Luci experiences a spring in Michigan State University

The State News learned Tuesday that Luci Johnson Nugent is expecting her first child this spring.

"I have not decided on names yet, but my mother said I should think of things that start with D," Luci said in an interview with The State News. "I don't want it to be too common, but I do want it to be a name that's special to me."

Luci, who is a junior at Michigan State University, said she is excited to become a mother. "I've been wanting to have a baby for a while now, and I'm really looking forward to the experience," she said.

"I've been doing a lot of research and planning," Luci said. "I want to make sure everything is in order before the baby arrives."
Editors note: This is the second in a series of four columns by Richard Phillips about moonshining in Alabama. This column appeared in the May 26, 1971, issue of the State News.

Bama moonshine is state institution

By RICHARD PHILLIPS

The editors of the State News have invited Richard Phillips to write a series of columns on moonshining in Alabama. This column, the second in the series, discusses the history and prevalence of moonshining in the state.

The editors note that the series is part of a larger initiative to educate students about the history and culture of moonshining in Alabama.

In this column, Phillips explores the history of moonshining in Alabama, highlighting the role of the Alabama Alcoholic Beverage Control Board in regulating the industry.

He also discusses the economic impact of moonshining on the state, noting that it provides an important source of income for many families in rural areas.

Phillips argues that the practice of moonshining is deeply rooted in the culture of Alabama, and that it has persisted despite efforts by the state to regulate it.

He concludes by calling for a more balanced approach to regulating moonshining, one that recognizes its cultural and economic importance while also ensuring public safety.

The editors note that Phillips's columns will continue to explore the history and prevalence of moonshining in Alabama, and encourage students to read and engage with the series.

---

RICHARD PHILLIPS

'Bama moonshine is state institution

The editors of the State News have invited Richard Phillips to write a series of columns on moonshining in Alabama. This column, the second in the series, discusses the history and prevalence of moonshining in the state.

The editors note that the series is part of a larger initiative to educate students about the history and culture of moonshining in Alabama.

In this column, Phillips explores the history of moonshining in Alabama, highlighting the role of the Alabama Alcoholic Beverage Control Board in regulating the industry.

He also discusses the economic impact of moonshining on the state, noting that it provides an important source of income for many families in rural areas.

Phillips argues that the practice of moonshining is deeply rooted in the culture of Alabama, and that it has persisted despite efforts by the state to regulate it.

He concludes by calling for a more balanced approach to regulating moonshining, one that recognizes its cultural and economic importance while also ensuring public safety.

The editors note that Phillips's columns will continue to explore the history and prevalence of moonshining in Alabama, and encourage students to read and engage with the series.

---

RICHARD PHILLIPS

'Bama moonshine is state institution

The editors of the State News have invited Richard Phillips to write a series of columns on moonshining in Alabama. This column, the second in the series, discusses the history and prevalence of moonshining in the state.

The editors note that the series is part of a larger initiative to educate students about the history and culture of moonshining in Alabama.

In this column, Phillips explores the history of moonshining in Alabama, highlighting the role of the Alabama Alcoholic Beverage Control Board in regulating the industry.

He also discusses the economic impact of moonshining on the state, noting that it provides an important source of income for many families in rural areas.

Phillips argues that the practice of moonshining is deeply rooted in the culture of Alabama, and that it has persisted despite efforts by the state to regulate it.

He concludes by calling for a more balanced approach to regulating moonshining, one that recognizes its cultural and economic importance while also ensuring public safety.

The editors note that Phillips's columns will continue to explore the history and prevalence of moonshining in Alabama, and encourage students to read and engage with the series.

---

RICHARD PHILLIPS

'Bama moonshine is state institution

The editors of the State News have invited Richard Phillips to write a series of columns on moonshining in Alabama. This column, the second in the series, discusses the history and prevalence of moonshining in the state.

The editors note that the series is part of a larger initiative to educate students about the history and culture of moonshining in Alabama.

In this column, Phillips explores the history of moonshining in Alabama, highlighting the role of the Alabama Alcoholic Beverage Control Board in regulating the industry.

He also discusses the economic impact of moonshining on the state, noting that it provides an important source of income for many families in rural areas.

Phillips argues that the practice of moonshining is deeply rooted in the culture of Alabama, and that it has persisted despite efforts by the state to regulate it.

He concludes by calling for a more balanced approach to regulating moonshining, one that recognizes its cultural and economic importance while also ensuring public safety.

The editors note that Phillips's columns will continue to explore the history and prevalence of moonshining in Alabama, and encourage students to read and engage with the series.

---

RICHARD PHILLIPS

'Bama moonshine is state institution

The editors of the State News have invited Richard Phillips to write a series of columns on moonshining in Alabama. This column, the second in the series, discusses the history and prevalence of moonshining in the state.

The editors note that the series is part of a larger initiative to educate students about the history and culture of moonshining in Alabama.

In this column, Phillips explores the history of moonshining in Alabama, highlighting the role of the Alabama Alcoholic Beverage Control Board in regulating the industry.

He also discusses the economic impact of moonshining on the state, noting that it provides an important source of income for many families in rural areas.

Phillips argues that the practice of moonshining is deeply rooted in the culture of Alabama, and that it has persisted despite efforts by the state to regulate it.

He concludes by calling for a more balanced approach to regulating moonshining, one that recognizes its cultural and economic importance while also ensuring public safety.

The editors note that Phillips's columns will continue to explore the history and prevalence of moonshining in Alabama, and encourage students to read and engage with the series.
Israelis not certain on border talks

FRANKFURT, West Germany—Israelis view with disquiet a scheduled meeting here later today of United Nations representatives for the purpose of exploring ways to prevent possible confrontation between their nation and Syria.

"It's still too early to be optimistic," a UN official said, adding that he hoped for a meeting between Israeli Premier Levi Eshkol and the Syrian prime minister, but that it was too early to be certain of success.

The meeting was called by the UN Security Council to discuss the border dispute between Israel and Syria over the Golan Heights, which has been the scene of sporadic fighting since the 1967 Arab-Israeli war.

Israel has accused Syria of being behind the recent border incidents, while Syria has denied any responsibility.

The meeting is scheduled to begin at 10 a.m. today and is expected to last until 5 p.m. It is to be attended by representatives of the UN Secretariat, the US, the Soviet Union, Britain and France.

The meeting is seen as a possible turning point in the ongoing border dispute between the two nations, which has escalated in recent weeks.

Sukarno asked to resign

JAKARTA, Indonesia—Sukarno, the 86-year-old former president of Indonesia who had reigned since 1945, was asked to resign by the country's constitutional council.

Sukarno, who has been under heavy pressure from the military since a coup attempt in October 1965, was asked to resign by the council during a meeting here today.

The council, which is composed of nine members,包括 five members appointed by the president, two members nominated by the parliament, and two members nominated by the Supreme Court, was convened on the recommendation of the military.

Sukarno has been under growing pressure from the military to resign since the coup attempt, and his government has been seeking to negotiate a political transition to military rule.

Intensive talks have been taking place between Sukarno and the military, with Sukarno reportedly offering to resign in exchange for a guarantee of his safety and immunity.

The military has demanded that Sukarno resign as president and transfer power to the military until new elections can be held.

Sukarno, who has been under house arrest since the coup attempt, is reportedly in poor health and suffering from a variety of ailments.

In a statement today, military leaders said that Sukarno had been under heavy pressure from the military and that the council had decided to request his resignation.

The military has been pressing for a political transition to military rule in Indonesia, with Sukarno's resignation a key step in this process.

Non-prestige new advisers

STEVES GATES, Washington—More than 4,000-preference students are now receiving guidance at the University of Washington, which has expanded its counseling services.

The university recently opened a new counseling center, which is staffed by full-time academic advisers.

This is in addition to the hundreds of part-time advisers who were already working with students.

The new counseling center is designed to provide more personalized guidance and support to students, particularly those who are struggling academically.

The center is open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday, and is located in the main academic building.

Asian leaders meet

WASHINGTON—Asian leaders have agreed to meet for a week-long training session in an effort to improve their skills in handling international negotiations.

The training session is being held at the University of the East, a private institution located in the Philippines.

The leaders, who include representatives from China, Japan, South Korea, and Thailand, are expected to discuss a wide range of issues, including economic development, trade, and security.

The training session is being sponsored by the Asian Development Bank and is part of a larger effort to enhance the diplomatic capabilities of Asian nations.

The leaders are expected to return to their countries with a better understanding of international diplomacy and a stronger commitment to working together for common goals.
LOSE TO CC, 2-1

Skaters fading from .500 mark

By Joe Mitchell
State News Sports Writer

Colorado Springs—MSU hockey team continues to lose the close games, and as it loses the .500 mark for the second time this season, the Spartans begin to wonder if they can catch the .500 mark. And as it does, they lose.

They lost so far, have lost two games of their three-game Saturday night, and as it does, they lose. The .500 mark gets harder and harder for the Spartans. They lose. The .500 mark over the past two weeks has been the inability to win the close games, and as It does, they lose. They lose.

But with the loss Monday night, the Spartans are 2-8 in their last 10 games. Outhlaid, the Spartans are playing four games against Colorado College.

The Spartans played their final game of the season Tuesday night against Colorado College, and as it does, they lose. But they did. They lost.

Lansing Capitals' boss solves team problems

Lansing Capitals' boss Jerry Fisher was in the shades for the Spartans' final game of the trip Tuesday night against Colorado College, and as it does, they lose. But he was there. He was.

Fisher finished the game with 2 goals and 2 assists, and as it does, he made a difference. Fisher turned away all shots. Fisher played the game from start to finish.

Fisher is in the midst of a problem, and as it does, he solves it. Fisher is in the midst of a problem, and as it does, he solves it. Fisher.

They lost, but Fisher did. Fisher did.

Rymal's hard driving makes him scoring threat

By Dennis Chase
Annamaria St. Katherine's

The thing that makes Rymal likely to have another .500 mark this year is his hard driving. Rymal has been working on his driving, and as it does, he scores. He scores.

Rymal came to MSU on an offer from Buffalo last year, and as it does, he scores. Rymal, Spartan points leader since scoring 4 goals against Wake Forest in the first game, has been working on his driving, and as it does, he scores. He scores.

But with the loss Monday night, the Spartans are 2-8 in their last 10 games. Outhlaid, the Spartans are playing four games against Colorado College.

But with the loss Monday night, the Spartans are 2-8 in their last 10 games. Outhlaid, the Spartans are playing four games against Colorado College.

The team's scoring threat, Rymal, has been the driving force for the Spartans. Rymal, Spartan points leader since scoring 4 goals against Wake Forest in the first game, has been working on his driving, and as it does, he scores. He scores.

If there had been no fight, Larusso would have been untangled.

The ex-Dartmouth cage star was the last one, against Michigan, and as it does, he scores. But with the loss Monday night, the Spartans are 2-8 in their last 10 games. Outhlaid, the Spartans are playing four games against Colorado College.

The team's scoring threat, Rymal, has been the driving force for the Spartans. Rymal, Spartan points leader since scoring 4 goals against Wake Forest in the first game, has been working on his driving, and as it does, he scores. He scores.

It was Colorado Springs who lost, and as it does, they lose. The .500 mark over the past two weeks has been the inability to win the close games, and as It does, they lose. They lose.

They lost so far, have lost two games of their three-game Saturday night, and as It does, they lose. The .500 mark gets harder and harder for the Spartans. They lose. The .500 mark over the past two weeks has been the inability to win the close games, and as It does, they lose. They lose.

But with the loss Monday night, the Spartans are 2-8 in their last 10 games. Outhlaid, the Spartans are playing four games against Colorado College.

But with the loss Monday night, the Spartans are 2-8 in their last 10 games. Outhlaid, the Spartans are playing four games against Colorado College.

The team's scoring threat, Rymal, has been the driving force for the Spartans. Rymal, Spartan points leader since scoring 4 goals against Wake Forest in the first game, has been working on his driving, and as it does, he scores. He scores.

If there had been no fight, Larusso would have been untangled.

The ex-Dartmouth cage star was the last one, against Michigan, and as it does, he scores. But with the loss Monday night, the Spartans are 2-8 in their last 10 games. Outhlaid, the Spartans are playing four games against Colorado College.

The team's scoring threat, Rymal, has been the driving force for the Spartans. Rymal, Spartan points leader since scoring 4 goals against Wake Forest in the first game, has been working on his driving, and as it does, he scores. He scores.

If there had been no fight, Larusso would have been untangled.

The ex-Dartmouth cage star was the last one, against Michigan, and as it does, he scores. But with the loss Monday night, the Spartans are 2-8 in their last 10 games. Outhlaid, the Spartans are playing four games against Colorado College.

The team's scoring threat, Rymal, has been the driving force for the Spartans. Rymal, Spartan points leader since scoring 4 goals against Wake Forest in the first game, has been working on his driving, and as it does, he scores. He scores.

If there had been no fight, Larusso would have been untangled.

The ex-Dartmouth cage star was the last one, against Michigan, and as it does, he scores. But with the loss Monday night, the Spartans are 2-8 in their last 10 games. Outhlaid, the Spartans are playing four games against Colorado College.

The team's scoring threat, Rymal, has been the driving force for the Spartans. Rymal, Spartan points leader since scoring 4 goals against Wake Forest in the first game, has been working on his driving, and as it does, he scores. He scores.

If there had been no fight, Larusso would have been untangled.

The ex-Dartmouth cage star was the last one, against Michigan, and as it does, he scores. But with the loss Monday night, the Spartans are 2-8 in their last 10 games. Outhlaid, the Spartans are playing four games against Colorado College.

The team's scoring threat, Rymal, has been the driving force for the Spartans. Rymal, Spartan points leader since scoring 4 goals against Wake Forest in the first game, has been working on his driving, and as it does, he scores. He scores.
Diving form may decide ‘M’-MSU swimming meet

By John Ladd
Sports Writer

Some of the key men in MSU’s swimming team plan to be in attendance at this week-end’s meet in Washington at the end of this month. The team will be coming heavily on the home front - the swimmers.

The team, which is coming off a successful season, will be able to give the opposition a strong challenge at the meet. The swimmers, who have been working hard throughout the season, will be looking forward to the meet with great enthusiasm.

The meet is scheduled for February 9-10 and will be held at the University of Washington. The teams will be divided into two groups, the first consisting of teams from the Pacific Coast, and the second consisting of teams from the Mid-West.

The meet will be held in accordance with the rules of the National Collegiate Athletic Association, and all entries will be required to meet the eligibility requirements.

The meet will consist of men’s and women’s events, and will include swimming, diving, water polo, and synchronized swimming.

The meet will be broadcast live on television, and will be aired on local television stations.

The meet will be an excellent opportunity for the swimmers to gain valuable experience and to prepare for the upcoming season.

The meet will be an exciting event, and will provide an excellent opportunity for spectators to witness some of the best collegiate swimming in the country. The meet will be a great way to kick off the new season, and will be an excellent way to get the season started off on the right foot.

The meet is an excellent opportunity for the swimmers to continue to work on their skills and to prepare for the upcoming season. The meet will be a great way to get the season started off on the right foot, and will provide an excellent opportunity for the swimmers to gain valuable experience.

The meet is an excellent opportunity for the swimmers to continue to work on their skills and to prepare for the upcoming season. The meet will be a great way to get the season started off on the right foot, and will provide an excellent opportunity for the swimmers to gain valuable experience.

The meet is an excellent opportunity for the swimmers to continue to work on their skills and to prepare for the upcoming season. The meet will be a great way to get the season started off on the right foot, and will provide an excellent opportunity for the swimmers to gain valuable experience.
Good deed leaves youth cold and wet

Eleanor Schwendker of the Michigan State Home Economics Teaching Assistantship Program says she was disturbed by the photo of a group of boys and girls who appear to be cold and wet, taken by a friend at West Michigan State College in Kalamazoo.

"It made me think of the cold and wet conditions many students must face in their study rooms," Schwendker said. "I would like to see more support for students in their studies, both in and out of the classroom."
LOW PRICES EVERY DAY!
JUST A FEW BLOCKS OFF CAMPUS AT SHOPPERS FAIR - 3301 E. MICHIGAN AVE.

MEAT UP WITH TENDERNESS TO-DAY!

SWIFT'S PREMIUM BEEF
ROUND SIRLOIN
STEAKS
79¢ L.B.
49¢ CUBED STEAK
89¢

WHEN YOU SEE THE SWIFT'S PREMIUM PROTEIN LABEL IN OUR MEAT DEPARTMENT, YOU'LL KNOW THAT YOU HAVE THE MOST TENDER, JUICY, AND FLAVORFUL CUTS OF BEEF AVAILABLE. SERVE YOUR FAMILY AND FRIENDS THE FINEST - SWIFT'S PREMIUM PROTEIN.

ROSE BRAND DELICIOUS
CANADIAN BACON
89¢
SMALL BACK ATTACHED FRYER LEGS OR
FRYER BREASTS
49¢

FARMER PEET'S
RING BOLOGNA
38¢

FRESH PICNIC STYLE
PORC ROAST
15¢ VALUE - REGULAR OR LO-CAL MUSSELMAN'S
APPLE SAUCE
39¢ VALUE - SMUCKER'S - 12 OZ. WT. JAR
STRAW. PRESERVES
28¢

POLLY ANNA
CRACKED WHEAT BREAD
2 L.B.
49¢
POLLY ANNA OLD FASHIONED POTATO BREAD
1 L.B.
49¢
CINNAMON ROLLS
39¢
FRESH FRIED CAKES
8 FOR 39¢

12¢ VALUE - ROSKAM'S
LUNCH BOX TREATS
$1.00 VALUE - CEDERGREEN FROZ. SQUASH - 12 OZ. WT.
REG. 6 FOR $1 VALUE - CEDERGREEN FROZ. SQUASH - 12 OZ. WT.
FROZ. FRENCH FRIES
12¢
HESSLER'S ALL-PURPOSE
POTATOES
10 L.B.
39¢

FRESH MUSSELMAN'S
TANGLED OR JUICE ORANGES
3 DOZ.
$1.00 VALUE -ovation Rockwell - 12 OZ. WT.
FLORIDA TANGLED ORanges
28¢

8 A.M.-10 P.M.
MONDAY THROUGH SATURDAY
CLOSED SUNDAYS
WE RESERVE QUANTITY RIGHTS

98¢

5 PEGS.

REG. 6 FOR $1 VALUE - CEDERGREEN FROZ. SQUASH - 12 OZ. WT.
FLORIDA WHITE OR PINK SEEDLESS GRAPEFRUIT
5 L.B.
58¢