解决该问题的方案是采取更加积极的政策和措施来促进经济的稳定和增长。这一方案应该包括以下几点：

1. 货币政策：通过调整利率来控制通货膨胀，同时保持经济增长。中央银行应该采取措施来降低利率，以刺激消费和投资。

2. 财政政策：政府应该增加公共开支，以刺激国内需求。此外，通过减税来降低企业和个人的税收负担，可以增加可支配收入，进而促进消费。

3. 国际贸易：为了促进经济增长，国家应该努力扩大出口，降低进口关税，以吸引更多的外国投资。

4. 教育和培训：国家应该投资于教育和培训，以提高劳动力的技能水平，从而提高生产率。

5. 环境保护：国家应该采取措施来保护环境，以确保可持续发展。

通过实施这些政策，我们可以有效地解决当前的问题，并为未来的经济发展奠定坚实的基础。
States Cannot Shoulder Burden Of Depollution Alone

A VOCAL SEGMENT of the population here strongly resists the idea of pollution control. Among the voices heard is that of America's trade unions which fear that pollution control will result in higher costs and thus in higher prices. This is a legitimate concern, but it is not enough. The problem is a national one, and the solution will have to be a national one as well.

We support the efforts of the federal government in this area, and we encourage all people to do the same. The problem is too big for any one person or organization to address on their own. It is a national issue, and it requires a national solution.

Johnson's New Proposal On Civil Rights Responsible

The President's proposed bill is a step in the right direction, but it is not enough. We need a comprehensive and effective solution to the civil rights problem.

The bill is a good start, but it is not enough to solve the problem. We need to see more action and more commitment from the federal government to truly address the issue of civil rights.

The President's bill is a good step, but it is not enough. We need a comprehensive and effective solution to the civil rights problem.

Dodd To Cross-Examine In Untelevised Senate Hearing

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate's continuing inquiry into Sen. Thomas F. Dodd's conduct will not be televised, and the senator himself will be permitted to cross-examine a witness through "indirectly." The rules were established more than three months ago by the newly formed committee and were intended to apply to all senators. Senator Dodd was guilty of misconduct for allegedly perverting charges against him to benefit John F. Kennedy in the first under¬taking of the probe.

The rules of procedure designed to prevent televised specula¬tion about the senator or his statements were not to be applied to statements by the committee or to any witnesses. The Senate’s rules on cross-examination witnesses will be extended to all senators in writing to the chairman, Sen. J. W. Fulbright, Dem., as¬ked in the last meeting of the committee that the question should be raised by the chairman, and a member of the committee formally to ask him personally.

The committee announced April 29 that public hearings would be held in the Edmundston relationship as a result of charges raised by subcommittee head Pearson and Jack Lieber.

Senate Favors Income Tax Credit

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A majority of the 30 senators, some of whom speak on the side of the establishment, has given in to demands of the Administration for a federal income tax credit to encourage public contribu¬tions, a United Press Interna¬tional survey showed Thursday.

Of the 14 senators who responded by the poll 27 and their annual salary of $30,000, all but one was enough to cover their expenses. The other said he had never gotten any.

This survey showed senators who favored a credit to help hard-pressed anti-aircraft controllers and the administration’s bills for two-thirds of the Senate.

creditors toward higher ceilings and expenditures; indeed with their strong suggestion en¬couraging mutual credit, the senator with a willingness to increase suggests an amount and to recover some degree of campaign funds.

Dodd has won "too much time" on resolu¬tions and radio. A 27 senator "some kind of financial disclosure for federal officials, including numbers and top employees of Congress." Eighteen were.

Senator Dodd is the only senator guilty of an infraction of compliance.

Barry Blasts Fulbright

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Former Sen. Barry M. Goldwater accused Sen. J. W. Fulbright, Dem., of un¬fair conduct in our excerpts of the U.S. Senate and charged he had helped the chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Goldwater, in the 1964 Republican presidential primaries, was bar¬red for his handling of the issue of the United Nations, and his slurs on him in a speech to a large audience at the University of Michigan in 1954 caused a storm in the Senate.

The senator also was accused of being un¬fair in his excerpts of the U.S. Senate and charged he had helped the chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

In demanding Fulbright's resignation, Goldwater said he and the Right viewed Fulbright's conduct as a violation of the U.S. Senate and charged he had helped the chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Three days of "win-and-lose," characteristic of the Big Ten in recent years, will provide a big day for the Michigan State University football team this Saturday when it faces the Penn State Nittany Lions at State Field. Victories in the annual game will not only give the winner a shot at the Big Ten championship, but also make it possible for the team to earn a berth in the Rose Bowl.

The Spartans hold a 3-2 advantage over the Nittany Lions in the series, but the most recent meeting was a 13-7 win for Penn State in 1963. The game is scheduled for a 1:00 p.m. start.

The Penn State team, which has been Ty Detwiler's, recently fired, is expected to field an improved team this year, as the new coach, Alex Groome, has put together a strong team.

The Michigan State team, under the direction of Coach Jake Wood, has been practicing hard this week in preparation for the game. The team is expected to be at full strength, with only a few minor injuries reported.

The Spartans are expected to take the field with a strong line-up, with quarterback Dick Pennington expected to start. The team's defense, led by linebacker Mike Schmoker, is expected to be a strong point for the team.

The Penn State team, under the direction of Coach Alex Groome, is expected to field a strong team. The team's offense, led by quarterback Mike Bolding, is expected to be a strong point for the team.

The game is expected to be a close one, with both teams expected to score early and often. The Spartans are expected to have the upper hand in the second half, as they have had the upper hand in the last meetings.

ATL Associate Prof.
To Lecture in Europe

David D. Anderson, associate professor of American Theater and Language, will lecture on American literature to high school and university students throughout England and Scandinavia in June and July as part of the National Educational Traveling Service. Anderson will speak to students in the States and in Paris, England, Scandinavia, and elsewhere.

In his lecture, Anderson will discuss the importance of literature in understanding the history and society of the United States. He will focus on works by authors such as Mark Twain, Henry David Thoreau, and F. Scott Fitzgerald.

The lecture series is part of a larger program designed to promote cultural exchange and understanding between the United States and the United Kingdom. Anderson's lectures will be included in a series of events that will feature artists, scholars, and musicians from both countries.

Anderson has been teaching American literature at the University of Michigan for over 30 years. He has also published several books on the subject, including "The American Novel: From the Founding Fathers to the Present" and "The American Fairy Tale: From Perrault to Steinbeck.

Anderson's lectures will be held at various locations throughout England and Scandinavia, including universities, schools, and cultural centers.

In England, he will speak at the University of Oxford, the University of Cambridge, and the University of London. In Scandinavia, he will lecture at the University of Stockholm, the University of Copenhagen, and the University of Oslo.

Anderson's lectures will be open to the public, and admission will be free. The lectures will be followed by a reception where Anderson will sign copies of his books and answer questions from the audience.

The lectures are part of a larger initiative to promote cultural exchange between the United States and the United Kingdom. This initiative is supported by the British Council and the American Council of Learned Societies.
Protestants OK Union Stand In Document

DALLAS (AP)—Protestants have approved a church union plan, a development that would be the largest since the 1950s, with the world's largest Protestant denomination, the Southern Baptist Convention, remaining a holdout.

The Southern Baptists have not formally voted on the proposal, but the denomination's top legislative body last week approved a resolution calling for the denomination to explore the possibility of merging with other denominations.

The proposal, which was approved by the Southern Baptist Convention's Executive Committee, would create a new denomination that would include the Southern Baptists, the United Methodist Church, the Presbyterian Church (USA), and a number of other smaller denominations.

The new denomination would have a total membership of about 18 million, or about 10% of the total U.S. population.

The proposal also includes a funding mechanism to support the new denomination, with the current denominations each contributing a portion of their resources.

The Southern Baptists, however, have indicated they are not ready to approve the proposal without further discussion.

The proposal calls for a 30-day period of public comment on the proposal, after which the Southern Baptists will vote on the issue at their annual meeting in 2023.

If the Southern Baptists approve the proposal, the new denomination would likely be created by 2024.

School Tuition Costs ‘U’ $144,335

BY JAMES BAER
State News Staff Writer

Because 45 of 75 per cent more students are attending Eastern Michigan University and the population of freshmen is increasing, the fees for co-curricular activities are increasing this year.

Tuition costs for undergraduates are $315 for the full academic year. This includes room and board. Tuition costs for one semester are $157.50.

The tuition paid for each student is divided between the fee charged to the student and the fee charged to the community, said John H. Martin, vice president for student affairs. The student portion is $171.50 for one semester. The community pays $25.50.

All the co-curricular activities which were open to all students are expected to raise $100,000 this year, according to Martin. The first week of the school year, the fee for the co-curricular activities was $42.50. This includes all the activities which members are interested in.

The fee includes all the co-curricular activities, including the winter, spring, and fall semesters. The fee is paid at the beginning of the school year, and it covers the entire school year.
