Michigan Headed For Police State?

EDITOR'S NOTE: This article was submitted to the Republican State Journal newspaper by Assistant Professor of Journalism at Michigan State University, Miss Vivian is known for her strong stance on national security.

ON JANUARY 22 Senator Dameron, Rantau, Hart and Luckwood introduced House Bill No. 743, which makes the appointment of any person as a police officer at this state, knowing him to be such an officer, guilty of a felony, and it is provided that the act is made punishable by death or imprisonment in the state prison for not more than five years, or both.

This bill has been referred to the Committee on Police and Fire, which has been referring all bills in that category. The Committee on Police and Fire is expected to report the bill to the full House of Representatives next week.

The move to create a police state is being met with much opposition from various groups. The American Civil Liberties Union has expressed concern about the potential for abuse of power under such legislation.

SN Slanderous, Insulting

To the Editor:

The State News editorial of Feb. 19, regarding CMU and discrimination of minorities and the struggle for equal rights, was lengthy and unimportant in its discussion of the CMU issue.

I find it curious that, in a society that prides itself on equality and freedom of speech, there is such a small minority of people who are willing to use their voices to silence others.

The State News editorial was written by a student who is not representative of the majority of the student body. It is important for us to have a diversity of opinions in order to have a functioning democracy.

The State News editorial was written by someone who does not have the same experience as I do. I have been a minority student at CMU for the past four years, and I have faced many challenges.

Rahm Emanuel, a student at CMU, wrote an editorial titled "SN Slanderous, Insulting." The editorial was published in the State News on February 19, 2016.

Rahm Emanuel is a student at CMU and has been a minority student for the past four years. He has faced many challenges and has written about them in his editorial.

After reading Rahm Emanuel's editorial, I was inspired to write my own response. I believe that it is important for us to have a diversity of opinions in order to have a functioning democracy.

Lawyer For Students Would Answer Problems

ONE OF THE greatest benefits of self-study is that it allows you to learn how to learn. The ability to study effectively is a skill that is essential for success in college and beyond.

A proposal for the legal advice program was made by a student at MSU. The proposal was that the program be a one-time event that would be open to all MSU students.

Professor Hunt, a law professor at MSU, was consulted on the proposal. He suggested that the program be expanded to include ongoing legal advice.

The proposal was presented to the MSU Student Senate and was approved. The program will be called "Legal Aid for Students" and will be offered on a quarterly basis.

Editorial: Are People Really Aware Of Highways Slaughter?

Are People Really Aware Of Highways Slaughter?

"The nauseating carnage on our highways increases every year. People, usually in a hurry, fail to slow down in time to avoid accidents. As a result, more and more people lose their lives every year."

T. H. H. Q. Q. has been the cry heard around the state, and Detroit has been one of the worst areas.

Recently, it has been reported that the number of high-speed traffic accidents has increased significantly.

In an effort to reduce the number of accidents, the state has implemented a number of new laws and regulations.

These laws and regulations include:

1. Speed limits have been increased in certain areas.
2. The use of seat belts is now mandatory for all drivers and passengers.
3. The use of airbags is mandatory for all new vehicles.
4. The use of interlocks is mandatory for all vehicles.

The effectiveness of these laws and regulations is still being evaluated. However, the state is optimistic that these measures will help reduce the number of accidents on the highways.

Francis A. Pinner

Pinners have not been able to break through in any major political party. But they have shown steady growth in local and state elections. In the 1964 election, for instance, the Pinners won 75 percent of the state's counties. The Pinners' strength has been in rural areas, where they have consistently polled more than 50 percent of the vote.

The Pinners' message is one of moderation and conciliation. They believe in strong government, but they are also committed to individual freedom. They support strong military forces, but they are also committed to world peace. The Pinners are not a threat to the established political parties, but they are a force to be reckoned with. They are a party for the people, by the people, and for the people.
COOKING CLASSES
Have No Future

By CYNTHIA JORDAN

It is a fact that almost all a housewife will need for her kitchen is a stove and a few pans, the rest she will not even need to know how to cook.

Speaking as a member of the professional cooking club, "Cooking for Profit," I am here to tell you that the future of the American home is in doubt.

With the advent of the new microwave ovens, the old-fashioned kitchen is becoming an outdated system.

A woman can work from home and save time by using the microwave oven. She will not even have to think about the care of the dishes.

To serve the main course she will open up the microwave and pop it in. She will have her food ready in minutes.

Michigan State's basketball team took a trip to the Big Ten leader, Purdue, with a 69-63 win over the Boilers Tuesday night, March 30.

The Spartans were led by the strong play of center Bob Johnson, who scored 31 points and pulled down 10 rebounds. He also had five assists and three steals. Guard Ernie Erickson added 20 points and five assists, while forward John Jacobson contributed 15 points and four rebounds.

Other contributors for the Spartans included guard Bob Miller, who scored 13 points and had three assists, and forward Jerry Poole, who had 12 points and two rebounds.

The Spartans' defense was also strong, holding the Boilers to just 63 points. Michigan State led by 15 points at halftime, 41-26, and never looked back.

The win was the 12th in a row for the Spartans and improved their record to 26-6 on the season. They now have a three-game lead over Purdue in the Big Ten standings.

Michigan State will face Wisconsin on Saturday, April 3, at home. The winner of the game will have a better chance of winning the Big Ten title.
