Kirk promises to allow desegregation project

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. — President of Florida State University, Dr. T. G. Kirk, on Monday promised to allow a desegregation project on the campus. The announcement followed a series of meetings with state officials who have been considering a court order to integrate the university.

The promise by Kirk was made during a meeting with state Attorney General John K. Miller, who has been leading the effort to achieve desegregation on Florida State University.

Kirk said in a statement that he would work with the state to develop a plan that would allow for a desegregation project on the campus. The plan would be based on the principles of the Brown v. Board of Education decision of 1954, which declared that segregation in public schools was unconstitutional.

The promise by Kirk was welcomed by civil rights leaders, who said that it was a significant step forward in the fight for desegregation.

Arpella reaches halfway point

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Apollo 13 has reached the halfway point of its journey to the moon, according to NASA officials.

NASA Administrator James E. Webb said that the spacecraft, which launched on Wednesday, is now about halfway to the moon. The spacecraft is currently in a stable orbit around the moon, and is expected to arrive at the lunar surface on Thursday.

Webb said that the mission is going according to plan, and that the team is confident that the spacecraft will make the landing safely.

Panes of specialists to discuss nuclear war

Panel of specialists to discuss nuclear war

A panel of specialists will discuss nuclear war at a conference to be held in Washington, D.C., this week.

The panel, which will consist of scientists, politicians, and military experts, will meet to discuss the potential consequences of a nuclear attack, and to explore ways to prevent such an event from occurring.

The conference is being organized by the Federation of American Scientists, and will take place at the National Academy of Sciences in Washington.

The panelists will include top experts in the field, such as former defense secretary Donald Rumsfeld, and former National Security Advisor Brent Scowcroft.

The conference is expected to attract a large audience, and will be held under the auspices of the United Nations.

Education process hindered: Mayhew

By JEFF SHEELEY
State News Staff Writer

Higher education in America is based on a "mythology of myths" that hinder educational progress, a Stanford professor said Thursday.

Lewis S. Mayhew, professor of higher education at Stanford University, spoke on national educational trends at an evening lecture at University College open to students.

One myth described by Mayhew in the belief that faculty involvement in independence research "is essential for institutional vitality and growth."

"All that will happen will be a reduction in teaching loads, salary, the allowance for research that is not rated and the reduction of some not particularly significant studies," he said.

Another myth, he said, is the "central activity" of graduate education.

"Graduate education is highly regarded, but the expert quite modestly is in quite the opposite way, doctoral instruction is offered, rather than increased," Mayhew said.

"One myth that is in need of critical review is that of the "organizational rhetoric," a myth that is used continually to explain the "dual culture" of the university," Mayhew said.

"Consider if you will what educational thinking and practice would be if all of these myths were shown to be just myths," Mayhew said.

Lansing is the first of the Great Lakes to offer new low-fare airfares to Europe for its residents.

"We've got the lowest fares to Europe," said Tom Shugard, Lansing Travel Bureau manager. "They're currently $120.

"There's no place to sit in, so they don't sit down," said Shugard. "I think it's a great price."

"I think it's a great value," said Mark Ranker, Michigan State student. "I've been to Europe before, but it's a lot cheaper now.

A government directed campaign against Viet Cong smuggling by Cambodian territory appears now to be driving Vietnamese living in the country. As Viet Cong attacks expand, anti-Vietnamese sentiment now high among Cambodians.

A part of the anti-Vietnamese movement, the new Napol government sponsored an anti-Vietnamese Society that was presented nation-wide on radio and television.

Both South Vietnamese troops opened attack Sunday on a second U.S. Special Forces camp - a sight we have seen before to sustain intelligence patrols inside South and Laos.

As a result of this attack, 1,000 men serving in the 10th Platoons, all of whom were suspected by the Napol government as anti-Napol, may end up in their country.

Two German Chancellor Willy Brandt returned from aegg Sunday pleased with President Nixon's acceptance of his offer of peaceful talks in Paris with the French and the Peruvian government.

The offer was made during a visit to Peru to meet with President Fujimori, who in turn made an offer of peace talks in Paris with the French and the Peruvian government.

A visit to the U.S. on Sunday, Cuba is circulating and a revolutionist's handbook which lists the Cuban guerrillas and their methods for the Cuban guerrilla movement.

Trucking firms lockout drivers

by THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Chicago area trucking industry mobilized in the local 10,000 drivers Sunday on the eve of a threatened all-out strike demanding a wage increase higher than in a proposed national contract.

The Teamsters union had staged selective strikes, leading to the strike on Friday. But spokesmen for both of the city's trucking unions said they would give the Teamsters strike notice a chance to cool off and act as a way to improve working conditions in the city.

The national settlement calls for $1.15 an hour increase.

The Chicago dispute could jeopardize the national pact because the Chicago area is the major center of the trucking industry and the country must now vote on the city's proposed contract.

The Teamsters union has been able to maintain the strike settlement, resulting in a victory for the Teamsters.

Meeting

And - Vietnam war activities for May will be dedicated to a meeting sponsored by the Student Action Committee at 8 p.m. in 25 Union.

The meeting is open to all students.
One of the requirements of the Higher Education Appropriations Act of 1978 is for the university to certify their student fees and tuition increases. Under this provision which is causing concern among students, it is possible that tuition increases begin falling next year.

In a section of two provisions in the appropriations bill stipulates that any increase in student fees and tuition rates is to be appropriate according to the proportionate increase in the monthly index of the Consumer Price Index for the University of Michigan for the previous fiscal year(s) was based on prices of the latest one hundred million books.

This stipulation is applicable when the University reports its student fees and tuition rates for the next academic year to the House of Representatives. If, therefore, the University desires to raise tuition fees, it must first decide whether the total amount of the increased revenues will be greater than any increases in student fees and tuition authorized by the state.

As the last example may show, Michigan is being faced with a paradoxical situation. If it is true that the Administration wishes to gain revenue—and it needs it badly—it is increasing tuition rates. The Legislature will merely make the projected increased funds and reduce the general appropriations to the University.

The net gain: zero.

For a second alternative, it is true that the President is also granted an increase in tuition rates, but this increase will be greater than the allowance to the University from the state. The net result, however, remains the same.

If there is anyone around who really understands the implications to the University of Michigan's student fees and tuition increases, it is the President. The fact is that, in any event, even the decrease in state funds is not being used to help the University.

It is a matter of common knowledge how much of the state's funds for higher education go unspent. Many universities have no idea of what is happening.

The phrase begins with a curious mixture of truth and half-truth, half-truth and, perhaps, half-truth and half-truth. The only way to determine the possibility of student fees being taxed or suppressed is to determine which governor is responsible for the situation. When State Student Aid approved this year's election changes, it might be interpreted that the system of the University was it.

There are no, however, of necessity, of necessity for the University to appeal the decision. If there is one in existence, it might be wisely called a form of decriminalization. Such an appeal would be far less troublesome than the state of Michigan.

The candidate list is here! The News thanks the 13 candidates who entered the primary. At the November 19, 1976, meeting of the Legislative Assembly, the Student Senate will choose one slate of candidates in each category. Students interested in the process are invited to attend. Please note that the primary will not determine the candidates for the slate.

The candidates will be elected by the voters of the district they represent. These candidates will be presented to the faculty and staff of the district for their endorsement. The slate of candidates will be presented to the faculty and staff of the district for their endorsement. Earth Science teacher John Barry, a candidate for the slate, says, "I'm interested in the process because I think it's important that students have a voice in the decision-making process." Barry, an active member of the district, is currently serving as a member of the faculty senate. He feels that it's important that students have a voice in the decision-making process because it helps to ensure that the district's needs are met. Barry also believes that it's important to have a diverse group of students running for the slate because it helps to ensure that all voices are heard. Barry concludes by saying, "I'm excited about the process and I'm looking forward to working with the other candidates on the slate." Barry believes that the slate will be able to work together effectively because they all share a common goal of representing the students of their district.

An Engineer who starts with RCA in 1970 will be part of an amazing future.

If you measure achievement in technological discovery, no industry can surpass either the past record or future potential of electronics.

And, if you're part of a company that is as diverse as Cable, you will be part of an exhilarating ride to the top of your profession.

We develop new technologies using the total systems concept.

For instance, we sell computers, satellite systems such as TIROS, solar power, printing production, superconductivity, new materials, new sources of energy, broad-band communications systems, liquid crystals...but these are just a few of the areas that concern our engineers and scientists today. Tomorrow is coming up swiftly at RCA.

The problems we will be faced with during the next 30 years, and how well we solve them, will determine the future well-being of all mankind.

You can start your engineering career in one of our Rotational Programs to give you a wide overview of our activities, or, if you prefer, direct assignment to one of our numerous technical areas.

Whatever course you choose, you will find yourself working with a unique group of human beings, who are deeply involved with the future.

Electronic and mechanical engineers, we would like to talk to you. Take the first step...get in touch with your Off-campus Placement Director, or write directly to RCA College Relations, Dept. P, Cherry Hill, Camden, New Jersey 08105.

We not only believe in equal opportunity employment. We practice it.

Rep. proposes bill to limit sale of explosives

By SHARON TEMPLETON
State News Staff Writer

State Rep. James Tierney, D-Detroit, is trying to curb explosives sales in Michigan. Themethod the freshman legislator is using to achieve this goal is a bill that would regulate the sale and purchase of explosives in the state.

"The tactics of terrorism are being used by people who want to commit acts of destruction in the country," Tierney said. "The widespread use of explosives by the public is concerning because it is shocking – and it must be stopped."

The Tierney bill is designed to control the sale of explosives to those who are 18 years or older. To purchase any form of explosives, the buyer must be able to prove they have been and the proper amount of purchased and intended use would have to be recorded by the state police.

State Police officials define explosives as "anything over the size of a pop," but are vague as to specific Tierney sanctioned explosive products.

Peace Corps

to recruit herethrough Friday

Peace Corps recruiters will be holding a job fair this Friday, through the Student Affairs office. Interested candidates should know the process.

Recruiters are looking for volunteers in any capacity but have an immediate need for students in business, economics, science, education, literature, engineering and agriculture.

Guy Gallis, area representative for Michigan, emphasized, however, that any student is eligible for the corps, regardless of major.

"We don’t want to give the impression that we’re looking only for a few key people, but all applications will be accepted," Gallis said. "We’re looking for anyone who is interested in helping those in need around the world."

Recruiters will be at the Student Affairs office from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Cigarettestart fire

A fire at the newmen’s residence in West HallThursday afternoon was extinguished before serious damage was caused.

The cause of the fire is unknown.

The fire destroyed thewooden building, which wasbeing used as temporary housing for freshmen.

Residence Hall Officer Samuel Gleichman, who was on duty, said the fire was started by cigarette burns in one of the rooms.

The fire was quickly extinguished by firefighters and a residence hall employee.

No injuries were reported.

The residence hall was closed to students while the building was examined for damage.

Cigarette burns were found in one of the rooms.

The fire was contained to the room where the burns occurred, and no other damage was done.

No one was injured.

No other information was available at this time.

The fire is under investigation by university authorities.

No Homeless Spray can stop it

The "other odor" it starts in the sight of that where no spray can work. You can’t spray it away. You’ll stop more odors not caused by you itself. That’s the reason you need Norforms® – the second odor will stop. Then and only then, we’re done. A great tract for hours. Something to read in the thing. Norforms® can be used on public as well as private. Get Norforms® protection for the other odor no spray can stop.
