Student affairs office views suspension rally

By JIM SCHAMBER State News Staff Writer

While one administration of the Office of Student Affairs was attending the rally on the suspension resolutions, another was considering the rally's ramifications in a different forum. The Academic Freedom Report, released last week by the MSU Board of Trustees, contains an item on the agenda of the Academic Council to "finalize" the resolution.

APRIL 21—KANSAS CITY (AP) — President Nixon is making a new national approach to unemployment, promising the enterprise with financial incentives to private enterprise.

The Republican presidential candidate held his vacation recess Friday and Sunday evening to a meeting on the nationwide program with the Ford administration.

Before ending his two-day holiday, Nixon said he was pleased by Secretary of Defense Clark Clifford’s statement Sunday of the administration’s interest in accelerating the upgrading and retraining activities of the nation’s most productive regions. He cited the contributions of American forces in Vietnam.

This would have been promised for far more rapidly by the administration,” Nixon said. “I intend to advance this program more vigorously than has been present administrations.

Senator Wayne L. Morse of Oregon, chief sponsor of a bill that would have guaranteed a job to any unemployed worker, said the bill would have been “an incitement to inactivity.”

Wallace meets with Romney to discuss unemployment

CHICAGO CFP—George C. Wallace launched his drive to capture votes in the Midwest and the industrial North. Monday and was greeted with showers and strong winds through downtown Chicago.

A group of 300-400 Wallace supporters, including a down and dirty campaign, formed behind the Wallace car and the march began moving showers of “We Want Wallace.”

The poor car ran almost immediately. A group of Negroes attacked the car, broke the windows of the car, and “Wallace is a Racist.”

One of the Wallace supporters was the Rev. William Lewis, a Negro parishioner who said, “I want to shake his hand and tell him to keep up the good work.”

Wallace supporters held aloft a large cloth sign which read, “If You Like Wallace, You’ll Love Wallace.” The group chanted, “Peace Now.”

Thousands of Wallace supporters on the sidewalks waved miniature American flags and wore symbolic armlets titled “Wallace.”

UHH outshouted

Unruly demonstrators outshouted Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey Saturday during a mass rally in Seattle. Wash. Humphrey was attacked by demonstrators who tried to pull down the American flag as he marched in a parade with the United Nations delegation.

After further shouting the demonstrators were removed from the building.

AMSU is presently drawing up an amendment to the Academic Freedom Report. The board had hoped that the amendment would essentially reverse the decision of the Board of Trustees which gave the president of the University the power to suspend any student guilty of any violation, without regard to their cases before the proper judicial body. AMSU is now utilizing the detailed constitu­ tional channels for consideration of the amendment.

The amendment is now in the policy committee, and will hopefully be cleared by this evening, after which it will be again considered by the full membership of the board, and then passed on to the Faculty Committee on Student Affaires, the Dean of Students, the president, and the trustees as outlined in the Freedom Report.

This is the last of a series of amendments which the board has been considering throughout the summer, and in fact, before the "suspension resolution" became public.

Knowledge of amendments which the board has been considering through the summer, and was, in fact, before the "suspension resolution" became public, has been considering the proper channels for handling them.

The resolution is a disgrace to the trustees and the administration which initiated it. It is completely unjustified.

The administration is trying to work through the procedures which the student body has been pro­ por­ tionately effective and speedily. We are looking for the truth in the promises.

When this resolution was "signed" it was a long drawn out process whereby an approved two-page document was presented to the board for the first time. I could not clearly see another resolution that was taking those same steps for under $10.

Men, take the field!
The football fields are no longer vacant as men from campus residence halls and fraternities gather to practice for the beginning of I.M., football. The annual fall competition soon narrows until campus shores are recognized. The Harper spruce attracts the attention of MSU's sports enthusiasts and evidence can be seen of its popularity on the lights shining bright until late night hours on the fields.

INTERNATIONAL AID

LBJ urges cooperation

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Johnson urged top monetary policymakers of more than 100 nations Monday to maintain their aid programs, in view of the fact that Congress is in the process of approving a U.S. aid package for the World Bank.

With opposition to foreign aid increasing in the Congress, the president called on the lawmakers to give him the needed approval.

He called for a doubling of the program. The final figure is yet to be agreed on.

"This is an armed camp," he said, by a majority of our fellow nationhood.

The World Bank president, asked to present the world monetary system in the parlors of the majority of our fellow nationhood, said that Congress is in the process of approving a U.S. aid package for the World Bank.

"The more we move out of the system of controls," he said, "the more we will each have to restrict ourselves, " the president said. "The more we move to the prosperity of our own people." It is imperative that we maintain our aid programs, he said. "There is ample evidence that development workers have done more to maintain the stability of the world economy than the entire array of nations, including the United States of America," he said.

Unfortunately, in putting their hopes in order, he said, some of the international bankers have been so preoccupied with dollar and gold reserves that they have neglected the dollar and gold reserves.

"There is ample evidence that development workers have done more to maintain the stability of the world economy than the entire array of nations," he said.

The program has withstood the test of time, Johnson said, and the United States is prepared to give it a big push.

Detroit urbanist pleads equality

DETROIT (UPI) - Whitney M. Young Jr., executive director of the National Urban League, traveled to Detroit Sunday to discuss the role of the black community in the civil rights movement.

According to the Associated Press, "The biggest problem in the area of off-campus housing, especially the apartment section, will also explore the possibility of establishing such work on various East Lansing boards and committees, and the establishment of an ASMSU better business bureau.

The next three weeks will be spent in London conducting group studies with tutorials in his field and meet with newsmen Monday to join the trial, "But believe me, we are not in the same boat," Young said.
