Hannah headed for AIDS?

President Hannah

AID experts convened on Tuesday in Washington to hear the latest reports from the AIDS Task Force directed by Dr. Hannah Williams, chancellor of the University of Pennsylvania.

The task force, which was established in 1981, has been meeting monthly for the past five years to discuss strategies for combating AIDS.

In his opening remarks, Dr. Williams said that the task force had been working on a new plan that would focus on prevention and early detection of AIDS.

"The key to stopping the spread of AIDS is prevention," he said. "We must educate people about the risks of AIDS and how to protect themselves."

The task force has been working on a new campaign that will focus on educating young people about the risks of AIDS.

"We want to reach out to young people and let them know the dangers of AIDS," said Dr. Williams. "We must educate them early and often."
TRINKA CÎNE

Is your name Cotton Mather?

---

EDITORIAL

On strike! Shut it down!!!

Forwardears are forewarned, they say, and with that in mind the administration might do well to consider yesterday’s gathering of students at the new administration building as a call to arms. The plight is not out of the box and what was seen yesterday was vowed by those involved to be only the initial skirmishes in a long bout of the struggle.

For it may seem incongruous, the inevitable call for a University-wide strike. The chimes echoed in the high-vaunted corridors, echoing the cognizance of the la Siamous State News of “On strike, shut it down!” Perhaps it was the best exemplified by the couple who got caught up in it and started doing the bagpipes.

Perhaps it seems incongruous, the mob of the Mogul University coupled with the threats of a controlled University. The cries for massive disruption, to shut down the University, are the earliest, impassioned speeches, believe that seeming incongruous, the mob of the crowd did, in fact, appear incongruous, their internal did not.

We doubt, however, that much support exists at this University for a strike in the name of a Columbia or a State Free. The issue isn’t the battle to be fought, but what’s the use of having a Governor, as imprisoned, as this week not being able to go to school? Perhaps it is because Mid-Westerners are more practically pragmatic in the way we make up as the people who make up the population which might be the ideal of the world being unprepared.

In the midst of all the crowd-building, a noticeable proposal, notable because they were the people that were likely to get us lost.

---

POINTE OF VIEW

Emotional response

EDITOR’S NOTE: The following “Point of View” was written by Peter Eidehous, chairman, ANHE, and Parsons News, University, Inter-Florange. This note is a plea to the students of the University for an emotional response.

Student response to the disregard of students is a particularly sensitive issue at this University. The disturbance at the University of Michigan is an example of this sensitivity.

Three things are clear to us: First, it is time for the students at this University to wake up and realize that they are the ones who are endangered here. The disturbance at the University of Michigan is an example of this sensitivity.

Second, it is time for the students at this University to realize that they are the ones who are endangered here. The disturbance at the University of Michigan is an example of this sensitivity.

Third, it is time for the students at this University to realize that they are the ones who are endangered here. The disturbance at the University of Michigan is an example of this sensitivity.

What this means is that the students at this University must realize that they are the ones who are endangered here. The disturbance at the University of Michigan is an example of this sensitivity.

We have learned from the disturbance at the University of Michigan that the students at this University must realize that they are the ones who are endangered here. The disturbance at the University of Michigan is an example of this sensitivity.

The disturbance at the University of Michigan is an example of this sensitivity.

---

OUR READERS’ MIND

---

Public hearing on Garsskof needed

---

Inconspirable accusations

---

“For what did you wish to punch President Hanlon in the nose about?”

— Peter Turla, Ann Arbor apologist
NEWS summary

A capsule summary of the day's events from various sources.

TALKS IN DEADLOCK

Ky delays political issue, refuses Hanoi's demands

Red eyes Saigon as possible target

SAGAN: AP-Viet President Nyguen Cao Kieu declared Monday night South Vietnam is willing to make 'more concessions' to speed up peace talks, but he said there will be no little chance for breaking the deadlock.

After an hour-long meeting with Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, chief of the U.S. delegations, Kieu told an American news conference at a hotel official that he is willing to consider suggestions of the Viet Cong-National Liberation Front (NLF) to avoid war in the future.

The news came as the other conference-goers were discussing 'their' government

INTERVIEWS:

Ky expressed his desire for peace, but he is said to be unwilling to meet the demand of Hanoi and the Viet Cong military and political problems to be considered in the conference discussion.-Kieu and the front gave equal importance to the political and military question, but it is noted that they are separated virtually.

"We can discuss no political problems before a meeting of the two sides," Kieu said in the news conference.

"There is no basic policy or question that may change the picture in Saigon and Vietnam."

Kieu was asked at an interview with Truc Tha Kim, published in the Cornish update, to the question of whether the U.S. and the Viet Cong could join in a move to end the Vietnam war, said there is nothing big left out for the movement to decide.

"Ky was asked about the future talks with Truc Tha Kim, published in the Cornish update, to the question of whether the U.S. and the Viet Cong could join in a move to end the Vietnam war, said there is nothing big left out for the movement to decide.

"Ky was asked about the future talks with Truc Tha Kim, published in the Cornish update, to the question of whether the U.S. and the Viet Cong could join in a move to end the Vietnam war, said there is nothing big left out for the movement to decide."

ATTENTION CAR OWNERS

Complete front and repair and alignment

Brakes

Suspension

Wheel balancing

Steering

LISKEY's Auto Safety Center

20 NORTH LARON 3-6742

---

BunSKO's PIZZA LANSING, INC.

2023 E. MICHIGAN AVE. LANSING, MICHIGAN 48912

TO SPEED YOUR DELIVERY

Call 469-2431

Mon. Thurs. Thurs. 5 p.m. to 2 a.m. Sat. 4 p.m. to 1 a.m.
Sunday Till midnight

Discounts on orders of $20 or more

FREE DORM DELIVERIES

Work for a fired up the next morning's

Ask the man who never stops going to school

Do you think a bright young engineer should spend his most imaginative years on the same assignment? No. Not always.

---

CAMPUS INTERVIEWS:

February 18, 1969

Representatives of several activities of Hughes Aircraft Company (each with highly-specialized personnel requirements and separate interview schedules) will visit your campus. If your career interests are in any of these fields of aeronautical/electronics, contact your Placement Office TODAY to make sure your name gets on the interview schedule for HUGHES AEROSPACE DIVISIONS:

- Microwave & Antenna Engineering
- Guidance & Controls Engineering
- Spacecraft Design Engineering
- Components & Materials Engineering
- Weapon Systems Engineering
- Circuit Design Engineering

TODAY

Tuesday, February 4, 1969
WMSB airs voices of past eras

By BARR JONES
State News Staff Writer

The program runs from 7-8 p.m. Wednesdays and consists of two 13-week series of programs utilizing radio recordings from the past, will be repeated Tuesdays at 12:30 p.m. on WMSB (Channel 88). Personal insights and recollections of people represented on the programs are provided by G. Robert Vincent, creator of the National Voice Library, located in the MMS Library. Maurice Crane, professor of Humanities, joins Vincent in informal conversation about each recording.

Professionalism at Grumman...is personal development programs

As a graduate engineer, how can you position yourself so that your career choices are constantly optimal? How can you gain an advantage when opportunities arise? How can you ensure that you and your employers are mutually committed to your success? By developing a personal development program, you can build your career on a solid foundation of skills, knowledge and attitudes. The key to building such a program is to look at the opportunities available in the field of engineering and design, and to focus on the specific areas that are important to you. Once you have identified your goals, you can create a program that will help you achieve them.

Shaw plans values class, new approach to learning

Shaw's new values class, which is open to all students, focuses on three key areas: the development of character, the development of social skills, and the development of a sense of responsibility. The class is designed to help students learn how to think critically, to make informed decisions, and to be good citizens. The class will be taught by Dr. James Shaw, who has over 20 years of experience in education.

BOOSTS BENEFITS

Men's co-ops incorporate

By BRAD TEMPLTON
State News Staff Writer

The Inter-Cooperative Council, which represents the interests of over 200 co-ops, is working to incorporate the seven co-ops' financial operations into a single entity. The Inter-Cooperative Council is made up of representatives from each of the seven co-ops, and is responsible for setting policies and making decisions that affect all of the co-ops.

Under the incorporation, the co-ops will be able to operate more efficiently, save money, and provide better service to their members. In addition, the incorporation will allow the co-ops to pool their resources and work together on a variety of projects.

The incorporation will take place on June 15, 1969, at the Inter-Cooperative Council meeting. The incorporation will be conducted by the Inter-Cooperative Council, and will be approved by a vote of the co-ops' members.

The incorporation will be beneficial to all of the co-ops involved, as it will allow them to work together more effectively and provide better service to their members. The co-ops involved are: The Co-operators of Canada, The Co-operative Federal Bank, The Co-operative League of Canada, The Co-operative National Bank, The Co-operative Insurance Company, The Co-operative Bank of Canada, and The Co-operative Building Society.
The little sisters and the fra-

ters adopt 'little sisters'

By Shirley Johnson

Little sisters aren't always in a monastery, sometimes they have big and little brothers.

Many fraternities sponsor "little sisters." Other fraternities are involved in the planning stage for a little sisters organization.

The women choose for these groups a name in a majority of cases. They have been Milliken, Lansing, Education, and Sunflower to name a few.

Newly formed sororities will send out a rush and arrange dates for the men.

Most of the fraternities send a rush for little sisters once a year. Promotions of the fraternity members, formal and fraternal, will start the little sisters.

One of the older little sister organizations is Lambda. It is the chapter at Michigan State University under Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity. This little sisters organization began in 1969.

The word goes out on rush from the fraternity and little sisters. The women usually attend a tea and another social function.

After meeting the women the fraternity chooses the new little sisters. They aren't encouraged to return invitations and are invited to return invitations and are invited to return.

The little sisters at Lambda have been the first to choose the name for the group and may return them.

Lansing lunch honors Romney,

Gov. Milliken

A representative of the fraternity housing USD secretaries George Romney and Gov. Milliken was told winner of the Lansing Civic Center.

About 150 people came to see Romney with Milliken, who was in his new job as governor.

They also heard a speech from the president of the Michigan State University Teachers Association. The speech concluded with a question and answer session.

Dr. R. J. Hickingbottom, president of the association, commented on the meeting of the Lansing Civic Center.

"The little sisters at Lambda have been the first to choose the name for the group and may return them.

Lansing lunch honors Romney,

Gov. Milliken

A representative of the fraternity housing USD secretaries George Romney and Gov. Milliken was told winner of the Lansing Civic Center.

About 150 people came to see Romney with Milliken, who was in his new job as governor.

They also heard a speech from the president of the Michigan State University Teachers Association. The speech concluded with a question and answer session.

Dr. R. J. Hickingbottom, president of the association, commented on the meeting of the Lansing Civic Center.

"The little sisters at Lambda have been the first to choose the name for the group and may return them.

Lansing lunch honors Romney,

Gov. Milliken

A representative of the fraternity housing USD secretaries George Romney and Gov. Milliken was told winner of the Lansing Civic Center.

About 150 people came to see Romney with Milliken, who was in his new job as governor.

They also heard a speech from the president of the Michigan State University Teachers Association. The speech concluded with a question and answer session.

Dr. R. J. Hickingbottom, president of the association, commented on the meeting of the Lansing Civic Center.

"The little sisters at Lambda have been the first to choose the name for the group and may return them.

Lansing lunch honors Romney,

Gov. Milliken

A representative of the fraternity housing USD secretaries George Romney and Gov. Milliken was told winner of the Lansing Civic Center.

About 150 people came to see Romney with Milliken, who was in his new job as governor.

They also heard a speech from the president of the Michigan State University Teachers Association. The speech concluded with a question and answer session.

Dr. R. J. Hickingbottom, president of the association, commented on the meeting of the Lansing Civic Center.

"The little sisters at Lambda have been the first to choose the name for the group and may return them.

Lansing lunch honors Romney,
Shakespeare adaptations rated as memorable films

BY DAWN STRICKLAND

State News Staff Writer

There have been many Shakespeare adaptations over the years, but a few have left an indelible mark on the world of film.

The 1990 film "Othello" directed by Barry Levinson is a modern retelling of the Shakespearean classic. Starring Laurence Fishburne and Daniel Day-Lewis, the film follows the story of a Moorish general in Venice. The film received critical acclaim for its bold and innovative approach to the story.

In 2010, "10 Things I Hate About You" was released, directed by George Clooney. This film is a contemporary adaptation of Shakespeare's "The Taming of the Shrew." Starring Julia Stiles and Heath Ledger, the film is a humorous and romantic take on the classic tale.

"The Merchant of Venice" (1996) is another film that brings Shakespeare to the screen. Directed by Joseph Fiennes, the film stars Al Pacino as Shylock. The film received mixed reviews, but Pacino's performance as Shylock was praised.

In 2016, "Macbeth" was released, directed by Roman Polanski. Starring Michael Fassbender and Marion Cotillard, the film is a modern adaptation of Shakespeare's tragedy. The film received critical acclaim for its bold and innovative approach to the story.

These films, and many others, have brought Shakespeare's works to a new generation of viewers. Whether through modern retellings or innovative adaptations, Shakespeare's stories continue to inspire and captivate audiences around the world.

Program offers foreign studies in native home

BY JIM VAY ALSING

State News Staff Writer

For students interested in learning about foreign culture and language, the University of Michigan offers foreign studies in native home.

The program, which is available to all students regardless of major, allows students to study in their home country while earning credit towards their degree.

Participants in the program work closely with faculty members to design individualized courses that focus on their specific interests.

The program offers courses in a variety of foreign languages, including Arabic, Chinese, French, German, and Spanish.

Participants in the program also have the opportunity to participate in cultural activities and events, such as visiting historical sites, attending concerts, and participating in local festivals.

Participants in the program also have the opportunity to participate in cultural activities and events, such as visiting historical sites, attending concerts, and participating in local festivals.

The program is open to all students, regardless of major, and offers a unique opportunity to gain a deeper understanding of the world.

Programos presents Pos's Potential

BY DAWN STRICKLAND

State News Staff Writer

For students interested in learning about foreign culture and language, the University of Michigan offers foreign studies in native home.

The program, which is available to all students regardless of major, allows students to study in their home country while earning credit towards their degree.

Participants in the program work closely with faculty members to design individualized courses that focus on their specific interests.

The program offers courses in a variety of foreign languages, including Arabic, Chinese, French, German, and Spanish.

Participants in the program also have the opportunity to participate in cultural activities and events, such as visiting historical sites, attending concerts, and participating in local festivals.

Participants in the program also have the opportunity to participate in cultural activities and events, such as visiting historical sites, attending concerts, and participating in local festivals.

The program is open to all students, regardless of major, and offers a unique opportunity to gain a deeper understanding of the world.

Programos presents Pos's Potential

BY DAWN STRICKLAND

State News Staff Writer

For students interested in learning about foreign culture and language, the University of Michigan offers foreign studies in native home.

The program, which is available to all students regardless of major, allows students to study in their home country while earning credit towards their degree.

Participants in the program work closely with faculty members to design individualized courses that focus on their specific interests.

The program offers courses in a variety of foreign languages, including Arabic, Chinese, French, German, and Spanish.

Participants in the program also have the opportunity to participate in cultural activities and events, such as visiting historical sites, attending concerts, and participating in local festivals.

Participants in the program also have the opportunity to participate in cultural activities and events, such as visiting historical sites, attending concerts, and participating in local festivals.

The program is open to all students, regardless of major, and offers a unique opportunity to gain a deeper understanding of the world.

Programos presents Pos's Potential

BY DAWN STRICKLAND

State News Staff Writer

For students interested in learning about foreign culture and language, the University of Michigan offers foreign studies in native home.

The program, which is available to all students regardless of major, allows students to study in their home country while earning credit towards their degree.

Participants in the program work closely with faculty members to design individualized courses that focus on their specific interests.

The program offers courses in a variety of foreign languages, including Arabic, Chinese, French, German, and Spanish.

Participants in the program also have the opportunity to participate in cultural activities and events, such as visiting historical sites, attending concerts, and participating in local festivals.

Participants in the program also have the opportunity to participate in cultural activities and events, such as visiting historical sites, attending concerts, and participating in local festivals.

The program is open to all students, regardless of major, and offers a unique opportunity to gain a deeper understanding of the world.
GREEN BAY - Vince Lombardi announced Monday he has asked for his release from the Packers, one day after the team clinched the National Football League Western Conference title. "The coach feels he has made the Packers a better team and will leave the coaching job to the next man," an announcement written by Lombardi's secretary, said. Lombardi, who feared a third straight season of sub-.500 records, was told the team would not renew his contract.

The Packers, after playing a tough three-game stretch, return to Green Bay this week to begin the NFL playoffs. Lombardi, however, is set to coach the New York Giants in the first round of the playoffs. The Giants are 12-2 and have clinched the Eastern Conference title.

Lombardi, who guided the Packers to three NFL championships, four division titles and 25 years in the NFL, said he would like to coach at least one more team after next season. "The only way I will leave the Packers is if I think it's not in the best interest of the Packers," Lombardi said. "I don't think it is."

Lombardi was an assistant coach under head coach Joe Namath in the 1960s. "I think Vince is one of the best coaches in the history of football," Namath said. "I wish him the best of luck."

Lombardi was named the NFL Coach of the Year in 1964, 1966 and 1967. He was inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 1975. Lombardi was a two-time All-American at the University of Maryland. He coached the Baltimore Colts in the NFL from 1958 to 1967.

Lombardi's departure leaves the Packers without a coach for the first time in 25 years. Lombardi was the team's coach, general manager, and director of player personnel since 1963.

Lombardi was born in New York City and attended the University of Maryland, where he was a star football player. He was named to the National Football League's 75th Anniversary All-Time Team in 1969.

Lombardi was the first coach in NFL history to win three Super Bowls, and he was also the first coach to win four division titles in a row. He retired from coaching in 1967 after leading the Packers to a 14-1 record and a trip to the NFL Championship game.

Vince Lombardi, a former NFL coach, was named to the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 1975. Lombardi was a two-time All-American at the University of Maryland. He coached the Baltimore Colts in the NFL from 1958 to 1967.

Lombardi's departure leaves the Packers without a coach for the first time in 25 years. Lombardi was the team's coach, general manager, and director of player personnel since 1963.

Lombardi was born in New York City and attended the University of Maryland, where he was a star football player. He was named to the National Football League's 75th Anniversary All-Time Team in 1969.

Lombardi was the first coach in NFL history to win three Super Bowls, and he was also the first coach to win four division titles in a row. He retired from coaching in 1967 after leading the Packers to a 14-1 record and a trip to the NFL Championship game.

Vince Lombardi, a former NFL coach, was named to the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 1975. Lombardi was a two-time All-American at the University of Maryland. He coached the Baltimore Colts in the NFL from 1958 to 1967.

Lombardi's departure leaves the Packers without a coach for the first time in 25 years. Lombardi was the team's coach, general manager, and director of player personnel since 1963.

Lombardi was born in New York City and attended the University of Maryland, where he was a star football player. He was named to the National Football League's 75th Anniversary All-Time Team in 1969.

Lombardi was the first coach in NFL history to win three Super Bowls, and he was also the first coach to win four division titles in a row. He retired from coaching in 1967 after leading the Packers to a 14-1 record and a trip to the NFL Championship game.

Vince Lombardi, a former NFL coach, was named to the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 1975. Lombardi was a two-time All-American at the University of Maryland. He coached the Baltimore Colts in the NFL from 1958 to 1967.

Lombardi's departure leaves the Packers without a coach for the first time in 25 years. Lombardi was the team's coach, general manager, and director of player personnel since 1963.

Lombardi was born in New York City and attended the University of Maryland, where he was a star football player. He was named to the National Football League's 75th Anniversary All-Time Team in 1969.

Lombardi was the first coach in NFL history to win three Super Bowls, and he was also the first coach to win four division titles in a row. He retired from coaching in 1967 after leading the Packers to a 14-1 record and a trip to the NFL Championship game.

Vince Lombardi, a former NFL coach, was named to the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 1975. Lombardi was a two-time All-American at the University of Maryland. He coached the Baltimore Colts in the NFL from 1958 to 1967.

Lombardi's departure leaves the Packers without a coach for the first time in 25 years. Lombardi was the team's coach, general manager, and director of player personnel since 1963.

Lombardi was born in New York City and attended the University of Maryland, where he was a star football player. He was named to the National Football League's 75th Anniversary All-Time Team in 1969.

Lombardi was the first coach in NFL history to win three Super Bowls, and he was also the first coach to win four division titles in a row. He retired from coaching in 1967 after leading the Packers to a 14-1 record and a trip to the NFL Championship game.
Don't be stopped cold... Buy, Sell, Rent with a FAST-ACTING Want Ad.
Rodeo club organizes on campus

Michigan State News, East Lansing, Michigan

Tuesday, February 4, 1969

Jobs abound in hotel field

By KATHERINE HURL State Staff News Writer

Not only do MSU have an extensive Agriculture Dept., but they also have a Hotel, Restaurant and Institutional Management Dept. and a Food Distribution Service, among other departments.

The Hotel Management School, with a 500-600 enrollment of students is supported only by the University of Hawaii and Cornell University in New York. It is the first in the nation it enrollment until the recent additions. Presently, there are about 500 MSU and grad school students in the hotel, food services, and travel areas. There are several hundred more people who work in these areas as part-time students.

The job opportunities in the hospitality field are almost limitless. Presently, there are about 500 MSU and grad school students in the hotel, food services, and travel areas. There are several hundred more people who work in these areas as part-time students.

Rodeo club plans Teach-in on Biafran plight

By VALERIE RICHTER State News Correspondent

A campus group has organized to educate Americans on the Biafran situation through "Operation Outrage plans teach-in on Biafran plight". This event is a week-long series of Biafra-related speakers and meetings. The group plans to bring in 10 speakers from all over the country to present different aspects of the conflict.

Rally moves to Holmes Hall

(continued from page 1)

The MSU Student Council President, Linda C. Crook, announced that due to the large number of students who attended the rally, the event had to be moved to Holmes Hall. The Student Council decided to move the rally to Holmes Hall because the building has a larger capacity and can accommodate the large crowd.

19. The rally moved to Holmes Hall, and the students continued their demonstration.
Local Y aids needy youths

By RICH BERNARD

"Michigan State Workers..." as the part-time, seasonal, and summer employees and students. The Bureau of Employment and Training has been working with the Bureau of SAMI and the local community to help eliminate problems.

The benefits of the placement bureau are many. The placement bureau provides a way for employers to find qualified workers. It also provides a way for employees to find employment. The bureau also helps to reduce unemployment and underemployment.

The placement bureau is a valuable resource for both employers and employees. It helps to ensure that workers are matched with jobs that they are qualified for and that they will enjoy.

By BILL BANDER

Michigan State Workers have a place to turn for help in finding a job. The Michigan State Placement Bureau provides employment services to students, faculty, staff, and the general public. The bureau is located in the Office of Human Resources, 1030 East Oak Street, Lansing, Michigan.

Student matches employer

By RICH BERNARD

Placement Bureau

Bureau of Employment and Training

Michigan State University

With the exception of arranging interviews, the placement bureau offers services that are not available through the Placement Bureau. The placement bureau also offers services that are not available through the Placement Bureau.

The placement bureau is available to students, faculty, and staff at Michigan State University. It is also available to the general public.

For more information about the placement bureau, please contact the Office of Human Resources at 353-2280.

Holden fire causes $100 damage as student sleeps

By BILL BANDER

A fire caused $100 damage at East Lansing High School on Sunday. The fire started in the third-floor boys' restroom, according to East Lansing High School principal, Larry Thompson.

The fire was reported at 10:30 p.m. by a student who was sleeping in the third-floor boys' restroom. The student used a fire extinguisher to put out the fire.

The fire caused $100 damage to the third-floor boys' restroom. There were no injuries reported.

The fire was caused by a malfunctioning fire alarm, according to Thompson.

The East Lansing High School fire department was called to the scene. The fire was put out quickly and the school was reopened.

The fire department investigation is ongoing. No further details were available at the time of writing.