Distrust Of Politicos Must Not Be Vote Factor

The State of Alabama: Negroes and Wallace

The Event of Alabama's revolutionized by the primary election of last week and it is likely that the next few weeks will be critical to the shape of the upcoming state elections. Governor George Wallace, popularly known as "the man with the black beret," scored an overwhelming victory over all opponents in his primary bid for re-election as Governor of Alabama. The Democratic party nominated him on the first ballot, and he has been declared the candidate for the upcoming election. The Republican party nominated him on the second ballot, and he is expected to win the general election.

The results of the primary election were a clear indication of the deep-seated racial tensions and political divisions in Alabama. Governor Wallace, a conservative Democrat, campaigned vigorously on a platform of anti-integration and opposition to civil rights legislation. His campaign slogan, "Segregation Now! Segregation Always!" resonated with many white voters who feared the potential loss of their economic and social status.

On the other hand, the Democratic party's nominee, a liberal Democrat, campaigned on a platform of support for civil rights legislation and integration. His campaign slogan, "A New Day in Alabama," was a call for progress and change. However, his candidacy was met with strong resistance from many white voters who felt threatened by the prospect of an African American governor.

Netters Trounce Bucks, Illini In Dual Meets

By GAYLE WESCH
State News Sports Writer

COLUMBUS — Ohio's men's and women's teams continued their trend of late this season with a pair of lopsided victories over the Illinois Fighting Illini.

The Spartans knocked Illinois' 7-2 deficit in the scoring, and then knocked Illinois out of the match in the last five minutes to win the meet, 4-3, this afternoon.

It was the second straight meet in which Ohio outscored Illinois, this one more clear-cut than the first, a 7-5 win last week in Athens.

Neither team had a shutout, but Ohio did have a double header in the sweep of the illini, 4-0 victory in the women's meet, 4-0.

Head coach Larry Wesch said the win was all the more impressive because it was in Athens, a town that has been a difficult place for Ohio in recent years.

Wesch also noted that the win was a significant one for the Spartans, who are trying to qualify for the NCAA championships.

The meet was a difficult one for the Illini, who have had difficulty scoring this season.

The Illini are currently sitting in 17th place in the Big Ten Conference, and have a record of 2-5 in conference play.

The Spartans, on the other hand, have a record of 8-4 in conference play, and are currently sitting in third place in the conference.

Wesch said that the win was a big boost for the Spartans, who are trying to qualify for the NCAA championships.

The Spartans will now turn their attention to the rest of the conference schedule, and will look to continue their winning streak.

The next meet for the Spartans is against the University of Illinois on Friday, March 11.

Holy "Ritual" another comedy show

And for the first time this year, the "Hate Bus to Department Store" season sets its date as the beginning of a new season. At the very beginning of the new season, the annual show called "Hate Bus to Department Store" will take place, and this year it will be on October 1st.

"Hate Bus to Department Store" is a popular comedy show that has been held every year since its inception. The show features a cast of talented actors who perform skits and vignettes that are aimed at satirizing the absurdities of contemporary society. The show is known for its satirical take on the world around us, and its ability to make us laugh while also making us think.

The show is open to all students and is free to attend. It is held at the University Union Auditorium, and is scheduled to begin at 7:30 p.m. sharp. Seating is limited, so be sure to arrive early to secure your place.

A group of students from the University of Michigan have organized a new comedy show called "Holy "Ritual."" The show is a satirical take on the rituals and traditions that surround the holiday season, and it promises to be a hilarious night of entertainment.
