Michigan Elections

Nation watches races

The vote for governor in Michigan is a battle of egos. The race is still tight, and the candidates are spending every possible minute campaigning to drive home their points.

The Democratic candidate is the incumbent, Michigan Gov. George W. Romney. The Republican is James W. Riepe, former mayor of Detroit.

The expected outcome is a close race, with Riepe taking the lead.

Student voters to cast ballots at various spots

Student voters can speed up the voting process by checking their precinct assignments and going to the appropriate polling place.

To find your precinct, you can call the city clerk's office at 372-5000.

The Student Association will be on hand to help student voters.

THE DRAFT

Higher grades might help

To win a stay of draft order, a man's record might include his high school grades in addition to his college grades.

According to the draft law, a man's qualifications for the draft are based on his educational background and his performance in school.

A good high school record might mean the difference between being drafted and being exempt.

Army to train more reservists

The Army is planning to train more reservists to meet the demands of the current budget.

The Army needs more reservists to fill the ranks of the reserve components.

Freedom report revisions go to Academic Council

By Faye Under

Student News Staff Writer

The Academic Council will present its own report of the academic freedom conference report to the meeting of the Academic Council, scheduled for Tuesday.

The Academic Council, composed of faculty members, students, and administrators, will discuss the report and decide whether to accept or reject it.

The report deals with issues such as academic freedom, censorship, and the role of the university in society.

GOVERNMENT TROOPS CALLED

5 killed in Hindu demonstration for ban on sacred cow slaughter

The government sent troops to suppress the demostrations.

The government has denied the use of troops, but it has not ruled out the possibility of calling in military units.

THE DRAFT

Higher grades might help

To win a stay of draft order, a man's record might include his high school grades in addition to his college grades.

According to the draft law, a man's qualifications for the draft are based on his educational background and his performance in school.

A good high school record might mean the difference between being drafted and being exempt.

Army to train more reservists

The Army is planning to train more reservists to meet the demands of the current budget.

The Army needs more reservists to fill the ranks of the reserve components.

Freedom report revisions go to Academic Council

By Faye Under

Student News Staff Writer

The Academic Council will present its own report of the academic freedom conference report to the meeting of the Academic Council, scheduled for Tuesday.

The Academic Council, composed of faculty members, students, and administrators, will discuss the report and decide whether to accept or reject it.

The report deals with issues such as academic freedom, censorship, and the role of the university in society.

GOVERNMENT TROOPS CALLED

5 killed in Hindu demonstration for ban on sacred cow slaughter

The government sent troops to suppress the demostrations.

The government has denied the use of troops, but it has not ruled out the possibility of calling in military units.

THE DRAFT

Higher grades might help

To win a stay of draft order, a man's record might include his high school grades in addition to his college grades.

According to the draft law, a man's qualifications for the draft are based on his educational background and his performance in school.

A good high school record might mean the difference between being drafted and being exempt.

Army to train more reservists

The Army is planning to train more reservists to meet the demands of the current budget.

The Army needs more reservists to fill the ranks of the reserve components.
Police PR conference hampered by secrecy

Police officers from several of the nation's largest cities met at Kellogg Center last week to discuss ways of improving police-community relations. From the outset, the conference seemed to be marred by a lack of trust between the police and the public.

Perhaps the police talked about the suspicion that they all feel toward each other, the lack of knowledge. In fact, doesn't know anything about what was discussed at the conference. The conference was closed to the public.

We question the propriety of holding a secret conference at a public institution. But there is a more important issue at hand.

The police claim that the secrecy of the meetings would stimulate more open discussion. The implication is that they had some things to say that they didn't want the public to hear that they had some views that they didn't want the newspapers to print.

Editorial note: If such a step is taken, people might begin to see the police in a better light—perhaps protectors rather than objects to be feared.

The outbursts also painfully demonstrated how such audiences were duped by the labels such Munkel tags as "conservative" or "liberal".

The public tends to think of Black Power as a threat to the aspirations they hold for the Negro. They disagree with him and tried to keep him from presenting his views; they succeeded in advertising their intolerance.

It is absolutely not too late to remind ourselves that police apparently are "just people" if they were all they could be. i.e., in the present exercise of their duties.

Perhaps the police are thus identified with the leaders of the Left, who are trying to take over the university. They are often accused of being the leaders of the Left, who are trying to take over the university. They are often accused of being the leaders of the Left, who are trying to take over the university.

But police are apparently identified with the leaders of the Right, who are trying to take over the university. They are often accused of being the leaders of the Right, who are trying to take over the university.

The students are here, supposedly, to pursue their goals. The faculty members are here for a reason. It isn't done, in the university or anywhere else. The students are here, supposedly, to pursue their goals. The faculty members are here for a reason.

The students are here, supposedly, to pursue their goals. The faculty members are here for a reason.

The students are here, supposedly, to pursue their goals. The faculty members are here for a reason.
German rightists take 18 state seats

FRANKFURT, Germany — A rightist German political party that won its first legislative seats in the same election that saw the rise of the xenophobic Alternative for Germany had a clear success, according to the country's interior minister. "The increase," said Interior Minister Walter Wulff, "is a clear signal that Nazism is on the march again in Germany."

"The increase," he added, "is a clear signal that Nazism is on the march again in Germany."

The small, far-right, democratic Christian Party in the southern state of Bavaria said Wednesday that it had won 18 state seats in the election, which saw a surge of support for far-right parties across the country.

"The increase," Wulff said, "is a clear signal that Nazism is on the march again in Germany."

The party highlighted the success of its candidates in Germany's Bavaria state, where it won 18 of the 189 seats in the legislative assembly.

"The increase," Wulff said, "is a clear signal that Nazism is on the march again in Germany."

On Wednesday, the party also won 18 seats in the state of Bremen, where it is hoping to capitalize on the recent popularity of the far-right Alternative for Germany, which won 12 seats in the national election last month.

"The increase," Wulff said, "is a clear signal that Nazism is on the march again in Germany."

The party has been gaining ground in recent months, with support for its candidates increasing in several parts of the country, especially in the eastern states of Saxony and Brandenburg.

"The increase," Wulff said, "is a clear signal that Nazism is on the march again in Germany."

On Wednesday, the party also won 18 seats in the state of Bremen, where it is hoping to capitalize on the recent popularity of the far-right Alternative for Germany, which won 12 seats in the national election last month.

"The increase," Wulff said, "is a clear signal that Nazism is on the march again in Germany."

The party has been gaining ground in recent months, with support for its candidates increasing in several parts of the country, especially in the eastern states of Saxony and Brandenburg.

"The increase," Wulff said, "is a clear signal that Nazism is on the march again in Germany."

On Wednesday, the party also won 18 seats in the state of Bremen, where it is hoping to capitalize on the recent popularity of the far-right Alternative for Germany, which won 12 seats in the national election last month.

"The increase," Wulff said, "is a clear signal that Nazism is on the march again in Germany."

The party has been gaining ground in recent months, with support for its candidates increasing in several parts of the country, especially in the eastern states of Saxony and Brandenburg.
GOTP? Or through?

Klee etchings, lithographs shown at Kresge Center

Seventy-five etchings and lithographs by the Swiss-born artist Paul Klee were on exhibit at the Kresge Art Gallery. The exhibit, which continues through Jan. 3, was sponsored by the University of Michigan Museum of Art.

Klee's work became more abstract in the 1950's, but in all the time that he lived, his work remained strongly connected to traditional painting and his favorite medium, the etching, to painting and his favorite medium, the etching.

Klee was born on June 18, 1879, in Bayreuth, Germany, and died on June 29, 1940, in Milow, near Berlin. He was an important figure in the development of modern art, and his work continues to influence artists today.

Kleber's

Kleber's is a popular restaurant in downtown Detroit. It offers a wide variety of dishes, including German, Italian, and American fare. The menu includes such specialties as German sausages, pasta dishes, and steak. The restaurant is known for its cozy atmosphere and friendly service.

Kresge Art Gallery

The Kresge Art Gallery is located on the campus of the University of Michigan. It features a variety of exhibits throughout the year, including paintings, sculptures, and photographs. The gallery is open to the public and admission is free.
ST. LOUIS LESSON

Soccermen must learn about more than soccer

By GAYEL WESC
State News Sports Writer

The selection service board has partially answered this question what to cross country runners have this spring, again Because country champion John Starkey has been in a hot spot for a state track and cross country championship.

Starkey received the final invitational papers yesterday but It is his first appearance at a meet for a post-season All-American award. In the fall, John Starkey was not invited to the invitational but he was invited to the meet. But he did not receive any All-American citations.

"I got my paper in the mail," Starkey said. "I got the mail from the All-American committee." Starkey said that he did not receive any All-American citations.

What makes a traditional coach authentic?

By RALPH REYNOLDS

PASiLO

Look for the distinctive horizontal ribbed texture on the surfaces of these finely woven silk fabrics. Expertly authentic, feathered to be form of body and to the body. Wear for the special occasion during the day, darker designs for evening. To be truly knowledgeable about traditional needlework, write for free booklet, "PASiLO Traditional Needlework, Empire State Building, New York 10001.

P. S. All Pasilo Foulards are authentic heavy silks with a distinctive horizontal rib on the surface.

MAMMOTH BOOK SALE

$1 to $10

TREMENDOUS SAVINGS ON

VOLUMES ORIGINALLY PUBLISHED AT

50¢ TO $2.00

Featuring the COMPLETE LIBRARY OF WORLD ART

A unique series covering all the known works of art of the major artists, architects, and artists in the world. High quality, value on 500 plates - many in color.

The COMPLETE LIBRARY OF WORLD ART

The Evens of M badge

Empire State Building, New York 10001

ORIG.$15.00

NOW ONLY $9.95

SPECIAL AT $1.00

ORIG.$10.00

NOW $4.95

EXAMPLES OF OTHER TITLES

Painting of Titian, Pt. 1

Sepia

Webster's Diet, of Synonyms, Antonyms & Homonyms

Paintings of Mantegna, Pt. 1

Scribner's

How to Speak in Public

Paintings of Mantegna, Pt. 2

New American Library

The Life of Caravaggio, 4th Edition

Paintings of Titian, Pt. 2

Parragon Books

Modern Ceramics

Paintings of Titian, Pt. 3

Phil. 1950

The Architectural Heritage of the Renaissance

Paintings of Titian, Pt. 4

Parragon Books

Del Monte, 1st Edition

Paintings of Raphael, Pt. 1

Doran Publishing

The Life of Da Vinci to Mary Magdalene

Paintings of Raphael, Pt. 2

Baker Books

Pictorial History of Protestantism

Paintings of Raphael, Pt. 3

Revell

Webster's Diet, of Synonyms, Antonyms & Homonyms

Paintings of Raphael, Pt. 4

Rutland

The Art of the Future

Paintings of Raphael, Pt. 5

Parragon Books

The Art of the Future

Paintings of Raphael, Pt. 6

Parragon Books

At both

CAMPUS BOOK STORES

131 East Grand River (Across From The Union) - 507 East Grand River (Across From Berkeley Hall)
Sheppard treats spectator at trial

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Charles L. Sheppard, defendant in a murder trial, had his hand cut by the sharp edge of a pulaski Wednesday when the pulaski was dropped by the defendant into his face while he was being examined by a physician.

The man was waiting to file a new suit in the Criminal Courts Building.

The second-floor courtroom window above was the pulaski and Sheppard had his hand in his face when the pulaski was dropped.

The man who had his hand cut was identified as John Denman, 14, of Cleveland Heights. Officials said Denman received a cut on his face and was taken to the hospital.

Though most of the flooding had ceased in stricken central and northern areas of Ohio, the eyes of the Cleveland Heights police were in a state of alert and the man who had his hand cut was taken to the hospital.

"It is possible that many of the possible complications might be found in the area are to be found in the area," said an official of the hospital.

The flood area nears a place more than this mile below the town where the flood waters were caused by the Ohio River.

Specifically, specific diseases have been reported in recent weeks in the area.

The man who had his hand cut was identified as John Denman, 14, of Cleveland Heights. Officials said Denman received a cut on his face and was taken to the hospital.

"The Cleveland Heights police were in a state of alert and the man who had his hand cut was taken to the hospital.

"It is possible that many of the possible complications might be found in the area are to be found in the area," said an official of the hospital.

The flood area nears a place more than this mile below the town where the flood waters were caused by the Ohio River.

Specifically, specific diseases have been reported in recent weeks in the area.

The man who had his hand cut was identified as John Denman, 14, of Cleveland Heights. Officials said Denman received a cut on his face and was taken to the hospital.

"It is possible that many of the possible complications might be found in the area are to be found in the area," said an official of the hospital.

The flood area nears a place more than this mile below the town where the flood waters were caused by the Ohio River.

Specifically, specific diseases have been reported in recent weeks in the area.

The man who had his hand cut was identified as John Denman, 14, of Cleveland Heights. Officials said Denman received a cut on his face and was taken to the hospital.

"It is possible that many of the possible complications might be found in the area are to be found in the area," said an official of the hospital.

The flood area nears a place more than this mile below the town where the flood waters were caused by the Ohio River.

Specifically, specific diseases have been reported in recent weeks in the area.

The man who had his hand cut was identified as John Denman, 14, of Cleveland Heights. Officials said Denman received a cut on his face and was taken to the hospital.

"It is possible that many of the possible complications might be found in the area are to be found in the area," said an official of the hospital.

The flood area nears a place more than this mile below the town where the flood waters were caused by the Ohio River.

Specifically, specific diseases have been reported in recent weeks in the area.

The man who had his hand cut was identified as John Denman, 14, of Cleveland Heights. Officials said Denman received a cut on his face and was taken to the hospital.

"It is possible that many of the possible complications might be found in the area are to be found in the area," said an official of the hospital.

The flood area nears a place more than this mile below the town where the flood waters were caused by the Ohio River.

Specifically, specific diseases have been reported in recent weeks in the area.

The man who had his hand cut was identified as John Denman, 14, of Cleveland Heights. Officials said Denman received a cut on his face and was taken to the hospital.

"It is possible that many of the possible complications might be found in the area are to be found in the area," said an official of the hospital.

The flood area nears a place more than this mile below the town where the flood waters were caused by the Ohio River.

Specifically, specific diseases have been reported in recent weeks in the area.

The man who had his hand cut was identified as John Denman, 14, of Cleveland Heights. Officials said Denman received a cut on his face and was taken to the hospital.

"It is possible that many of the possible complications might be found in the area are to be found in the area," said an official of the hospital.

The flood area nears a place more than this mile below the town where the flood waters were caused by the Ohio River.

Specifically, specific diseases have been reported in recent weeks in the area.

The man who had his hand cut was identified as John Denman, 14, of Cleveland Heights. Officials said Denman received a cut on his face and was taken to the hospital.

"It is possible that many of the possible complications might be found in the area are to be found in the area," said an official of the hospital.

The flood area nears a place more than this mile below the town where the flood waters were caused by the Ohio River.

Specifically, specific diseases have been reported in recent weeks in the area.

The man who had his hand cut was identified as John Denman, 14, of Cleveland Heights. Officials said Denman received a cut on his face and was taken to the hospital.

"It is possible that many of the possible complications might be found in the area are to be found in the area," said an official of the hospital.

The flood area nears a place more than this mile below the town where the flood waters were caused by the Ohio River.

Specifically, specific diseases have been reported in recent weeks in the area.

The man who had his hand cut was identified as John Denman, 14, of Cleveland Heights. Officials said Denman received a cut on his face and was taken to the hospital.

"It is possible that many of the possible complications might be found in the area are to be found in the area," said an official of the hospital.
Lunar Orbiter’s path to be corrected

PASSAGE, Calif. — After a bit of excitement Monday morning, the hoppity phase was in order. The 28-mile-high path and scheduled start of the mission was delayed a few minutes.

The 650-pound, camera-carrying spacecraft was expected to launch from Cape Kennedy, Fla., at 2 p.m. Monday, to a pre-determined orbit around the moon. The mission was to explore the area near the Apollo 11 landing site.

A space agency spokesman said the launching of the vehicle will be fixed at 2:55 a.m.

No immediate cause for the delay was given.

Wolverine photo schedule set

The following photographs are scheduled to cover their pictures on the following dates:

Luna 9, 60th: J. D. Deibert, Jr., Sigma Kappa, 10th: Delta Tau Delta, 11th: Gamma Phi, 12th: Lambda Chi, 13th: Kappa Mu, 14th: Kappa Sigma, 15th: Gamma Chi.

LAST CAMPAIGN MILE
Candidates pushed it out

The Student-Faculty Judiciary Advisory Board has approved the appointment of the new editor-in-chief. The new editor-in-chief will serve a term of office for the next school year.

The Advisory Board is to have final authority and responsibility for the operation of the Student-Faculty Judiciary.

The Student-Faculty Judiciary Advisory Board is to have the following responsibilities:

1. To select the editors-in-chief of the Michigan State News.
2. To review and approve all editorial policies of the Michigan State News.
3. To review and approve all advertising policies of the Michigan State News.
4. To review and approve all student conduct policies of the Michigan State News.
5. To review and approve all financial policies of the Michigan State News.
6. To review and approve all personnel policies of the Michigan State News.
7. To review and approve all budget policies of the Michigan State News.
8. To review and approve all distribution policies of the Michigan State News.
9. To review and approve all printing policies of the Michigan State News.
10. To review and approve all mailing policies of the Michigan State News.
11. To review and approve all subscription policies of the Michigan State News.
12. To review and approve all circulation policies of the Michigan State News.
13. To review and approve all advertising sales policies of the Michigan State News.
14. To review and approve all advertising rates policies of the Michigan State News.
15. To review and approve all advertising contracts policies of the Michigan State News.
16. To review and approve all advertising proofs policies of the Michigan State News.
17. To review and approve all advertising invoices policies of the Michigan State News.
18. To review and approve all advertising payments policies of the Michigan State News.
19. To review and approve all advertising audits policies of the Michigan State News.
20. To review and approve all advertising awards policies of the Michigan State News.
21. To review and approve all advertising promotions policies of the Michigan State News.
22. To review and approve all advertising endorsements policies of the Michigan State News.
23. To review and approve all advertising gifts policies of the Michigan State News.
24. To review and approve all advertising prizes policies of the Michigan State News.
25. To review and approve all advertising contests policies of the Michigan State News.
26. To review and approve all advertising promotions policies of the Michigan State News.
27. To review and approve all advertising promotions policies of the Michigan State News.
28. To review and approve all advertising promotions policies of the Michigan State News.
29. To review and approve all advertising promotions policies of the Michigan State News.
30. To review and approve all advertising promotions policies of the Michigan State News.
31. To review and approve all advertising promotions policies of the Michigan State News.
32. To review and approve all advertising promotions policies of the Michigan State News.
33. To review and approve all advertising promotions policies of the Michigan State News.
34. To review and approve all advertising promotions policies of the Michigan State News.
35. To review and approve all advertising promotions policies of the Michigan State News.
36. To review and approve all advertising promotions policies of the Michigan State News.
37. To review and approve all advertising promotions policies of the Michigan State News.
38. To review and approve all advertising promotions policies of the Michigan State News.
39. To review and approve all advertising promotions policies of the Michigan State News.
40. To review and approve all advertising promotions policies of the Michigan State News.
41. To review and approve all advertising promotions policies of the Michigan State News.
42. To review and approve all advertising promotions policies of the Michigan State News.
43. To review and approve all advertising promotions policies of the Michigan State News.
44. To review and approve all advertising promotions policies of the Michigan State News.
45. To review and approve all advertising promotions policies of the Michigan State News.
46. To review and approve all advertising promotions policies of the Michigan State News.
47. To review and approve all advertising promotions policies of the Michigan State News.
48. To review and approve all advertising promotions policies of the Michigan State News.
49. To review and approve all advertising promotions policies of the Michigan State News.
50. To review and approve all advertising promotions policies of the Michigan State News.