Explosions of enemy rockets in Saigon echoed in Paris Thursday and brought an abrupt end of what a U.S. spokesman called a "short and grim" session of the Vietnam peace talks. The atmosphere was charged with bitterness.

In an apparent move to stem the tide of air piracy, Cuba announced for the first time Thursday the arrest of a hijacker and identified him by name. The Communist party newspaper Granma announced that the National Airlines pilot that had been diverted to Cuba Wednesday was hijacked by a man identified as Africa Garnett Bays, a U.S. citizen, previously convicted for robbery and drug traffic.

Gold prices hit new highs in Europe's free market economy as hardening differences between labor and management in France raised fears that the franc would be devalued. French exchange dealers believe devaluation inevitable with French trade unions demanding sharp boosts in wages. At the same time the Guild newspaper Paris Presse said President Charles de Gaulle remains firm against devaluation at his week's Cabinet meeting Wednesday.

National News

The Senate Armed Services Committee accused the Defense Dept. Thursday of being too lenient with deserters. The Committee said the Pentagon's prescribed punishment "reflects overreaction as to the plight of the wrongdoer, and consequently does not place sufficient emphasis on the obligations toward the government."

A 39-year-old army cook was sentenced Thursday to four years imprisonment at hard labor as the first American serviceman convicted of deserting from Vietnam to Sweden. Spec. 4 Edmund Arnett, a slim career soldier, stood impassively as the court-martial sentenced him to be confined "for an indefinite period," but minutes later he was visibly shaken. Outside the courtroom he told newsmen: "My lawyers are appealing to the courts. I'll appeal the law. I believe the people should write to President Nixon."

Three 14-year-old, apparently taking cues from their elders in college, took over a kindergarten classroom in Morristown, N.J., Tuesday and wrecked it. Police said the boys made a mess of an art exhibit as the elementary school was under construction.

Chairman requests faculty nominations

Chairman T. V. Jeffries told the following letter, submitted by Lee V. Deal, chairman of the Committee on Science, is being sent to the academic deans requesting faculty nominations for memberships on the search and selection committee.

The newest of the Academic Council on March 29, 1969, the Committee on Committees requested that first procedure for selecting a slate of nominees for representation on the faculty and administration on the University Committee on Search and Selection. This procedure is the one used for professional and academic departmental search and selection committees. According to the document passed by the Academic Council in 1969, the Committee on Committees shall, in a written memorandum directed to the members of the entire faculty, notify members for nominations. The list of persons re- served to the university faculty the Committee on Committees shall present to the Executive Faculty Council a slate of eight members. The Executive Faculty Council shall select by secret ballot, from the list of nominees, the Council. The Executive Faculty Council may add members to the slate of these.

You are, therefore, invited to submit names to be considered for the nomination slate. Nominations will be considered and must be returned by June 3, 1969, chairman of the Committee on Science.
The board of trustees will vote to raise President Hannah $40,000 severance pay when he leaves MSU to become dean of the Agency for International Development. Minnesota's Agricultural and Industrial Board of Education has already approved the generous severance package. Hannah's total severance pay, including the extra $40,000, amounts to $135,000.

This was pointed out by several members of the board of trustees. They said, "We are making sure that President Hannah will not suffer for his efforts in the past."

The decision to give such generous severance packages to presidents of large universities is, however, not unusual. The Associated Press reported that the university of Buffalo gave its president a $125,000 severance package when he left to become the president of the University of Illinois. The University of Michigan gave its president a $250,000 severance package when he left to become the president of the University of California.

The $40,000 Question

For better or worse, our nation's legislators are considering a move that will dramatically alter the way we conduct our business. The question is, is it good for our economy? Is it fair? Is it just? These are all questions that are being asked by those who believe that the $40,000 question is the key to understanding the impact of this legislation.

State Rep. R.D. O'Brien, D-Detroit, has spoken out against crime and violence in a House resolution calling for a constitutional amendment to legalise capital punishment in Michigan. O'Brien, who has the 1st District constituency, said that incarcerating people in state institutions is a "waste of time and money".

"We need to send a message to our most violent criminals," O'Brien said. "They need to understand that if they ever come back, they're going to spend their life behind bars."

Capital Punishment

The issue of capital punishment has been a controversial one for many years. Some people believe that it is a cruel and unusual punishment, while others argue that it is necessary to deter crime. The state of Michigan has had capital punishment laws on the books since 1848, but they have never been used.

Nearly 30 students, some still in turtlenecks, were moving around in the Student Center yesterday, before and after classes, venting their frustration at a dialogue with a white MSU vice president and the second-in-command of the SNS administration offices yesterday.

Hannah, president of the Ferris State NAACP, was among the students who attended the dialogue that was cut short yesterday by the police. She said, "We felt there were some things that needed to be said."

But some students, exemplified by the 126 students receiving degrees at MSU’s winter commencement exercises on Sunday would be President Hannah’s son, Bob

The younger Hannah will be receiving his PhD in African History from his father, who will be providing over the commencement exercises for the last time.

Hannah received his bachelor’s degree from Yale University. Upon completion of the BSc requirements, he was commissioned as a second lieutenant in the army. He performed active duty to take his master’s degree at Harvard University.

Bob went on to explain that they had also attended the winter commencement exercises for the last time. He received his bachelor’s degree from Yale University.

Seminars develop goals, programs for urban affairs

By TIM BANNISTER
State News Staff Writer

To help MECA attract students and build a national image, a national task force was formed.

The task force was charged with developing a non-profit, educational organization that would study the problems of urban areas and develop programs to address those problems.

The task force was composed of representatives from MECA, the Urban League, and the National Urban League.

The task force met on a regular basis and developed a comprehensive plan for the non-profit organization.

The plan included the following objectives:

1. To develop programs that would address the needs of urban areas
2. To provide educational opportunities for students in urban areas
3. To increase the visibility of MECA and its mission

The task force submitted its report to the MECA administration, which approved the plan.

The non-profit organization, Urbaninesis, was established in 1974 and has since become a leading organization in addressing urban problems.

The Michigan State University Board of Trustees has announced the appointment of Roy W. Hahn as president of the University.

Hahn, 70, has been a professor at the University for more than 30 years and has served as provost and as vice president for academic affairs.

He has also served as interim president of the university during the past year.

Hahn succeeds Gerald E. Anderson, who has served as president since 1980.

The appointment of Hahn was announced at a meeting of the Board of Trustees, which met on the University campus.

The appointment was unanimously approved by the board.

Hahn was chosen from a field of five finalists who were interviewed by the search committee.

The finalists also included two external candidates, one from another university and one from industry.

Hahn is a native of Michigan and a graduate of Michigan State University.

He has been a faculty member since 1950 and has held several administrative positions, including provost and vice president.

He is a member of the American Association of University Professors and the American Council on Education.

Hahn has been active in community service and is a member of several boards and commissions.

He has been involved in the development of many programs and initiatives at the University, including the establishment of the MSU Extension Service.

Hahn and his wife, Betty, have two children and six grandchildren.

They live in East Lansing and have been active in the community for many years.

The announcement of Hahn's appointment was met with widespread approval by faculty, students, and the community.

It was noted that Hahn's experience and commitment to the University make him an ideal candidate for the presidency.

It was also noted that Hahn's tenure as provost and vice president for academic affairs has provided him with a strong foundation for his presidency.

Hahn was praised for his leadership and vision, and it was felt that he would be able to continue the University's tradition of excellence and innovation.

The announcement was made during a special convocation on Friday, March 7, 1974, in the Alumni Center.

Soprano displays vocal stamina

Soprano Rita Streich lived up to her billing as "the world's greatest living opera singer" as part of MSU's Lecture-Concert Series in the Auditorium. Her program was an varied and diversified as her range and technical abilities. Opening with selections from Mozart, she added a delectable bit of brilliance to each work as "the King of Song" required it. "Don't ask me, sir..." and "Soprano's Monger",

She first impressed us with the distinct clarity of her dis¬

MHA vote shows support for Loerke as new head

By SERVON TEMPLETON
State News Staff Writer

The Michigan High School Activities Association (MHA) Board of Directors, voted Wednesday night to support the election of Robert Loerke, Saginaw, to the presidency of MHA.

The legality of Loerke's election was challenged Tuesday by John Engler, president of East Shore Hall, on the basis that Loerke was a member of MSHA. This charge is being made in MSHA's activity in the election.

The proposal will state, "It is in the interest of MSHA that the election of Robert Loerke, former president of MSHA, be legal, and that the appeal of the election be upheld."

Loerke did fulfill the qualifications for the presidency of MSHA. Member-voters, including those who are legal and illegal, will be held at 3:30 p.m.

The Association of Residence Presidents (ARP) has not yet taken a stand on the case.

The house in the present action of abolishing all the charges, Loerke's former position, in the favor of those who are illegal, will be held at 3:30 p.m.

In a telephone interview following the release of the report, Swomley said: "I hope that the MSHA position will not be used by the MSHA to make public statements." Swomley acknowledges that the Association of Residence Presidents (ARP) has not yet taken a stand on the case.

Inmates work for diplomas

Migrant prison inmates have initiated educational programs to prepare for postprison careers.

Before educational programs were started, inmates served their sentences and were released. Many returned to their previous habits and jobs, having learned little in prison.

There is a prison where learning is not a luxury but a necessity, where the inmate is a student and the education is survival. That prison is the Michigan prison system.

Education programs are available for all inmates, including those who refuse to attend school. Many inmates are seeking higher education to improve their chances for better jobs.

Most inmates now understand the salaries and costs for instruction from CLARICON.

If new funds can be obtained, college courses will be continued. Inmates will be encouraged to cofin fund this project and to have a college degree. Inmates will also be encouraged to work for a government grant.

CLARICON is the name of the new project and a project of the Bureau of Corrections.

Plans are currently underway for funding a new project and for a government grant.

Summer tours

Israel attracts vacationers

Amid the clamor and excitement of preparing for spring break trips to Florida or the West Indies, many students are already planning summer trips abroad. Israel, as usual, is a favorite destination. European tours have taken a new twist from programs interested in the country's culture. They are finding it necessary to include Israel in their itineraries, focusing on tours led by Israeli guides.

Why this sudden interest in Israel? The recent visit of 5.5 million American Jews draws some critics. Some say it's the war between the Israelis and Palestinians.

Most tours permit students to spend time living and working in a kibbutz. Life in the communal settlements is not easy, but the pace and scenery are worth the effort. Many tourists find it difficult to leave the beautiful beaches.

Organizers of these tours believe that the tour operators are doing a great service for the country. The average cost of a tour is about $600 per person, depending on the length of the trip.

A student travel guide must be obtained by writing to the American Israel Tour Operators Association.

Senior cagers cease fire Saturday

The Big Ten championships March 12-13 will also chart the course for Spartan careers.

The Spartans' 32-overall Mark in both the conference and national polls makes their future in the conference and country uncertain. MSU Coach George Perles and MSU basketball fans are two of the few who seem to understand the reason for the Spartans' second place finish in the conference.

But the two teams which finished ahead of the Spartans may not be content to divide the national honors. Michigan has the second best record in the nation, but whitewashes in the Big Ten may be the deciding factor. Michigan lost to Illinois and Minnesota in Big Ten play, but both of those losses were by more than 10 points. The Fighting Illini, on the other hand, lost to same opponents by many points and closed the season with a loss to Ohio State, which is in the middle of the Big Ten pack.

The Spartans' last home game, a 76-72 win over Ohio State, was not enough to settle all the questions.

The Spartans' three point loss to the Buckeyes was significant because it was the only loss the Spartans have suffered at home this season. The game was a battle of two of the nation's top teams, with the Spartans coming into the game on a 13 game winning streak. Ohio State, on the other hand, had been held to less than 70 points in three of its last four games.

The game was a seesaw battle, with the Spartans taking a two point lead at halftime and扩大ing it to 11 points in the second half. But Ohio State fought back and, with four minutes to go, the Buckeyes took the lead. Ohio State then held on to win by four points.

The Spartans, who had been coming off a 13 game winning streak, were not used to suffering losses, and the victory over Ohio State was a welcome return to form. The Spartans had been playing well for most of the season, but the loss to Ohio State was a reminder of their vulnerability.

The Spartans' next game is a road affair, as they travel to Ann Arbor to take on the Michigan Wolverines. The Wolverines are a strong team, and the Spartans will need to play well to come out on top.

Surprises highlight ‘S’ winter

BY DON KOPFNA
State News Sports Writer

The 76th edition of MSU winter sports proved more exciting that previous seasons as new procedures were added to the mix.

The program was highlighted by a new approach to the Big Ten championship, which led to a tie in the season. The Spartans edged out Iowa, 16-14, to win the title and $1,500,000.50

No other tie in the Big Ten

There were also new events added the schedule, including the Miss America pageant and the Miss Michigan pageant.

Spartan champion

Spartans sophomore basketball player Jon
Roberts, who averaged 16.5 points per game, was named the Big Ten Player of the Year.

He also led the team in rebounds (8.7 per game) and assists (4.5 per game).

Roberts was joined on the All-Big Ten first team by seniors Greg Kelser (5.5 points per game), Dan Osborn (10.4 points per game), and Jon Brockman (11.9 points per game). Freshman Mike Anderson (14.7 points per game) was named the Big Ten Freshman of the Year.

The Spartans finished the season with a 31-6 record, including a 14-4 record in the Big Ten.

Oregon State blacks exit

CORVALLIS, Ore. - The Oregon State Beavers were defeated by the UCLA Bruins, 80-70, in the first round of the NCAA tournament.

The Bruins, who are ranked No. 1 in the AP Poll, were led by senior center Bill Walton, who had 27 points and 18 rebounds.

The Bruins shot 57 percent from the field and made 13 of 23 three-point attempts.

The Beavers shot 43 percent from the field and made only four of 15 three-point attempts.

Tiger’s Horton signs

contract for $60,000

LANSING, Mich. - The Detroit Tigers signed first-round draft pick Danny Horton to a seven-year, $60,000 contract.

The contract includes a $50,000 signing bonus and a $10,000 bonus for each of the next six years.

Horton, who is expected to be a starting tight end for the Tigers next season, was selected with the No. 4 overall pick in the draft.

He is the highest-drafted
American in Tigers history.

FORT WORTH, Tex. - The Dallas Cowboys hosted an open house at their training camp facility in Oxnard, Calif., on Saturday.

The camp is open to the public and admission is free.

The Cowboys signed free agent linebacker
Craig Meadows on Friday and announced that he will be out for six to eight weeks with a broken leg.

The Cowboys also signed free agent quarterback Jim McElroy and defensive tackle Scott Shaw from the Buffalo Bills.

They are expected to start the regular season.

'Sisters aid neglected girls

In Lansing, Mrs. O'Donnohue, head of the Lansing Junior Chamber of Commerce, announced Wednesday night that she is setting up a fund to help local girls in need of vocational or higher education.

Mrs. O'Donnohue said the fund, which she has called the Lansing Junior Chamber Scholarship Fund, will provide financial aid to girls who are unable to afford college or vocational training.

The fund will be administered by the Lansing Junior Chamber of Commerce, and contributions can be made to the fund at any time.

Mrs. O'Donnohue emphasized that the fund is not restricted to Lansing residents, and that girls from other areas who are unable to afford college or vocational training will also be eligible for assistance.

The Lansing Junior Chamber of Commerce is currently accepting donations for the fund, and contributions can be made through the Chamber's offices.

Laird denounces aggression

In the King James version of the Bible, Song of Solomon, chapter 5, verse 21 says, "I am comparisons for a sign of weakness.

In making a reason for the strike against South Vietnam and critics. Laird reminded us: "That country is struggling through these violent attacks and major population centers to foster a sense of the parts in Paris."
