Nixon tells Flint group
America wants change

By ADRIENNE MOORE
Republican presidential candidate Richard M. Nixon moved to study further the student issues at the Michigan State University campus yesterday afternoon, and met with students and faculty about conditions on campus.

"I was interested to see how students and faculty were feeling about the invasion of the FBI and the troops," Nixon said.

He also announced that he would support three student representatives on the Board of Trustees, in line with recommendations by the Academic Freedom Report.

"I cannot do anything about the FBI, I have no authority over the FBI, but I can support three faculty members on the Board of Trustees," Nixon said.

The meeting lasted for about an hour, and Nixon said he was encouraged by the students' enthusiasm for the issues.

"They're a lot more interested in their country than I expected," Nixon said.

The meeting ended with Nixon's reiteration of his support for the three faculty members on the Board of Trustees, and a promise to release his full plan for the future of higher education in the United States.

Great Issues presents former Kennedy aide
Sorensen

By G. J. WOJCIECHOWSKY
State News Staff Writer

Theodore C. Sorensen, aide to the late President John F. Kennedy, will open this year's Great Issues series, October 17th, to the students of the University.

"I am very excited to be here," Sorensen said.

"The Kennedy years were a very important time in history, and I am looking forward to sharing some of my experiences with the students of today.

In the past, the Great Issues series has presented significant figures in contemporary society, such as Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., and Dr. Robert F. Kennedy, who were both killed in 1968.

"Our goal is to present the students with a variety of perspectives on the major issues facing our society today," Sorensen said.

Sorensen, who was a legal aid attorney in Chicago before joining the Kennedy administration, has worked closely with many prominent figures in American politics.

"I hope to bring some of that expertise to the students of MSU this fall," Sorensen said.

If he wants to, a CPA can join almost any kind of business. He can start his own practice. He can form a partnership with others. He can go into public accounting as an employee. He can become a CPA in industry. He can become a CPA in government. He can become a CPA in education. He can become a CPA in any field where he wants to. He can become a CPA in any field where he wants to.

The conference met last week in the University of Wisconsin. New York City, and the meeting was attended by 500 CPAs from all over the country. The meeting was sponsored by the American Institute of CPAs.

New York avoids third teacher strike
By MARILYN FISCHI

New York City's Board of Education has agreed to a 20% wage increase for teachers, ending the second largest teacher strike in the city's history.

The strike lasted 12 days and involved 90,000 teachers.

The teachers' union, the United Federation of Teachers, had been seeking a 25% raise.

The board had previously offered a 15% raise.

The teachers' union had threatened to strike if the board did not accept the 20% raise.

The strike had caused widespread disruption in the city's schools.

North Vietnamese hit U.S. ship

WASHINGTON, AP-North Vietnamese commandos seized the U.S. Navy intelligence ship Pueblo in the North Sea on Tuesday.

Czechoslovakia has "averted the possibility of a new war" in Europe through the Aug. 20-21 Warsaw Pact intervention.

Crewmen of the U.S. intelligence ship Pueblo, seized by North Korea Jan. 23, have issued a joint statement apologizing for violations of international law.

A spokesman for the U.S. Embassy in Moscow said Tuesday that the United States is prepared to carry out the first steps for their release.

Richard M. Nixon and Hubert H. Humphrey.

A spokesman said there were no fatalities among the Furse's allied ground sweeps north of Saigon.

The cancellation was announced a day after Maj. Gen. Jenkins of Montana said at an informal meeting of Democratic congressional leaders with the President that Johnson had said he would contact him before he sent up any new nomination for chief justice, if he did not expect a confirmation of Justice Abe Fortas.

WASHINGTON, AP-Senator Robert F. Kennedy of New York, who is expected to announce his candidacy for the presidency, said Tuesday that the United States is prepared to carry out the first steps for their release.

"The President has not made up his mind about the order," Kennedy said.

Johnson withdrew the nomination of Justice Fortas to the Supreme Court to avoid a vote that would allow the Senate to confirm him in a roll call vote on the Senate floor, Student Services Building, Oct. 2-15.

A spokesman said there were no deaths among the Furse's allies.

Digging up the witches

The following conversation recently took place between the president of Michigan State University and his vice president for student affairs.

"What's up, Mr. President?"

"Yes I did. Harry. We've been working on the problem of student demonstrations. We've been studying the results of the recent demonstrations to see what we can do to prevent them."

"Fine. We need the study done."

"Finally, we started giving them the same treatment that we give to other things that are illegal. We're sending the administration a letter of commendation because they've cut it out, and no longer have to spend 15 minutes every day trying to figure out what's going on."

"Those damn students just don't cooperate. They don't seem to understand the importance of our police force."

"How are we going to get them to cool it?"

"We're not sure. I think we'll have to start by finding out what they're doing."

"Don't worry, that's what I'm telling you."

"Our police force is always looking for more people to join them."

"We'll teach them, when they show up."

Why do these students always have to be fighting? I mean, you sure that's being de- fended their city."

"Yes, I'm sure that's what we're doing.
