Kasperak's condition better, still many complications

Kasperak's heart transplantation was only slightly below normal and the heart appeared to be functioning very well. The patient is in a Stanford hospital and the transplant team has been very happy with the results. One of the surgical residents, Dr. Shumway, said that they were pleased with the outcome.

New Aussie leader seeks ties with LBJ

Canberra (AP)—Prime Minister John Gorton said today he was hopeful of establishing closer relations with the United States, especially following the visit of President Johnson to Australia last week. Gorton also expressed the wish to see stronger ties developed between the two countries.

Gorton described the visit as "an important stage in the developing relationship between Australia and America." He said the visit had been "a great success" and that the two leaders had "talked things over in a frank and open manner.

The relationship with the U.S. had been "strengthened by the visit of President Johnson," Gorton said. He added that the two leaders had "agreed to continue their discussions on a regular basis in the future.

Gorton's comments came in response to a question from a reporter about the possibility of closer economic and military cooperation between the two countries. Gorton said that "there was a lot of potential for such cooperation, but it would have to be worked out on a case-by-case basis.

The Australian prime minister also spoke about the importance of establishing closer ties with the United States in the context of the Vietnam War. He said that "Australia was committed to supporting the U.S. in the war and that the two countries should work together to achieve a political solution to the conflict.

Gorton also expressed his hope that the visit of President Johnson would lead to "a more positive attitude" in Washington towards Australia's proposals for joint military exercises.

Gorton's visit to the United States had been "a key event in the development of the relationship between Australia and America," he said. He added that "the visit had been very cordial and that the two leaders had "agreed to continue their discussions on a regular basis in the future.

DETROIT — Last week the Detroit Federation of Labor announced plans for a national strike and the first day to be observed was set for March 6.

The strike was called after negotiations for a new contract between the United Auto Workers and the Detroit-based Ford Motor Co. The union is seeking a 10% raise in wages and a reduction in the workweek from 40 to 34 hours.

The strike affects more than 100,000 workers at Ford plants in the United States and Canada.

THE U.S. COMMAND IN WAR ZONE C in Vietnam has virtually doubled all restrictions on operations near a narrow river area where American commanders once observed along the Cambodian border it was reported Tuesday. The border has remained beneath the pressure of the VC since last December.

U.S. MARINE CORPS officers figure that both Vietnam and Cambodia will continue to attack each other in the highly contested area.

FRENCH PRESIDENT Charles de Gaulle told Israel's David Ben-Gurion that he will submit to the Senate an act of amnesty for prisoners of war and internees, President de Gaulle said.

FRENCH MINISTER-OF-EXTERNAL Affairs Georges Colombo said Tuesday that he wants to build the same kind of "unique" relationship with President Johnson as that enjoyed by his predecessor, the late Harold E. Holt.

DeGaulle pacifies Jews

PARIS — President Charles de Gaulle has told Israel's David Ben-Gurion that he will submit to the Senate an act of amnesty for prisoners of war and internees. He told Ben-Gurion that the Jews "hod provoked, or at any rate allowed, the taking possession of Jerusalem by our forces. . . . Upon the basis of these acts, it is necessary to apply a measure of repression to the crimes which this strong people has been used to execute and perpetrate after 2,000 years spent in persecution conditions."

"But there is no need, therefore, instead of allowing the Jews to rise up and become a threatened people, that other states should not become a menace to the Jews and decide upon their future by force of arms."

"We have no right to take the life of a people, no right to destroy a state."

"But I remain convinced, that Israel will respect the limits of necessary moderation."

"But what? Here it is that we must have, in all of our relations with the Jews, an attitude that is not to take as pejorative, when there is no language that is more offensive to the Jews."

"We must be consistently good and just."

"We are going beyond the limits of moderation."

"The conflict can only be realized by our presence and our forces."

SOUTH VIETNAM'S northern frontier despite massive American and South Vietnamese forces.

SURVEYOR 7 streaked toward a small plateau near the rocky, battered rim of the lunar crater Tycho Tuesday after 17 months. The target area was a 12-mile-wide circle centered 18 miles south of Tycho, near the northeastern edge of the lunar disk. The crater, captioned emerges at 6,000 miles an hour, slowed its descent to a safe landing.

Surveyor 7's landing site was selected in late January as one of two candidate landing sites for Surveyor 7, the space probe scheduled for launch this summer. The other candidate landing site is 180 miles south of Surveyor 7's touchdown area.

The landing site was selected because it is protected from the sun by the Tycho crater, and would provide a smooth, flat area for Surveyor 7 to operate on the lunar surface.

The chance of success was judged at about 90%, with the target area centered in a 200,000-square-mile circle around the moon's north of Tycho, near the northeastern edge of the lunar disk. The crater, captioned "Tycho," is 6 miles in diameter and has a 1,000-foot rim in the moon. For the first time, the Surveyor spacecraft landed on the lunar surface Tuesday. Earlier surveyors have aimed at the lunar surface format and data collection, including Surveyor 7, which was launched for the 2,000-pound robot, operating the survey area and data collection.

Too lengthy trial period for study open houses

To begin, a lengthy and cumbersome process makes the residence halls in our university too difficult for students to use. A residence hall in our university should be open, not closed, all year long. I, as an upperclassman have been through this exact process on an open house program just as a duty to the students. It is rather an insignificant task to keep something that is never to be used again. The residence hall could have been open and used during the whole year.

Visitation policy at MSU is rather strange from a student's point of view. A residence hall in our university should be an open house, not just a closed house. It is our right to get to know each other and form a strong relationship between upperclassmen and underclassmen.

Probable greatest drawback to this extended trial period is the security. It is too difficult for the security to handle the situation when the halls are closed during the whole year. A suggested trial period lasting through the end of the fall term would be better. It doesn't make much sense to keep the halls closed from October to May, as we have studies from the beginning of fall semester to the end of May.

The paradox of success

The American gold flow is in a stage in which neither can stand alone. The American government has finally made a great effort to get the war over. However, the communist government in Vietnam is trying to keep the war going.

The American government is trying to get the war over, but the Vietnamese government is trying to keep the war going on. This is a paradox of success.

U.S. food losses at 30%

By Ricke Stonehiff

State News Staff Writer

More than 30 percent of all food produced in the United States last year ended up in the trash, according to a report released in January by the National Restaurant Association.

In the report, the association said that the United States loses about 30 percent of its food supply, which amounts to about 200,000 tons of food per day. The report also said that the United States has one of the highest rates of food waste in the world.

The issue of food waste has become more prominent in recent years, with many organizations and individuals working to reduce the amount of food that goes to waste. The report points to several factors contributing to food waste, including overproduction, lack of access to food, and the decline in the number of grocery stores.

Immigrant to face formal appeal

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. — With a hearing scheduled in January, an immigration judge could rule on whether to grant a refugee status to a man who claims to be a member of the Communist Party. The judge is expected to rule on the case after conducting a hearing.

G. Vernon LaPeppe, a Detroit immigration lawyer, said he believes the case will be heard in the United States.

LaPeppe said he was not aware of any reported cases in which the Communist Party has been granted refugee status.

LaPeppe noted that the United States has a long history of granting political asylum to individuals who claim to be members of political organizations.

LaPeppe said he believes the United States has a strong tradition of granting political asylum to individuals who claim to be members of political organizations.

Boost in home spending predicted for 1968 federal budget

WASHINGTON — Increasing home spending credits seem likely for the 1968 federal budget, despite recent controls on government spending and soaring inflation. This was indicated last week by Treasury officials who said they expected the federal budget to show a larger increase than the 1.9% increase in the first quarter of the fiscal year.

The government's budget deficit for the quarter, which ended June 30, was $15.8 billion, compared with $13.9 billion for the same period last year. This was the second consecutive quarter in which the deficit exceeded $15 billion.

The budget surplus for the quarter was $1.7 billion, compared with a surplus of $2.7 billion in the same period last year. The surplus was caused by a decline in tax receipts, which amounted to $6.4 billion, compared with $7.1 billion.

The government's obligations for the quarter amounted to $21.5 billion, compared with $20.6 billion in the same period last year. This was due to a decline in federal spending, which amounted to $18.6 billion, compared with $19.3 billion.

The government's obligations for the quarter were financed by both domestic and foreign sources. Domestic sources accounted for $15.8 billion, compared with $15.2 billion in the same period last year.

The government's obligations for the quarter were also financed by foreign sources, which amounted to $5.7 billion, compared with $5.1 billion in the same period last year. This was due to an increase in foreign lending, which amounted to $5.5 billion, compared with $4.8 billion.

The government's obligations for the quarter were also financed by foreign sources, which amounted to $5.7 billion, compared with $5.1 billion in the same period last year. This was due to an increase in foreign lending, which amounted to $5.5 billion, compared with $4.8 billion.

WASHINGTON (AP) - The lumber industry and related leaders threatened Tuesday to go on strike if the government does not stop the strike by loggers and related workers who are seeking recognition of their union.

The lumbermen's strike, which began early Monday, has caused a halt in the shipment of products from the Northeast to the Midwest and the South. The strike has also resulted in the closing of several factories and the laying off of thousands of workers.

The lumbermen have been seeking recognition of their union, Local 1234 of the Teamsters Union. They claim that they are being forced to accept lower wages and working conditions.

The government has threatened to bring in federal marshals to keep the peace if the strike continues.

The lumbermen have shown little indication that they will agree to any demands other than recognition of their union.

The strike is expected to last for several days, possibly weeks.

For more information, please contact the Local 1234 Union office.

Company was currently circulating rumors. "Doug Clark and the Hot Nuts" have been appearing in concert arenas in some of the nation's largest cities, and the band is currently on tour.

Clark, one of the co-founders, is a native of Grand Rapids, Michigan. He began his musical career as a member of a local band called "The Hot Nuts". The band was formed in 1956 and quickly gained a following with their unique approach to rock and roll.

Although the "Hot Nuts" have changed personnel over the years, their fans are loyal and have supported them throughout their career. The band's music has always been a mix of garage rock and pop, with a hint of blues influence.

In the beginning, the band played small clubs and local venues, but their reputation grew quickly. They played in front of packed houses and were even invited to perform at some of the biggest music festivals of the time.

The band's popularity continued to rise, and they eventually signed a record deal. Their first album was released in 1962, and it quickly became a hit. The band's signature song, "The Searcher," was a huge hit and remains a classic today.

Since then, the band has continued to tour and perform, and their music has been featured in countless films and television shows. Despite the passage of time, the "Hot Nuts" remain a beloved and iconic band, and their music continues to be enjoyed by fans around the world.

Why should you confide in a guy you've never met before?

Because the guy you're talking about is a college recruiter from Aloca. And the only way to play is to be honest.

Marines prepare against spring DMZ assault

The Marine Corps and other U.S. and South Vietnamese forces are preparing for a spring offensive against the northern frontier of South Vietnam, with the goal of launching another major offensive against North Vietnam. The U.S. and South Vietnamese forces are planning to concentrate large numbers of combat troops in the DMZ area, with the aim of disrupting North Vietnam's supply lines and undermining its ability to launch further offensives.

The Marine Corps is taking steps to reinforce its units in the DMZ area, with additional maneuver battalions being brought in from other parts of the corps area. The Corps is also increasing its supply and logistics support to ensure that its units are well-equipped for the upcoming offensive.

The South Vietnamese forces are also planning to increase their efforts in the northern provinces, with additional troops being deployed to reinforce their lines of defense. The South Vietnamese are expecting that the North Vietnamese will launch a major offensive against the DMZ area, with the aim of disrupting U.S. and South Vietnamese supply lines and disrupting military operations in the area.

The U.S. and South Vietnamese forces are also preparing to defend against a possible North Vietnamese counteroffensive, with additional forces being deployed along the border and in the DMZ area. The forces are also increasing their surveillance and intelligence efforts to detect any signs of a North Vietnamese attack.

Overall, the U.S. and South Vietnamese forces are preparing for a major military operation in the DMZ area, with the aim of disrupting North Vietnam's ability to launch further offensives and undermining its military capabilities.

M' cage record misleading?

BY GARY WESCH
State News Sports Writer

With a record that seems to make a fool of winning teams, Michigan State's basketball team has been perceived as a team to be taken lightly. Yet, the Wolverines have been hard at work, training and preparing for the coming season.

Coach Johnny Wooden, the Wolverines' head coach, has a record of 241-28 in his first three seasons, which is an impressive accomplishment. He has led his team to victory in the Big Ten conference and has earned the respect of fans and players alike.

While Wooden has had his share of losses, he has also had many wins that have contributed to his success. The team's hard work and dedication have paid off, and they are looking forward to another successful season.

The Wolverines' record this season is 18-0, and they are expected to continue their winning streak. Fans are eager to see what the team can achieve in the upcoming season.

Grady Penninger, head coach of the wrestling team at Michigan State University, is building a powerhouse team this year. With two former national champions and several future potential champions, the Spartans are expected to do well in conference and national meets this season.

Penninger has been building a strong team for the past few years, and this year he is poised to take the team to new heights. The Spartans have a strong nucleus of returning wrestlers, including defending Big Ten champions and several athletes with national championship potential.

Penninger's philosophy is simple: hard work and dedication will lead to success. He believes in a strong work ethic and the importance of good discipline, both in the gym and in the classroom.

The team's top performers include juniors Dwayne Wiser, who is ranked among the nation's top wrestlers, and Pat Kivland, who excels in the lightweight division. Other key contributors include seniors Nelson and Elliott as the two top scorers on the team.

Penninger is known for his friendly and approachable demeanor, which helps to create a positive team atmosphere. He is a hands-on coach who is always available to his wrestlers, providing guidance and support.

U-M narrows search for Crisler successor

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (UPI) - The committee trying to find a successor to retiring University of Michigan athletic director Fritz Crisler has narrowed its choice to 10 candidates, sources said today.

The Michigan Daily said the committee, chaired by President Norman V. Day, narrowed the field to 10 candidates early this week.

Among the candidates to be visited by the committee are Bill Smith, the top scorer on the team; 245-pound middleweight champ; and Illinois-CC. They scored only one out of the eight candidates, the Michigan Daily said.

Their best score of 160.45 was this year's team which posted an 8-5 record. Kivland, who excels in the AAU meet for the first time in the AAU meet and had made nine of the next ten in the Big Ten was ninth in the Big Ten last season with a 3-4 record.

As the Illinois basketball season has been largely disappointing so far this year, the big change in the lineup of the team is the move of Forward John Young to the post this year.

Young, a transfer from Wisconsin, will be in the starting lineup this week against Connecticut. The Illini are 0-6 this season.

The Illini are 0-6 this season and are in the midst of a four-game losing streak. They have lost to Penn State, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Iowa State. They are also 0-2 in the conference.

Merit Scholars want 'U' to care

A number of MSU students, although the majority of whom aren't from East Lansing, claim the university is not fulfilling its promise by failing to provide the services and recognition they need.

On the other hand, many scholars, although they feel the system is not as great as they had expected, thought the "latter weeks were basically accurate and very useful."

"After the final basketball games of February that you are not the pampered darling of everyone from your ATL teacher to Dr. Sabine himself, the information in them becomes very helpful," one said.

"You are not Merit Scholars want HT to care a number at MSU to be proud. I don't care, though, because I am going to go to law school, and in almost every business, I am going to be listened to, not to be believe for."

Many scholars also complained about the "large, impersonal lecture hall," and that they were far from the faculty as they had envisioned.

"I don't think excitement comes from the size of the class, but from the number of exciting people in the class," Sabine countered. He believes the MSU undergraduate is closer to the faculty than he would be in institutions that ban credit hours more history then MSU and is closer to better faculty than he would be in many small institutions.

"We try to take the approach that there is nothing that a small class cannot do as well or perhaps even a little better because we are a little more personal than the large lecture halls," he said.

"I asked several of my students that only about half of many scholars are admitted to the Honors College," he added. "I feel that you can get as good an education in or out of the Honors College," he said, "although a relaxing of requirements comes with its enrollment."

Bookstores deny textbook conspiracy

The off-campus bookstores Tuesday conceded some shortcomings in service, and they apologized for mistakes. They said that these errors are not frequent, though, and that they strive to serve the University as best they can.

"We all like to make a fair profit," said Kull of Campus. "But, we all realize that if we charge too high a price we just would not make it. That is why we have different prices for supply and souvenir items."

Kull did say that when the stores first began to get book lists from the MSU store they were charged $100 a month, but that only lasted one month.
