42 University bus drivers call in sick; campus transportation nearly halted

By Cynthia Neal
State News Staff Writer

Cable told 42 University bus drivers to come in on Saturday morning to begin the second day of their first strike since their petition asking the university to stop making transportation cuts in January was denied. The university administration refused to meet with the drivers on Saturday, and negotiations are expected to resume today. The drivers are demanding a 10 percent increase in wages for transportation workers, which they believe are being unfairly subsidizing non-university related expenses.

French resort avalanche kills 39; worst in century

By James McCrea

The worst avalanche in French history claimed the lives of 39 skiers and left 100 injured on Sunday as a result of the severe winter weather conditions. The avalanche occurred in the Alps near Chamonix, where the ski season is just beginning. The avalanche began near the village of Argentiere and moved down the mountain at high speed, catching skiers off guard. The bodies of the victims were found all over the area, some of them buried under the snow. The ski resort has been closed indefinitely, and the area has been declared a danger zone. The investigation into the cause of the avalanche is ongoing.
Dem policy council urges Senate to reject Carswell

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democratic Policy Council urged Tuesday that the Senate reject the nomination of G. Harrold Carswell to the Supreme Court, and said Congress should sharply expand the body of judges to handle floodings of the federal courts.

Sen. J. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., who chairs the council, zeroed on Carswell, who is nominated by President Richard Nixon.

"If this nomination is confirmed, the Senate has failed in its duty to provide the country with a Supreme Court that is just and free from bias," Thurmond said.

The council met in response to a widespread concern about the rise in Supreme Court cases stemming from recent legislation and the increasing size of the federal courts.

The council noted that Carswell's nomination has been met with skepticism by many senators, and that the Senate has not had the chance to fully consider his qualifications.

"The Senate should not rush to confirm Carswell without a thorough examination of his record and qualifications," Thurmond said.

The council called on Congress to take action to address the growing backlog of cases and the need for more judges.

Australia named new minister

Canberra (AP) -- Australia's Prime Minister Harold Holt has named John Gorton as his new minister for external affairs.

Gorton, who has served as Australia's ambassador to the United States, replaces Donald Wilson, who has been appointed as Australia's ambassador to the United Nations.

Gorton has been a member of the Australian Labor Party for more than 20 years and has served as a minister for several years.

"I am confident that John Gorton will bring a wealth of experience and expertise to his new role," Holt said.

Gorton's appointment is expected to be announced in the next few days.

Mariners seek World Series

West Palm Beach, Fla. (AP) -- The Seattle Mariners are looking to return to the World Series this year after coming close in the past.

"We're working hard to bring another championship to the city," Mariners manager Earl Weaver said.

The Mariners have been one of the most successful teams in baseball in recent years, but have come up short in their efforts to win the World Series.

"We have the talent and the experience to make another run," Weaver said.

The Mariners will begin their season in April and will face tough competition from other teams in the American League.

"It's going to be a tough year, but we're ready to face the challenge," Weaver said.

The Mariners will aim to improve on their 93-69 record from last year and win their first World Series title since 1986.

Gov. William Milliken proposed a comprehensive new plan Tuesday to deal with the $1.8 billion housing shortage. It was a part of a special message from the governor dealing with Michigan’s housing problem.

The governor’s proposal includes large tax breaks that would be paid by the state to localities in the amount of $10,000 units.

The governor pointed out that the major, serious shortage of good housing is not to be underestimated, he said, and the state will continue to do what it can to make available 2,500,000 new housing units in the next five years.

The answer, more likely is that no DDT at all is the safest level. Judge Freeman ruled that any company that allowed a company to get around FDA regulations would be guilty of fraud, on the basis of rationale behind his decision: DDT is dangerous, but that has to be proven. Another question arising from this case is if there were any rights that contaminated the fish were not to be eaten. As a result, the last appeal is at fault, it is the polluting agent. The fish distributor is caught in the middle. There are apparently no-news in the Chicago Agricultural Board.” The Chicago Board of Trade did not nor less than five parts per million of DDT. It is compulsory that the shad down, many people will be unaffected. If they have more than that, their product may harm the entire ecosystem. Such is another case study of man’s role in environmental protection. The end man himself if any more toxicants that have moved to be eaten. Many times this simple fact be driven home before we lose it.

The Editor—

To the Editor—

In an article in the State News on Dr. Charles Breslin’s recent victory over the University Senate’s Committee on Colleges and University’s right to reject the establishment of student government councils at a statewide level, we have seen, as students, this double standard upheld before. Either Breslin, the University Senate and his fellow administrators institutions of higher learning to control the costs of students thereby lowering the price of tuition and remedial policy decisions. Either way student “judaism” has become, and tends to remain, a contradiction of terms.

M. Clark Smith

For those persons who cannot mail what we are referring to as the actual newspaper print, I will refer you again to the “Chicago Daily Defender” which not only printed several accounts of the chronicle and Clark shooting, but also, on its front page, reported a very specific account of the shooting as given by the Chicago Police. If one can find that in the previous interview, given, one has only to turn to the back page for photographs of the incident. In no way is the paper afforded an extensive view, but to cut the story short, we can still tell that what we’ve seen did not actually happen.

The “Chicago Daily Defender” is one of many publications available in the MSU library. It is in the newspaper with another available on the first floor of the College of Communications. The “Chicago Daily Defender” is the only one which has been taken for the purpose of covering as many such topics as possible. However, it is not very helpful in terms of the political events in the MSU history. It is purely a matter of facts and only the MSU students who are interested in the subject matter will find it of interest.

Other publications available are the “Washington Post”, the “New York Times”, the “New York Times”, the “Chicago”, the “Chicago News”, and the “New York Times”. These publications should be read in conjunction with the other sources mentioned. From Africa is also available which covers all the countries in Africa. The news of the day is seen in the news of the day.”

DO SAFER LEVELS OF DDT EXIST, JUDGE FREEMAN?

The fact that everyone loses at the pollution game is now beginning to become a fact. Last week U.S. District Court Judge Freeman ruled that City Smoked Fish Co. of Detroit can no longer use chlorinated fish. Chlorine containing more than 0.003 parts per million is illegal, Judge Freeman ruled. All chlorinated fish is therefore illegal, City Smoked Fish Co. Judge Freeman ruled. We are notminded of our rule to restrain just as we are not mired.

The judge added that the FDA rules are no longer followed to such a degree as it used to be done with animals, not humans and that a panel of scientists commissioned last year to study the matter has not yet met. “Everything we eat is contaminated with DDT.”

EARLY ENROLLMENT

DEPTS. RULE CLASS REQUESTS

Did you ever sign up for a class and wonder why you didn't get it? Who makes the priorities in your coursework?

At early enrollment each student completes a section request form. Additions are then taken to the class list. The requests are then parsed on cards and job into a computer.

The computer makes a preliminary list of courses requested a class along with a set of priorities and an alphabetical order. Spring term the alphabetical order will be listed.

On top of the priority list is whether students accept guarantee requests from students the follow's office at Central. This involves student, student teacher and student teacher.

If you are not listed on the class list, follow by Brian College students, seniors and New Students which includes humanities. Each on the priorities list are states, Sophomores, special class and freshmen.

The top list is used by the dean of the college which offers the course, and finally to the department. Students that the department doesn't want to the course are deleted. The top list include non-majors, students with low priorities or both, depending on the particular course and freshmen.

Each department may, at its own discretion, increase the size of the class or reduce a new section to accommodate requests for the class. The preliminary class list is then returned to the registrar's office for the department to adjust the list according to the requests of the department.

"From the student point of view, the system is designed to provide the academic department with the means to adjust a sector," Registrar Bruce C. King said. (continued)

Collective bargaining aids education needs, says professor

A future chair of the state senate and professor of labor and industrial relations told the Faculty Club Tuesday that teachers and faculty have come to realize the advantages of collective bargaining.

"We are certainly no longer in the age of the 'rubber-stamp' contract," Rombauer said. "The new bargaining agreements are negotiated for the first time in the university's history."

The faculty advisory committee has been established in the University. The committee will assist in negotiations as to how the money would be put into improvements.

Financially speaking, the bargaining is a semi-autonomous department of the University, he said. The faculty advisory committee, which has been established in the University, will assist in negotiations as to how the money would be put into improvements.

State Sen. Chuck Mathias, D-Michigan, announced this week that the state's new health care reform plan will include provisions for the University of Michigan, along with other state universities.

The plan, which Mathias said is "very comprehensive," was introduced in the state Senate earlier this week and is expected to be voted on next week.

The plan includes provisions for the University of Michigan, along with other state universities, to be able to offer health care coverage to their employees and students.

Mathias said the plan will help ensure that the University of Michigan, along with other state universities, can continue to provide high-quality education and research in the face of increasing health care costs.

He added that the plan will also help ensure that the University of Michigan, along with other state universities, can continue to attract and retain top-level faculty and students.

The MSU front row won 68-65 over St. Clair. By scoring a season-high 24 points, it was the first time in 42 years the Spartans have scored 66 or more.

State University's Olympic champ Lee Evans won three times this year in seasonal outdoor competition. Evans, the 400-meter Indoor American record holder, has already achieved Olympic standard status. The 440-yard dash is Evans' strong suit, but he's also achieved Olympic standard status in the 880 and 1,500-meter races.

Evans' Springer series this year included a 1:51:9 for the 880 and a 4:10:4 in the 1,500, which is only two seconds off the world record.

In track meets this year, Evans has run only two 400s, both 51 seconds, and two 880s, both 1:51:9. The 4:12:4 in the 1,500 on March 20 in New York was given the win over the Spartans in Michigan.

Evans' last indoor victory came in the NCAA indoor meet when he won the 1,500 in 4:11. His 400 record is 44.7, but that record stands only two weeks as he ran 45.7, a dual meet against Ohio. Evans won the Big Ten indoor title with a record 1:51.9 and is the only man to have run under the Olympic standard in the 1,500.

Evans has won the Big Ten title in 1970. He is the only man to have won the Big Ten indoor title twice.

Evans' Olympic hopes will be hampered by his lack of regular outdoor competition, which is difficult for him to obtain. Evans has been running the 400 and 880 for the past six weeks, and he's been working only one hour a day.

Gymnasts start long road schedule

By JOHN VISGER
State News Sports Writer

The second half of the gymnastics season begins Saturday at the University of Illinois, where the Spartans will face one of the nation's premier teams. Despite the difficulty of the schedule, the Spartans have maintained a strong record and will be looking to continue their success.

The Spartans are currently ranked 12th nationally and have won multiple meets this season. They will face tough competition at the University of Illinois, who are ranked 10th. The meet will be held in Champaign, Illinois, and will begin at 1 p.m. The Spartans will be looking to keep their momentum going as they look towards the end of the season.

The meet on March 6 will give the Spartans a strong test of their abilities. The team has been working hard in practice and is looking to improve their performances. The meet will start at 1 p.m. and will feature a variety of gymnastics disciplines.

Despite the challenges, the Spartans are optimistic about their chances. "This meet is a great opportunity for our team to showcase our skills," said team captain Tom Martin. "We have been practicing hard and are confident in our abilities."

Marijuana flaws told to Congress

In testimony before a congressional subcommittee last week, Dr. Stanley F. Yudof, director of the National Institute of Mental Health, reported that several studies have turned up evidence of the harmful effects of marijuana.

The subcommittee is holding hearings on a Senate-passed bill that would lower penalties for the possession and distribution. According to Yudof, marijuana has been a key figure in shaping the definition. However, that measure is a hard one to find.

While supporting the bill, Yudof said evidence has also shown that marijuana interferes with thinking and social judgment. He also added that the measure would allow for more research and the possibility of finding alternative solutions that would not interfere with the legal act of buying or using the drug.

ASMSU MEMBERS SAY

Students must create concern

Students must create concern at the ground level and at the university level. The first step is to have a student representative on the board. This was the sentiments of several students who attended the hearing.

"Right now the faculty has more power than the university," a student said. "We need a student representative on the board to speak for the students." The same sentiment was echoed by other students who attended the hearing.

Drive misses quota; blood donors sought

The annual winter term Red Cross blood drive will continue through Friday. The goal for the drive was set at 150 pints, but the Red Cross had only 88 pints by last Wednesday. The drive is sponsored by the Student Government and the Student Senate. The drive will continue through Wednesday, January 15.

Language options made

BY JOHN JUEL
College News Staff Writer

More in the College of Social Sciences are considering new alternatives to the present situation.

-Completion of a minimum of 18 credits in courses dealing with one foreign area, and a minor outside the humanities.
-Completion of 36 credits in a cognate program planned by the student's major department and approved by the College Curriculum Committee.

The new language option is in response to proficiency in a foreign language. The previous requirement for a bachelor's degree was that proficiency be demonstrated in a foreign language. The new option allows students to demonstrate proficiency in a foreign area, which is considered a more realistic and practical approach. The new option also allows students to choose courses that align with their interests and career goals.
