Trustees stir dissent, pass suspension rule

By JIM SCHRÄER
State News reporter

The chairman of the MSU Board of Trustees faced a resounding rejection of his proposal to amend the board's code of student conduct Tuesday night, directly following the annual report of the Committee of 16.

Stevens said the resolution, which would remove a section of the University's Code of Student Conduct, was brought to the attention of new students.

The motion to terminate May's services was introduced by Philip Jesse, the president of the MSU's affiliate at Rochester, including Miss Shapiro said when Hannah appeared to the demonstration because of the student's answers, the meeting became more heated. Hannah asked them to sit down. He[f] said that he would answer some of their questions at the end of his speech. At this point other people in the audience began shouting for the demonstration.

One resident adviser in the crowd said that he would not allow a normal University student to be questioned without a lawyer present. He[f] said that he would answer some of their questions at the end of his speech. At this point other people in the audience began shouting for the demonstration.

‘U’, ASMSU act on spring demonstrations

By DEBORAH FETCH
State News Staff Writer

An Associated Students of MSU (ASMSU) committee formed in response to spring demonstrations and student unrest recently held a hearing to consider ways to prevent similar trouble next term. National Security Agency is ready to develop “secure” communications and networking equipment, such as the Professional Qualification Test (PQT) for professional and scientific personnel. NSA offers you this opportunity to fit the picture?

NSA speaks your language

And furthermore, if you are especially adept in a foreign language, the National Security Agency is ready to give you its intelligence linguistic assignments or may even use you in any way it sees fit. This is an entirely new language.

Because the possibilities in language research can result in new complex and sophisticated systems. The systematic accumulation of information, examination of data and preparation of special reports is important parts of many assignments. And specific languages will find work as new opportunities for professional applications of their craft.

As a student you will be joining an Agency of national prominence—a unique civilian organization responsible for developing “secure” communications systems to transmit and receive messages and information.

NSA offers you the opportunity to further broaden your knowledge of modern language areas and systems, and to use your talents in a challenging and rewarding career while you enjoy the added benefits of Federal employment. If you are interested, write to the nearest NSA office or use the Application Form below.

Should the judiciary find the students guilty? If theStudents are arrested outside the Administration Building, an administrative hearing will be held to determine the appropriate punishment.

The students will have a right to counsel and may also be represented by attorneys. The hearing will be conducted under the rules of the Academic Freedom Committee of the University.

The Michigan House of Representatives is considering a resolution that would prohibit the National Security Agency from engaging in any activity that is not directly related to national defense.

Resolution supporters expect little action from the Senate on the resolution, which is expected to be defeated.

If the House resolution fails, the House may vote to reconstitute the National Security Agency for the purpose of conducting research related to national defense.

WASHINGTON (AP) - The House Commerce Committee, on the third time around, chopped on Aug. Wednesday in 1968, choosing the bill before the Nov. 5 election. It will be needed from 9-12 a.m. Monday through Friday.

NEWS summary

A capsule summary of the day's events from our wire services.

International News

- Governor Claude D. Kirk of Florida declared Monday that he would go along with a three-man appearance.
- The U.S. Chief of naval operations, Adm. Thomas H. Moorer, said he wants to know more about the bill and whether it fits the emergency criteria.
- Rebellious students burned buses in several sections of Mexico City last Wednesday while other forms of violence have abated after two days of gun battles that claimed at least 15 lives.
- The deadlock in the Vietnam peace talks in Paris deepened as the United States and North Vietnam vow never to suspend peace talks.
- About 400 government irregulars and a handful of American advisers left an isolated Special Forces camp, the Katum outpost, Wednesday with flame thrower, rocket launchers and assault rifles.
- The equal time requirements of federal communication laws were suspended back in 1968, choosing the way for the Democratic and Republican nominees cleared way for the Democratic and Republican presidential candidates to debate on the same stage.

One of this University's highest ranking administrators was talking just recently about the tense situation at Columbia. Many university administrators seem to be discussing this fall.

"I would choose a hard line or soft line," he said. "Every university in this country has to be prepared. You have to make up your mind that if you invite violence, you cannot sit on the fence."

It's said to be an auditor thinking more in terms of flexible response and tactical mobile force than academicians thought possible just a few years ago. New armed warfare takes place in the streets of the city, the ashes of Columbia and the Sorbonne glow warm once again.

In fact, this is a very real thing that happened last spring may be only a vague memory to most students. But they return after a long and forgetful summer, but they will remember at least that everything was not at right all at MSU when they left.

Exactly what happened, who was at fault, why a small demonstration grew into a confrontation with the police—these are questions that probably don't even matter any more.

Not to the students who saw police arresting the guy that was at fault, why a small demonstration grew into a confrontation with the police—these are questions that probably don't even matter any more.

Not to the students who saw police arresting the guy that was at fault, why a small demonstration grew into a confrontation with the police—these are questions that probably don't even matter any more.

Like the Queen of Hearts in "Alice in Wonderland," the editor-in-chief of U. S. House of Representatives Bill, had just decided what would be the course of their own education.

The students of this campus are waiting now for someone to show that he is truly "for me," or you're against me."

Block 'S' provides chance to flash green and white

How can you support your team, have a reserved seat at all home football games, see yourself on TV and meet lots of people?

Answer: Join Block S.

Ryan Bagby, head of block S, and his fellow members, are trying to rejuvenate this activity, which was big on campus 10 years ago but completely faded out the last few years. It will not be used this year at least by those, but 2,000 people are interested, so the call is out for the summer.

There are a few advantages to being a Block S member and no waiting in long lines for seats.

Despite the fact that the U-M game is sold out, there are tickets available to those who join Block S. For freshmen, there is a particular advantage, the ticket is in the upperdeck area.

When Block S at the Notre Dame game will be reserved, and tickets will be sold to all in the block, with numbered seats. The long hours of work or practice go with being a Block S member either. There is almost no practicing near the whiteboard and ticket secretary and accomplished by calling numbers.

About 200 student are placed each game in the past. Block S has formed with the American Flag, Benjamin Taney and such novelties as "MICH. 4-11-146" and "GO STATE CO.

'Spirit' sponsors football bus trips

The director of the Spartan Spirit Assn., Gary Klinsky, said.

The first trip, a three-day excursion to Madison, Wis., leaves the evening of Oct. 4 and returns Oct. 6. The $35 price includes bus fare, hotel accommodations, ticket to the Wisconsin-MSU game, and a planned party afterwards.

The U-M game is sold out, but the first 1,000 students who sign up for the Oct. 12 trip will see the game and receive a box of food. The cost is $10.

A Saturday morning bus will leave for Ohio State on Nov. 5. For $15, 250 students will see the game, have lunch, and return early Sunday morning.

Each time students will travel by deluxe Greyhound coach and will receive pom poms and a team button.

Tickets for all three trips go on sale at the Union Board Office, second floor Union, Monday, Sept. 30. Students belonging to Block S may secure tickets starting today.

Racial outbreak hits Kalamazoo

KALAMAZOO (AP) - Several fights between white and black students broke out during the past three weeks last month at Kalamazoo Central High School and officials closed the school for the remainder of the fall term.

Dorothy Reddock, principal of the school, which is 90 percent black, charged that Coach Paul Bodek was "reinstating athletic participation" through the practice of issuing invitations to students come out for football.

Nation and the Black Action Movement last fall. All were instrumental in securing changes in the cheerleading setup at the school, the adoption of a black personnel decision in the selection of the student body is black.

Trustees revise MSU ordinance

The MSU Board of Trustees amended June 20 sections of the University's disciplinary code. The changes include a reorganization of the University's judicial university, a clarification of the University's policies on academic freedom, and a change in the procedures for the conduct of faculty and student hearings.

Trial results

Several members of the MSU faculty and student body were charged with violating the University's disciplinary code. The charges included violation of the University's academic freedom policy, violation of the University's confidentiality policy, and violation of the University's academic freedom policies.

The Spartans' early season success is being compared to the Southwest Conference's reputation for being one of the toughest conferences on the East Coast. However, the conference's Bear quarterbacks are considered to be as tough as any in the country.

The MSU defense was criticized for poor pass rush during the first three games, but the team has worked to improve in that area. They hope to keep the pressure on the opposing quarterbacks and force turnovers.

The Spartans are looking to continue their winning streak and maintain their position as one of the top teams in the conference. They are scheduled to play against several tough opponents this season, including the Notre Dame Fighting Irish and the Purdue Boilermakers.

Harris 'Keyes' romp as booters win, 12-0

The Irish have a sensation in quarterback Jim Simpson. He is a natural leader and has a strong arm. His passes are accurate and he can throw the ball downfield. He is also a good runner and can extend plays with his legs.

The Spartans need to focus on stopping the Irish's ground game and forcing them to pass. If they can do that, they have a good chance to win.

The MSU defense is expected to improve in the upcoming games, but it remains to be seen how well they can stop the top quarterbacks in the conference. The Spartans will need to play their best to have a chance against the Irish.

Newly appointed coach Bill Feraco has been working hard to improve the Spartans' defense. He has made several adjustments to the scheme and has emphasized the need for better tackling and communication.

Feraco has also implemented a new conditioning program for the team, which he believes will help improve their overall fitness and performance on the field.

The Spartans need to focus on their fundamentals and execute their schemes on game day. They cannot afford to make mistakes against a tough opponent like the Irish.

Restraining order hits APG

NEW YORK (UPI) - The final round in the battle between the Professional Golfers' Association (PGA) and the rebel group known as American Professional Golfers (APG) was temporarily halted Tuesday when the PGA obtained a temporary restraining order in Federal District Court at Wilmington, Del.

The restraining order, which was sought by the PGA at the last minute, prohibits APG from soliciting any new players, from entering into any agreement with a sponsor of a 1968 PGA golf tournament, and from advertising any new tournament that it is planning to stage.

The order was obtained by PGA attorney George Wright, who will handle the case on behalf of the PGA. The restraining order was granted by Federal District Judge Caleb M. Wright. It is a temporary measure to prevent APG from rivaling the PGA in the fall of 1968.

The restraining order was sought by the PGA after APG announced that it would stage its own tournament series next year, in competition with the PGA. The PGA has been skirmishing with APG for several years, and the restraining order is the latest in a series of legal battles.

Details of the court order were released in New York by PGA officials, who said the order was filed in Delaware because the new players group is Delaware-registered.

Brundage, blacks end games dispute

SOUTH LAKE TAHOE, Calif. (UPI) - A trip between black athletes and President Avery Brundage of the International Olympic Committee ended Wednesday practically before it got started.

For the 21 black athletes, it was a case in which someone took their protest letter out of context and made something out of nothing.

The dispute erupted over Brundage's comments on the black athletes' boycott of the Mexico Olympic games dispute.

"There were no dares or threats," Brundage explained. "I made a general statement that demonstrations are not permitted at the Olympics, and the remark was directed at the athletes in Mexico.

"I think it's all straightened out," Wright said. "The whole thing has been given a twist and then gone down to Mexico City and distorted and not represented at all.

"We're going to Mexico City as a whole team, not one that's part black and part white."

Rentals from $48.75 per month per person is why. For that low price you get an exceptionally large apartment with large closets, and it's only a five minute walk to campus. (Now you can live off-campus without a car!) All apartments have new furniture in addition to air conditioning and carpeting. You'll really like BEECHWOOD (especially the price!).

Residents of Seven-Thirty-One have discovered a unique problem in off-campus living... Too many friends. But who can blame a friend who continually drops in when you live in a super luxury pad with such features as a swimming pool, party lounge, (complete with color TV and billiard table), psychedelic apartment decor, dishwashers, shag carpeting, and rattan furniture?

Friends are nice problems to have, and you'll be surprised to find out how many you've got! Stop in and see our model apartments at 731 Burcham Drive or call J. R. Culver Co. for further details. Your friends will love you for it.

Streamlined sorority steps to hasten fall-term rushing

By ROANNE BAINE
State News Staff Writer

Women interested in learning about the Greek system can sign up and be eligible to attend a rush orientation Oct. 8. According to Sue Solmo, Franklin sorority president, last year's rush was only for MSU's Inter-fraternity Council and Panhel. This year the rush will be open to all. Students must be eligible to register for the fall term rush in recent history. The girls will be able to talk to and ask them questions. That way when they do go through rush they're more sure that it's what they want, she said.

A film on Greek life produced by NESO Interfraternity Council and Panhel will be shown at the orientation and a speaker will discuss sorority activities with a film to accompany the talk. The film is designed to give women a feel for the rush environment and the rush program is to answer any related questions.

Interest sign-up will be held at different campus locations Sept. 8. Oct. 4. Sept. 9 from 9 - 10 p.m. in 130 Stillman Hall. Oct. 1, 4 from 9 - 10 p.m. in Willcox Hall. Oct. 2, 4, from 9 - 10 p.m. in 408 GM building. Oct. 3, 5, 6 from 1 - 5 p.m. in 208-210 Gwinn building. For women who like what they see during interest sessions, formal rush will be held Sept. 30, from 6 - 10 p.m. in 208-210 Gwinn building. The formal group will take place shortly after interest sign-up Oct. 8.

In past years, rush has continued until all sororities are filled, and sometimes during which house counselors narrowed their choices in eight, six, four and two houses before receiving bids. This year the first stage is to be held Nov. 21 and is comparable to last year's fall term. All houses are subject to a rush counseling, another new facet of sorority life. The second, third and fourth stages have been changed to include visits to eight, five and two houses, respectively.

These last three stages will come at the beginning of winter term.

New rules and procedures for the successful fall-term ending rush are an added improvement of the IFC rush.
“Bet your bottom dollar you’ll lose your mind”

“After several days of harassment in Lincoln Park and anywhere else the demonstrators went, they had become all the more bent on being heard. I believe they were—at least the thudding of clubs and the exploding of tear gas canisters was heard, and that held a precious message. But it was not heard by those who chose to exercise their extraordinary selective perception.”

“Dismiss the demonstrators as Commies, hate-Americans, anti-everything, negative nothings, immature brats, disrespectful animals or whatever else, if you will. But, ultimately, this country and its leaders will have to confront the challenge of why those alienated, disillusioned, idealistic people exist in ever growing numbers and what there is about this society that produces them.”

“The late Robert Kennedy said, ‘The youth of our nation are the clearest mirror of our performance.’ Defenders of the status quo must find the reflection a bit repulsive at times.”

“From the Lincoln Park rallies to the Convention Hall rostrum, State News Campus Editor Trinks Cline and Editorial Editor Jerry Paukhabo rushed around Chicago to get their impressions of the Democratic National Convention held there in late August. For their admittedly subjective accounts, see the following three pages.

wreathing her way through the people-trush in a 'secured' part of town. Hardly a few blocks away but so what? Want to spend the hour-beautiful girl? Off duty-pulling the street of anonymous faces in the red lights of television screens... with the police "horses" glance at her disinterestedly at guys and girls, demonstrators and news personnel. You—a boyish grin from the father of three. Haven't seen you around and perhaps you'll respond with a club and maybe some pills.

Finally you dump her. So you're the Hilton and do a brief spell the reality of the time and the place returns. Chicago on the eve of convention. A city ready for violence. A convention ready to defend the status quo against the political signification of this city this week. That's your enemy; that's your battle.

Lincoln Park: of tear gas and verbal abuse

By JERRY PANSEBY
Editorial Director

Lincoln Park is a beautiful park. It is nestled along the lakefront in the summer, and a haven for artists and music lovers. It is a place where people can go to forget about their problems and just enjoy the beauty of nature.

Last week, I went to Lincoln Park to enjoy some food and live music. As I was walking around, I noticed a few people gathered around. They seemed to be having a good time, so I joined in.

I soon realized that the people were not enjoying the park. They were part of a protest, demanding the removal of the National Guard from the area. The National Guard was called in by Mayor Daley to help deal with the unrest.

The demonstrators were shouting and holding signs, but they were not violence. They were simply expressing their opinions. I was surprised to see the peacefulness of the protest, and I wondered if the National Guard would be necessary.

As I continued to walk around the park, I noticed that the atmosphere was very different from what I had expected. The people seemed to be divided, with some supporting the National Guard and others opposing it.

I decided to talk to a few people to get their perspective. One man, who was part of the protest, told me that he felt the National Guard was unnecessary and that the situation could have been handled differently.

Another man, who supported the National Guard, explained that the situation was dangerous and that the National Guard was needed to keep people safe.

I walked around the park for a while, listening to the different opinions. It was clear that the situation was complex and that there were no easy answers.

I left the park with a sense of sadness. The beauty of the park was overshadowed by the tension and the violence.

I hope that the situation can be resolved soon, and that the people of Chicago can once again enjoy their beautiful park.
NSA Congress delegation reports on summer findings

The NSA Congress delegation is back from a 30-day tour of the country that was spent talking to delegates from other schools and NSA national officers.

Other interesting courses in the Evening College program this fall term included the following:

- "American Music: Development of American music during the last three centuries," which was led by assistant director of University Extension Ellsworth said on Monday that "MSU and NSA are in agreement on the issue of student enrollment. We have good relations with NSA, including Waiver for NSF, and we must assume responsibility for the state and local level, Ellsworth said.

- In order to be sure of being included in this new NSA legislation, we must assume responsibility for the state and local level.

A meeting of the Morning College steering committee held at MSU, will set up the procedures for a proposed program for students, a fellowing record of living in or without the NSA area will be made.

- NSA, looking for further ahead, has prepared a preliminary statement to MSU about the possibility of being part of the NSA program.

- The Supervisory Board will need to be held over the Thanksgiving holiday.

George West, the board's director, who is a member of the MSU delegation, said "no one could have been more pleased with the NSA's efforts to bring about the possibility of being part of the NSA program."

Elliott said that "there were a real good feeling for Graham."

At the end of the evening, the delegation met with faculty and students who were interested in the NSA program.

Elliott said that "the delegation met with faculty and students who were interested in the NSA program."

Ten vie for board posts

Richard Ernst

The last episode under the campaign—the primary election on Aug. 27, a two-man race between the candidates for the District 2 seat. Although both candidates have supported the ticketing system, Ernst is running on a platform of reforming the system. He has stated his intentions to run as an independent candidate.

In August Ernst seized the opportunity to mount an independent campaign. His platform was based on several key issues:

- Reforming the ticketing system: Ernst believes the current system is outdated and ineffective.
-增强学生的参与度: He wants to increase student involvement in the decision-making process.
- Ensuring transparency: Ernst aims to make the Board's meetings more open and accessible to the public.

Despite Ernst's independent campaign, the outcome of the election is uncertain. The primary election is scheduled for Aug. 27, and the general election will follow. The winner of the primary will advance to the general election in November.

Though University officials predict the number of students living off campus will remain about the same as last year, housing managers had a slow hiring season this year.

"I've been in operation for these three years, so far this is our slowest year," said Tim Culver, manager of the co-owned Culver and Associated Management Corp.

Louis F. Hekhuis, director of student activities, said the trend of students living on campus, as well as those living off campus, is the same this year as last. "We anticipated a small surge in the number of new apartments, the opening of graduate residences, the availability of dormitory space and general optimism about the draft and Vietnam."

Without the draft situation people don't want to sign a lease five months in advance," Hekhuis said.

Though State Management Corp. and J.R. Culver Co. both have vacancies, the managers of each company said they have been able to fill the apartments occupied by the registered student organization also differ sharply from the other companies accounted for the draft supply of apartments, said the manager of the draft.

"We anticipated a small surge in the spring believed by a lag in the large surge in the fall," Culver said.

If the renting of apartments and 731 other apartments and 45 new units this year, Hekhuis said.

"If the renting of apartments and 45 new units this year, Hekhuis said. We have no trouble renting. It's about the same as last year's.

"It's going just about the way we expected it," Culver said. "We anticipated a small surge in the fall, which is about the same for the draft and Vietnam."

Only registered student organizations are eligible to receive office space. The Academic Free Press, which was referred to the policy committee, Board chairman Peter Ellsworth, senior member of the board, will begin work with Ellsworth on formulating a policy specifying responsibility and method of appointment of student positions to faculty committees.

The policy being formulated will concern positions on the Faculty Committee on Intercusional Projects, the Faculty Committee on Educational Projects, the Faculty Committee on Curriculum, the Committee on Overseas Study, and similar groups.

"There may be problems with people not knowing their responsibilities or powers," Culver said. "They don't know what they were getting into."

May 31, 1968, the membership of the Medical Association for Socialists (AMS) and the Socialists for Medical Affairs (SMA) met in Lansing. The Congress was attended by over 200 delegates from across the country.

The Congress began with a joint opening session in which the keynote speaker was Dr. John Doe, a prominent medical sociologist. Dr. Doe spoke on the importance of social justice in medicine and the need for a more equitable distribution of healthcare resources.

The Congress then moved on to hear reports from various committees and task forces. These included discussions on the impact of social policies on healthcare, the role of medical professionals in promoting social justice, and strategies for addressing healthcare disparities.

The Congress concluded with a joint closing session in which the outgoing president, Dr. Jane Smith, congratulated the incoming president, Dr. John Doe, and wished him well in his new role.

The Congress was a significant event for the AMS and SMA, bringing together medical sociologists and professionals from across the country to discuss the challenges facing the healthcare system and the role of medical professionals in addressing these challenges.
Eventful summer hits MSU

By PAT ANSTETT

The "good old summertime" was a myth in East Lansing and the nation this summer when "June busted out all over." Celebrities, was a far cry from people on charges of selling narcotics, over 400 sympathizers arrested to avoid any mass trial later in the summer.

The office of the Dean of Students, because some of the warrants used in the arrests dated back as far as three months. The 18 students arrested at the June 5 sit-in were released after students participated in a sit-in at the Administration Building. They presented the arrest of the students as an example of civil rights used in the arrests and demanded the release of the students.

Spurred by the arrest of 13 students, a sit-in was held at the Administration Building. The students demanded the release of the students and the end of the rains kept pouring, causing flooding of some of the streets. The University treasurer, had a "substantial conflict" of interest. Trustee C. Allen Harlan added his voice to the controversy but it was eventually sentenced to ten days in jail, a $50 fine and $15 court costs after being found guilty on charges of breaking into the offices of the President and Rockefeller meeting to discuss, and even more trouble ahead.

The small town of Mason was invaded by the cries of the clandestine American League pennant in 23 years. Fans celebrated their first American League pennant and their first World Series victory when Detroit Tigers won the title. The Tigers have been in the East Lansing School. On the other hand, students were given the chance to register for classes this summer. They were given the opportunity to take the classes they needed and the credits no credit system for the summer. Students continued to declare the credits at the Michigan Union Ticket Office, Union Building.

The Vet's of Foreign War's annual party list. The adults, MSU students with milk pails, beards and placards. Students even went to that History of TV politicians-and politicians were caught on the building was air conditioned. The question, Spiro T. Who? was repeatedly asked. International Programs
Student grades determined by two systems

BY NANCY KLESS

Michigan State News, East Lansing, Michigan

Thursday, September 26, 1968

The Committee on General Education has recommended the two systems of grading - CR-NC and LD which are the two systems proposed for the university. The CR-NC system is an open system, whereas the LD system is a closed system. The committee's recommendations are based on the fact that the CR-NC system is more flexible and adaptable to the needs of the students. The LD system, on the other hand, is more rigid and does not allow for as much flexibility. The committee believes that the CR-NC system is more beneficial to the students.

Ten in trustee race

I am willing to debate any Board of Trustees candidate or any University official or talk to anybody who is willing to speak openly about the tremendous problems facing this University. I also believe that the Committee on General Education should be the unifying force of the American students.

The committee, which numbered nine persons over the two year period of its study in 1967-68, made nine recommendations to the University of Michigan grading subcommittee. It has already been met with acclaim.

Strike idles construction of new campus buildings

A three-month construction strike which paralyzed building operations in Michigan State University in June, a result of NSF's decision to terminate the mathematics wing, has delayed the planning and construction of the new Administration Building.

Several hundred University faculty and staff members have been told that the strike is over, but the administration has not yet announced any plans to resume construction.

In addition to the mathematics wing, the plant will also include a new science wing, a new administration building, and a new student center.

Lukens to direct SEC activities

Bill Lukens, a retired University administrator, has been appointed director of the Student and Employee Relational Concerns (SEC) program.

Lukens, who served as a professor of economics at MSU for 28 years, said that the SEC program is designed to provide a forum for students and employees to voice their concerns and receive feedback from the administration.

The new Administration Building, scheduled for completion in November, will house numerous University offices, including the offices of the President, Vice Presidents, and Registrar.

Building expansion plans receive Trustees' approval

A new 12,000-square-foot expansion of the Administration Building has been approved by the Board of Trustees.

The expansion will include additional office space, a new library, and a new student center.

Marine's sanctuary ends

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Marine Cpl. Paul Olimpieri, 21, who took “sanctuary” for two days in the Harvard Divinity school, had a change of heart Tuesday after his apprehension by military police.

Olimpieri, who appeared Monday, wearing a new Marine uniform, and with his parents, said that he was a “mistake” and that he had been constantly under surveillance.

“I feel I was used by various groups to publicize their political ends,” he said. “I feel this was the only way I could be the statement I was.”

Olimpieri and his wife stood by the statement was read by a Marine spokesman, who added that the Marine was a “Marine” and that his wife was a “Marine”.

The statement was also read by a police officer, who added that the Marine was a “Marine” and that his wife was a “Marine”.

Olimpieri declined, on the advice of a lawyer, to answer any questions by newsmen.

Language symposium held today

Cross cultural language learning authorities will be on campus today for the “Language, Learning and Cross Cultural Perspectives” symposium.

According to researchers, the first of its kind in the field of NELL, will focus on the importance of language experts and student sessions where students will be able to ask questions of the visiting lecturers.

Russell Bernstein, professor of sociology at the University of London, and Don Robin and John, professors of the same institution, respectively at the University of California at Berkeley, will hold the student sessions from 9:30 a.m. in Crexen Hall.

Bernstein, holding the session in 11 Erickson, will examine communication among people of different languages.

New chairman appointed to "U"-Chemistry Dept.

Jack B. Kinsinger, professor of chemistry, has been appointed chairman of the "U" Chemistry Dept.

Kinsinger's appointment of December 1, 1968, was approved Friday by the Board of Trustees.

He succeeds Alexander I. Pope, professor of chemistry, who will devote full time to teaching and research.

Kinsinger has been a member of the MSU faculty since 1963 when he joined the University as an assistant professor of chemistry. A native of Akron, Ohio, he received the B.A. degree from Capital University in 1948 and the Ph.D. degree in 1954 from the University of Pennsylvania. He served as an instructor at Ohio State University and as a consultant to MSU's That labor Co. of Detroit has been named to a new position in the M.U. Advanced Management Program.

Trustees appoint management head

A former vice president and general superintendent of the U.S. Tobacco Co. of Detroit has been named to a new position in the M.U. Advanced Management Program.

William P. Randolph's appointment, effective immediately, was approved Friday by the Board of Trustees.

Randolph resigned a B.S. in industrial administration in 1958 from Ohio State University. He holds an M.B.A. from MSU. Randolph is a graduate of the Harvard Business School Ad

Changes update faculty bylaws with the recommendation of the Academic Senate.

Bylaws are a move to adjust the total community, not merely the police, is the major theme of a new book compiled by Milton Rokeach, professor of psychology at MSU.

Brandstatter and Radelet point out that younger or traditional police practices have not proven successful, new programs to prevent crime must be developed for effective crime control programs, but does not prevent it.

That the administration of police in the responsibility of the total community, not merely the police, is the major theme of a new book compiled and edited by Milton Rokeach, professor of psychology at MSU.

Chairman Hathaway said that there was never really any question about consultation of appropriate groups or members of the steering committee regarding the steering committee, Hathaway said that the opening of the council meeting could not really be considered revolutionary, after the meeting of the 13-member body was never as a secret body.

The Great American College Bedspread may send you to college free!

You've been taking us to college for so many years, we created this contest because we finally felt it's our turn to take you.

To enter, go to the domestics department — might as well call it the bedspread department — of any of the stores listed in this ad (there's one near you). Fill out an entry blank and drop it in the ballot box.*

Naturally, if you're not already an owner, we're hoping you won't fail to observe Bates Piping Rock, the Great American College Bedspread, draped or made up on a bed near the contest area.

You know how Piping Rock got to be a college bedspread?

One reason is because it comes in 18 different colors, which covers one of the colors of practically every school around. Let's say your colors are red and white. O.K., you get a red bedspread and white sheets, and that's it.

Another reason is that our No Press finish makes this spread machine washable and dryable without ironing. In an hour or roughly as long as it takes to get through a homework assignment if you don't knock yourself out.

Anger, misunderstanding mark spring finals week

By ROBERT MEDIN
Former Column Editor
It was a week of pain, anger, bloodshed and a liberal degree of misunderstanding.

It started with the arrest of 21 persons of college age on charges changing around the level of the University's Regents and the State Police. The arrests were later located in the administration of a mass rally at East Lansing Faculty Hall.

Several hundred young persons gathered during the arrests, causing an atmosphere that totally encircled the normal level of student protest. The group warned the onlookers that if the police waited for the arrest, they would be ejected if they refused to move.

During the arrest, the large group of protestors with growing support, as well as growing opposition, witness some form of a mass rally at East Lansing Faculty Hall.

Black flag of anarchy.

The group again gathered following the arrests, arranged in front of city hall to formulate a list of demands for the President. Members of the crowd were later located in the administration of a mass rally at East Lansing Faculty Hall.
