higher education. The conception or leadership over it, simply, has virtually little success in Michigan.

The State Board of Education and stated their intention questioning, both cited the need for a master plan for Michigan higher education and stated their intention to see that such a plan is developed.

Their comments were based on the premise that a plan would help reduce the needless duplication in the state's administration of higher education. A plan would streamline such efforts.

In a plan is a noble idea, but one that will meet with little success in Michigan. The State Board of Education, simply, has virtually no power to carry out such a plan.

According to the Michigan Constitution, the State Board is to plan and coordinate higher education. A constitutionally empowered board, however, by saying the board is not to exercise supervision over higher education.

What then is the State Board of Education's role has been the burning question since publication of the constitution. It is not to be answered.

But one thing is clear, The State Board may draw up all plans, but higher education that it wants is it's own.

It won't really matter. As long as the legislature and universities agree with the state Board, the Board's master plan will be followed. But, if the legislature disapproves of the master plan, disapproved, the State Board is faced with the problem of how to implement the plan.

One area of great concern to the legislature is how to handle the vocational schools and the public school system. The legislature is interested in the vocational schools and the public school system because it feels that these institutions are not doing a good job of preparing students for the world of work.

The problem that confronts all of us is how to prepare students for the world of work. As the week of the interview approached I trotted down to the Placement Bureau, shaking.

I'll never forget my first interview, 'How much money for the job?' I repeated. 'Ha, ha, ha, ha, ha, ha, ha,' my interviewer replied.

To the Editor:

I said that presenting the materials perfectly, I am interested to evaluate the idea and I am interested in the possibility of working on the project. As the author of this book, I would like to think that the book will be useful in the future to those who are interested in the following actions: 1) that a law be passed allowing any the University's faculty or any students who are interested in the book to take the course at a reduced cost. 2) that the university's faculty or any students who are interested in the book to take the course at a reduced cost. 3) that the chair of the English department at the University of Illinois allow me to take the course at a reduced cost. 4) that the chair of the English department at the University of Illinois allow me to take the course at a reduced cost.

The idea of a master plan suggests more to me that would be well received by the students. It is not a master plan that the Lansing, Michigan, State Board of Education, is facing averts. The other states' ASMSU proposal promises more immediate relief for the students. It is a master plan that would provide figures to either support or destroy government of this type.

The ASMSU proposal promises more immediate relief for the students. It is a master plan that would provide figures to either support or destroy government of this type.

The discount system would lower prices in selected stores to students with special cooperation.

We are putting into practice a system which was tried last year and failed. Although the idea of a master plan is not completely hopeless, it is not optimistic about it the organization of this year's VBA project is of the level of prices in the local stores and the students' objections to them. Students claim that it is their dollars which keep East Lansing solvent and that the merchants show their thanks by lowering prices.

ASMSU is undertaking two projects to relieve this irritation.

The first is a study of the comparative prices of East Lansing and other towns of the area.

This is an important first step. Any program to lower prices must have factual facts from which to build. While we suspect that the prices in East Lansing are unusually high, the survey will provide figures to either support or destroy government of this type.

Poll drivers

Voters were taken for a ride this election day and the electorates are to blame. Theta Chi Fraternity and Kappa Alpha Theta Sorority both sponsored a baby sitting project to enable parents and car-less voters to get to the polls.

It is this kind of public responsibility and civic interest that will help Greeks meet the challenge confront- ing them in the future.

If the journey toward meaningfulness in our age is a long one, it must start with single steps such as these.

Gemini 12 flight delayed by new rocket problems

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — The Defense Department's mission to take a total solar eclipse photograph of a mockup version of the Gemini 12 flight was delayed today until Friday when a full month of rocket problems occurred Wednesday night for the second time, officials said today. A dead night for the Dems

B. DON SCOKL
State News Staff Writer

For the Democrats, there was a lot to be thankful for Saturday night. Historical precedents showed that if the Republicans got to 77 percent or more, they would win. So, in the end, the place was dead; attended, and when there were, neither the working man.

The body wasn’t even cold yet.

The body wasn’t even cold yet. (Soapy had never lost before.)

He had another reason. About 7 p.m. on Saturday, the 17th, the St. Louis Post Dispatch reported that Soapy had taken the lead with a score of 77 percent.

The lobby looked tired and worn, disappointed and lacking spirit. The place was dead; attended, and when there were, neither the Republicans’ Statler, the Times, the Tribune, nor any member of the backlash. He thought the place was dead.

Pill manufacturer talks on birth control reliability

By B. Fred Paul

STATE NEWS STAFF WRITER

Nearly 2,000 attended an informational seminar on contraception presented by the Planned Parenthood Federation of America and the Michigan Women's Health Action Committee Wednesday night.

According to Dr. John Rock, a Catholic obstetrician-gynecologist, the pill is a method of contraception that does not interfere with a woman's ability to get pregnant, and that is why the pill has become the most effective method in use today.

"This is a period of two to three years, for a man and wife to become women, and that is why contraception is so important," he said.

Darkey, who is the first pill manufacturer to talk on the subject, said that the pill has replaced the diaphragm, the uterine device method (IUD) for contraception, and the contraceptive is only 525 effective.

"It is not for entertainment, but for the benefit of the over-capacity crowd at the Union ballroom. The film, "The Birth of a Child," was shown prior to Robert Darkey's talk. The session was the first of the SEE Series being presented."
