteers to developing countries to work on community development projects.

The program was established with the goal of providing assistance to developing countries while also providing opportunities for American volunteers to gain valuable experience in international development.

The Peace Corps was originally intended to last for two years, but has since been extended to five years. It has been praised for its role in promoting peaceful coexistence and cultural understanding around the world.

Muskie's nomination is expected to be confirmed by the full Senate, as he has the support of both parties. The Peace Corps has been a popular program in the United States, and has received widespread support from both Democratic and Republican lawmakers.

Muskie, a former Democratic senator from Maine, has a long history of public service and is known for his work on education reform, environmental issues, and international development.

If confirmed, Muskie would be the third Democrat to lead the Peace Corps, following its creation by President Kennedy in 1961.

The Peace Corps has faced criticism over the years, with some saying that it is not effective in fighting poverty and improving conditions in developing countries.

However, Muskie has said that the Peace Corps is still necessary and has played an important role in promoting American values and the ideals of the Cold War era.
Regulations Should Keep Pace With Customs

THROUGHOUT THE NATION, the trend has been toward less formality and more efficiency in customs regulations. The trend is a logical one, to be sure. An inspection of a passenger's suitcase at the border today is not as thorough as it once was. However, a word of caution may be in order. The regulations are not as relaxed as they may appear.

Also, women's hours have gone through a drastic evolution. Women's hours have been extended, and the regulations on women have been relaxed. However, a word of caution may be in order. The regulations are not as relaxed as they may appear.

Perplexing Policy

Up to now I have withheld some of the facts about the regulations on women. Women's hours have been extended, and the regulations on women have been relaxed. However, a word of caution may be in order. The regulations are not as relaxed as they may appear.

Thanks To ASMSU

To the Editor:

We very much appreciate the efforts of the ASMSU representatives who have worked on the regulations on women. Women's hours have been extended, and the regulations on women have been relaxed. However, a word of caution may be in order. The regulations are not as relaxed as they may appear.

A MSL program saved Toledo from a $1.2 million dollar threat of closing, and over $1.9 million dollars of educational programs will be stopped if the town is cut from the list of towns receiving funds.

The program was set up to help Toledo's educational programs and was supported by the Toledo Board of Education. The cost per student is $20.73.

Toledo's students are enrolled in the Toledo Public Schools and are part of the Toledo City School District. The program was funded by the State of Ohio and the federal government.

The state has been funding the school district with $4.2 million dollars since 1964. The Toledo Board of Education has recommended the continuation of the program for another year.

However, the program is facing criticism from some community members who believe that the funding should be directed elsewhere.

The Spartan ‘Red Flash’: A Deadly ‘Killer’ On Ice

By JOE WITCH
State News Sports Writer

East Lansing—The first day of the season was just another day for football fans as the Red Men went to the gridiron for the opening game against Michigan. The Red Men were the hosts in the game, and the score was 21-0.

The Red Men were on top of the Michigan team from the beginning, and they never looked back. Coach Harry Gilmer, the head coach of the Red Men, was pleased with the performance of his team.

The Red Men were able to score on several plays, and they were able to run the ball well. The Red Men’s offensive line was able to block the Michigan defense, and they were able to get the ball downfield.

The Red Men’s defense was also strong, and they were able to force a fumble by Michigan in the second quarter. The Red Men recovered the fumble and scored a touchdown later in the quarter.
