Faculty Men's Club to have new building

Common Bible authorized by Pope Paul VI

YATEN CITY F - In a major Catholic news story, the Vatican announced Thursday that a new English edition of the Common Bible has been authorized by Pope Paul VI. The announcement, made by Vatican officials, marked a significant development in the publication of English translations of the Bible. The new edition is expected to be distributed worldwide and will be used in Catholic worship services.

Approximately half the text was a gift from a former U.S. trainer, Father Algoya. The remainder was acquired by the Vatican.

The building, estimated at $900,000, will have a wide range of recreational facilities, including a number of indoor and outdoor spaces for various activities. A library, a gymnasium, and meeting rooms will be provided for the use of the students. The building will also feature a variety of food service options.

The faculty club has been incorporated in order to handle the necessary arrangements for running the club. The club will operate as a profit-making entity under the direction of a full-time manager, who will be responsible for its operations.

The building will accommodate a membership of approximately 100 and will have a total area of about 30,000 square feet. It will feature parking for approximately 200 cars.

Governor George Romney scored a stunning victory over Democratic candidate Zoltan Ferency and carried Robert Griffin back to the at-seat on his chronic.

Ferency conceded the governorship race to Romney at 11:25 p.m. in Detroit. Former Governor G. Mennen Williams, with an apparent mandate, also declared victory in the race.

For the state board of education, returns were also impressive. Romney backed up a Democratic incumbent, M. K. Reimer, and defeated the Michigan Republican League's John Wood, 560,499 to 512,975.

Re-Elected

Governor George Romney laughed on a senator's chair to have good natured kidding on the podium of his campaign. Monday, but he made a regular campaign appearance this week.

Romney's victory margin was estimated at 38 percent. Griffin's margin was estimated at 32 percent.

Even before the votes were counted, Romney backers were urging signs saying, "We need another George at the White House!" The last official vote total will be announced by the governor's press secretary on election night.

The election day was the first time W. GERMANY

Vice President Dr. Erhard, the man who has been in office for 14 years, scored a smashing victory over the incumbent, Albrecht Schmier.

Early in the evening, Governor Romney and Mrs. Romney made their way to the Michigan State University, East Lansing, Michigan, November 7, 1966.

The medical view of the body politic

Elections seem to be a political aspirin and indications seem to be that the public should take them more often.

We don't know how we got along before the election was introduced.

A month ago, the nation was suffering from a bad case of inflation and an Asian war epidemic seemed little affected by increased applications of fighting, but prolonged exposure to a draft complicated the condition of the body politic.

Then the doctor ordered us to take one election and get out of the military-economic sick bay.

Powerful medicine

An election is such a powerful medicine that even before inflation and the war.

The plan, being watched by all dorms on campus, is presently a one-year experiment at the Wilson Hall grill.

Most attractive

Under the plan, students can put a certain amount of money in their own personal accounts and draw upon it throughout the term, getting back whatever they haven't used up.

Clint Jones selected for UPI grid honors

Clint Jones was a surprise choice for the Football Writers Association of America's choice for All-American honors this season. The Michigan State freshman running back, who had a record-breaking season and was named the Big Ten's Most Valuable Player, was selected as the UPI's All-American of the Year. The award was announced on Tuesday, November 29th, during the Big Ten Media Day in Chicago. Jones was selected over other candidates such as Ohio State's Archie Griffin and Minnesota's John Rasmussen.

GET READY FOR INDIANA

Green over White, 28-8

By NORI SASAI
State News Sports Writer

The Michigan State football team will have its first real test of its season Saturday when it takes on the Indiana Hoosiers at Memorial Stadium in Bloomington. The Spartans have had a perfect season so far, winning their first five games by scores of 49-26, 35-0, 35-18, 27-14, and 28-8 against the Illinois Fighting Illini. However, the Hoosiers have been a tough opponent in the past, and the Spartans will need to be at their best to come away with a victory.

Rookie of the Week honors.

The Michigan State football team clinched at least a tie for the Big Ten championship with a 28-8 win over the Indiana Hoosiers last Saturday. The win was the team's seventh consecutive victory, and it was the first time this season that the team has not scored at least 40 points. The Spartans will now turn their attention to the Indiana Hoosiers, who are coming off a loss to the Ohio State Buckeyes last week.

Professional Qualification Test - A prerequisite to qualify for a career position with the National Security Agency

WHEN: December 10, 1996
WHERE: At your nearest POST office

If you want to become a legal arts degree before June 1997, register for the Professional Qualification Test. Taking and passing the POST does not guarantee or oblige you to anything, but it will prove you have met the minimum requirements for your future interests in the National Security Agency.

As an Agency of national prominence, this unique civilian organization is responsible for developing national security professionals in the area of computer science and national security policy. It is important to note that the National Security Agency has a critical and growing need for imaginative people - regardless of their academic major.

You will participate in programs of national importance, working in such areas as: Cryptography (the making of codes and ciphers), analytic research, language research, data systems design and programming, and administrative management.

At NSA, your professional status and earning potential grow rapidly from the day you graduate, without having to wait for years of "experience." Starting salaries of at least $40,000 per year are expected to rise to $60,000 within the first year of employment.

There are regular increases, excellent advancement opportunities, and all the benefits of federal employment.

Another advantage is NSA's location, convenient to both Baltimore and Washington and a short drive from ocean beaches and other recreational attractions.

Plan to take the POST. It could be your first step to a great future!

IMPORTANT: The deadline for POST Applications is NOVEMBER 15. Pick up a POST Bulletin at your Placement Office. It contains full details and the application instructions.

Applicants must be U.S. citizens, subject to a complete physical examination and background investigation.

The Student Social Science Dept. at the Ford Foundation grant was used to fund the social science department's most current texts. The department has been working on a second revision will be updating of facts, both local and national field. A data source book will accompany the department's most current texts. A data source book will be published by the Student Social Science Dept., annual edition of the book, will be possible. Resource of the Ford grant has been very strong and has been enjoyed by a majority of students.

A portion of a Ford Foundation grant to MSU's International Pro- gram is being used to fund the social science department's most current texts. The present social science texts introduce students to the problems and machinery of econ- omics, political and social evolu- tionary, and international relations. These texts have not included the Soviet system and problems of counter- revolution. MSU's integrative social sci- ence course has been cited as a model to other universities for its use of directed study in the social science curriculum. In the fall of 1946, the course was offered by the social science department. Since then, social science texts have been developed. The book has been concentrated on the integrated aspect of social science. The main text, 'Social Science,' which is being prepared by a committee of social science faculty, will be published by the department.

We set out to ruin some ball bearings and failed successfully

The Boll System has many small, automatic telephone offices around the country. The equipment in them could operate unmanned without any human help, but for a few years ago.

The many electric motors in those offices needed lubrication at least once a year. Heat from the motors dried up the bearing oils, thus causing them to seize or stick. To stop this out problem, many tests were conducted at Bell Telephone Laboratories. Lubricant engineer George H. Kitchens decided to do a basic experiment which would provide a motor with the worst possible conditions. He deliberately set out to ruin some ball bearings and failed in trying them with a sticky puck called molylobenon sulfide (MoS).
