Protect professors

Students must protect these professors who are "marking their goals," and to do that, both name and the name of the key political party must be used on all forms and notices." said one of the students.

The letter of recommendation which the professor was asked to write for a student was prepared by the Psychology Department and was sent to the student's professor.

By LINDA GOTTMANN

The president of the University's Interfraternity Council, George E. Hall, has been named as one of the three candidates for the position of chairman of the new committee.

Hall, who has served as the chairman of the Interfraternity Council since its establishment in 1959, said he would be available to participate in the committee's work on April 11.

The president of the Interfraternity Council said he would work with the committee to ensure that the group's recommendations are implemented.

JOIN HANNAH

Unrest rampant across nation

The boycott, which began last Friday, was called to protest the use of police force against students on campus. The boycott is being supported by several local groups, including the Student Labor Action Committee and the National Education Association.

The boycott was initiated after police arrested several students during a demonstration against a proposed tuition increase.

The protest, which began last Friday, was called to protest the use of police force against students on campus. The boycott is being supported by several local groups, including the Student Labor Action Committee and the National Education Association.

The boycott was initiated after police arrested several students during a demonstration against a proposed tuition increase.

The protest, which began last Friday, was called to protest the use of police force against students on campus. The boycott is being supported by several local groups, including the Student Labor Action Committee and the National Education Association.

The boycott was initiated after police arrested several students during a demonstration against a proposed tuition increase.
Gigantic Book Store
 saving 80% on all books.

Active students can save up to 80% on all books.

BY ED HUTCHINSON

Student power concept attacked.

The Michigan Student Association has endured one real "quandary" since its birth. Now it must face a second one - students have become a "target" for a movement that is trying to organize students as a political force.

The Michigan Student Association was formed last fall in response to the growing dissatisfaction among students with the level of representation that they were receiving in the Student Government. The Association is trying to organize students as a political force, and it has been met with intense opposition from the University administration and some members of the student body.

The Association's main goals are to increase the influence of students in the decision-making process of the University, to improve the living conditions of students, and to increase the political awareness of students.

The University administration has responded to the Association's efforts by attempting to limit the number of meetings that the Association can hold, by trying to prevent the Association from having access to certain University facilities, and by attempting to have the Association's activities ruled as a violation of the University's constitution.

The Association has also been met with opposition from some members of the student body, who feel that the Association is trying to take over the University's Student Government and that it is attempting to use students as a political force.

The Association's efforts have been praised by some members of the student body, who feel that the Association is a necessary step in the process of increasing the influence of students in the decision-making process of the University.

The Association is continuing its efforts to organize students as a political force, and it is determined to continue its efforts despite the opposition that it has encountered.

Student Power

The Michigan Student Association has endured one real "quandary" since its birth. Now it must face a second one - students have become a "target" for a movement that is trying to organize students as a political force.

The Michigan Student Association was formed last fall in response to the growing dissatisfaction among students with the level of representation that they were receiving in the Student Government. The Association is trying to organize students as a political force, and it has been met with intense opposition from the University administration and some members of the student body.

The Association's main goals are to increase the influence of students in the decision-making process of the University, to improve the living conditions of students, and to increase the political awareness of students.

The University administration has responded to the Association's efforts by attempting to limit the number of meetings that the Association can hold, by trying to prevent the Association from having access to certain University facilities, and by attempting to have the Association's activities ruled as a violation of the University's constitution.

The Association has also been met with opposition from some members of the student body, who feel that the Association is trying to take over the University's Student Government and that it is attempting to use students as a political force.

The Association's efforts have been praised by some members of the student body, who feel that the Association is a necessary step in the process of increasing the influence of students in the decision-making process of the University.

The Association is continuing its efforts to organize students as a political force, and it is determined to continue its efforts despite the opposition that it has encountered.

Student Power

The Michigan Student Association has endured one real "quandary" since its birth. Now it must face a second one - students have become a "target" for a movement that is trying to organize students as a political force.

The Michigan Student Association was formed last fall in response to the growing dissatisfaction among students with the level of representation that they were receiving in the Student Government. The Association is trying to organize students as a political force, and it has been met with intense opposition from the University administration and some members of the student body.

The Association's main goals are to increase the influence of students in the decision-making process of the University, to improve the living conditions of students, and to increase the political awareness of students.

The University administration has responded to the Association's efforts by attempting to limit the number of meetings that the Association can hold, by trying to prevent the Association from having access to certain University facilities, and by attempting to have the Association's activities ruled as a violation of the University's constitution.

The Association has also been met with opposition from some members of the student body, who feel that the Association is trying to take over the University's Student Government and that it is attempting to use students as a political force.

The Association's efforts have been praised by some members of the student body, who feel that the Association is a necessary step in the process of increasing the influence of students in the decision-making process of the University.

The Association is continuing its efforts to organize students as a political force, and it is determined to continue its efforts despite the opposition that it has encountered.

Student Power

The Michigan Student Association has endured one real "quandary" since its birth. Now it must face a second one - students have become a "target" for a movement that is trying to organize students as a political force.

The Michigan Student Association was formed last fall in response to the growing dissatisfaction among students with the level of representation that they were receiving in the Student Government. The Association is trying to organize students as a political force, and it has been met with intense opposition from the University administration and some members of the student body.

The Association's main goals are to increase the influence of students in the decision-making process of the University, to improve the living conditions of students, and to increase the political awareness of students.

The University administration has responded to the Association's efforts by attempting to limit the number of meetings that the Association can hold, by trying to prevent the Association from having access to certain University facilities, and by attempting to have the Association's activities ruled as a violation of the University's constitution.

The Association has also been met with opposition from some members of the student body, who feel that the Association is trying to take over the University's Student Government and that it is attempting to use students as a political force.

The Association's efforts have been praised by some members of the student body, who feel that the Association is a necessary step in the process of increasing the influence of students in the decision-making process of the University.

The Association is continuing its efforts to organize students as a political force, and it is determined to continue its efforts despite the opposition that it has encountered.

Student Power

The Michigan Student Association has endured one real "quandary" since its birth. Now it must face a second one - students have become a "target" for a movement that is trying to organize students as a political force.

The Michigan Student Association was formed last fall in response to the growing dissatisfaction among students with the level of representation that they were receiving in the Student Government. The Association is trying to organize students as a political force, and it has been met with intense opposition from the University administration and some members of the student body.

The Association's main goals are to increase the influence of students in the decision-making process of the University, to improve the living conditions of students, and to increase the political awareness of students.

The University administration has responded to the Association's efforts by attempting to limit the number of meetings that the Association can hold, by trying to prevent the Association from having access to certain University facilities, and by attempting to have the Association's activities ruled as a violation of the University's constitution.

The Association has also been met with opposition from some members of the student body, who feel that the Association is trying to take over the University's Student Government and that it is attempting to use students as a political force.

The Association's efforts have been praised by some members of the student body, who feel that the Association is a necessary step in the process of increasing the influence of students in the decision-making process of the University.

The Association is continuing its efforts to organize students as a political force, and it is determined to continue its efforts despite the opposition that it has encountered.

Student Power

The Michigan Student Association has endured one real "quandary" since its birth. Now it must face a second one - students have become a "target" for a movement that is trying to organize students as a political force.

The Michigan Student Association was formed last fall in response to the growing dissatisfaction among students with the level of representation that they were receiving in the Student Government. The Association is trying to organize students as a political force, and it has been met with intense opposition from the University administration and some members of the student body.

The Association's main goals are to increase the influence of students in the decision-making process of the University, to improve the living conditions of students, and to increase the political awareness of students.

The University administration has responded to the Association's efforts by attempting to limit the number of meetings that the Association can hold, by trying to prevent the Association from having access to certain University facilities, and by attempting to have the Association's activities ruled as a violation of the University's constitution.

The Association has also been met with opposition from some members of the student body, who feel that the Association is trying to take over the University's Student Government and that it is attempting to use students as a political force.

The Association's efforts have been praised by some members of the student body, who feel that the Association is a necessary step in the process of increasing the influence of students in the decision-making process of the University.

The Association is continuing its efforts to organize students as a political force, and it is determined to continue its efforts despite the opposition that it has encountered.

Student Power

The Michigan Student Association has endured one real "quandary" since its birth. Now it must face a second one - students have become a "target" for a movement that is trying to organize students as a political force.

The Michigan Student Association was formed last fall in response to the growing dissatisfaction among students with the level of representation that they were receiving in the Student Government. The Association is trying to organize students as a political force, and it has been met with intense opposition from the University administration and some members of the student body.

The Association's main goals are to increase the influence of students in the decision-making process of the University, to improve the living conditions of students, and to increase the political awareness of students.

The University administration has responded to the Association's efforts by attempting to limit the number of meetings that the Association can hold, by trying to prevent the Association from having access to certain University facilities, and by attempting to have the Association's activities ruled as a violation of the University's constitution.

The Association has also been met with opposition from some members of the student body, who feel that the Association is trying to take over the University's Student Government and that it is attempting to use students as a political force.

The Association's efforts have been praised by some members of the student body, who feel that the Association is a necessary step in the process of increasing the influence of students in the decision-making process of the University.

The Association is continuing its efforts to organize students as a political force, and it is determined to continue its efforts despite the opposition that it has encountered.
National News

The Remember the Pearl Committee said Tuesday that "possibly seven" of the 31 crew members aboard the Navy E-122 aircraft reported shot down by North Korea survived and were picked up by North Korean gunboats.

The national chairman of the committee, the Rev. Paul Lindstrom, told a news conference in the suburb of north Chicago that the information was received from "a government source friendly to our committee."

Four quasars have come to the surface after spending 40 days making various scientific studies about 30 feet under water. The experiment, part of a $3-million program, was termed "very successful."

Sen. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., said Tuesday he expected the Democratic National Committee to match efforts by the GOP counterpart in furnishing the same equipment and anti-missile system. Mansfield is a critic of President Nixon's decision to deploy the system.

More than one-third of Minot, N.D., a prairie city of 35,000 population, was marked for evacuation Tuesday as the Souris River, normally 100 feet wide, spilled Canadian snowmelt water a mile wide across its valley.

The Nixon Administration disclosed Tuesday that it wants Social Security recipients to settle for a smaller benefit increase next year than originally announced so that the budget surplus can be flattened.

President Nixon's top economist told labor union leaders Tuesday the administration expects inflation to fall in the second half of the year without "an unacceptable" increase in unemployment.

Michigan News

The Michigan Dept. of the American Military Order of the Purple Heart has come to the defense of a Detroit area schoolteacher who was suspended for advising police that one of her pupils indicated without authoritative sources that a 29 ghetto church shoot-out. The veteran's organization unanimously praised Marilyn G. Mears, a Highland Park teacher, for her "fine example of good citizenship" and condemned school authorities for the "injudicious suspension."

Chrysler Corp.'s top officials told stockholders Tuesday their company would leave the 1960s more than twice as big as it entered the decade.

The Michigan Housing Education Committee voted, 7 to 4 in a close vote, to authorize a record $74 million public school aid bill aimed at keeping school boards open during the 1960-70 academic year.

Fred Jackson, who had been jailed in Detroit awaiting trial on a $10,000 bond for alleged breach of breaking and entering and stealing $2,500 worth of cookies, was found guilty Tuesday by a jury of seven women and five men. The jurors deliberated 85 minutes before delivering the verdict against the bearded Jackson.

All-black school leads to charges of discrimination

Washington — The federal government announced Tuesday a $6.5-million dollar charge without funds from the Ford Foundation school district in alleged racial discrimination in public schools.

The Ferndale-Mich. school district was told it is violation of federal law as an educational system by the United States. The district is one of two schools in which discrimination is alleged.

Palestine notified Ferndale school Superintendent John J. Hope, who said it would appeal the decision of the United States Department of Education, which was allowed to seek revocation of the permit.

Use your charge account in both stores — Ask about FREE PARKER-HEARST 998 skooter-14 pants with a little panel skirt up front

JUST 14" long...or short, depending how you view it. Skooter-14, the replacement for just plain shorts in all the action places. No gap, with any fashion sense will face summer without a collection in pow prints and wow colors. Hip-riding polyester/cotton denim in red or navy with nylon/polyester wind suit, Side-wrapped red/navy or brown print cotton and yoke waistband. Side pleated and button accent wrap-around in gray or vibrant yellow cotton canvas. Sizes 5 to 12.
MICHIGAN STATE NEWS UNIVERSITY

The nation's press

For people, peace

Another speech worth noting is Ida B. Wells' "The Science of Anti-Semitism" delivered in Chicago, Illinois, on February 7, 1893. The speech addressed the issue of anti-Semitism and the need for education and understanding. Wells was a prominent journalist and activist who fought against racism and discrimination, and her work continues to inspire those who seek to promote peace and understanding in the world. She was a powerful voice for justice and equality, and her speeches remain relevant today as we continue to work towards a more just and equitable society.
Our Readers' Mind
Unfair, unfair, unfair

To the Editor:
The recent donation for a new stadium at Michigan State, while unfair, became a protest of sorts when it was revealed that less than half of the alumni contributed to the fund.

One thousand students who took any more than $30 in interest from the $400 per family bonds were given the right to vote last year, but after their contributions had been counted the right to vote was denied.

Also, a number of students in the dorms and fraternity houses said they were told by officials that they couldn't vote at all because they didn't pay the $400 bonds.

Mary F. Mark
Bellevue, Mich.

Larry Lerner
Nixonization taking hold

To the Editor:
I did not vote in the ANSCS elections on Wednesday. I guess that makes me one of the apathetic students that everyone warns about. But not for me. I had every intention of voting, but I attempted to become inconsistent.

Inconsistency

To the Editor:
It is hard to be unfair on this affluent society to convince or educate campuses with a mass to face more unreasonable people.

One, we have to compensate for our fortunate university homogenate: some of these are well-defined. However, in the current trend for blacks, the cultural assimilation and the tolerance of the society is still an area that we should consider.

The struggle is still needed at least as time passes. It can act internally as an informal intervention on the part of the American people in another sovereign in the United States.

B. J. Stiles
B. J. Stiles

A bicycle audit corrupt

To the Editor:
Records show that when the city made a request for a bicycle audit, the city council approved the request. The audit was conducted by a company that has performed similar audits for other cities. The company's report indicated that the city's existing bicycle audit was outdated and needed updating. The report also recommended that the city consider using a different company for future audits.

L. J. Smith
University of Michigan

The Look into the World of Co-operative Living

Independence
Responsibility
Friendship
Save $400
OPEN HOUSE • TONITE
(thursday)

For Ride or Information Phone:
FREDRICK 332-0844 BOWER 351-4490
ELSWORD 332-3574 MONTIE 332-8641

Michigan State News, East Lansing, Michigan

One of the apathetic

To the Editor:
I did not vote in the ANSCS elections on Wednesday. I guess that makes me one of the apathetic students that everyone warns about. But not for me. I had every intention of voting, but I attempted to become inconsistent.

Michael M. Johnson

Vulture Avenue

The Gentle Editors

To the Editor:
Because the weather was unexpected last Thursday, and the day was not genen meant to be unfair on this affluent society to convince or educate campuses with a mass to face more unreasonable people.

To the Editor:
I did not vote in the ANSCS elections on Wednesday. I guess that makes me one of the apathetic students that everyone warns about. But not for me. I had every intention of voting, but I attempted to become inconsistent.

Inconsistency

To the Editor:
It is hard to be unfair on this affluent society to convince or educate campuses with a mass to face more unreasonable people.

One, we have to compensate for our fortunate university homogenate: some of these are well-defined. However, in the current trend for blacks, the cultural assimilation and the tolerance of the society is still an area that we should consider.

The struggle is still needed at least as time passes. It can act internally as an informal intervention on the part of the American people in another sovereign in the United States.

B. J. Stiles
B. J. Stiles

A bicycle audit corrupt

To the Editor:
Records show that when the city made a request for a bicycle audit, the city council approved the request. The audit was conducted by a company that has performed similar audits for other cities. The company's report indicated that the city's existing bicycle audit was outdated and needed updating. The report also recommended that the city consider using a different company for future audits.

L. J. Smith
University of Michigan

The Look into the World of Co-operative Living

Independence
Responsibility
Friendship
Save $400
OPEN HOUSE • TONITE
(thursday)

For Ride or Information Phone:
FREDRICK 332-0844 BOWER 351-4490
ELSWORD 332-3574 MONTIE 332-8641

Wednesday, April 16, 1969

Michigan State News, East Lansing, Michigan

Larry Lerner
Nixonization taking hold
U.S. PRESENCE DEFENDED

Ravenholt offers Viet solutions

By KATHY MORAN
State News Staff Writer

Ravenholt, a U.S. senator, has described the U.S. position in Vietnam as "a strategic necessity." He believes that the United States needs to continue its military commitment in the region.

Ravenholt stated that the withdrawal of U.S. forces would result in a "power vacuum" that could lead to chaos in Southeast Asia.

He emphasized the importance of maintaining stability in the region to prevent the spread of communism.

"We must continue to support our allies in the region," he said. "We cannot afford to withdraw from Vietnam without a clear understanding of the consequences that might follow."
FOCUS ON VARIETY

Pianists cut ‘long hair’

BY SUE BROWN

State News Staff Writer

Long-haired musicians? Not quite.

Music professor Dr. Alan Brubaker and Teacher’s Performance last week was anything but traditional. Emerged from their interpretation of a silent movie was a moderry of Jimi Hendrix.

“If we started playing what we used to, our audience would never come back,” Terry said in an interview with the State News.

Brubaker will be a part of the Michigan Society of the Performing Arts, Donated to the Ahmurt School of Music in New York where they were both studying. They started playing professionally in 1969.

Up until now we played strictly student stuff,” Terry said.

There are a lot of audience to choose to music. Terry said, “We have to choose things we can arrange for the two pianos.

A song like “Ode to Billie” just a good song but we can’t make it louder when we play it. Ferrante and Teicher do it on their own arrangement. They said that they have kept the same mode for 25 years.

We can’t change our style. Terry said, “It’s a result of our 25 years of playing together,”

They have a contract to record all the Ferrante and Teicher songs on their current contract with the long-time audience. They have only four original songs of their own that they play to their audiences.

“THE TARTANS’ THE TARTANS’

Starvation is a Wiserable way to..."Fast May 7 And Help A Billion To Live...

Jet to Europe this Summer

Fully paid contract for 8 weeks...

Dave Carter

HILINGARIOUS WESTERN COMEDY

Support your Local Sheriff

The Fastest Finger in the West

Greetings

LES BICHES

Today’s... Four Thirteen... Five Thirteen... Six Thirteen...

last two days: Posters at 7:45 and 9:15.

CLIFF ROBERTSON

Best Actor of the Year

OLMsted Film Festival Awards, Best Picture Award... Best Supporting Actor Award... Best Actress Award... Best Director Award... Best Screenplay Award... Best Art Direction Award... Best Cinematography Award...

Will You Give Up Like a Coward?

May 7. Save a child. Sign up April 17 to 18. Directed by Barnes.

Wednesday, April 16, 1969 7

Oscars ... like nothing at all

Funny thing...

Actress Barbara Streisand looks slightly overwhelmed as she chats with her husband, Elliott Gould, at a party which followed Monday’s Academy Awards ceremonies in Hollywood. Mrs. Streisand shared the Best Actress honors with veteran actress Katharine Hepburn. First from the Academy, Variety AP wirephoto
`S HOME OPENER
Batsmen vs. Albion today in twin bill
By CARY WALKERWICE
With acting MSU president Walter Gregory at the helm yesterday, the Spartans baseball team was defeated by Albion today in a doubleheader today under a drizzly workout.

`S netters rained out

The weather canceled the final session of the MSU tennis team's scheduled match with Notre Dame Tuesday. The match will be rescheduled at a future date to be named later.

MADISON HOME HOURS
Will be against Northwestern Friday. MSU will continue to top 15.

SUNDAY NIGHT HOURS
MSU will complete a 3-0 mark this season in action against Big Ten teams.

JAMES MADISON COLLEGE

The final game was to see the Academic advising for Science and Fine Arts, Thursday, April 12, 2:00 p.m. in the Commons. All students are encouraged to attend.

By April, the advisor will have approved the schedule, students should prepare to enroll in their classes. The College Academic Advising Center will be open to the public during regular office hours.

COLLEGE OF EDUCATION AND ARTS

All undergraduates in the College of Arts and Letters, except non-English majors, should see their academic adviser before the end of the term. The following courses are offered on the final day of the term for students who have completed their regular advising period:

1. English 110, 111, 112
2. History 100, 101, 102
3. Mathematics 100, 101, 102
4. Philosophy 100, 101, 102
5. Political Science 100, 101, 102
6. Sociology 100, 101, 102

Students should make sure that their advising card on Monday, April 26. All students should be advised on these forms from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the College of Arts and Letters Office.

COLLEGE OF BUSINESS

The student who will be enrolled in the junior year of the academic year 1970-71 should be advised on the following days:

1. Business 101, 102, 103
2. Economics 101, 102, 103
3. Finance 101, 102, 103
4. Management 101, 102, 103
5. Marketing 101, 102, 103

All students should be advised by April 26. Students should be advised on these forms from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the College of Business Office.

COLLEGE OF THEOLOGY

Students should be advised by April 26. Students should be advised on these forms from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the College of Theology Office.

COLLEGE OF HUMAN SCIENCES

All students in the College of Human Sciences should schedule an appointment with their academic adviser for the academic advising period.

1. Sociology 101, 102, 103
2. Political Science 101, 102, 103
3. Psychology 101, 102, 103
4. Economics 101, 102, 103
5. Business 101, 102, 103

Students should be advised by April 26. Students should be advised on these forms from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the College of Human Sciences Office.

MEETING ROOMS

Meeting rooms are available for students to meet in groups. Students should contact the Dean of Students Office for information on availability.

MADISON PUBLIC LIBRARY

The library is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. The library is closed on weekends.

The library is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. The library is closed on weekends.

The library is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. The library is closed on weekends.
Spring grid contest to help underprivileged

By MIKE MANLEY
News, Lansing

The Spartans Aid Fund, the group that raises money for the State, will hold its annual grid contest on March 17. The idea is to ask each student to write a name, position, sponsor and date on the grid. A $5.00 donation is required for each entry, and each winner will receive a prize. The contest will be open to all students and will run from March 1 to April 1. The first place winner will receive a trip to Orlando, Fla., to see the University of Michigan game.

The contest is being sponsored by the Student Senate, the State Student Association, the State University College, the State University Alumni Association, and the State University Foundation. The money raised will be used to help underprivileged students at Michigan State University. The contest is open to all students, and prizes will be awarded for the most creative entries. The contest will run from March 1 to April 1, and the first place winner will receive a trip to Orlando, Fla., to see the University of Michigan game.

Football returns, drills underway

By MIKE MANLEY
State News Writer

It's a hard to believe that football is back in the picture at all. Only yesterday it seemed that the Michigan State football team would be facing up to a season by laying out some good-looking offense.

Coach Duffy Daugherty took the first step for spring practice Monday afternoon, and announced that he would be doing some more quarterbacking. Daugherty showed up for the first meeting. We'll see if the first practice was a success.

The quarterback situation is still up in the air, and the coach will have to decide how he wants to handle it. The quarterbacks are expected to be on the field all week, and Daugherty will be keeping an eye on them.

Michigan has a couple of strong quarterback candidates, and it's to be expected that Daugherty will take a look at them. He's been in charge of the offense all season, and he's had a lot of time to study the quarterbacks. He's been saying that he wants to see some good things out of them.

Michigan looked strong against Ohio State last weekend after a three day lay-off. I think we should be ready, Coach said.

The Spartans have another game scheduled this weekend, and they'll need to make sure that they're ready to go. The team has been working hard this week, and Daugherty will be keeping an eye on them.

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. for helping all poor people. Dr. King was the keynote speaker, and his words were both inspiring and motivating. He spoke about the importance of working together to achieve our goals.

Dr. King's words were a call to action, and his message of unity and nonviolence resonated with the audience. He spoke about the power of love and how it can bring us together. His words were a reminder that we must continue to strive for justice and equality.

Dr. King's legacy lives on, and his words continue to inspire us to work together for a better world.
"Sex act not only physical"

By Jane Topps
State News Staff Writer

"Sex act not only physical" is a paradox. We never seem to make the connection between the two. Intercourse is never, never a personal act. Except maybe for my first intercourse it was a total "mess". It's never been the same after... You're the only one involved in a personal act with X and Y before marrying.

BY REGISTRAR

A personalism urged

By Sue Brown
State News Staff Writer

"Whoever says, 'I am a Christian' but does not obey his brother, is a liar, and the truth is not in him. Whoever loves God but hates his brother is a liar, for whoever loves God does not hate his brother...." 1 John 4:20-21

Registration Coordinator Sharon C. King said Thursday in explaining the functions of the Registrar's Office to members of the Freshman Club that the registrar said that the University does not have the physical facilities necessary for registration.

"The problem is that much of the registration process is handled by secretaries, and we don't tell them what we're doing," said King. He said that he was told that secretaries have been working to free up the secretaries for the registrar's office. He also said that the registrar's office has been working on the issue of registration.

LADIES' COATS DEPT.

Our reg.$11.97

PIZZA SPECIAL!

Pepperoni & Mushrooms

Reg. Price $2.60

Tonite Only

$2.00

+ Cotton-Campus Deliveries Only.

DOMINO'S PIZZA

Call: 351-8870 or 351-7100

Fast Free Delivery

Tired of living in a barn?

Elsworth is a Home.

Elsworth House offers the comforts of contemporary living. For only $60 per month you and your friends can enjoy the comforts of off-campus living even if you're under 21. Whatever you want in a living unit, we've got it. House vacations, sports, or just a quiet place to study. Make it to be a house unit and you'll have all the comforts of home and get equipped with all the modern appliances. The only house that sells "Chain for Chain".
STATE OF MICHIGAN

VISTA interviews at MSU

By DAVID SHORT
State News Staff Writer

Representatives of Volunteers in Service to America (VISTA) will be on campus today through Friday to interview students interested in joining the organization.

Those interested in becoming recruiters from their campuses or in the VISTA program in general should contact the organization by visiting the main campus Information Center or the VISTA booth in the Memorial Union.

VISTA, the nation's largest social action program, is dedicated to helping underprivileged people and their communities.

The organization is primarily concerned with increasing awareness and encouraging community leaders to join in the movement to end the poverty cycle.

The program provides opportunities for college students to work in the community, learn new skills, and develop a sense of commitment to social justice.

The VISTA program is open to students from any discipline, and there are no specific academic requirements for applicants.

Participants are expected to work full-time for at least one year, and the program offers a competitive salary and benefits.

Potential participants should be aware that the program requires a commitment of at least one year.

Those interested in learning more about the program or the opportunities available are encouraged to visit the booth today through Friday.

VISTA booth located in the Memorial Union.

Anyone wishing to learn more about the VISTA program is encouraged to contact the organization by visiting the main campus Information Center or the VISTA booth in the Memorial Union.
Cedar Village

STUDENT APARTMENTS

2 BEDROOM

NOW LEASING FOR FALL TERM

MODEL OPEN

Mon.-Fri. 12:00 - 6:00 p.m.

PHONE: 332-5051

Michigan State News, East Lansing, Michigan

Wednesday, April 16, 1969

Want Ads have green power... They bring you cash for idle items.

STATE NEWS CLASSIFIED 355-8255

AUTOMOTIVE

EMPLOYMENT

FOR RENT

ASSEMBLYLINE

INTERNATIONAL TRUCKS

351-8255

1966 FORD TRUCKS, LTD.

Professionals, get your full inexpensive

from

1965 TO 1970

Automotive

$350, 1970 HONDA $125,

TV, many weekends only.

CARTER, 1970 HONDA for COOKING, $55.

[Ad continues with various classified ads for employment, real estate, and automotive items.]