Q: What should ASMUS role be in informing students about their draft obligations? SIMONS—ASMUS did set up a committee to be responsible for informing students about their draft obligations, but not specifically to do it yet. I think this is necessary, because this is the responsibility we need to know. We're a student government, and we're here for the student's role in their school as well as the administration. It's very important that students have a part in policy formulation. As it is now, it's a set up, whereas ASMUS will decide on a policy, the faculty committee will decide one, they agreed and it is sent out on the Board of Trustees. This is a fair way to do it. You've got both sides in the policy.

Q: How close does the present situation come to this ideal? SIMONS—I think it's fairly well run as it is now.

BAJOR—I think we're working toward it now in the last term or before that the students haven't had too much to say in academic matters. I'm glad to see the students coming into power, in a way, and the alumni stepping down a little and listening to the student viewpoint and taking their attitude into consideration.

Q: What should the students' position be in formulation of school, non-academic policies? SIMONS—Since I came here, I think that a student academic council that is reasonably informed will really help in academic policies.

Q: What should the student's role be in non-academic policies? SIMONS—Since I came here, I think that a student academic council that is reasonably informed will really help in academic policies.

BAJOR—I think the open dorms are good now. They haven't really been started too much in women's dorms, and until they are tried for a while there, and a little longer in the men's dorms, perhaps a few more terms, and after they're evaluated, then will be the time to decide if we should have further visitation. Another important thing is that students should have a say in where they want further visitation. So often you have leaders pressuring for visitation policy with a lot of students not even concerned about it, or not wanting it.

Q: How do you view affiliation with the National Student Association? SIMONS—How could it be improved? I'm not that concerned with MHA and if we have to resign as vice chairman or do an internship in instead of going, because I live in off-campus housing. I really don't know why we dropped out several years ago and then got involved again last year. We're not really taking advantage of all the programs that they offer. Since we are spending several hundred dollars a year to belong to the organization, we should try to make a little more use of their programs. But I don't think we should speak out on international affairs which they do sometimes, and we here at Michigan State have voted not. BAJOR—Because of my viewpoint on student governments taking stands on issues. I don't agree with NSA in that it does take stands on Vietnam, etc. I would like to see us continue our affiliation with them, because there are a lot of good points in NSA. If it were changed to more of an organization where student governments could come together and share what they're doing, it would be much more valuable. I would like to see our delegates change so that we would have more cabinet members going, rather than having elected officials, that may not be familiar with the operation of NSA. I would not like to see member-at-large as delegates, because they have enough concern in the University itself.

Q: Do you see any new areas that ASMUS should become involved with? SIMONS—Right now I don't. I thought the bookstore was an excellent idea, but they just haven't been able to get it on the road. This has been cut from the budget for next year so I think if we work with the areas we're involved in right now, and see what action we can take, we can make it grow now, but we need to step up this action, because I'm concerned with the fact that many students are also.

Q: How should ASMUS approach issues which arise in East Lansing such as high prices and apartment rent? BAJOR—the ASMUS liaison committee has a good start here. We try to get in contact with East Lansing officials and other people that run in East Lansing on such things as high prices and apartment rent. I imagine they'll start to take care of issues which arise. I think we should retain our seat on the chamber of commerce for another year at least. Then I think we might like to see the seat turned over to someone other than the chairman. He has enough responsibility as it is.

SIMONS—This is a problem that affects the students, and that's where the board is. I think that we definitely shouldn't take action on this. This has been a problem. It really upsets me to come here and see the same thing I saw at home for two dollars more. It's not fair. What right do these merchants have to gain more profit than another one a hundred miles away? We should meet with the chamber of commerce and see what action we can take. I can't do anything now, but we need to step up this action, because I'm concerned with the fact that many students are also.

Q: How should ASMUS approach issues which arise in East Lansing such as high prices and apartment rent? BAJOR—the ASMUS liaison committee has a good start here. We try to get in contact with East Lansing officials and other people that run in East Lansing on such things as high prices and apartment rent. I imagine they'll start to take care of issues which arise. I think we should retain our seat on the chamber of commerce for another year at least. Then I think we might like to see the seat turned over to someone other than the chairman. He has enough responsibility as it is.

SIMONS—This is a problem that affects the students, and that's where the board is. I think that we definitely shouldn't take action on this. This has been a problem. It really upsets me to come here and see the same thing I saw at home for two dollars more. It's not fair. What right do these merchants have to gain more profit than another one a hundred miles away? We should meet with the chamber of commerce and see what action we can take. I can't do anything now, but we need to step up this action, because I'm concerned with the fact that many students are also.

SIMONS—This is a problem that affects the students, and that's where the board is. I think that we definitely shouldn't take action on this. This has been a problem. It really upsets me to come here and see the same thing I saw at home for two dollars more. It's not fair. What right do these merchants have to gain more profit than another one a hundred miles away? We should meet with the chamber of commerce and see what action we can take. I can't do anything now, but we need to step up this action, because I'm concerned with the fact that many students are also.

BAJOR—the ASMUS liaison committee has a good start here. We try to get in contact with East Lansing officials and other people that run in East Lansing on such things as high prices and apartment rent. I imagine they'll start to take care of issues which arise. I think we should retain our seat on the chamber of commerce for another year at least. Then I think we might like to see the seat turned over to someone other than the chairman. He has enough responsibility as it is.

SIMONS—This is a problem that affects the students, and that's where the board is. I think that we definitely shouldn't take action on this. This has been a problem. It really upsets me to come here and see the same thing I saw at home for two dollars more. It's not fair. What right do these merchants have to gain more profit than another one a hundred miles away? We should meet with the chamber of commerce and see what action we can take. I can't do anything now, but we need to step up this action, because I'm concerned with the fact that many students are also.

SIMONS—This is a problem that affects the students, and that's where the board is. I think that we definitely shouldn't take action on this. This has been a problem. It really upsets me to come here and see the same thing I saw at home for two dollars more. It's not fair. What right do these merchants have to gain more profit than another one a hundred miles away? We should meet with the chamber of commerce and see what action we can take. I can't do anything now, but we need to step up this action, because I'm concerned with the fact that many students are also.

SIMONS—This is a problem that affects the students, and that's where the board is. I think that we definitely shouldn't take action on this. This has been a problem. It really upsets me to come here and see the same thing I saw at home for two dollars more. It's not fair. What right do these merchants have to gain more profit than another one a hundred miles away? We should meet with the chamber of commerce and see what action we can take. I can't do anything now, but we need to step up this action, because I'm concerned with the fact that many students are also.

SIMONS—This is a problem that affects the students, and that's where the board is. I think that we definitely shouldn't take action on this. This has been a problem. It really upsets me to come here and see the same thing I saw at home for two dollars more. It's not fair. What right do these merchants have to gain more profit than another one a hundred miles away? We should meet with the chamber of commerce and see what action we can take. I can't do anything now, but we need to step up this action, because I'm concerned with the fact that many students are also.

BAJOR—the ASMUS liaison committee has a good start here. We try to get in contact with East Lansing officials and other people that run in East Lansing on such things as high prices and apartment rent. I imagine they'll start to take care of issues which arise. I think we should retain our seat on the chamber of commerce for another year at least. Then I think we might like to see the seat turned over to someone other than the chairman. He has enough responsibility as it is.

SIMONS—This is a problem that affects the students, and that's where the board is. I think that we definitely shouldn't take action on this. This has been a problem. It really upsets me to come here and see the same thing I saw at home for two dollars more. It's not fair. What right do these merchants have to gain more profit than another one a hundred miles away? We should meet with the chamber of commerce and see what action we can take. I can't do anything now, but we need to step up this action, because I'm concerned with the fact that many students are also.
Six candidates are vying for the four member-at-large seat: David Grotewohl, Mostov; Larry Jackson, Muskegon; Chuck Ford; Toledo, Ohio; David Eade, Detroit; James Jackson, Louis, Mo.; and Jeff Stewart, Muskegon; James Jackson.

Grotewohl carries a 3.91 G.P.A. in history. His activities include membership on the Student Union Board, Miss MSU Pageant and the MadHatter's Midway.

Jackson is an urban planning major with a 3.33 G.P.A. His activities include membership on the comptroller's bookstore committee.

Eade carries a 2.90 G.P.A. in James Madison College. His activities include directorship of four ASMSU programs: student insurance, student opinion research and distribution for the travel committee and course evaluation. He was also assistant chairman of public relations for the Winter Carnival.

Eade has not declared a major and has a 3.26 G.P.A. He has been active in dorm government.

Miss Lasky is an ad interim major with a 3.80 G.P.A. She lists her activities as membership of the East McDo nel steering committee, East McDo nel judicial body and hall council and a writer for the Oracle.

Stewart carries a 2.90 G.P.A. in James Madison College. His activities include vice-presidency in dorm government and substitute representative to Men's Halls Association.

The following is an interview with the candidates:

EADE—I think ASMSU should help sift out information on the draft to students, possibly through a newsletter, the ASMSU newsletter, and through the State News. I don't think ASMSU's role is to take a stand and, for example, set up a draft counseling program specifically for those who want out of the draft.

STEWART—You want to be sure that you don't select a basis, an area from which I've been able to gather about the pol­ ices of the draft, the draft de­ ferment counseling center that came up at ASMSU has leaned toward one extreme want to do draft dodging.

LASKY—It seems ASMSU should have as much of a role in this. I have read in the Michigan State News that there is already a structure for this ASMSU though, can play a key role in directing the students to find their an­ swers. It should be there to help determine strengths and weaknesses in the academic area.

JACKSON—Education is in the hands of the instructors. But I think students do have a worthwhile goals. Course evaluation is a good area for student government. The advice boards to the colleges haven't yet taken really con­ structive measures. They've carried all the way through.

GROTEWOHL—Yes it should, but the only problem here is when the board does take a stand on something it represents the wishes of the students. However, the board should not give money for things such as sending students to anti­ draft meetings, or sending supplies to North Viet­ nam.

EADE—The primary concern of ASMSU should be with the students of MSU. As far as taking a position on certain issues, the board should be very careful that they have a vast majority of the students behind them. They would be putting a label on us which may not be supported by the students opinions. On the Vietnam situ­ ation, for example, ASMSU should not support an anti-war or an anti-draft demonstration, for any opinion unless the majority of the students were behind them. The only way the students opinions can be found out would be by sending out questionnaires to individual students.

JACKSON—In some instances, ASMSU could work for an open housing law, community relations issues. As far as taking a position on the national stance on the Vietnam war, ASMSU would be going out on a limb in that the majority of the students wouldn't necessarily agree.

STEWART—Under the present system of representation, which I feel is very poor, I wouldn't say they are in a position to take a stand or move in any direction on a contro­ versial issue such as the war. When they do, they are automati­ cally taking the position that all or most students of MSU feel this way and are moving in this direction. I don't think that can be ascer­ tained under the present system. They can't have referendum on an issue that comes up. However, ASMSU could represent individual students to ASMSU to represent individual students at-large responsible to ASMSU. They can have a better idea of what exactly the class wants. But they can't have referendum on an issue such as the Vietnam war.

LASKY—There should be a label on us which may not be put in the students mind. Where are the students supposed to be? I think it is a very good service for MSU students. ASMSU should have a board for draft de­ termination. This is a very good service for college students.

GROTEWOHL—It's important to have student on faculty com­ mittees dealing with academic policy to keep the faculty and administration in tune with stu­ dent attitudes. Student voices should not be put in the students mind. Where are the students supposed to be? I think it is a very good service for MSU students. ASMSU should have a board for draft de­ termination. This is a very good service for college students.

MOSTOV—There's the question of whether it represents the wishes of the students. However, the board should not give money for things such as sending students to anti-
In the senior race, there are five candidates: Jeff Zeig, Hicksville, Ohio; Terry Miller, Elk Rapids, Mich.; Hicksville, Ohio; and Boyd, Pontiac, Mich.; and Joel Boyd, Pontiac, Mich.

Zeig is a zoology major with a 2.70 gpa. He was vice president of the Russian club, treasurer of Farmhouse fraternity and a member of the executive board of East complex dormitories.

Dzodin carries a 3.89 gpa in the field. The students walk out of the room and say "Fine, so I've taken a term of Prof. Set.

BOYD-The student's power in policy formulation should be proportioned with his interest in the policy. If the policy directly affected the student, it should be decided on more by the student than some policy that affected other people.

Q-How close does the present situation come to this ideal?

MINTER-1 would like to see a step in the right direction. They should be continued on a trial basis, to let students know whether they are ready for enough of them so that he can get an idea of how they work so that he can communicate with the administrators on the effectiveness and what his views are on this program.

DZODIN-The present trial open-houses are really trials for visitation and I don't think we're kidding anybody. The object of the trial open houses is to see if the visitation policy would work. The students in this university want some type of visitation policy. Now I don't want a policy that would let members of the opposite sex in any hours of the day or night. But I would favor the limited hours because there are people who want and deserve privacy. This should be done by the government groups through ASMSU.

MINTZER-The major problems in a dorm is you're living with 60 people, 59 of whom you didn't choose to live with. Personally, I would like to see visitation allowed every night just as if you were in an apartment off campus. I would like to see it done but I would rather not comment more about how the total student body feels because I do know that in many dorms, such as Hubbard Hall, many students have been opposed to having three visitations a week. I have a feeling that it might be overdone.

Since the purpose of the dorm is to have a place to live with, any other policy, perhaps this is much more important.

BOYD-We need a visitation policy so that women can live with whom they want to and it was to be decided by the students in the residence hall. ASMSU or the faculty.

MINTZER-I see no reason not to attempt it. You'll never find out if it will work without trying. The trial open houses were a step in the right direction. They should be continued on a trial basis, to let students know whether they are ready for enough of them so that he can get an idea of how they work so that he can communicate with the administrators on the effectiveness and what his views are on this program.

DZODIN-The present trial open-houses are really trials for visitation and I don't think we're kidding anybody. The object of the trial open houses is to see if the visitation policy would work. The students in this university want some type of visitation policy. Now I don't want a policy that would let members of the opposite sex in any hours of the day or night. But I would favor the limited hours because there are people who want and deserve privacy. This should be done by the government groups through ASMSU.

Q-Should ASMSU take a position on the implementation of any policies on such issues as Vietnam, the draft, open housing, etc.?
Q.-How do you view affiliation with NSA? How could it be improved?

ZEIG-As an alternate delegate to the state I went to about four meetings and we never had a quorum to vote on having a chairman of regions. I think now we can do some very good things. The affiliation with NSA on the campus level is good but it has to be used.

MILLER-NSA has helped ASMSU. It has given it a much broader concept of student organization and how to guide ASMSU in knowing what it is and on other student organization. I would like to see it work with other organizations similar to this. Perhaps ASMSU doesn't even need an organization if it can be (get otherwise. I would like to see it look into this matter itself. The general concept of National organization of students is very good.

DZODIN-Our affiliation with NSA is good. in so far as they provide us with many services such as insurance programs, travel programs, student government information, and the alliance for campus talent which helps us entertainment to campus at greatly reduced prices. Many services are fine. We should make increased use of them. We should let the student know about the State News what we are doing with NSA. I don't think the students know what the policies of NSA takes is. There is no place to comment on issues and take sides which would further divide the students. This should be up to groups like the Student Senate, S.D.S. and Young Americans for Freedom.

MILLER-I don't see any sense in it. I don't think it should be all. The students voted it down earlier in the year. There are too many connections with the CUA and other organizations. I can't see how NSA is really going to help MSU. It's useless. The first thing we've got to do here is clean house and get ourselves organized. Then we don't need anybody else and it adds to the Big Ten. We're working with Big Ten rules and the government should be enough for us. I can't see spending the money andResources in being their members of the student board taking trips all over the country to attend NSA meetings. This doesn't seem to help the student body at all because if it was of any value, there might have been some improvement in the last couple of terms.

BOYD-NSA can be a good thing if we use it properly. We've had some problems with it and need a little more study on how to use it better. We should take advantage of the financial aid that it provides. It'll be a couple of years before we know if we've judged NSA correctly.

Q.-What do you envision as the role of the Cabinet? What would change about it?

MILLER-The role of the cabinet is to do on a University level what can't be done by the smaller government units such as MHA and IFC. These smaller units are fighting to maintain theuw own jurisdiction to the best of their ability, to try to be a free-wheeling opinion, and in this way present their policies to ASMSU.

DZODIN-The role of the cabinet is to provide programs which students could not otherwise achieve easily. Programs such as tutoring, insurance, legal aid, etc. programs definitely must be given more public exposure. We should have a concerted effort in the State News and WMSU to publicize programs and let students know that they are available. We need to use the year of such things as the loan fund, but they're not being used to their full potential. I know the Blue Ribbon Committee which ASMSU set up, is looking into this area and they have many more committees and it's a full time administrator in the area of the cabinet. There is one key person, the cabinet president, who we have to guard. We need a strong cabinet. Without a strong cabinet president, you have a very weak cabinet.

MINTZER-I think that the cabinet knows too much on the soils problem. It seems that we'd better off with a representative group of students on the cabinet. I think the cabinet is just in its existence. There are certain committees which I've been on and their functions must be carried out and they must have a leader in charge as far as changing anything. I don't think an organization changed except to get better people in there. I'll support the Great Issues Series. That left a lot to be desired this year. Not to have been Johnson, Nixon, Goldwater, Romney or anybody here has been a total waste of time. All we have been is an independent body. BOYD-The Cabinet is a kind of official connection between the board and the students. It should take a stand when useful when properly. ZEIG-The ten component is to do with the services what the student is directly involved with such as the loan fund. I think we should be independent in our problem with the cabinet that it is can be only as strong as the cabinet president is. It is weak and everyone in the cabinet doesn't know what is going on then the cabinet isn't functioning well. I'd like to see the cabinet strengthened. They tried a couple of things, like a vice-president head, but that didn't work out too well. Perhaps a newsletter to strength the communications within the cabinet would be good. As far as programs go, I think they have now have to be strengthened. There has to be money to publicize things such as the tutoring service, etc. In the area of student welfare, a responsible representative services program should be set up on a local level.

Q.-What are the three or four things the board should be concerned with?

MILLER-NSA can be a good thing if we use it properly. We've had some problems with it and need a little more study on how to use it better. We should take advantage of the financial aid that it provides. It'll be a couple of years before we know if we've judged NSA correctly.

DZODIN-First of all, we have to concern ourselves with the academic freedom report. There must be no change about the challenging of out-dated and arbitrary rules not educationally justified in the Student-Faculty Juxtaposition. We should work on such things as lifting the ban on women in coops, or minor things as getting rid of the archaic chaperone rules. Also, it's very important that we get a specific affirmative action plan to solve the AFR indicating that a student is innocent of the guilt, and that the burden of proof rests with the accuser. We need a new involvement. There should be a student seat on the academic council to air our views to the faculty. We should be able to get the library open from 6 p.m. to 1 a.m. for study purposes. We should get study days before finals on a regular basis. The Student Senate must be expanded by making use of long-distance closed circuit TV to talk with and hear the newsmakers. We should sponsor an issue forum series on topics such as Vietnam and politics. We need increased representation through frequent professional surveys of student opinion. Also by assignment of members-at-large to three committees. We have to augment Spartan Round Table with a new student-oriented roll of the AFR. Spartan Round Table is now. We would like to get an information desk on an informal basis every month of several students and that the University forum to give us a better idea of what we way we keep the lines of communications open.

MINTZER-The board should realize that it's about time to start student government dorm rat and off-campus rat business. Only through a concerted effort of all elements of the student body can we as students gain those things which we desire. As long as the time with the rivalry between the various groups of the student body and the other groups on campus, we'll never accomplish what we want it to be. The board is to provide an atmosphere where the student can get a good education. The student board this year should try to improve on many of the current problems and the cabinet we now have, and bring about a better Great Issues Series, Popular Entertainment and other aspects of student entertainment and education which during the past year have been given little attention. The student board should also realize that although it must cooperate with the administration it must also serve as the body in opposition to it. ASMSU has got to be brought into the 20th century, no matter how many people scream about it. It's time to stop being a 19th century institution. We have to solve modern problems before we can hope to implement with modern solutions.

BOYD-The incoming board will not only have to get along with getting visitation across because it's time to do a pretty badly. I envision working with the popular entertainment and further betterment for the student. What are the immediate goals of the incoming board?

DZODIN-First of all, we have to concern ourselves with the academic freedom report. There must be no change about the challenging of out-dated and arbitrary rules not educationally justified in the Student-Faculty Juxtaposition. We should work on such things as lifting the ban on women in coops, or minor things as getting rid of the archaic chaperone rules. Also, it's very important that we get a specific affirmative action plan to solve the AFR indicating that a student is innocent of the guilt, and that the burden of proof rests with the accuser. We need a new involvement. There should be a student seat on the academic council to air our views to the faculty. We should be able to get the library open from 6 p.m. to 1 a.m. for study purposes. We should get study days before finals on a regular basis. The Student Senate must be expanded by making use of long-distance closed circuit TV to talk with and hear the newsmakers. We should sponsor an issue forum series on topics such as Vietnam and politics. We need increased representation through frequent professional surveys of student opinion. Also by assignment of members-at-large to three committees. We have to augment Spartan Round Table with a new student-oriented roll of the AFR. Spartan Round Table is now. We would like to get an information desk on an informal basis every month of several students and that the University forum to give us a better idea of what we way we keep the lines of communications open.

MINTZER-The board should realize that it's about time to start student government dorm rat and off-campus rat business. Only through a concerted effort of all elements of the student body can we as students gain those things which we desire. As long as the time with the rivalry between the various groups of the student body and the other groups on campus, we'll never accomplish what we want it to be. The board is to provide an atmosphere where the student can get a good education. The student board this year should try to improve on many of the current problems and the cabinet we now have, and bring about a better Great Issues Series, Popular Entertainment and other aspects of student entertainment and education which during the past year have been given little attention. The student board should also realize that although it must cooperate with the administration it must also serve as the body in opposition to it. ASMSU has got to be brought into the 20th century, no matter how many people scream about it. It's time to stop being a 19th century institution. We have to solve modern problems before we can hope to implement with modern solutions.

BOYD-The incoming board will not only have to get along with getting visitation across because it's time to do a pretty badly. I envision working with the popular entertainment and further betterment for the student. What are the immediate goals of the incoming board?
Junior list Board issues

Wednesday, April 3, 1968

The following are candidates for inner member-at-large: Ray Doss, Birmingham; Morgan Moore, San Francisco; Tom Samet, Cleveland; and Michael Trame, Dearborn. Roger Smith, Clarkston; and Tom Samet, Cleveland, Ohio, have been a sports writer for the Wolverine. Doss has served as director of publications for Inter-University Council and as chapter editor and public relations chairman of Sigma Chi from 1965-1967. He has been a member of the Water Carnival Program Committee and a participant in a Mississippi tutorial project.

Moore, a pre-law major with a 2.92 average, served as president and vice president of Snyder Hall. He has been a member of the ASMSU pre-law entertainment-recreation committee and of the Men's Housing Association's executive council.

Samet is an English major in the Honors College, with a 2.4 average. He has served on the Student-Faculty Committee on Academic Rights and Responsibilities, the Student Academic Council and the ASMSU Blue Ribbon Committee. He is a member of Sigma Alpha Mu fraternity.

Smith is a microbiology major with a 2.6 average. He has served on the Student-Faculty Committee on Academic Rights and Responsibilities, the Student Academic Council and the ASMSU Blue Ribbon Committee.

Doss, a pre-law major, has had a 2.6 average. He has been a member of the ASMSU pre-law entertainment-recreation committee and of the Men's Housing Association executive council.

Q—What should the students’ role be in formulating social, non-academic policies?

MOORE—We do not feel that ASMSU takes a position that no one else in this university has taken before, and that is telling the rest of the world just what our position is. There are 38,000 people at MSU, and college age people represent 32 percent of the population of this country. ASMSU should definitely look into social, non-academic issues. General Hershey has made it quite clear that we are not the only people feeling at this. The youth movement is today's very important. That is why we feel that ASMSU should be involved in this.
Junior member contest

(continued from page 6)

on statements about Vietnam or anything else. He has to remember this—that is representation of the students of Michigan State University—his job is to represent the students of Michigan State University—his job is to represent the students of Michigan State University. He's not going to recognize himself as being anything other than saying something that he wants.

SAMES—I don't think that ASMSU should strike in a position on such things. To be effective the Student Board must keep in mind where it can be ef-cfective, and too often this is restricted to the geographical boundaries of Michigan State.
The serious issue is that of the use of resources-manpower resources. I believe the greatest ef-ter is to be directed toward things upon which they can have an immediate and significant efficacy. Issues such as the war, draft, legalization of marijuana, student draft, enrollment, and immigration are having a strong effet on the academic community that should be directed toward organizing the students and nine months or anything else. He has to be done through our seat on the ASMSU. at which the members-many programs: Great Issues and board credibility. It's the most tangible service of the board. It stands on national issues. They should be solely to provide opportunities for the students. The sponsibility. I believe that ASMSU could better communicate with the students of this university are represented in student government. By taking about it?

SMITH—The role of the Cabinet should be to get down and
get the students involved in the policy process instead of expanding them. Perhaps we can work with the students to improve the
atmosphere and to be more en-
volved in the process.

MOORE— Improvement is needed in the operation of the Great Issues and many of the other programs. Great Issues
should be done through our seat
on the ASMSU. at which the members could discuss
the issues and make it possible for the students to have
a real voice in the policy process.

DOSS—The role of the Cabinet should be to get down and
get the students involved in
the policy process instead of expanding them. Perhaps we can work with the students to improve the
atmosphere and to be more en-
volved in the process.

SMITH—Other than taking stand on national issues, they should also take a stand on local issues. One of the immediate problems facing the university is the high prices of housing and board charges. The student board should be concerned with getting the best possible value for MSU students. They should be available to student government. Maps and board without question.

SAMET—Of crucial importance is a validation of some policy kind. Hopefully, quite often this is a reality through specific is-actions instead of expanding into other areas.

MOORE— Improvement is needed in the operation of the Great Issues and many of the
other programs. Great Issues
should be done through our seat
on the ASMSU. at which the
members could discuss
the issues and make it
possible for the students to have
a real voice in the policy process.
Declarations of a boycott, like Jim Sink declaring a strike, and the ASMSU may be met with a fine of $1,200. We have already been warned, and we need to see that the MSU students know what is going on. It is the responsibility of the ASMSU to see that the MSU students know what is going on. We cannot afford to let the MSU students know that it is all over. The ASMSU must be ready to work for and to study a book store or another place to actually go and get more changes, and a fair deal. I can see ASMSU should be more careful by ASMSU to make the stands accurate and meaningful.

GROTEWOHL-From what I have seen, the boycott is not going to work, and I don't think it is going to work, but it is the responsibility of the ASMSU to make sure that the MSU students know what is going on. We cannot afford to let the MSU students know that it is all over. The ASMSU must be ready to work for and to study a book store or another place to actually go and get more changes, and a fair deal. I can see ASMSU should be more careful by ASMSU to make the stands accurate and meaningful. It is very hard to see what the other universities are doing. It is a matter of concern to AMSU what NSA does, when it meets, and what it is doing. If we get a similar strain of student power, it is the responsibility of the ASMSU to do something about it. But there is a certain amount of power which is used in business and which seems to be used primarily to keep tabs on the students. It is the responsibility of the ASMSU to make sure that the students know what is going on. We cannot afford to let the MSU students know that it is all over. The ASMSU must be ready to work for and to study a book store or another place to actually go and get more changes, and a fair deal. I can see ASMSU should be more careful by ASMSU to make the stands accurate and meaningful.

GROTEWOHL-From what I have seen, the boycott is not going to work, and I don't think it is going to work, but it is the responsibility of the ASMSU to make sure that the MSU students know what is going on. We cannot afford to let the MSU students know that it is all over. The ASMSU must be ready to work for and to study a book store or another place to actually go and get more changes, and a fair deal. I can see ASMSU should be more careful by ASMSU to make the stands accurate and meaningful. It is very hard to see what the other universities are doing. It is a matter of concern to AMSU what NSA does, when it meets, and what it is doing. If we get a similar strain of student power, it is the responsibility of the ASMSU to do something about it. But there is a certain amount of power which is used in business and which seems to be used primarily to keep tabs on the students. It is the responsibility of the ASMSU to make sure that the students know what is going on. We cannot afford to let the MSU students know that it is all over. The ASMSU must be ready to work for and to study a book store or another place to actually go and get more changes, and a fair deal. I can see ASMSU should be more careful by ASMSU to make the stands accurate and meaningful.