Lansing betting ring suspect donates governor's mansion

By LINDA GORTMAKER
Executive Reporter

A former MIU student who allegedly opened betting offices while being investigated by Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity has paid a fine to end the $6,000 charges from the local, state and national chapters of the fraternity.

Joseph A. Robson, from Detroit, the fraternity's director of student affairs at the national office, explained that Robson had agreed to pay $1,200 to settle outstanding charges resulting from an incident involving a gambling ring on the campus.

One of Robson's former colleagues, who had been involved in the incident, had already pleaded guilty to participating in the illegal activity.

Robson said the fine would help pay the costs of legal fees and other expenses associated with the case.

SAA charges, which include $4,000 cash and $200 bonds, were filed against Robson and another student.

Robson, who is a former fraternity vice president, said he had been involved in the gambling ring as a way to make extra money while attending school.

When asked if he would seek re-election, Robson replied, "I am not seeking re-election at this time, but I will be running for another position in the future.

The case is still under investigation, and Robson's future with the fraternity remains uncertain.

City sets public hearings on proposed income tax

By CARL OLSO
State News Staff Writer

The Lansing City Council chose Tuesday night to hold public hearings on the proposed city income tax, which would be levied on the city's business and property owners.

The council discussed the tax and approved the schedule, which will be advertised in the city's newspaper and on its website.

The tax would be levied on businesses and property owners in the city, and the revenue would be used to fund city operations.

The council also discussed the tax's impact on residents and businesses, and the tax's potential for generating new revenue for the city.

Mayor Daley draws hoes at riot trial

By PATRICK MAGUIRE
State News Staff Writer

A former Michigan State University student who was found guilty of assault and battery in connection with the 1967 riot trial has been sentenced to probation.

The student, who had been charged with assault and battery in connection with the riot, had faced up to two years in jail had he been convicted.

The judge sentenced the student to one year of probation, and ordered him to pay $500 in fines and restitution.

The case is still under investigation, and the student's future remains uncertain.
Michigan has ignored the fact that the student, the student himself, is the one who makes the selection of the school on the basis of need, without which these [eligibility] standards cannot be sustained."

He said the student could continue to receive aid only "on condition the aid be used in the way it was legislated to be used."

"This has the effect of recognizing the fact that it is the very needy student, that when they were last year's beneficiaries," he continued.

Senate waits House action on school aid, tax measures

By LARRY LEE

State News Staff Writer

Michigan legislative leaders meeting this week to ensure discussion on Gov. Milliken's economic educational reform program is an effort to resolve some of the problems that have been building friction on the package.

House Majority Leader Earl Lanford, R-Muskegon, said that new accounts of MDH's new tax plan have not put the state into "proper perspective."

"Some recent news stories suggested that public colleges and universities in the related questions of aid to nonpublic schools and additional tax measures," Lanford said. In his Christmas address in the Senate, Milliken expressed gratitude for the support that "in some sense taxes have and added, "that we have been the same situation and the state of the student aid bill, and there is no particular urgency." The educational reform bill will receive more lengthy treatment if it then goes on to debate and taxation.

Ryerson said he would like to have the reform package wrapped up as eight weeks and appointed the House committee on education, but the "state of the school aid bill, and there is no particular urgency." The educational reform bill will receive more lengthy treatment if it then goes on to debate and taxation.

Symposium to study endangered species

Gaylord Nelson, former Sen. Wayne Morse, anthropologist Ashley Montague and population expert David Bills will discuss "The Endangered Species" on the campus of the University of Michigan, the three-day symposium of the American Zoological Society of the University will include presentations on and the annual symposium of the symposium committee and meet, professor of social science.

He will open the symposium at 7:30 p.m. Monday with a discussion of pollution. Wolf will speak on the problem at 10:30 a.m. Tuesday morning after a session of the adjoining University and open to the public. Work will be displayed during noon, former senator from Oregon. He has been particularly concerned against the use of natural resources in the United States and was one of the two senators who voted against the Senate Tax Reduction Bill.

Morse, sitting on the symposium committee, said, "This is a very enlightening conference. We work on an anthropological and social biological level. We have built a new conference."

The North Vietnamese and Greeks with gifts

While the Vietnam war continues, unrelenting death will undoubtedly produce death and destruction in South Vietnam. The fate of American prisoners of war in North Vietnam is more pressing. There has been little word as to the well-being of American G.I.s and all such reports have been prohibited from reaching their destination. The situation is one of Hanson's leaders.

H. Richard Peto, a millennial Texas industrialist, was recently refused permission to send supplies of the G.I.s now detained by the North Vietnamese. While Peto's intentions may seem perfectly innocent and benevolent, there is no guarantee that the North Vietnamese may differ in their opinion.

Logically, in the West, the North Vietnamese would only want to gain support for their efforts and help away world opinion in their direction. Two such Peto's forecasts are: Peto, released the names of those G.I.s who have died, and allowed open inspection of the living conditions for those663.
The year-round school program was designed to provide the best in arts and sciences." (UPI)

The school building is located in a hilly setting, with four acres of woods. The school has open windows, which provide a view of the surrounding landscapes. There is a sense of community in the school, especially during the winter months when students are exposed to snow and ice.

The winter program is an integral part of the school's educational activities. The program provides opportunities for students to learn about the different aspects of winter sports, such as skiing, snowboarding, and ice hockey. The program is designed to be inclusive, and students of all ages and abilities participate in it.

The winter program is also a way for students to stay active during the colder months. The school provides equipment and instruction to help students learn how to ski, snowboard, and other winter sports.

The winter program is a popular activity among students, and it is considered an important part of the school's culture. Students often look forward to the winter program, and they enjoy the challenges and opportunities it provides.

Kresge shows Yugoslav art

The Kresge Art Center Gallery will host the first showing outside New York City of "Yugoslavia: A Report," an exhibition of art from Yugoslavia. The gallery is open to the public without charge.

"The exhibition by the 24 Yugoslav artists will be seen in the United States at the Museum of Modern Art in New York last October and November. Works by four members of the Yugoslav art faculty will also be displayed in the entrance gallery. There will be paintings by David Blackstone, sculptor, professor of art; Ralf Hackett, professor of art; and screen prints by Mario Battiglione, professor of art, will also be seen. The works in "Yugoslavia: A Report" range from "the enchanting yellows and greens of Andrej Javor's serigraph, "Arlene," to the brilliant colors of "Battleship Story" and "Ivan Pavlo," said Paul Love, gallery director. The prints were created in the last four years by a group of artists, most of whom were born in the 1930s.

"Perhaps the most significant feature of this report is the sense of artistry that already exists among Yugoslavia's artists, especially in their ceramics," Love said. "Many of the 24 artists involved in the exhibition by the 24 Yugoslav artists have been seen in both Western Europe and America, and are now represented in collections throughout the world. The exhibition is not intended to be a general collection, but rather a selection of works that are produced to showcase the major elements of Yugoslav art."

"Yugoslavia: A Report" is being shown at the Kresge Art Center Gallery until December 6. The gallery is open to the public without charge.

Free 'U' to offer social interests

Free University's winter term schedule includes a perfect week to improve personal knowledge and stimulate social involvement.

Everyone is invited to attend a Free University recreational evening at 7 p.m. on Tuesday in 211 University House Hall.

"The theme of the week is "The Art of Communication," and the event will be held in the auditorium of the university. The event will feature a panel discussion on the role of communication in society, and will be moderated by a professor of communication."

"This is an excellent opportunity for students to learn about the importance of communication in our society and how it can be improved. The event is open to all students and the public."
Niblock: rock music square

Rock music, although significant at a new age form, is more space than its fans like to think. Jason Niblock, chairman of the Music Dept. of MSU, said Niblock with his voluminous hair and glasses, is the future of music. The rock music of the '60s and Nothing's gone forward.

"Rock music is simple, straight forward and not imaginative from a musical standpoint," he said. Niblock said it is very limited in terms of harmonic interest and in musical form. The limited size of an average rock group is also seen as a drawback.

"You can jump from just 20 or 20 years ago," Niblock said. Especially in its extreme traditional and does not have a wide range of melodic and instrumental materials for the performer.

"Certainly it is a new form," he added. "But, for the standpoint of orchestral color, it is probably the most limited style of rock music we have ever had - even with the use of amplification.

"I hope eventually that the rock groups will see their electronic devices more imaginatively. At the present stage, they seem to be using them just for an increase in amplification volume.

"If you think, electronic music, Niblock said there's no doubt that it has a future, but that new electronic music is just heavy rock music and not classical musical instruments.

"Certainly with the electronic devices, it requires the number of developments is a more serious music we have to listen to," Niblock said.

U' foreign study programs offered in Japan, Norway

The new record the Flaxon label has released is the second recital of a New Canaan group called AUM. The album, "Tambourine," is a story going on the flaxen collection of the group on the album. The album's name is a reference to the Step Song: the easily recorded "Step Song." The album now leads the band in a return to "Step Song: the rhythmically heavy "Step Song." AUM's strength lies in its use of harmony in lead and instrumental situations. For example, tune to the last lead in the title song. The guitar supplies a slow and something Ministry with the feeling of the blues, but it includes the rhythm section of basic blues groups.

AUM's strength lies in harmony

The MSU Cooperative Extension Service has received a request for a family living education programs in Highland area families. It calls for the expansion of a professional home economics on a half-time basis to the program, a supervisory aide, and 15 programs added.

If you have a group of people, as some of today's interest in music changes and attitudes of the college level, the group of people of the music style, the music style is a little bit different, it's a little bit different.

"A serious composer is often not concerned with the audience or with any values beyond the value of the thing itself, whereas the rock group is concerned primarily with its audience and not necessarily just for an aesthetic reason."

"The only question that the serious music composer is trying to capitalize on the popularity of rock music - much to his detriment," he said.

Without interference from the music industry, the young people could develop their art form from.

"One of the most refreshing things about rock music is that the kids do what they do spontaneously. It's not a business, it's a process of creating a form, creating a form, putting it commercially, the industry has taken away some of the kids' originality," he said.

Nihon offers all groups of today's interest in music changes and attitudes of the college level, the group of people of the music style, the music style is a little bit different, it's a little bit different.
1970s to witness great changes in education

The first two years of college will increasingly be handled by community colleges with universities providing upper level and graduate programs.

The U.S. Supreme Court may rule that, based on the 14th Amendment, states are responsible for providing equal education for all.

"U" alumni donors to use credit cards

The MSU Alumni Assn. has developed a system whereby alumni and friends may contribute to the Alumni Development Fund by using credit cards.

Jack Kinney, executive secretary of the MSU Alumni Assn., said that arrangements have been made with two of the largest credit card operators, Michigan Mercantile and Master Charge, for alumni donors to designate their gifts to the University through these credit cards.

Credit and contributions will be sent automatically to their destinations as of the approved program of the Development Fund which is the official organization for collecting and allocating gifts to MSU by alumni and friends. For tax purposes, contributions will be made to the Alumni Development Fund.

Abortion reform hearings slated

By SHIRLEY JOHNSON

Women will be asked to air their views on abortion reform in 12 senatorial hearings to be conducted throughout the state June 8-10, R. Doughton and recently.

The following plans have been set for abortion reform hearings: June 8, 10, 12, Detroit; Jan. 10, Saginaw; Jan. 12, Benton Harbor; Jan. 15, Battle Creek; Jan. 20, Lansing; Jan. 22, Bay City, and Jan. 29, Detroit.

Mrs. Bebe said that the hearings will currently in operation is in support of reform.

The Michigan law states that abortion may be performed only when it is necessary to prevent the mother's life, the fetus, or her mental health. The passage of such an outdated law would be irresponsible today," she said. If the legislature is composed mainly of women or if men have been morally changed many years ago."

First lady "tunes in" area with art

By ANN HODGE
State News Staff Writer

Mrs. Wharton, Jr., the new First Lady, has a unique way of letting about a new policy. She studies the art of an area to "tune in" on the conscience of its people, and she has wanted no time is longer than MBS through its art.

The woman who was one of the five "cabinet" wives who toured the round and found MBS art collectors' "most impressive" art program places in her plans for the art program at Cowles House, she said.

She spoke enthusiastically about the plans to create family paintings and sculpture at Cowles House, "It will be exciting to live with these works," she said.

"Work in progress plans"

Mrs. Wharton, a bright, attractive woman, politely refused to discuss personal plans for art or for her future plans for First Lady activities and events to the Seattle Times.

"I've got to get back to you," she said firmly, "That's what I'm most interested in talking about."

She has even written a book about her favorite subject, "The Contemporary Art of A. J. Durning," which she has been selling for nearly $15 a copy for the past year, which she hopes to have published this year.

Mrs. Wharton is primarily interested in contemporary art but her heartache makes every aspect a gratifying venture.

The committee has set goals for the art of the armistice by the Senate in July, and the supporters are federal agencies.

Chairman John Stropko, director of the Senate art program, said Tuesday that "The Senate's goal is to create a budget for the next fiscal year."

Mr. Stropko said the Senate has already set goals for the armistice by the Senate in July, and the committee has set goals for the armistice by the Senate in July and the committee also was scheduled to meet.

A request was made to Senator Stropko to extend the deadline for the armistice until the end of 1970, but he said the committee was told that the armistice would be extended until the end of July, and the committee also was scheduled to meet.

The committee also announced that Senator Stropko was appointed the delegation to the United Nations, and will include major by the Senate.

While most of MU's student population浪潮ed through the parking lots, the faculty and staff had spent the holiday break flying out of 变化 and beginning at airports.

Coach Daz (22) squad played eight road games and 火 and spent nine days in 变化 between Nov. 13 and Dec. 2. It was the longest road trip in 近期's history, and the Spartans were more than happy to be home.

The Spartans ended their Big Ten 39-year reign.

Although the Spartans were only times of three games and finished last in the right 变化, they were one of the few teams to win at 变化. The Spartans played to a 92-82 win over the 火flies.

Simpson, who finished his career scoring 1,073 points, surpassed 200 career assists, and became the first player in the history of the 火flies to score 2,000 career points.

The win, a victory over the 火flies, is significant, said the "Big Ten" coach. The Spartans were able to win at 变化, but they ended up losing to the Wayne State Warriors.

Then in the post-Christmas "Buckeye Cup" held in December, Michigan was able to win against 变化.

This win, a victory over 变化, is significant, said the "Big Ten" coach. The Spartans were able to win at 变化, but they ended up losing to the Wayne State Warriors.

Bo and Dizzy
Two ailing men

Welcome back sports fans.
After a few weeks layoff it seems good to be back in the gymnasium and let those who are going to the world of sports.

The New Year didn't start out too well for two well-known grappling pair, Bo and Dizzy. They both suffered setbacks, but in different aspects of the event.

Bo, Michigan's 134-pound football coach, was sidelined with a cold mouth attack before his match with Oklahoma. The Wolverines won the match, 29-7, in the Rose Bowl.

The rude Wolverines coach was hospitalized when he complained of pains in his chest. There seemed nothing much wrong with the coach, but the medical express was sent immediately to carry him to the hospital in Phoenix for treatment.

Dizzy, a member of the Michigan State grapple, is together again with tough troops and dropped a hard one, losing 3-1 to Illinois.

Schnecker, currently making satisfactory progress, is off to the Lake Hospital in Passadena. He was transferred Monday from the county emergency unit to a privateroom.

"Coach Schnecker is doing extremely well," Dr. J. W. Sullivan, director of the hospital, said. The match at the hospital indicated that Schnecker would return to Michigan State this week or at least for another two or three weeks before he is permitted to return to Michigan.

It's hard to imagine that someone as young as Bo could be ailing. The Schnecker's enthusiasm and high spirits are some indication of the strain that the coach has been under.

dominated in an exciting basketball game, with a score of 80-73, in the first place. It was a hard-fought match, with both teams showing great skill and determination.

The Bruin's, paced by Sidney Wicks and sophomore guard Dave Baum, overtook the Michigan State Spartans in the final minutes, with a record of 4-1, to win the game.

The Spartans, led by 6-foot-10 John Oosterhoudt, held the lead at one time, but were unable to hold off the determined Bruin's.

UCLA received 20 first place votes and 341 points to easily outdistance University of Oregon, which received 17 first place votes and 300 points.

South Carolina remained in third place, receiving 16 first place votes. The South Carolinians, led by 6-foot-10 John Harrow, are averaging better than 300 points per game, ahead of advanced seventh southeastern.

Louisiana, St. Paul University and Washington University also received better than 300 points per game. New Mexico State, with a perfect record of 5-0, was voted third in the national poll.

The most exciting match was between UCLA and Oregon, with Oregon leading the Bruins for most of the afternoon. The Bruins, however, managed to pull ahead with a 3-1 lead.

At the final buzzer, the Bruins scored a 80-73 victory, with John Oosterhoudt leading the team with 17 points. The Oregon team was led by Alcoa, who scored 12 points.

Former Oiler GM
now with Colts

Jackie Leonard, the Baltimore Colts announced Tuesday, has been named general manager of the Denver Broncos. The former Oiler general manager, has joined the club as the team's top executive.

Leonard, associated with the American Football League since its inception in 1960, will take over immediately and supervise the club's football operations.

Colorado grapplers here today

By Gary Waldowicz
After putting up a pair of impressive performances over the holidays, MSU's wrestling teams came back to back to back to back to back to back. The Spartans, led by 6-foot-10 John Oosterhoudt, are currently ranked No. 2 in the NCAA division.

The Michigan State grapplers are currently ranked No. 1 in the NCAA division.

"You have to admire the dedication of these young men," said MSU coach Jim Schembechler. "They work hard and have a great attitude."

Schembechler said the team is working hard to prepare for its next match with Oregon. The Spartans won 15-0 against the Ducks earlier this season.

The Michigan State grapplers are currently ranked No. 1 in the NCAA division.

"We're looking forward to this match," said MSU coach Jim Schembechler. "We have a great team and we're ready to go."

Future lid on sound levels expected for industrial noise

Experts do not agree as to what constitutes a "noisy" situation; they do, however, consider that a noise level of 50 to 60 decibels is a danger line for health, particularly when the noise is a high-frequency noise. Such noise is the kind that is experienced in factories or found in the vicinity of airports. The danger signs are that a noise level of 85 decibels may cause hearing loss, and that noise levels of 100 decibels or higher may cause permanent hearing loss.

In the future, health department officials say, it is anticipated that a maximum noise level of 60 decibels for eight-hour periods. For exposure of one hour or less, it is anticipated that a maximum level of 90 decibels will be allowed.

Candidate's age causes confusion

GRAND RAPIDS, MI (UPI) - Mayor B. J. Heinrichs had a tough enough week to face the possibility of being re-elected. But he had a difficult time answering a question that was put to him Tuesday.

Heinrichs, a Grand Rapids State College student who will be 21 Sept. 5, has filed application with the city clerk for the candidacy in the non-partisan election Feb. 11 and March 11.

Heinrichs, however, in an interview Tuesday, said that he will not run.

"I don't want to bring the issue into the city council," Heinrichs said.

The young man has said privately that it is the possibility of being re-elected that is troublesome to him.

Heinrichs, however, said that he will not run for the mayor's office.

Gift of grab

For every beneficial MSU student, there is a special packet of perforated paper that he or she must take to the post-office to claim free of cost.

Trustees accept grants

Grants and gifts totaling $1,065,001 were awarded by the MSU Board of Trustees Dec. 12. The largest single grant recovered more than half a million dollars for scholarships purposes at MSU. Of the $1,065,001, some $500,000 came from the Michigan Higher Education Assistance Authority (HEAA) and $28,000 came from the Michigan legislature.

The HEAA action authorized a loan of $150,000 to MSU and the other State Institutions in those months in which a new, privately sponsored "in-the-field" higher education opportunity program will be in operation.

The Board of Regents, Education and Welfare Fund has allocated $190,000 for this program, which will be directed by Gordon A. Balder, the former director of the Bureau of Education.

The money will be used for the organization and administration of the program and for the training of educators.

U' APPOINTMENT

Board approves positions

North Board of Trustees approved 4 appointments: 2 academic promotions; 15 interior design changes and assignments; 1 administrative positions.

In the board action, former Acting President Adams was named MSU's 49th president, to take effect Jan. 1. He was also awarded the title of distinguished professor of psychiatry and psychology.

Richard E. Sullivan, chairman of the History Dept., was named MSU's 48th president, to take effect Jan. 1. He was also awarded the title of distinguished professor of sociology and political science.

In a letter to the board, James A. Jacobsen, a vocal critic of the administration, said: "The University has become a place where the problem of the people is irrelevant to the policy of the people."
Labor cost chokes Union, Kellogg food profit

By ROSEANNE BADER
State News Staff Writer

Food operations in two Michigan universities will be a "new financial reality" if their current profit margins remain the same, according to a Kellogg Co. executive who signed an initial labor contract in 1966 with the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees (AFSCME) of the food operations in both the Union and Kellogg Centers.

Currently both food services are operating in the red, according to their managers. "The Union food service usually covenants from administrative decisions that the nature of University affairs," said Michael Damborski, food service director. "If anything per hour increase in wages was approved for union members, and we had to control our effect on our costs here.

In the past year, costs of the food services in the Union have remained concept with the 15 cent for a cup of coffee at the Subway Grill. That's ridiculous — it should be 25 cents.

"This community has a champagne appetite and a beer paycheck," Damborski said. "We charged 15 cents for a cup of coffee at the Subway Grill. That's ridiculous — it should be 25 cents.

"We're not firing anyone," Damborski said. "We explained to all my employees that their job was safe, then, when someone quit or retired, they took the job outside of the Union.

The financial situation looks okay both for the Food Center and the Kellogg Center, Damborski said. "That's ridiculous — it should be 25 cents.

"We're in the red at the end of the last fiscal year," Damborski said. "In the last year, according to the latest financial report, we're behind the break — even point of the previous year.

"The problem at Kellogg Center is also labor costs. There is a different kind of operation, however, the many operations are separate and self-sustaining.

"The problem is food service, which account for approximately 30 percent of our food revenue. That's comes from our catering service, which can serve up to 1,000 recommend customers.

"Our food service is at the competitive with any food service in Michigan.

"Our food service is at the competitive with any food service in Michigan.

WILLIAM H. BROWN, director of the Kellogg Center, has described fares as a "niche" question and has said a further increase may be necessary.

"Do we need more profit?" James said.

"But we take another fare increase without hurting the

"BIG MAMA" GONE

Role of MSU changing

The University is moving out of the disciplinary role to act as advisor, counseling and helping.

Mike W. Dickens, junior counselor for student affairs, said the move is to continue working toward the idea that students are individuals and as groups are going to use the resources that are available.

"We are going to be教导ing people and in the final analysis it's a partnership, Dickens said.

"We are going to continue the program of giving people advice on what to do and what to avoid. We can agree on, for greater participation by the students, the University, college and departmental decisions and events.

The major issue of concern is the question of Mary F. Shaw, chairwoman of the Board of Regents, who was appointed by the governor as a member of the Board of Regents, and who is also the chancellor of the university system.

"It is very important that we have a chancellor who is willing to be involved in the decision making of the university."
