Higher education finance ‘lacks equity’

State News Staff Writer

New York City Mayor John V. Lindsay announced Saturday a tentative agreement to end the strike of New York City public teachers.

The agreement, reached by Mayor Lindsay and a group of seven concerned students at the Michigan Conference of the American Association of University Professors (AAUP), “is dedicated to peace.”

The agreement came as a result of discussions between the AAUP and the University of Michigan trustees. The AAUP had been holding a one-day strike since September 1968.

Several hours earlier, the chairman of the AAUP, Dr. Robert G. Becker, had announced that the AAUP would recommend acceptance of the agreement.

“We are extremely saddened by the decision imposed on us to accept illegal legislation passed by the state legislature,” said Becker.

The current education crisis, he said, is the result of a group of white students in the Michigan House of Representatives who voted against the agreement.

The agreement was characterized by Lindsay as one that was “fair and which protected the legitimate rights of all concerned.”

It included a provision for a termination clause if neither party questions the agreement.

MSU RESISTANCE

Three turn in draft cards

By G. J. WOHRLECKI

State News Staff Writer

Two MSU students and a former student turned in their draft cards at a protest on Tuesday. The protest was sponsored by the American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU) and the Michigan state chapter of the American Civil Liberties Union (MSACL).

One of the students, a former student, and a third student turned in their draft cards as a protest against the war.

“Albert of us, Vietnam veterans, don’t agree with the war and feel it should be changed,” said Albert, a veteran of the war.

The week of reflection of the war’s effect on each individual.

Wednesday, November 18, 1968

Envoys await Saigon reply to peace talks

By J. WOHRLECKI

State News Staff Writer

The Saigon delegation to the Paris peace talks said they will consult with the military leadership of the four parties before proceeding with any negotiations.

The Saigon delegation voiced its desire to consult with the military leadership of the four parties before proceeding with any negotiations.

The group then moved to the tennis courts and began to throw tennis balls over the net. The group was composed of members of the Michigan, Northern Michigan, and Eastern Michigan universities.

The tennis court was a popular spot for anti-war protests and demonstrations.

By R. J. WOHRLECKI

State News Staff Writer

Students at Michigan State University were protesting against the war by marching in front of the university administration building. The protest was sponsored by the Michigan Student Federation (MSF).

The MSF is a student organization that represents the interests of Michigan State University students.

The MSF had organized the protest to demonstrate against the war and to express their support for the peace movement.

The protest was attended by hundreds of students who carried signs and chanted slogans against the war.

The protest ended when the Michigan State University administration announced that they would not grant the request for a neutral site for the protest.

The government was criticized by the students for not granting the request.

The government had not granted the request because it was not in their best interest.

The students were angry with the government for not granting the request.

Several hundred students marched on the campus to protest the government’s decision.
Cambodia charges "aggression" against United States

The Associated Press

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia – Cambodia charged Sunday that the United States was engaging in "aggression" against the nation, alleging that border violations would be "directly involved" in the congressional elections. A representative said that the administration quickly for an intensive buildup of border violations would lead to an attack on Cambodia's film festival. The Americans were claiming the country's neutrality and will be directly involved in the congressional elections. The administration has claimed that the United States is in a position to win the net of 26 seats in the House of Representatives. The Democratic party has a 26-seat majority in the House, and the United States is seeking to strengthen its position in Congress. The administration has threatened to use its power in Congress to advance its agenda, including the issue of the White House occupation. The United States has accused Cambodia of "aggression" and has threatened military action if Cambodia does not cease its "aggression." The United States has also threatened to increase its military presence in the region.

Michigan State News, East Lansing, Michigan

Nixon plans GOP overhaul

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Cambodian government charged Sunday that the United States was engaging in "aggression" against Cambodia, alleging that border violations would be "directly involved" in the congressional elections. A representative said that the administration quickly for an intensive buildup of border violations would lead to an attack on Cambodia's film festival. The Americans were claiming the country's neutrality and will be directly involved in the congressional elections. The administration has claimed that the United States is in a position to win the net of 26 seats in the House of Representatives. The Democratic party has a 26-seat majority in the House, and the United States is seeking to strengthen its position in Congress. The administration has threatened to use its power in Congress to advance its agenda, including the issue of the White House occupation. The United States has accused Cambodia of "aggression" and has threatened military action if Cambodia does not cease its "aggression." The United States has also threatened to increase its military presence in the region.

Michigan State News, East Lansing, Michigan

Nixon plans GOP overhaul

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Cambodian government charged Sunday that the United States was engaging in "aggression" against Cambodia, alleging that border violations would be "directly involved" in the congressional elections. A representative said that the administration quickly for an intensive buildup of border violations would lead to an attack on Cambodia's film festival. The Americans were claiming the country's neutrality and will be directly involved in the congressional elections. The administration has claimed that the United States is in a position to win the net of 26 seats in the House of Representatives. The Democratic party has a 26-seat majority in the House, and the United States is seeking to strengthen its position in Congress. The administration has threatened to use its power in Congress to advance its agenda, including the issue of the White House occupation. The United States has accused Cambodia of "aggression" and has threatened military action if Cambodia does not cease its "aggression." The United States has also threatened to increase its military presence in the region.

Michigan State News, East Lansing, Michigan

Nixon plans GOP overhaul

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Cambodian government charged Sunday that the United States was engaging in "aggression" against Cambodia, alleging that border violations would be "directly involved" in the congressional elections. A representative said that the administration quickly for an intensive buildup of border violations would lead to an attack on Cambodia's film festival. The Americans were claiming the country's neutrality and will be directly involved in the congressional elections. The administration has claimed that the United States is in a position to win the net of 26 seats in the House of Representatives. The Democratic party has a 26-seat majority in the House, and the United States is seeking to strengthen its position in Congress. The administration has threatened to use its power in Congress to advance its agenda, including the issue of the White House occupation. The United States has accused Cambodia of "aggression" and has threatened military action if Cambodia does not cease its "aggression." The United States has also threatened to increase its military presence in the region.

Michigan State News, East Lansing, Michigan

Nixon plans GOP overhaul

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Cambodian government charged Sunday that the United States was engaging in "aggression" against Cambodia, alleging that border violations would be "directly involved" in the congressional elections. A representative said that the administration quickly for an intensive buildup of border violations would lead to an attack on Cambodia's film festival. The Americans were claiming the country's neutrality and will be directly involved in the congressional elections. The administration has claimed that the United States is in a position to win the net of 26 seats in the House of Representatives. The Democratic party has a 26-seat majority in the House, and the United States is seeking to strengthen its position in Congress. The administration has threatened to use its power in Congress to advance its agenda, including the issue of the White House occupation. The United States has accused Cambodia of "aggression" and has threatened military action if Cambodia does not cease its "aggression." The United States has also threatened to increase its military presence in the region.

Michigan State News, East Lansing, Michigan

Nixon plans GOP overhaul

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Cambodian government charged Sunday that the United States was engaging in "aggression" against Cambodia, alleging that border violations would be "directly involved" in the congressional elections. A representative said that the administration quickly for an intensive buildup of border violations would lead to an attack on Cambodia's film festival. The Americans were claiming the country's neutrality and will be directly involved in the congressional elections. The administration has claimed that the United States is in a position to win the net of 26 seats in the House of Representatives. The Democratic party has a 26-seat majority in the House, and the United States is seeking to strengthen its position in Congress. The administration has threatened to use its power in Congress to advance its agenda, including the issue of the White House occupation. The United States has accused Cambodia of "aggression" and has threatened military action if Cambodia does not cease its "aggression." The United States has also threatened to increase its military presence in the region.

Michigan State News, East Lansing, Michigan

Nixon plans GOP overhaul

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Cambodian government charged Sunday that the United States was engaging in "aggression" against Cambodia, alleging that border violations would be "directly involved" in the congressional elections. A representative said that the administration quickly for an intensive buildup of border violations would lead to an attack on Cambodia's film festival. The Americans were claiming the country's neutrality and will be directly involved in the congressional elections. The administration has claimed that the United States is in a position to win the net of 26 seats in the House of Representatives. The Democratic party has a 26-seat majority in the House, and the United States is seeking to strengthen its position in Congress. The administration has threatened to use its power in Congress to advance its agenda, including the issue of the White House occupation. The United States has accused Cambodia of "aggression" and has threatened military action if Cambodia does not cease its "aggression." The United States has also threatened to increase its military presence in the region.
Committee dilutes Dubcek power

PRAGUE (AP) — What remained of assigned Czechoslovakia's "Socialist Federalist" who was a respected manager of the news. The state was quick to say Dubcek's power was not being stripped away, but the difference in the role of Dubcek and his methods were evident.

Dubcek was still the prime minister of the Communist party, but his powers were being reduced. The party's central committee, which had been dominated by Dubcek's followers, was now split between Dubcek and his opponents. The new committee was expected to take action against Dubcek's supporters.

Dubcek had been a cautious non-communist leader before becoming the head of the party in 1968. He had been a strong supporter of the party's position after the 1968 invasion of Czechoslovakia by the Soviet Union and its allies. However, after the Soviet invasion, Dubcek had become more liberal and was seen as a threat to the party's traditional power structure.

The new committee was expected to take action against Dubcek's supporters. It was not clear what action would be taken, but it was expected that Dubcek's powers would be reduced in the coming weeks.

In an interview with the Associated Press, Dubcek said that his party's position was not being weakened. He said that the party's position was not being weakened, but that the new committee was expected to take action against Dubcek's supporters.

Dubcek's supporters said that they would continue to support him. They said that the new committee was expected to take action against Dubcek's supporters, but that they would continue to support him.

Dubcek's supporters said that they would continue to support him. They said that the new committee was expected to take action against Dubcek's supporters, but that they would continue to support him.
Marijuana may well have more names than any other "vice": gage, "hemp," "pot," "grass," "ganja" or "bhang." Names presumably refer to it familiarly using the slang terms, but in press releases and public statements make it difficult for us to think of marijuana only as "the killer weed."

For thousands of years marijuana has been regarded as a digestive for pleasure, relaxation, and occasionally religious purposes. And it seems clear that the human race, most of whom seem to have gone through birth to monsters, or become addicted to heroin, has completely forgotten the highly beneficial, and intelligent accounts of its use date back several thousand years. For instance, in Africa and some areas of South America, just as the consumption of this drug is legal, the drug is popular in the United States.

In the United States, marijuana is legally prohibited. The word marijuana, along with heroin, morphia, and other opium derivations, and its use, possession, or distribution are punishable as felonies.

Police narcotics agents, prosecuting attorneys, and politicians, not to mention a vocal group of researchers who are frequently encountered are that marijuana causes moral or psychological damage. That addiction is in some way or another leads to heroin addiction, that marijuana causes or incites or is addictive in some degree is not a matter of scientific validity, which is to be determined by the American people. Unfortunately, legislation in this country is being determined by the FBI which is the Communist Party, and it is the FBI which is destined to determine the fate. Legislators succumbed to the pressure and, without seriously considering the scientific validity of the bureau's arguments, supported the passing of the Marijuana Tax Act in 1937, which was subsequently echoed on the state and local level throughout the country.

Some of Herbert Hoover, we know what has actually been behind the scenes in the removal of all addicted to marijuana or use the term marijuana or any of its synonyms is the Communist Party, and it is the word which determines the laws. It is for this reason that, generally speaking, any of the public welfare, by staging spectacular "dope raids" and mass arrests of marijuana users, is a cheap publicity stunt.

Illegal status harmful
The harm in marijuana's illegal status is not confined to the financial or to the physical or to the moral. The person who uses marijuana for whatever kind of recreation is branded and punished as felon. Courts have justified the war against marijuana as if it were the war against communism. The eradication of marijuana has become synonymous with the eradication of communism.

Marijuana is a far gentler and less harmful intoxicant than alcohol, and its widespread use as a substitute for alcohol, which has been proven addictive and possesses, or for the "real" evil weed, "tobacco would probably be more beneficial in the long run than harmful.

Marijuana has been found, according to the U.S. Bureau of Narcotics, to be more harmless than almost any other known substance. It is twenty times less harmful to the liver than alcohol.

Organized crime has long been interested in the marijuana laws and has contributed considerably to the "marijuana problem." The passage of the Marijuana Tax Act, 1937, which made marijuana a federal crime, and subsequent attempts to effectively enforce the act, have led to the present situation where marijuana is being used illegally and secretly by those who are forced to obtain it because of its illegality, a law which would also like to be enforced.

In other words, many of the alleged evil manifestations of the "marijuana problem" are the result of the anti-marijuana laws.

The repeal of the best solution
One of the measures in this year's Congress is a bill to repeal or nullify the federal and state laws making the use of marijuana a crime. It is this measure that will probably be a repeal of legislation which would permit the distribution, and use of marijuana. No tangible harm to the country would be the repeal of alcohol prohibition did not result in the delinquency and deaths caused by the widespread use of alcohol.

Marijuana is a far gentler and less harmful intoxicant than alcohol, and its widespread use as a substitute for alcohol, which has been proven addictive, and possess some of the "real" evil weed, "tobacco would probably be more beneficial in the long run than harmful.

Marijuana is harmless in any reasonable sense of the word. It bears the brunt of political corruption, objects to being spied on by the police, or values his privacy more than anyone else.

Marijuana is harmless in any reasonable sense of the word. It is 20 times less harmful to the liver than alcohol.

Where is it now?
We know that marijuana is harmless in the liver and that it is 20 times less harmful than alcohol, but according to the American people, the public welfare, by staging spectacular "dope raids" and mass arrests of marijuana users, is a cheap publicity stunt.

Illegal status harmful
The harm in marijuana's illegal status is not confined to the financial or to the physical or to the moral. The person who uses marijuana for whatever kind of recreation is branded and punished as felon. Courts have justified the war against marijuana as if it were the war against communism. The eradication of marijuana has become synonymous with the eradication of communism.

Marijuana is a far gentler and less harmful intoxicant than alcohol, and its widespread use as a substitute for alcohol, which has been proven addictive, and possess some of the "real" evil weed, "tobacco would probably be more beneficial in the long run than harmful.

Marijuana is harmless in any reasonable sense of the word. It is 20 times less harmful to the liver than alcohol.

Where is it now?
We know that marijuana is harmless in the liver and that it is 20 times less harmful than alcohol, but according to the American people, the public welfare, by staging spectacular "dope raids" and mass arrests of marijuana users, is a cheap publicity stunt.

Illegal status harmful
The harm in marijuana's illegal status is not confined to the financial or to the physical or to the moral. The person who uses marijuana for whatever kind of recreation is branded and punished as felon. Courts have justified the war against marijuana as if it were the war against communism. The eradication of marijuana has become synonymous with the eradication of communism.

Marijuana is a far gentler and less harmful intoxicant than alcohol, and its widespread use as a substitute for alcohol, which has been proven addictive, and possess some of the "real" evil weed, "tobacco would probably be more beneficial in the long run than harmful.

Marijuana is harmless in any reasonable sense of the word. It is 20 times less harmful to the liver than alcohol.
‘U’ faces parking dilemma

By MITCHELL MILNER

Executive Registrar

Miss Gesner, professor of history, explained that the principle of the jury was also obtained in the King's Bench, where the jury could not see the defendant, but had the advantage of seeing the evidence and the witnesses. The result was a body of the king's most professional advisers. It could hear cases and make decisions in the absence of the king, although it was not always so.

Until 1950, the court experimented with juries. Miss Gesner said that there was no complaint, there was discretion and often compromise. Poor was sometimes necessary to substantiate the complaint.

Our present jury system and procedure originated with the feudal system. Justice was sometimes a matter of fate, and the only way to get a decision by the time the judge was ready to go, the jurors were simply put in a cart and taken to the next county.

The ordeal was used when there was a question of the defendant's guilt. The Fourth Lateran Council, around 1200, forbade the use of the ordeal in trial cases, and it was not used until the 14th century. The ordeal was used when there was a question of the defendant's guilt.

Sophomore faces charge of assault

Robert J. Bennett, St. Clair Shores sophomore, was charged with felony assault and battery. Bennett, 22, a local high school student, was accused of punching a fellow student in the head.

Test sign-up ends Friday

Friday is the deadline for test sign-up. Parking ramp 2 between Dearborn Hall and the Computer Center cost $2.50. At all 2,800 parking spaces, which are for a moving light and space on the ground, the new ramp could be operated in a cost of the $2.50.

The legislators do not approve money for parking. The MLU Employees Union spokesman said that the money will not be included in their contract demands, a proposal that the MLU faculty-staff relations.

And if it was implemented, the Union leaders said that the students would not be satisfied and if the agreement was not made available on this or any new campus.

Discover the NEW...and the NOW...on Atlantic/Atco Records

By RICHARD HELMUTH

Atlantic/Atco Records

The complete meaning of good eating.

Salami & Turkey

351-3800 12 inch 24 oz.
Professors disagree on dissent, concur on causes

By G.J. WOLFBACH

In a random survey of MSU professors on student dissent, six professors interviewed expressed differing opinions on the causes of dissent.

Charles P. Larrowe, professor of social science, said that he is sympathetic with the four years, but I cannot predict if I would approve it off the mark. There is no simple solution; once we are deeply involved as we are now, the situation is difficult and very complicated.

Vince L. Lombardi, professor of philosophy, said that he is fundamentally against the war. He said that he would reconsider our policies and that he hopes President-elect Ford and Nixon will use.

Whatever dissent emerges from such a struggle, it must be a form of wholesome and patriotic protest, or it will be futile. It is an inherent part of our national character to pay such a policy now.

Mark Rilling, assistant professor of psychology, said that the cause of dissent was understandable because it is the essence of the country's personal problem facing the young people today.

Disgregating minority James F. Roper, professor of psychology, said Roper is opposed to the use of the draft as currently administered. He said that it is unfair and that a random selection system would be better.

Deferments disappeared. I am opposed to giving undergraduate deferments, Rilling said. It discriminates against the poor actually those who can't afford to go to college are not deferred. It also saps the volunteer army over the present system. He is afraid that a volunteer army would be used as a cross to political power and thus become a military arm of the military arm of the country.

Rilling said that this might mean seeking military solutions to problems, turning toward a military alternative when other options are feasible.

Polling feels that the SDS should be sought out of the legitimate government, and governmental support from such people.

The volunteer army might be a dangerous political power, Rilling said. There is danger that the army will become a political power, as it has in the past.

In reference to dissent brotherhood said that the rest of the student dissent has no merit. James L. Lehman, associate professor of psychology, said that the draft is a complex problem and is obviously not completely fair at present.

Mark Rilling, assistant professor of psychology, said that he does not think that the volunteer army over the present system, he is afraid that a volunteer army would be used as a cross to political power and thus become a military arm of the country.

He said that this might mean seeking military solutions to problems, turning toward a military alternative when other options are feasible.

He said regarding the draft, that it has its shortcomings but that a volunteer army would not be feasible.

AWS slates drug lecture

A composition on drugs will be presented by Associated Women Students (AWS) at 4 p.m. tonight and Wednesday in Erskine Hall.

Sister Margaret, professor of psychology, and Scott Karel, Jr., chairman of the College of Humanities, said that he would speak on the medical and psychological aspect of drug usage tonight.
Michigan behind in adult education

By ROSA MORALES, Michigan State News

Although Michigan ranks in the top 10 states in providing educational opportunities, the state is behind in adult education. The most prominent adult education program is the Adult Education and Community Service (AESC) program, which is administered by the Michigan Department of Education. This program offers a variety of courses and services to adults who have not completed high school.

The AESC program is designed to meet the needs of adults who have dropped out of school or who have not had the opportunity to complete their education. It offers a wide range of courses in subjects such as mathematics, reading, writing, and science. The program also provides adult basic education (ABE) courses for adults who have not completed high school.

Adult education is important because it provides adults with the opportunity to improve their skills and gain the education they need to succeed in their personal and professional lives. It also helps to reduce the achievement gap between adults and high school graduates.

However, the AESC program is facing challenges. The program is struggling to keep up with the demand for adult education courses, and it is facing funding cuts. Additionally, the program is facing a shortage of qualified teachers and instructors.

Despite these challenges, the AESC program remains committed to providing adult education opportunities to adults in Michigan. The program is working to increase its capacity and improve the quality of its courses. It is also working to address the shortage of qualified teachers and instructors.

In conclusion, adult education is an important part of Michigan's educational system. The AESC program is dedicated to providing adult education opportunities to adults in the state. However, the program is facing challenges, and it is working to address these challenges. The program's commitment to adult education is vital to the development and success of Michigan's adult population.
Joffrey Ballet: a happening

by DAVE SHORT

Black poet captivates listeners

by SUSANNAH AND MARTIN MANULIS

HAYDEN IDEA

The Lecture Concert Series presented the City Center Joffrey Ballet last Thursday and Friday nights and a special children performance in the Auditorium. The Joffrey style is here depicted as the new happening in ballet.

The three programs varied tremendously to MSU. was perhaps the most vital, and "The Green Table." costumes were stark, punctuated by "Olympics," "Pas des Deesses." the athletes. A Gureling piece. It would be difficult to follow that with "Moves," demonstrated more than the rest, but Barbara Remington. It demonstratedMobility of the male

KIDS "Green Table" and fittingly so.

THURSDAY

CRIMSON Dip 29, 1968

Jo f r e y Things are happening in dance formed here Thursday and Friday to MSU.

Jooss was expelled from Nazi Germany. His first reading of his poems was "The Green Table" and fittingly so. It would be difficult to follow that with "Moves," demonstrated even stronger, and the comment "Olympics," "Pas des Deesses." the athletes. A Gureling piece. It would be difficult to follow that with "Moves," demonstrated more than the rest, but Barbara Remington. It demonstratedMobility of the male

KIDS "Green Table" and fittingly so.

Jooss was expelled from Nazi Germany. His first reading of his poems was "The Green Table" and fittingly so. It would be difficult to follow that with "Moves," demonstrated even stronger, and the comment of his "Olympics," "Pas des Deesses." the athletes. A Gureling piece. It would be difficult to follow that with "Moves," demonstrated more than the rest, but Barbara Remington. It demonstratedMobility of the male

KIDS "Green Table" and fittingly so.
Students talk with inmates

Unique Quintet

The Richards Woodwind Quintet, which performed Friday at the Music Auditorium, combined a specialist text and intimacy into their musical arrangements. From left to right, they are: Alexander Murray (flute), Daniel Stolper (oboe), Edgar Kir (bassoon), Douglas Campbell (horn) and Elsa Ludewig (clarinet).

EARN'S 'BRAVO'

Quintet's music sparkles

By JOHN ROSS

State News Reviewer

On the bulletin board across from the Music Auditorium is a notice that reads, "Earl's Woodwind Quintet. It sings the praises of the Richard Auditorium in the University of Michigan," and asks for student volunteers to participate in the program.

The quintet is composed of five musicians, each with a different musical background. The quintet's music is characterized by its unique style and technique.

The quintet's repertoire includes works by Bach, Beethoven, and Mozart. The quintet's performances are praised for their technical skill and musicality.

MSU prof heads theater group

Across the nation, MSU professors have been leading efforts to improve the quality of college theater productions. The professor in charge of the MSU theater program is Dr. James Brown, who has been instrumental in bringing the best of American theater to MSU.

Dr. Brown is a well-known figure in the theater world and has been involved in many productions at both the university and in the community. His expertise in directing and producing has helped to raise the level of MSU theater productions.

The theater program at MSU offers a variety of courses and opportunities for students interested in theater. Students have the opportunity to participate in productions, attend workshops, and work with professional actors and directors.

Dr. Brown believes that theater is an important form of expression and that it has the potential to bring people together and to inspire them. He is committed to bringing the best of American theater to MSU and to creating a strong theater program that will continue to grow and flourish.
Purdue slips by, 9-0; S' slides to 4-5

Closely watched back
As Purdue quarterback Mike Phipps (15) and an official watch closely, Boiler­ are so rewarding in terms of earnings, associations
interest in this direction, this is a medical sales
Roche is particularly noted for its commitment to opportunity especially for people who like chal-

Yes, and Roche will train you for them.
An opportunity especially for people who like Roche is an impressive name in the ethnic pharmacultural industry. One growth pattern is visible.
Roche is particularly noted for its commitment to

For Minnesota fans that ended before the game, zimple that ended before the game,
Kapp was unable to generate

You can earn and enjoy. Roche is rich in opportunities and a growth pattern is visible for Roche.
Roche is particularly noted for its commitment to

Spartan defensive back Ken Heft (28) can secure the tackle. Williams was the
As Purdue quarterback Mike Phipps (15) and an official watch closely, Boiler­ are so rewarding in terms of earnings, associations
interest in this direction, this is a medical sales
Roche is particularly noted for its commitment to opportunity especially for people who like chal-

10 Michigan State News, East Lansing, Michigan

Spartan defensive back Ken Heft (28) can secure the tackle. Williams was the
As Purdue quarterback Mike Phipps (15) and an official watch closely, Boiler­ are so rewarding in terms of earnings, associations
interest in this direction, this is a medical sales
Roche is particularly noted for its commitment to opportunity especially for people who like chal-

SantoNews Photo by Larry Hoogsteden
Spartan harriers splash to 12th Big Ten title

S' returns to top in first-year effort

By DON KOPRECA
State News Sports Writer

Michigan State's men's cross-country team brought off a splendid effort at the Midwest Invitational meet in Iowa last weekend. The Spartans, who placed third, are the defending Big Ten champions.

The meet was held at the University of Iowa's Iowa City campus.

The Spartans were led by a strong showing in the team's second race of the season. They finished third overall, with Michigan State's running time of 2:50.16 for the 14K race.

In addition, the Spartans had three runners finish in the top 10. Niko Melas placed 4th, Billy Powers placed 5th, and George Hartman placed 8th.

The team's performance was highlighted by the strong showing of the team's younger runners. The freshmen finished in the top 10, with Melas and Powers leading the way.

The Spartans are looking to build on this impressive performance as they prepare for their next meet of the season. They will be looking to continue their strong showing and maybe even capture another Big Ten title.
Hunting season is here! Sell no longer used hunting equipment with a low cost want ad.
Lack of equity in education

The governor's executive staff and people were very upset when the annual report to the Bureau of the Budget of the coming fiscal year, including these bills are sent to the appropriations committees of the House and Senate for discussion. These bills are sent to the appropriations committees of the House and Senate for discussion.

The report suggests that the present FYE system be restored to provide varying levels of funding, and that the annual report to the Bureau of the Budget for the coming fiscal year, including the annual report to the appropriations committees of the House and Senate for discussion. These bills are sent to the appropriations committees of the House and Senate for discussion.

The process is to identify the differences in the current system and to identify the differences in the current system and to identify the differences in the current system.

End of the rail

What may seem like a pretty view to strolling lovers is an old and doomed one. What may seem like a pretty view to strolling lovers is an old and doomed one.

Students oppose drummers

Continued from page one, the students were upset when their paths were taken.

"What right do you have to walk around the campus and take pictures?" someone asked. As the students were upset when their paths were taken.

The drummers were upset when their paths were taken.

"What right do you have to walk around the campus and take pictures?" someone asked. As the students were upset when their paths were taken.

The drummers were upset when their paths were taken.

The drummers were upset when their paths were taken.

The drummers were upset when their paths were taken.

The drummers were upset when their paths were taken.

The drummers were upset when their paths were taken.

The drummers were upset when their paths were taken.

The drummers were upset when their paths were taken.

The drummers were upset when their paths were taken.

The drummers were upset when their paths were taken.

The drummers were upset when their paths were taken.

The drummers were upset when their paths were taken.

The drummers were upset when their paths were taken.

The drummers were upset when their paths were taken.

The drummers were upset when their paths were taken.

The drummers were upset when their paths were taken.

The drummers were upset when their paths were taken.

The drummers were upset when their paths were taken.

The drummers were upset when their paths were taken.

The drummers were upset when their paths were taken.

The drummers were upset when their paths were taken.